

WOMAN SUSPECTED IN SHASTA MURDER

Imprints of Shoes Near Ambuscade Bear Out New Theory of Officers.

COUNTY NOW FEARS FEUD

Sons of Landis Assert Someone Must Answer for Father's Death and Sheriff Thinks Other Shootings Likely.

REDDING, Cal., July 19.—Two men, or a man and a woman joined in the murder of William C. Landis, the Buckeye merchant who was shot from ambush last night. An autopsy today showed that Landis' wounds were of different caliber. The police believe it possible that the smaller bullet was fired by the woman, imprints of whose shoes were found near the body. The widest storm remembered in this part of the state washed away the outline of these footprints and today the police had nothing to work upon, but the knowledge that a woman was at the scene of the crime.

Three Men Seek to Explain.

The three men arrested when the police began working on the theory that Landis was murdered to avenge the death of Mrs. W. C. Bradford, whom he is accused of murdering in her own yard, were held incommunicado today, and gave the police explanations of their whereabouts. It is said that Mrs. Bradford's son, is said to have told a story which lets him out if he can verify it by witnesses.

County Needs Feud.

The police will not tell where Daniel Thompson, the man who was shot yesterday. An inquest will be held tomorrow. People of the county now begin to dread the feud which is being kindled between the two families.
