

BABE AWAITAS AS EXPLORER RETURNS

Professor Parker and Belmore Browne Home From Mount McKinley.

SUMMIT WITHIN 300 FEET

Brooklyn and Tacoma Men Tell How High Altitude Affected Digestion. Storms Rage at High Camp. 24 Below Zero.

SEATTLE, Aug. 28.—Professor Herschel Parker, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Belmore Browne, of Tacoma, who came within 300 feet of reaching the summit of Mount McKinley last June, returned from Alaska today.

Professor Parker was greeted at the pier by Mrs. Parker, a bride of a little more than a year, who had come all the way from Brooklyn to meet him, and he hastened to Tacoma on the first interurban car to see for the first time his only child, a baby of a few months, born during his absence in Alaska.

At an altitude of 10,000 feet the Parker-Browne party relaxed their supplies with dog teams from the camp below. After remaining at this altitude several days and unable to proceed hither on account of a severe storm, they decided to await more favorable conditions and dropped back to an altitude of 8000 feet.

They set out again June 5, going up the northwest ridge and Mulrow Glacier. The route selected was narrow and hazardous and the ridge steep, but the explorers were able to reach an altitude of 11,000 feet before being driven back by the severe cold and blinding snow, which was blown by a high gale from peak to peak.

Goal Only 300 Feet Away. On the third attempt an altitude of 20,100 feet was reached, where, with only three days' provisions left, they were unable to withstand the terrible cold and snow and gave up their hope of reaching the summit.

Professor Parker, in explaining the severe cold on the mountain, said that at a height of 15,000 feet on June 27 it was 19 degrees below zero. At a height of 20,100 feet the worst of the climbing was over, but the severe cold and the blinding snow drove them back and compelled them to abandon their attempts to climb the remaining 300 feet.

Altitude Affects Food. "I found that the pemmican, the special food used by Arctic explorers and made of beef tallow and raisins, is of no value at the high altitudes," said Professor Parker. "We were soon afflicted with indigestion and the food was too heavy and we were unable to use a large part of our rations. I found that at an altitude of 13,000 feet I could not smoke without experiencing severe dizziness, while Mr. Browne seemed to be able to smoke at any height. About the coldest weather we experienced was at an altitude of 13,000 feet, when the temperature fell to 25 degrees below zero."

Both Professor Parker and Mr. Browne said they had made their last attempt to reach the top of Mount McKinley.

INSANE TO BE UNIFORMED

Asylum Inmates Interested in Military Drill and Manuevers.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 28.—Brass buttons on bright uniforms of the Army, uniforms of officers and men with gold braid and distinguishing stripes of rank will be worn by the volunteer army at the Army state hospital for the insane. One hundred of these uniforms of the obsolete kind, formerly used in the Army and in the National Guard, were sent to the asylum today by order of the Adjutant-General.

At Agnews the management has interested the inmates in military problems. Companies have been organized, forts built, dummy guns and dummy field pieces constructed and the patients go through all kinds of military manuevers.

First Husband Killed Last October Making Exhibition Flight in Georgia—Friends Not Taken Into Confidence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mabel Ely, widow of Eugene Ely, aviator, who was killed in Macon, Ga., October 19, 1911, while giving exhibition flights, is reported to have been married to Phillip Cross, manager of the Bon Air Hotel at Escalante, Utah, last week and being married today.

The bridegroom is Phillip Cross, manager of the Bon Air Hotel at Escalante. Not even the parents of Mrs. Cross were taken into her confidence, and they were as much surprised as her friends when the news became known today that an elopement had been maneuvered under their eyes without a hint having been dropped by either of the two. Cross was often seen in Mrs. Ely's company, but their marriage was unexpected.

Mrs. Cross is the daughter of Professor H. C. Hall, principal of the Corte Madera schools.

TROOPS ARE NOT TO GO

Treaty Would Have Prevented War. To friends tonight Mr. Taft said that if the Senate had agreed to the proposed treaty with Nicaragua, which he advocated on his long trip last fall, the misery existing today would not have arisen. Under that treaty the United States, he said, would have administered the customs of Nicaragua and since the customs are about the country's only source of revenue, there would have been little to attract a revolutionist, who would not care to attack the United States.

During the day the President received several long messages from Acting Secretary of State Wilson. His order to the Tenth Infantry to advance on Nicaragua was issued in Beverly just before he left for Columbus, O., where he speaks tomorrow. Messages from Mr. Wilson were received at Albany, N. Y., and at other points east of Rochester, and telegrams from the Navy Department also kept coming to Mr. Taft's private car.

Marines Deemed Sufficient. Neither the State nor Navy Department wished to see United States troops sent into Nicaragua. The custom in similar cases has been to land marines. The President said today that while the sending of a regiment of infantry would not be an act of war, he would prefer to use marines if an available force could be found quickly.

His telegrams to Washington evidently were fruitful, for he was of the opinion tonight that the Navy had found enough marines to look after every American and all American property that might be endangered. If he finds the situation critical later he will not hesitate to use the Army.

LIBERALS FOUND HOSTILE

Terhune Forced to Threaten to Gain Entrance to Town. CORINTO, Nic., Aug. 28.—Commander Warren J. Terhune, in force of 2000 American sailors and marines from the gunboat Annapolis and the collier Justice today forced their way through territory controlled by the revolutionists to Leon, the town midway between the Pacific Coast and Lake Managua, where the liberals rose in arms on August 19 and in the night massacred the sleeping soldiers of the garrison. The Americans found the liberals hostile to their advance and it became necessary for Commander Terhune to threaten to attack Leon before the insurgents would allow the train bearing his detachment to enter the town. Rioting had subsided and the Americans found the city resuming its normal appearance. After conferring with the liberal leaders Commander Terhune withdrew his force from the city, 100 marines going to Managua and the rest of the detachment to Corinto. Corinto had been designated as a place of refuge for the foreigners residing in the surrounding country. An armed force from the gunboat Annapolis is constantly patrolling the streets and six-pound guns have been taken from the warship and mounted on flatcars for the defense of the city.

The United States gunboat Denver, with reinforcements of marines and bluejackets, numbering 350, has arrived here. The cruiser California with a further detachment of marines is expected here tomorrow.

The revolutionaries control Chinandega, a city of 12,000, and the capital of a department of the same name, and it is the desire of the rebels to capture Corinto, which is Chinandega's port.

All attempts of the insurgents to capture this seaport so far have been prevented by the armed force from the Annapolis.

Managua is the only large city in the northern part of the country. It is constantly patrolling the streets and six-pound guns have been taken from the warship and mounted on flatcars for the defense of the city.

TRIAL BY SHOW OF HANDS CONDEMNED

Bar Association Hears Criticism of Those Who Would Recall Decisions.

MARRIAGE LAW APPROVED

Philadelphia Who Presents Model Says Common Law Unions Will Be Disavowed—Uniform System of Pleading Urged.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 28.—Severe criticism of those who question the adequacy of the Federal Constitution and of "those who seek to replace it with policies dictated by passing whims and fleeting emotions," was made by United States Senator Sutherland, of Utah, in an address before the American Bar Association tonight.

Maintaining that the chief value of the Constitution "is in its operation to prevent ill-considered and impulsive action," Senator Sutherland denounced the plan for recall of judicial decisions, which he said in effect would be "to send a judicial decision by a show of hands at the polls."

People's Wisdom Doubtful. "It is becoming unfashionable to speak well of the Constitution," declared Senator Sutherland. "It is no longer respectable to profess the ancient faith in the learning and integrity of the courts. The good faith of the people themselves in seeking these radical changes is not to be questioned, but we may justly doubt their wisdom in having lent a too ready ear to the professional demagogue, whose strident voice has filled the land with his ill-considered and impracticable theories."

More Pay for Judges Tabled. A motion to urge President Taft and Congress to increase the salaries of Federal judges provoked heated debate. The motion was tabled. A committee was appointed to ask Congress "to empower the Supreme Court to prepare and put into effect a complete correlated system of pleading and procedure for the common law side of the Federal courts, as is now being done for the equity side." The purpose is to secure a uniform system of pleading for state and Federal courts. The Bar Association tonight approved a model marriage law. Walter George Smith, of Philadelphia, who presented the model through a committee, declared the law would disavow common law marriages.

HOSTAGE'S FATE FEARED

FRENCH TROOPS TOO BUSY TO RESCUE OFFICERS.

Nation Indignant Over Report That Spaniards Gave Assistance to Moorish Captor.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Public anxiety was intensified today over the fate of the French officers held as hostages by the Moors under El Hiba, at Marakesh, Morocco. Embassies have been dispatched to Marakesh by the French commander, but have obtained no information. General Lyautey, the French resident-general, reported to the foreign office that the volunteers who had undertaken the dangerous duty had returned from El Hiba's headquarters where they in vain had tried to effect a ransom which could not ascertain the lot of the prisoners.

The French column commanded by Colonel Mangin has been given full liberty of action to proceed to the succor of the hostages if such a step should be thought advisable. The French troops, however, are too fully occupied to do anything in that way, as they have their hands full in blocking the progress of the Moorish pretender's forces towards Fez and Mazagan.

Profound indignation has been expressed in France by the report that the Spaniards gave assistance to El Hiba, whom it was alleged they had supplied with arms.

MOORHEAD, Minn., Aug. 28.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon, in a letter to State Senator Charles S. Marden, accepts the challenge of J. B. Blanchard, aged 90, to a "high kicking" contest. Cannon, in accepting the challenge, says: "I cannot suggest that Mr. Blanchard first get a reputation before attempting to challenge me in this regard, for, of course, his prowess in this delightful sport is known to all, and in view of the tone of defiance indicated by this statement I cannot do otherwise than accept."

Cannon then presents his best wishes to Blanchard, who on his 90th birthday declared he could beat Uncle Joe or any other young old boy at a high-kicking contest.

The date of the meet has not been set.

JUDGE CENSURES JURY

ACQUITTAL IN WHITE SLAVERY CASE DEEMED WRONG.

Court Holds Testimony of Woman in Case Should Carry More Than Ordinary Weight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—The failure of a jury to find a verdict against Henry Smith, accused of driving Freda Frost into a life of shame and living on her earnings, led Judge Lawler in discharging the jurors today to comment on the dangers of white slavery.

"In the very nature of the case," he said, "the incriminating testimony must come in considerable part from the woman. The jury, of course, must be satisfied of guilt, but if they are satisfied they should not fail so to find merely because the main part of the testimony is given by the woman."

"And if malefactors under this statute escape deserved punishment because of the incapacity of jurors to administer justice in such cases, normal men and women will despair of the integrity of our social structure."

Why You Should Bathe Internally

Under our present mode of living, Nature, unassisted, cannot dispose of all the waste. This waste sends its poisons into the system, through the blood-circulation, and brings on countless ills.

That's the reason a physician's first step in illness is to give a laxative. Physicians generally, in order to stop this accumulation of waste, are now advising the use of the J. B. L. Cascade. Nature's cure for Constipation, which rids the lower intestine of all waste and keeps it healthy without drugging.
