LIBRARY PLANS CANNOT BE CHANGED.—J. H. Nolta and others took up the matter of a large auditorium for the branch library building, now being built on Killingsworth avenue and Commercial street, with the Library Board, but it was found that the plans for the building cannot be changed at this time. The auditorium is in the second story and is planned to seat 225 persons, which is considered too small. However, should it be found in future that more space is needed the auditorium may be enlarged by erecting a second story to the "L." The foundation of the library is finished and the walls are being laid, and hence it is considered impractical to make any change now.

It was reported at the meeting that lights are to be placed at the entrance to the park. It was announced at this meeting that City Engineer Hurlburt will submit plans of sewerage for the Peninsula to the people on the night of August 12 at a mass meeting to be held in Thiel's hall on Killingsworth avenue.

Teal, legal adviser for the transportation departments of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, is convalescent, and it is expected that he will soon be able to be about, and to resume his work. Mr. Teal had started to Baker on a business trip, but became ill and was obliged to return to Portland. He had a stenographer called to his bedside, and endeavored to continue his work, but as his illness became more serious, he was obliged to forego all such efforts.

TRANSPORTATION MEN WILL LAUGH AT LUNCHEON.—Comedy will supplant oratory at the regular weekly luncheon of the Portland Transportation Club at the Imperial Hotel at noon today. Frank Bush, who is appearing at Pantages this week, will be the comedian. He has prepared a line of entertainment particularly for the railroad and steamship men. T. A. Lawson will be chairman of the day. Preparations have been made to accommodate a large crowd as the programme promises to be full of laughs—a laugh or so with every mouthful of food.

BAKER AFTER BEST

Theater Manager Goes East to Secure Actors.

STOCK COMPANY TO FORM

Portland Magnate Prefers to See Prospective Members Before Engaging Them Rather Than to Depend on Agencies.

George L. Baker, manager of the Baker Theater, left Portland last night, accompanied by Mrs. Baker, for New York, where he will select his stock company for the season of 1912-13. The season opens September 1.

The Baker Stock has been an institution, not only of Portland, but of the entire Pacific Coast. It is recognized in the East as one of the soundest and best maintained organizations of its kind in the United States.

Mr. Baker is not an actor-manager, but a manager. Portland has, for more than a dozen years, appreciated the value of the personal popularity of the players Mr. Baker has engaged. This feature, or as he terms it, "the personal element—or having players who are friends with their audiences," Mr. Baker has invariably succeeded in giving Portlanders. His present trip is being taken for the express purpose of seeing his prospective employes in actual work, before engaging them.

"On many occasions, and particularly in the season of 1911-12," said Mr. Baker," I left the engagement of some of my people to agents—or theatrical representatives of Western stock, who would be in the Eastern market when the season opened. Oftentimes I relied on the word of the actors themselves, or took faith in their written recommendations and press notices. It did not pay. I spent much money in railroad fares, bringing incompetent players to Portland. This trip I am making for the purpose of seeing my prospective players before they see me."

Mr. Baker has no announcements to give out yet, relative to who will be members of the new company. He will go first to Salt Lake City, then Denver, and on to New York, where he will get in touch with theatrical folk.

Mr. Baker will return by way of Los Angeles, which is the market place of many Western actors of repute, who prefer to stay on the Coast, rather than take chances with the Eastern booking offices. Mr. Baker expects to be absent about five weeks. While in the East he will arrange for the plays to be produced by his company this season.

The latest successes of the Eastern circuit, and a great many that have never been brought to this Coast by traveling companies, will be included in his booking contracts.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Baker is Lee Pearl, who is treasurer of the Baker Theater Stock Company, and in charge at the box office.

NOTED NATURALIST HERE

His Efforts Will Be Devoted to Audubon Society Interests.

T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the National Association of Audubon societies, arrived in Portland last evening from New York City. The object of his visit is to secure wider interest in the protection of wild birds and animals and to co-operate with the Oregon Audubon Society and the State Game and Fish Commission. Mr. Pearson will give a stereopticon lecture under the auspices of the Oregon Audubon Society Friday evening of this week in the East Side public library.

As a field naturalist Mr. Pearson has had wide experience. He is a writer of ability, and his book, "Stories of Bird Life," has had wide circulation, especially in school work. He is also president of the National Association of Game Wardens and Commissioners, which meets in Denver August 30.

"Song and insectivorous birds, as well as game birds and animals of Oregon, must be provided with special refuges and retreats where they cannot be pursued and killed," said Mr. Pearson. "There are plenty of lakes, shore lines, rough mountain regions and other waste places that are of no use for agriculture, where these creatures will thrive and increase if protected. The Audubon Society is investigating and seeking out these places with the idea of getting them stocked with birds that will protect our fields and forests from the ravages of insect pests.

"Oregon is fortunate in already having four of the largest and best wild bird reservations in the United States," continued Mr. Pearson. "Under the Fish and Game Commission other refuges on private lands are being established in various parts of the State. It is very urgent that two or three large reserves be created for the protection of mountain sheep, elk, antelope and mule deer, which are rapidly approaching the point of final extinction in this State."

SPECIAL TO HAUL KNIGHTS

Portland Council to Visit Albany Brothers Next Sunday.

A special train has been chartered by Portland Council, No. 678, Knights of Columbus, to take members of the council to Albany next Sunday, to assist in the exemplification of the first, second and third degrees of knighthood. The trip will be made over the Oregon Electric, and the Knights will have the distinction of taking the first special train, except the train that opened the road, to Albany over the new line.

The train will leave the Jefferson-street depot at 9 A. M., arriving at Albany in time for mass, and returning immediately after the banquet, so as to connect with the late streetcars. Wives and women friends will accompany the Knights on the special train.

Albany Council has made elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of all visiting Knights and their friends, and a large delegation of their Portland brothers is expected to be present to show their appreciation of the work of Albany Council. The local committee in charge of the train comprises F. A. Smith, J. F. Sinnott and A. L. Sauvie.

Excavator Disrupts Traffic.

In the moving of an excavating machine belonging to the Portland Cement & Concrete Company Tuesday at 5:58 P. M., the trolley wire, at the corner of Thirteenth and Burnside streets, was torn down. Connection with the feed wire on lower Washington street was broken, and the power was off 14 minutes before it could be repaired. The asphalt on the street was too soft for the machine, and the men accompanying it were compelled to send for planks to move the ponderous weight. In the meantime the Thirteenth-street car passengers were transferred an hour. All together the machine demoralized traffic in the immediate neighborhood of its operations. No report of the affair was made to the police.

JUNIOR TAFTS COME WEST

Children of President to Visit Glacier Park and Portland.

Robert and Helen Taft, son and daughter of the President, will leave their Summer home at Beverly, Mass., tomorrow for a tour of the Northwest that will include a visit to Glacier National Park in Montana and probably a stay of a few days in Portland and other points in Oregon.

They will be accompanied by Miss Martha Bowers, daughter of the late Solicitor-General of the United States; her brother, Lloyd W. Bowers; Miss Isabel Vincent, of St. Paul, and Mrs. George E. Vincent, mother of Miss Vincent and wife of the president of the University of Minnesota, who will chaperone the party.

The party will leave Chicago over the Great Northern on Saturday and will arrive at the park on Monday, where guides will meet them. They will carry camp equipment and provisions for a three weeks' stay in the park. Following their trip through the glacier lands they will return to the main line of the Great Northern and probably continue their western journey. Plans for the remainder of their trip are not complete, but it is likely that they will come to the Coast for the purpose of visiting Portland and other points of interest in the Northwest.

Miss Taft and Miss Vincent have been classmates at Bryn Mawr College. On their return trip eastward the Tafts will be guests at the Vincent home in St. Paul.

CONFERENCE FUND STARTS

Of $25,000 Needed for Citizenship Meet, $3545 Comes on First Call.

Fifteen business men of Portland pledged $3545 within a few hours yesterday, at the opening of the canvass by the promotion bureau of the Portland Commercial Club for funds for the World's Christian Citizenship Conference, which will meet here in July, 1913. Two $1000 subscriptions headed the list. The canvass will be continued steadily until the full amount of $25,000 pledged by Portland for the conference, is raised.

J. S. McGaw, field secretary of the conference, who has been in headquarters in Portland for the last month organizing the state for the coming conference, will leave for Seattle Sunday night. Thence he will go to Colorado to organize the cities there and will then return to headquarters in Pittsburg. He will return to Portland in January and reopen headquarters at the Commercial Club, which will be continued until after the close of the conference. C. H. Congdon, the advance agent for the conference, will visit Portland in October.

Mr. McGaw's programme for the remainder of the week is as follows: Tonight a meeting in Tacoma for organization, tomorrow will be spent in Portland, Saturday at the meeting at Jennings Lodge, and Sunday two meetings will be held at the Third Presbyterian Church, after which he will leave for Seattle.

PLEA MADE FOR MISSIONS

Disciples of Christ Would Raise Fund of $2,000,000.

The raising of $2,000,000 for foreign missions is the task which the Disciples of Christ have set for themselves. A banquet was held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Tuesday night at which the needs of mission stations in India, Africa, China, Manila and Thibet were presented. A plea was made for large gifts, but no subscriptions were made, it being the plan to allow those present to think the matter over before subscribing.

Speakers Tuesday night were: A. D. Cory, dean of the Bible College of Nanking; David Peachout, president of a Cleveland, O., lumber company; Dr. A. L. Shelton, of Thibet; Dr. Royal J. Dye, of Africa; D. O. Cunningham, of India; E. L. Moon, of Africa, and B. L. Kerschner, of Manila.

Mr. Cory spoke of the disciples as the only Christian missionaries who have entered Thibet, said they have already several stations, and expect soon to reach the capital.

Two Victims of Drowning Buried.

The funeral services for I. A. Lucas and J. W. Rennels, who were drowned Sunday in Willapa Bay, near South Bend, Wash., were held yesterday morning from Skewes' undertaking parlors. The services were conducted by Rev. Henry D. Chambers. The pallbearers were: W. Denver Hill, E. L. Marvin, J. H. Bagley, G. S. Forest, M. A. Martin, R. S. Crittenden. The interment was in Riverview Cemetery.

PORTLAND HOTELS PRAISED

George D. Toy, of San Francisco, Predicts Increased Travel Here.

George D. Toy, proprietor of the Manx Hotel of San Francisco and reputed to control more beds in that city nightly than any other three men, was at the Oregon yesterday, returning from a trip with Mrs. Toy to Canada.

"As a hotel man catering to its backs and stomachs, I am interested how other cities care for the traveling public," said Mr. Toy. "My observation is that Portland is taking care nicely of the different classes of trade, with prices in the higher class hotels too low to compensate for the service given, especially that of the Eastern tourists who will not believe that they are getting the service unless they are charged prices such as they are accustomed to pay in similar hotels in the Eastern cities and Europe. Queer as it may seem, they demand the price as well as the service, and if they don't get both they go away with a feeling that they were overlooked in some way.

"The talk about 'Seeing America First' is having its effect and the hotelmen of the Pacific Coast will have to prepare for this invasion. They want the best and will pay for it and that is all there is to it. They will kick at the prices, but that should be taken as a compliment, for they believe it is a privilege they pay for."

FAST SCHEDULE ADOPTED

Hill Lines to Rush East-Bound Shipments of Fruit and Produce.

Eastbound fruit and vegetable shipments routed via the Oregon Electric, North Bank and affiliated roads will be handled on a new fast schedule between points of origin and destination, according to arrangements just made by local Hill line officials.

It will be possible, they declare, to send a carload of produce from points on the Oregon Electric main line to St. Paul in approximately a week. To Chicago the time consumed will be about 36 hours more. Special efforts will be made to handle fruit and vegetable shipments on a fast schedule so that growers in Oregon and Washington may have the benefit of the best market rates.
