Games This Week. Portland at San Francis Oakland at Sacramento Vernon at Los Angeles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4 .- (Special.) -After apparently putting the game on ice in the first inning at Freeman's Park, Oakland, this morning, and then Park, Oakiand, this morning, and then adding another run in the second inning. Portland gave one of the bushlest exhibitions seen here this season and lost the game 7 to 4.

Down in the box score there is a note that the defeat is to be charged to the season of the se Koestner, but the break came when "Speck" Harkness heaved the ball into the bleachers back of first base while trying to make a quick peg to catch Patterson napping. That was in the third after Gregory had flied to Chad-burne and Pat had waited for the necessary number of wide ones.

Speck's Throws Fatal. Pat was awarded third on "Speck's" wide heave into the crowd, but the speckled chucker wasn't satisfied with that. With Bill Lead up Harkness cut one loose that crashed against the grandstand netting and Pat walked home.

Captain Rodgers thought that would be about all for Harkness, and Elmer Koestner was called in from the right field, where he had been warming up. Koestner wasn't any too sure at the start, and Dave Gregg, the elongated brother of Vean, was sent out to the right field warming-up station to be ready in an emergency, but he wasn't needed.

After the second inning Gregory set-After the second inning Gregory settled down to hard work, and while the Portland swatters got several long hits they didn't come when needed, and no more scores resulted. After the Beavers virtually had made them a present of the morning game the Commuters came back stronger than ever in the afternoon and made their fifth straight victory against the Oregonians, shutting the visitors out 1 to 0.

Few Hits Are Made.

It was a pitcher's battle largely, for the straight of the pitcher's battle largely, for the seventh a hit batter and two infield hits filled the bags and Sheehan put the ball over the fence for four runs. Five of Sacramento's safeties were in the form of infield hits. Score:

But its no use to speculate on what might have happened. Umpire Townsend was in a good position ee, and he gave the only decision there was to give for him. As matters stand it's quite a boost to the Oakland perentage column and keeps the transhay delegation up in the running

BY JAMES H. CASSELL. Although the Canadian provincial ws prohibit Sunday baseball at Vic-ria, the playing of the Bees across the border is not visibly affected thereby. They labored so strenuously at Vaughn-Street Park yesterday after-noon that they took both games of the double-header, the first 6-0, and the second 6-4, bringing the Colt winning streak to a sudden halt and losing the series by a one-game margin, instead series by a one-game margin, instead of the five expected by the Portland in addition hit for four singles, enough to take him to the top of the Colt batting list. Crulkshank is in a fearful slump, he has failed to hit safely in four games and is perilously close to the 300 mark.

Pat Callahan pulled a tragically amusing one when he relieved Doty in the first game. He stopped in the midst of a windup to confer with Harris, had a balk called on him and Clementson trotted across the piate.

Doty's apitters were hard for Harris to handle, if they were otherwise for the Bee bats. The saliva-anointed ball was hard to wing to second, and stolen bases galore resulted. Harris came in for the worst panning he has received this season.

Burch was not badly injured by the collision. Keller knocking the wind out of him and spiking one of his legs slightly. Louis Wise, a "wise" fan from Vancouver, tried to start a riot by howling "dirty ball" at Keller and "robbor" at Umpire Toman, but the affair was palpably an accident.

Ed Kennedy made a couple of sensational catches in left field.

Keller was caught at the plate in the second inning of the first game by one of the best plays seen in Portland this season. Coltrin ran in on Kennedy's bunt, grabbed it with one hand and whipped the ball to Harris just in time to catch the speedins Keller.

Burch was charged with the failure of the Colts to score against Kantelnaer, for he held McDowell at third when there was Five thousand people journeyed to the ball lot to take a last look at the Victoria Bees. The thousands had an opportunity to see four hours of the National pastime at the rate of 12% cents an hour for the grandstand, and 6% cents for the bleachers. But such was the brand of sport presented by the Colt-Bee combination that the majority left before the second tussle had reached the half-way mark.

Bees Walk Away With First. Had Portland won those games, or even broken even, fandom could have tolerated the inferior article of baseball, but with little in the four hours of tedious performing to thrill but a quickly-stopped ninth-inning rally, the thumbs down sign was quickly placed

Few Hits Are Made.

It was a pitcher's battle largely, for both Higginbotham and Pernoll were miserly with their hits. The Portlands twiler, as a matter of fact, allowed but five safe drives, as against seven charged against the Oakianders, but it was the break of the game that combined a walk with a nice single for Gus Helling which drove in the only run that was registered during the afternoon.

The run didn't look very big in spite of the quality of ball that was being pitched, and the Northerners made a heroic struggle to even it up in the ninth. that counts 5 years from now, more than what you are making or what you are spending at this time!!

We now offer you choice of our entire new stock of fancy STEIN-BLOCH sign of a bobble. He made a wonderful stop of Kennedy's single towards right field in the first game, tossing him out at first, and in addition hit for four singles, enough to take him to the top of the Colt batting list. Cruikshank is in a fearful slump, he has the Colts to score against Kantelhner, for he held McDowell at third when there was little excuse for the play.

The games of last week in the Pacific Coast League did little towadisturbing the status of the first divisioners. Los Angeles looked like the prospective leader for a day or two, with San Francisco coming to life and the Beavers walloping the Caks, but the Sunday games shunted the teams back into the same old positions.

By taking five of the seven games from the Beavers, the Oaks are only one game behind Los Angeles, and should regain second place this week, with Sharpe's men at Sacramento, and the Angles tackling "Hoodoo" Vernon. Vernon managed to make a good cleanof the Seals, and has a three-andone-half game margin over Los Angeles. The Beavers are now 14 games from the first division, with their chances of reaching fourth place practically "nil." They meet San Francisco this week, and, with the Scale playing better ball than usual, McCredie's men will be lucky if they take the series. Bill Lindsay was still on the sick list yesterday, but Butcher is playing a nice game and hitting at a good clip.

Vancouver was saved from a drubbing at Spokane by taking two games Rob Brown's Beavers jumped sack to the top and should increase the lead several games this the Indians are tackling Seattle in the

The White Self-Starting Six is the simplest and easiest to operate of all Sixes. The monobloc cylinder construction absolutely eliminates all manifolds and encloses all working parts of the motor in accessible, oil-tight compartments. The motor starts by merely pressing a switch, located on the dash. The motor cannot be unintentionally stalled. There are more reasons why the White is the most advanced car of the present day.
