POLICEMAN IS CENSURED

Judge Taxwell Says Asking Patrolman His Name Not Disorderly. To ask a policeman for his name and his number does not constitute disorderly conduct, according to Municipal Judge Taxwell, who yesterday censured Patrolman N. M. Jones for arresting J. F. Carney, a railroad contractor, when Carney made the request. Jones tried to make out a case of drunk and disorderly, but it was proved to the satisfaction of the court that Carney was not drunk, and that the disorderly conduct on the part of Carney had occurred only after he had been taken into custody. Judge Taxwell dismissed the case. Carney was arrested by Patrolman Jones about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, while he was attempting to climb into his residence at 208 North Nineteenth street by means of a ladder, because his key had caught in the lock and would not work. Carney was on the roof when the policeman demanded an explanation. It was brought out that Carney was curt in addressing the officer. Carney explained the situation, how-

NOTED VISITOR AMAZED

General McAlpin Comments on Portland and Great Northwest. General E. A. McAlpin, United States Army, retired, accompanied by his son, has been in the city for a couple of days on a pleasure trip. When seen at the Mukomah the distinguished visitor expressed himself as amazed at the growth of the city in such a substantial way and of the beauty of the surrounding country. "We have around New York many beautiful points of interest, but nothing to compare with what nature has done for this section of the world," said the General. "With us everything must be the largest and best to attract even passing attention, and to that end I am building at Herald Square, in New York, the largest and finest hotel in the world. It will be called the McAlpin, and will cost approximately $6,000,000 when opened for business this Fall. "The structure will contain 1950 sleeping rooms, furnished and decorated as luxuriously as money could suggest, yet the first two stories of

FLIES SUBJECT OF INQUIRY

Health Department Asked for Quotation on Domestic Pest. "What's the best way to kill flies? Do flies lay eggs? Where can I get 10 cents a hundred for flies? Is there any bounty on fly heads? Is a fly's bite dangerous? Where do flies carry disease germs?" These are some of the questions which are being asked of the city health department in such numbers that the officials are considering seriously the establishment of a special fly question and answer department at the City Hall. So numerous are the inquiries for fly information that the clerks in the health department expect to have to answer a question on the subject every time the telephone rings. About half the time their expectations are right. Yesterday morning a woman called the department and asked where she could get 10 cents a hundred for dead flies. She said she understood somebody was paying that price for them and insisted on the health officials telling her. When they reported their inability to give her any light on the

WARRENTON COMPANY SUE

ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 2.—(Special).—A suit to recover $10,000 damages for personal injuries was filed in the Circuit Court today against the Smiley-Lampert Lumber Company, of Warrenton, by Randall Browning, an employe of the company. The complainant avers that while at work in the defendant's mill his hand was caught between a log and a block and so badly crushed that it is permanently disabled. Negligence on the part of the company in having an incompetent head sawyer in charge is alleged.

CHARGES FILED AGAIN

Water Board Accuses Murphy of Theft for Second Time. Formal and specific charges of the theft of $50 worth of junk, belonging to the City Water Department, were filed yesterday by the Water Board against Cornelius G. Murphy, former head of the meter division of the Water Department. The charges are the outcome of the trouble in which Mr. Murphy has been involved since early in January resulting from his sale to a junk dealer on Front street of a large amount of cast-off Water Department supplies. The case was tried by the Water Board and Murphy discharged from the Department. He appealed to the Civil Service Commission and was reinstated on the ground that the charges against him were not specific. The new charges detail the transaction, in which he is alleged to have sold the supplies and converted the money to his own use. With the filing of the charges yesterday Mr. Murphy was suspended from the service. It is said he will be able to collect his salary for the period from January until yesterday, although he has not been at work.

COURSE IN DEBATE IS ADDED

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Aug. 2.—(Special).—In order to aid the high school debaters and coaches of the state, a course in debating has been added to the curriculum of the University of Oregon correspondence course. The teacher of the new course will be Carlton Spencer, a senior in the University of Oregon, who during three years of intercollegiate debate and oratory has represented the university regularly. In his freshman year Mr. Spencer won the alumni debate medal, which is annually awarded to the champion debater of the university. In 1911 he won the intercollegiate oratorical contest and last June won second honors in the interstate oratorical contest held at Missoula, Mont.
