

SHERMAN DEPLORES FRENZY OF ACTION

Mad Haste Is Pastime of Multitude, Says Nominee, Accepting Place.

TAFT VETOS COMMENDED

Sutherland, of Utah, in Speech of Notification, Says Roosevelt's Followers Are in State of Benighted Idolatry.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Vice-President James S. Sherman, the first man to be twice nominated by the Republican party for the office of now title, was formally notified at his home here today that he was again the choice of a Republican Nation.

"This distinction was not sought by me," said the Vice-President, after United States Senator Sutherland, of Utah, had delivered the speech of notification, "but unsolicited is the quite appreciated. I cannot but recognize your message as a mandate I must obey."

Mr. Sherman said that the annals of parties recorded no political gathering conducted with more openness, fairness, deliberation, sobriety and worthy purpose than that which nominated the Republican candidates in Chicago. He continued: "Not deceived by the clamor of those who attempted to bolster up claims without basis, by hundreds of contests resting on the fact of a nomination in the light of investigation most of them melted away like snow in a furnace heat and were rejected by quite as nearly a unanimous vote, the convention adopted a platform that rings true, for patriotism and constitutional government and worthily presented the nomination upon our present Chief Executive."

Opponents Divided Into Two Camps. "Our party never before has conferred a second nomination for the office of Vice-President upon any man."

"Our opponents are divided into two camps, rivaling each other in their efforts to excel in disturbing the civic and economic order of the country. The new party thrusts itself forward into the vacuum left by the phantoms of other third parties which have passed into oblivion. Oblivion, too, awaits it. The Democratic party in the Nation has The Democrats defeated its Republican rival in August; but twice has it done so in November."

Sherman read excerpts from a volume written by Governor Wilson, whom he declared a pedagogue, not a statesman.

He upheld the protective tariff and said the thoughtful could see no promise of betterment "in the frantic cry for a change." He commended the recent vetoes of the tariff bills by President Taft and said the veto called for the support of every citizen. Continuing, he said:

Crime of Age Is Frenzied Speech. "The crime of this age is frenzied speech and action; lack of thought, a spinning of delirium and of the weighing of consequences. Mad haste is the pastime of the multitude."

"Automobile racers carry their passengers to death in a minute. The British Board of Trade attributes the awful sinking of the Titanic, with its cruel sacrifice of life, to excessive speed. The third of the century, the President will soon urge the country to like disaster and ruin."

"Confident that the American people are not yet weary of the destruction of a situation which has stood the test of more than a century; that they have not yet forgotten the dire result of the mistake of 1896, the calmly await the day of November."

Senator Sutherland in his notification speech quoted the "we will follow Roosevelt" slogan which was the slogan of the Roosevelt Progressive convention, and continued:

"All of which, being chanted to the ravishing air of that driving ditty, entitled 'We don't know where we're going, but we're on our way,' wrought the multitude into such a state of blind and benighted enthusiasm that they have been brought forward for enthusiastic cheers for the Colonel and a vote of stern condemnation for the man of God as the representative of a dangerous and ungodly philosophy."

"In form, 2000 delegates, more or less, gathered in the Coliseum; in reality Mr. Roosevelt met in convention at Chicago, made a confession of faith, gave his hand to the colored brother from the North and his foot to the colored brother from the South, adopted a platform," nominated himself and Brother Johnson, and adjourned with the ease of a thoroughly trained thimble-rigger playing his vocation among rural visitors to the Midway Plaisance."

Taft Sends Congratulations. President Taft sent a telegram to Sherman today congratulating him and the Republican party on his nomination. The President telegraphed:

"I am very sorry that the public business prevents my presence at the ceremonies. I congratulate you and the party on your nomination. The Republican party continues to be the party of the Constitution, the defender of our guarantees of civil liberty, private property and pursuit of happiness and other civil rights; the upholder of law and order, the promoter of industry, the sturdy supporter of high compensation for wage earners and our industrial success through a protective tariff. I am proud again to be a joint supporter with you for that party, of conservatism, sanity and progress."

DR. BROUGHER IS CHOSEN

Pastor Made President of Inter-denominational Conference.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 21.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Southern California Baptist Assembly in the First Baptist Church this afternoon resulted in the decision to change the name of the assembly to the Long Beach Assembly. Stress was laid on the fact that the organization is inter-denominational in nature.

The officers and board of directors elected for the following year emphasize the inter-denominational nature of the assembly. Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, of Los Angeles, was elected president; Rev. Henry I. Rasmus, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of this city, first vice-president, and Rev. F. M. Rogers, pastor of the First Christian Church, of this city, second vice-president.

Disjoint Consuls Nominated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—President Taft sent today to the Senate the following Consular nominations: Percy Hays, of Montana; at Zanzibar; George N. Hanson, of Utah, at Hobart, Tasmania.

MISSISSIPPI SAYS HE BRINGS SUBJECT UP BECAUSE WILSON IS BEING ATTACKED FOR "IMMATURE UTTERANCES."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Colonel Roosevelt was attacked for his published criticisms of President Wilson and other historical figures in the Senate today by Senator Williams, of Mississippi. Mr. Williams declared that Roosevelt, either through carelessness or through "shoelace methods" of speaking, had uttered "immature utterances."

Senator Williams asserted that Roosevelt charged President Madison with "imbecile incapacity," and called him a "disgrace to America." Monroe and Madison, he said, Roosevelt had called "right-headed."

"If Jackson ever was dominated by anyone," said Senator Williams, "he certainly was never dominated by the money power, either through campaign contributions or otherwise."

Senator Williams declared he would not have attacked Colonel Roosevelt had not a general campaign been started against Governor Wilson, based on every "immature or early expression of opinion he ever wrote."

"But Colonel Roosevelt never attacked anyone so bitterly as he did the old Populists, although his new Progressive party has stolen every one of its planks from the old Populist platform," said Senator Williams.

On one occasion he declared that Becker, in speaking of Rosenthal said: "I'm glad he is out of the way. The cur should have been killed long ago. No one cares about Rosenthal anyway."

Becker, the witness testified further, told him to tell Rose, then in hiding in Harry Pollok's house, not to give him self up. "I can control Walden," Becker said, according to Scheps. "And no one need be afraid. Don't worry about the District Attorney either. I can prevent him from doing anything. The District Attorney cannot do anything without evidence, and I'll see that the police hold out the evidence."

Immunity Promised Scheps. Full immunity has been promised Scheps in the Rosenthal murder case. Before testifying before the grand jury, Scheps obtained a written agreement from the District Attorney's office which is to be started by the grand jury. The word has gone out that Burns has supplied Whitman with startling information.

Preliminary proceedings before Supreme Court Justice Goff are expected to strengthen the case against Police Lieutenant Becker and the six others indicted yesterday for the Rosenthal killing by unearthing new evidence of police corruption. The John Doe inquiry will cease during the murder trials, but will be resumed after they are concluded.

Becker Called to Plead Today. Becker and the others will be called to plead in court tomorrow. The grand jury tomorrow will be asked to consider the testimony of "Big Jack" Zelig, who told of his arrest by two members of Lieutenant Becker's "strong arm" squad. These two detectives swore they found a revolver on Zelig's person. Five witnesses testified before the grand jury that Zelig did not have a revolver when arrested. The grand jury may indict the two de-

LAND GRANT BILL IS SIGNED BY TAFT

Fisher, Although Not Pleased, Withdraws Objections After Showing Is Made.

MANY TITLES CONFIRMED

Bill Passed in Identical Form in Which It Went Through House, Despite Lafferty's Late Change of Front.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Aug. 21.—President Taft signed the bill which confirms the title of all innocent purchasers who acquired lands from the Oregon & California Railroad Company in a process of 1000 acres, but which stipulates that they shall pay the Government $2.50 an acre for the land, in addition to the amount heretofore paid the railroad company.

Innocent purchasers who acquired less than 1000 acres and more than a quarter section, are also recompensed by the bill, as their titles are confirmed without additional payment unless suits should be instituted within a year from today to overturn their title.

E. D. Townsend, assistant Attorney-General in the land grant suit, informed both branches of Congress that there was no intention to question the title of these smaller purchasers to furnish the men to the bill. This clause is practically of no effect.

Fisher Is Not Pleased. Under the bill as passed, any title recovered by the Government as a result of the pending foreclosure suit by Representative Lafferty, after the bill as may hereafter be directed by Congress. Before signing the bill the President referred it to the Attorney-General and the Secretary of the Interior. Attorney-General Wickham, while not entirely satisfied, said he would not recommend the veto of the bill, but Secretary Fisher was not pleased and bought the bill should have required the large purchasers to pay the Government at least $25 an acre for lands previously bought from the railroad.

After appeals were made to him by Representatives Hawley and by A. C. Dixon, of the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company, representing the innocent purchasers, he modified his objections and the President signed the bill.

Lafferty Opposes Own Bill. This new law is the outgrowth of the bill introduced in the House by Representative Lafferty. After the bill was under consideration, Lafferty, having a personal grudge against some of the innocent purchasers, changed his mind and informed the House that he was opposed to his own bill.

In spite of that fact, the bill was reported and was called up in the House and passed without debate under unanimous consent, Lafferty leaving the House soon as the bill was reached. Lafferty's bill was introduced by Bourne and Chamberlain to amend the bill to meet his latest views, but his request was ignored and the Senate passed its version of the bill, in which it went through the House. It is now the law and is left to the Attorney-General for administration.

Incidentally, the bill was very similar to that far taken by the Department of Justice in the prosecution of its suit against the Oregon & California Railroad Company.

(Continued From First Page.) the leadership of the army follows: "My comrades, I accept this appointment. I do so even if no other consideration moved me in that course, because it was my general's wish."

"I promise in the strength of God that I will to the full measure of my ability, discharge the obligations that this office imposes on me as they are set forth in our foundation documents. I will do this in fear of God, out of love for the army and out of regard to the memory of him whose thoughts and purposes these instruments express."

Aid of Organization Resonant. "I must, with the whole strength of my heart, ask you to help me and my dear wife. So far as God shall enable us, we accept these blessings with a single eye for his glory, for the blessing of the world and for the salvation of the people. My dear comrades, I accept the appointment of the general."

King George was one of the first to telegraph his condolences to the bereaved family. Messages also were received from Premier Asquith, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and other prelates of the church of England; the Lord Mayor of London, representatives of all protestant creeds and prominent Jews.

King George's message, sent to Bramwell Booth, follows: "I am grieved to hear the sad news of the death of your father. The British nation has lost a great organizer and the poor a whole-hearted and sincere friend, who devoted his life to helping them in a practical way. Only in the future shall we realize the good wrought by him for his fellow creatures. Today there is universal mourning for him. I join in it and assure you and your family of my true sympathy in the heavy loss which has befallen you."

CLARK TO STUMP MAINE

DECISION OF SPEAKER IS PLEASING TO WILSON.

Report That Governor Harmon, of Ohio, Is to Speak in Middle West, Also Received.

SEAGIRT, N. J., Aug. 21.—Speaker Clark will take the stump in Maine for the Democratic ticket, according to an announcement by Governor Wilson tonight.

The Governor said that Edward G. Gillette, a prominent committeeman from Missouri, had so informed him over the telephone from New York and that he was "pleased to hear that Speaker Clark will go to Maine before the gubernatorial elections on September 5. Though Governor Wilson would not say whether he would accompany the speaker, indications are that the National campaign committee is directing its efforts to make a strong early campaign in that state. It is felt that the September elections will give the first indication of the trend of feeling toward the three National candidates—not a Governor Marshall, the Vice-Presidential nominee, and Representative Henry, of Texas, will stump in Maine before the September balloting.

Governor Wilson was told tonight of reports that Governor Harmon, of Ohio, would make several addresses in the Middle West for the Democratic ticket.

"That's fine," commented the Governor. "I'm glad to hear it." From Ohio, incidentally, Governor Wilson received an optimistic report combination, has made a fortune out of crooked municipal contracts and the corrupt control of municipal councils and State Legislatures. Mr. E. A. Van Valkenburg, editor of the Philadelphia North American, was arrested and indicted for bribery in my first Senatorial contest in 1898, and only escaped conviction through the leniency of Senator Quay and upon the payment of about $10,000 to a coterie of lawyers, detectives and for other expenses of prosecution.

"Upon the death of Senator Quay in 1904, Mr. Flinn became a candidate to succeed him in the United States Senate. In Philadelphia, during a discussion of the successorship to Senator Quay, Mr. Flinn offered also to be elected for bribery in my first Senatorial contest in 1898, and only escaped conviction through the leniency of Senator Quay and upon the payment of about $10,000 to a coterie of lawyers, detectives and for other expenses of prosecution.

"The Governor of Pennsylvania, Samuel W. Pennypacker, appointed Philander C. Knox to succeed Mr. Quay. Mr. Knox subsequently was elected by the Legislature for the full term. His appointment and election and resignation and appointment to the Cabinet occurred with the full knowledge and acquiescence of Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Flinn still desires to go to the United States Senate. His friends openly avow his ambition, and his activity for the efforts of law reform to which he has recently become a convert are prompted by this desire.

"The effrontery, hypocrisy and mendacity of the Van Valkenburg Flinn combination were disclosed by the following correspondence between John D. Archbold and William Flinn. I call attention to the following telegram sent to John D. Archbold by William Flinn:

"Pittsburg, June 7, 1904.—I tried to talk to you over the telephone last night, but could not hear you. I am making an effort to go to the United States Senate as M. S. Quay's successor. As it now stands the appointment of the Secretary of the Interior, organization of the surrounding counties. The decision of the question is up to Senator Boies Penrose, state chairman, and Israel W. Durkin, the efforts of a few of my influential friends put forth at once with Penrose and Durham will settle the question. If you will use your influence with them in my behalf I will greatly appreciate it. The decision will probably be reached Wednesday. Can you help me?"

"WILLIAM FLINN." Archbold answers in cipher: "Under the same date the following reply was sent in cipher to William Flinn from John D. Archbold: "New York, June 7, 1904.—Telegram received. Sorry that the party did not show up. I expect to fall pop sharply parsed fanning and until flagon prefix it is lamented for me to have flood hatred respish. The cipher, being translated, reads as follows: "Telegram received. Sorry the phone did not work better. Expected to talk with Penrose and Durkin after Durkin's impossible for me to have any definite view.—John D. Archbold."

"Thus it is discovered that while the Flinn yellow journals in Pennsylvania are expressing their abhorrence of what they denounce as a malevolent transaction on my part, within a few months of the date of the alleged letter from John D. Archbold to William Flinn, they are asking the aid of the same John D. Archbold to secure his appointment and election to the United States Senate and was conducting an active correspondence with him under a cipher code."
