WESTERN NEWS FAVORABLE

Trade Volume Improves and Mone tary Conditions Are Better--- Professional Manipulation Is Responsible for Price Changes.

NEW YORK. July 22.—Indications of increasing confidence in general conditions were reflected in early operations on the stock exchange today, but the movement flatteneed out later, teaving quoted values without material change.

Pressure against certain leaders, particularly United States Steel, Union Pacific and Reading, probably was responsible for the reversal. Steel, was the foremost feature. No news accompanied the liquidation or short selling, other than the fact that there exists much difference of opinion and some concern respecting the effect of the reports dealing with the steel corporation, soon to be issued by the Stanley committee. In the list of special stocks the recent activity in the tobacco issues was resumed at gains ranging from 2 to 7 points. The market, as a whole, was in a waiting mood. The week opened with a preponderance of favorable news, including Western advices telling of the permanence of trade betterment and monetary improvements, as well as the scarcity of labor to handle crops. Bankers west and southwest of Chicago cottlirm reports of increased use of funds, at the same time asserting that little Eastern money would be needed to move the large agricultural output.

Klamath Engineer Tests Excavator.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., July 22.—
Special.)—An earth excavator has been built in Stockton, Cal., for the use of the Reclamation Service on the Rlamath project. It will be inspected by the engineer in charge next week, little and if satisfactory will be shipped at once. It is to be used in widening and deepening drains and in construction of new drains.

The proposals for construction of the canals under the second unit of the project have been advertised and will be opened August 20. Work is being pushed on small work not in the schedules advertised.

September Closes With a Loss of Three-Quarters Cent--Pressure of CHICAGO, July 22.—Reports that harvesting had spread to Minnesots and that nearly the whole Spring crop practically was herond danger from rust today made the wheat market heavy.

Although frequent railies took piace, they grew more feethe as the day advanced. The best display of strength was witnessed at the outset when word came from Milibank, S. D., that black rust had been discovered near there.

Prices soon began to slip down again, however, after experts had declared that, barring the farthest away strip of North Dakota, the crop had reached safety from any new infection.

Pressure of new wheat from the Southwest worked hard against the built. Kannas City strivals amounted to nearly three times as much as a year ago, and neutralized the influence of exports by way of the Gulf ports.

Ideal weather for growth led to active selling to the corn crowd.

Bellef that recent rains had delayed the early marketing of large quantities of oats, developed sentiment in favor of an upturn in prices.

Provisions receded, owing to the heavy weight of the hogs arriving here and because of a decline in quotations at the yards.
