

TAFT MEN PLAN TO OUTWIT JOHNSON

California Primary Law Is Severely Condemned at Conference of Leaders.

REGISTRATION IS BEGUN

Committee of Five Appointed to Defeat Scheme to Deny Place on Ballot to Electors Favorable to President.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—(Special.)—A committee of five was appointed this afternoon by Colonel Charles M. Hammond, chairman of the Taft Republicans of California, to take such action as may be necessary to defeat the plan of Governor Johnson and his political advisers from carrying through their plan to withhold from the Republicans of California the opportunity of voting for the re-election of President Taft.

wished to consult with organized labor. Asked for the names of the men mentioned in the telegram, the witness said they were O. A. Tveitmo, Anton Johannsen and Edward N. Nockels, of Chicago.

Mr. Steffens told of a conference with Fremont Older in which Older had professed concern as to who should be the "goat" and fear that Darrow would be "punished" as well as the witness injured, professionally, Darrow said he did not care about himself—that his duty was to his client, and to save his life, relate the witness.

On Sunday, November 25, two days before Franklin's arrest for bribery, both of the McNamara brothers had consented to plead guilty, although they had no knowledge of the other. Steffens himself had gained the consent of John J. McNamara and the brothers had been seen by Judge McNutt and Lewis Davis, of counsel.

J. J. Keefe informed. "I. J. had been kept in touch with the situation by me," said the witness. "It had been common report since the dramatic end of the McNamara trial that John J. had not consented to plead guilty until Thanksgiving Day, two days after Franklin's arrest."

Steffens' direct examination was halted by Chief Counsel Rodgers, who asked for an early adjournment in order to prepare additional questions. H. W. Pohlman, business agent of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Union at Seattle, who was called to impeach the testimony of John J. Harrington, was cross-examined briefly.

Representative Norris, of Nebraska, who says he is willing to make Senatorial Race, Already Won, Over Again.

after the noon recess. District Attorney Frederick asked him if he was in Seattle when the Lyons building was blown up on August 16, 1910, and if he did not know that this explosion would figure in the McNamara trial; if E. A. Clancy was there at the same time and if Clancy had not introduced him to James B. McNamara under the name of J. E. Brown. Objections by the defense were sustained.

NORRIS ASKS FOR TEST

NEBRASKAN WILLING RECALL SHALL BE INVOKED.

After Winning Primary Contest for Senator, Roosevelt Supporter Offers to Withdraw.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Representative Norris, of Nebraska, progressive Republican and a Roosevelt supporter, in a letter sent today to John L. Kennedy, chairman of the Nebraska State Republican committee, asks for another Senatorial primary, in which his Republicanism is to be tried and a new set of instructions be voted to candidates for Roosevelt and Taft.

Mr. Norris made the proposal in reply to criticism in his state and published demands that he support President Taft or get off the Republican ticket.

"I am a believer in the recall," said Mr. Norris in his letter. "If an willer that it should be applied to me, and if, since my nomination, my course in refusing to recognize Mr. Taft as the Republican nominee is unsatisfactory to the Republicans who nominated me, I am not only willing, but I believe it is my duty to withdraw."

"Under no circumstances can I be induced to support a man for office whose nomination I conscientiously believe to have been obtained by the corrupt and unlawful methods which I believe were perpetrated in the so-called renomination of President Taft, and if my nomination, or even my interest, must depend upon such support, then I prefer to remain in private life."

Representative Norris defeated Norris Brown in the primary for Senator.

FREE LUNCHES MAY GO

LOS ANGELES COUNCIL COMMITTEE APPROVES.

Closing at 6 P. M., No Treating and Reduction in Number of Saloons Contemplated.

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—The Council legislative committee today decided to report favorably to the Council the ordinance abolishing free lunches in all saloons.

On the other measures was deferred, pending the public hearings, which may continue for several weeks.

If plans submitted to the City Council by the Police Commission are sent into law, saloons in Los Angeles hereafter will close at 6 P. M.; it will be a misdemeanor to treat your friends; no salty substance likely to promote intoxication will be served; one drink during lunch hour will be the limit and the total number of saloons in the city, now 200, will gradually be reduced to 100.

Dr. John R. Haynes, president of the charter revision committee, strongly favored the proposed changes. Treating and free lunches were his special mark of attack.

"By all means we should see that Los Angeles has an anti-treating law," he said. "I am convinced that more drunkenness is caused by this one factor than any other connected with the liquor traffic."

"And then there are the free lunches. The world over, these lunches tend to create thieving, which is satisfied only at the bar. They are served in saloons for the purpose of creating thirst. No salty substance should be allowed to be sold or given away."

T. R. SAYS 'BOSSES' SELECTED WILSON

Outlook Editorial Says Taggart and Sullivan Would Perpetuate Power.

OWN CASE IS DIFFERENT

Reviewing Recent Conventions, Colonel Declares There is Essential and Instructive Difference Between Them.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Two phases of the Republican National convention at Chicago are discussed by Theodore Roosevelt in editorial articles in the current issue of the Outlook. The "Steam Roller" and "Men Who Live Softly" are the headlines of the Roosevelt articles. In the first the writer answers charges that "steam roller" methods were used to nominate him in 1904 and again to secure nomination for Mr. Taft in 1908.

In the second article the Colonel alludes to the "respectable men, who, with discomfort, stood behind their leaders in securing the triumph of fraud and political theft in the primaries," and scores the "other responsible men who felt no discomfort in thus supporting rascality; who, on the contrary, gloried in their actions."

"Patronage Not Once Asked." "Some of the men responsible for the steam roller work in this convention," said Colonel Roosevelt in his first editorial, "had sought to excuse themselves by saying that they were only doing what had been done in the past, and especially what was done for me at the time of my nomination and what was done for Mr. Taft himself four years ago. As regards myself, the statement has not even the slightest foundation in fact. I never used the patronage, not to the extent of a single appointment, to secure my nomination; I never used it in the primaries; I made my appeal direct to the people over the heads of the politicians and stood squarely on my record, and I received the nomination solely because the people believed in me and approved of my record, and were so overwhelmingly for me that the machine politicians abandoned all thought of a contest against me before the convention met."

Contrasting the two conventions, Colonel Roosevelt writes: "There was one essential and instructive difference between the attitude of the big Republican political bosses at Chicago and the big Democratic political bosses at Baltimore. The former greatly preferred a certain party defeat to my nomination; the latter were willing to accept any nomination rather than face certain party defeat."

"In my case the appeal was made straight to the people against the bosses and the fight was won on that issue. The case at Baltimore was wholly different. It was the machine of Clark who carried more states than Dr. Wilson. In but one or two states had Dr. Wilson's cause been triumphant in a square fight with the bosses. Indeed, there hardly been any fight made along these lines. The fight at Baltimore was not, as at Chicago, to eliminate the bosses and incidentally to nominate a certain candidate. It was to persuade the bosses into themselves nominating Dr. Wilson, thus securing the perpetuation of their own control in their own party."

Mr. Sullivan, of Illinois, Mr. Taggart, of Indiana, and others like them brought about Dr. Wilson's nomination. Mr. Murphy acquiesced at the end. Dr. Wilson's victory would mean the detronement of these men; it would mean their perpetuation in power. My election would mean that Mr. Penrose, Mr. Brown and Mr. Greenfield would be definitely eliminated from political control of their states."

"Syndication to be Avoided." In summing up his second article, Colonel Roosevelt declares that in addition to the people opposing the bosses and interests who oppose him and to the respectable support they have from individuals who are misinformed, there is a considerable body of support from respectable men who know something of the issue at stake.

"They are men who find life easy, who live softly and who, instead of feeling incumbent on them actively to work for betterment in the life conditions of others, are overcome by the fear that any such effort to improve the general welfare would deprive the present system sufficiently to cause their inconvenience."

"I wish to see our less fortunate citizens avoid the dreadful excesses of syndication and the like to which their fellows abroad have been prone. This can only be accomplished if our people as a whole will organize and practice certain great moral principles which most of us are now dimly beginning to see shape themselves from the confused welter of our business and our politics."

PLATFORM TO BE CONTRACT

Colonel Says New Party Will Deal With People.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 18.—The platform of the National Progressive party is to be a "contract with the people," Colonel Roosevelt said today. Just as a business man signs a contract for a fulfillment of certain obligations, he explained, the new party would sign a contract to undertake certain well-defined measures, provided the opportunity is accorded to it.

Colonel Roosevelt has given his approval to the name "National Progressive" for the party.

As the prospective nominee of the party, Colonel Roosevelt is endeavoring to embody his ideas. He indicated that he would use his influence to avoid the twin perils of ultra-radicalism and vaguely concealed conservatism and that the platform would be both practical and genuinely progressive.

The ex-President's personal platform probably will be presented to the Chicago convention on August 5, the day it assembles. He said he hoped to arrange a meeting of the delegates for that night to make a speech which will be his "confession of faith."

In this speech Colonel Roosevelt will seek first to interpret the spirit in which the work of the new party should be undertaken and then proceed to a detailed recital of the steps he believes should be adopted.

In explaining his decision of last night to abandon the trip to Kansas, Iowa and Michigan, Colonel Roosevelt said that a multitude of things were constantly coming up in connection with the formation of the party and that although he had hoped to be able to complete arrangements early enough to make the trip, he had found he could not do so.

A published report from Washington that Senator Dixon, the Colonel's campaign manager, was at heart opposed to the formation of a new party and would seize the first opportunity to take a back seat in the campaign, amused the Colonel greatly. He said it was the exact reverse of the truth. Ralph C. Otis and Day McBirney, Roosevelt workers from Chicago, came today to tell Colonel Roosevelt that Illinois was in "great shape" and that in his opinion he would carry the state.

"CAMP-COOKERY" IS ISSUED

Agricultural College Department Publishes Valuable Booklet.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, July 18.—(Special.)—Appropos of the vacation season the Oregon Agricultural College Extension Bulletin which is just coming from the press is a booklet entitled "Camp Cookery" edited by Ava B. Milam, assistant professor, and Ruth M. Smith, instructor, of the school of domestic science and art faculty.

The booklet is of pocket size, containing 32 pages of valuable information and recipes which will at once appeal to the amateur camper. The "tricks of the trade" which the professional foresters have been compelled to learn by experience, and oftentimes at the cost of wilds spilled in the cooking. All of the formulas in the book are extremely practical. The older ones have always been reliable and the newer ones have been repeatedly made and tested by the classes in camp cookery held at Oregon Agricultural College during the past college year.

One feature that should make the bulletin particularly valuable to camping parties which are careful in their selection of provisions, is the table of food supplies. Rations are suggested which not only meet the requirement exacted of everything pertaining to camp life—maximum utility and minimum bulk—but also afford a healthful variety of foods.

HOMESTEAD RULES MADE

Secretary Fisher Issues Interpretation of Three-Year Law.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Regulations governing entries under the three-year homestead law were issued today by Secretary Fisher.

Credit for the three-year period must begin from actual residence. Proof must be submitted within five years. Cultivation for three years, counting from date of entry, is required, including actual cultivation of not less than one-sixteenth of the land beginning with the second year and not less than one-eighth beginning with the third year and until final proof.

Absence from the land for not more than five months in one continuous period is allowed, but bona fide continuous residence during the remaining portions of the three-year period must be shown.

MISSING CASHIER CAUGHT

Uniontown Banker, Race Victim, Is Arrested in New York.

LEWISTON, Idaho, July 17.—Information was given out here today by an official of the Fidelity State Bank of Uniontown, Wash., to the effect that a missing cashier of the bank, a former assistant cashier of the bank, who disappeared several weeks ago, leaving an alleged shortage of $3500, had been arrested in New York and was on his way to Washington in custody.

Schmidler is said to have lost the money in unsuccessful operations at the Alamo, Idaho, race track, and to have issued drafts from his bank upon Spokane banks. He was traced eastward from Salt Lake City in information, it is said, furnished by race-track followers.

ELK CELEBRATE IS VICTIM

Passenger With Feet Out of Train Window Nearly Loses Them.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., July 18.—(Special.)—Riding with his feet out of the window of the train, a passenger, William Landess was the victim of a peculiar accident when his feet collided with some object beside the track, presumably a post of some kind. The accident occurred while Landess was returning from Portland, where he attended the Elks' convention. As the train pulled into Salem some object beside the track, a post or possibly a truck of trucks, caught his feet, jamming them against the framework of the car, inflicting painful injuries. At first he thought his leg was broken, but later developments proved that such was not the case. He had to be carried from the train to his home, but is able to get around on crutches.
