

WIDOWS ATTEND BOOTH MEMORIAL

Tender Tributes Paid Dead Religious Leader by Representatives of Societies.

SELF-SACRIFICE IS LAUDED

Services Opened by Staff Captain J. W. Andrews—Principal Address by M. A. Miller, Representing Governor West.

Several hundred Portland people, representing all religious denominations, joined in an impressive memorial service at the White Temple yesterday afternoon, and paid tribute to the memory of General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, who died in London, August 30, 1911.

The exercises were introduced with brief statements of the great work of the founder of the Salvation Army movement by J. W. Andrews, staff captain, of the Portland organization. He delivered the chairmanship of the meeting to M. A. Miller, a senator, who, as the personal representative of Governor West, made the introductory address.

"We are assembled here today," said Senator Miller, "with bowed heads and hearts to pay tribute to a great and good man—General William Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, who was one of the world's greatest friends to lowly humanity."

"Selfishness Great Danger. "Early in life he manifested a desire to help others. He went to the east end of London, where the streets were, within a radius of one mile, 1,000,000 people who had never crossed the threshold of a church. His warm heart went out to these the unprosperous, unattractive, uneducated, unattractive, unattractive."

"No one reaches the high-water mark of civilization until he has done something for the betterment of his fellow-man. And he who devotes his life-work to helpfulness of others, leaves a monument more lasting and enduring than loving hands can rear. The most lasting monument one can build, is the influence one's heart exerts upon the hearts of others. General Booth's life-work has exemplified this fact more eminently than any other human character recorded upon the pages of the world's history."

"Duty Fully Realized. "General Booth realized that he was a factor in society. He also recognized that there is a life besides that which binds one to his own flesh and blood. He realized the great work of humanity. The neglected ones who people London's lowest slums so appealed to his sympathetic heart that in order to help them more effectively he created within their hearts a more human feeling and a greater desire to do right and to live right. He thought out the purpose of the Salvation Army, which is today regarded by thinking men and women as the greatest of all powers for uplifting lowly humanity."

"The name of General Booth will live forever. His praises will be sung by millions yet unborn. He loved mankind. Love is the word which in English language, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself' and in so doing obey the law given to the world by the lowly Nazarene. Men will die as leaves of Autumn, but the principles of love will live forever. So the name of General William Booth, who gave his life for the cause of others, will be remembered as one of the greatest benefactors."

"Societies Well Represented. Rev. W. B. Hinson, pastor of the White Temple, said Commander Booth was known to the people of the city as a life of long self-sacrifice was an example for emulation by all Christian people. "To General Booth," declared Rev. J. H. Cudlipp, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, "nothing was secular but sin and against sin he waged relentless warfare. He impressed the great secular world with the message of love and the undertone of life. Like Moses, Elijah, Jesus and Martin Luther, he came to the world."

Other speakers were: G. L. Baker, representing Mayor Rusk; H. W. Stone, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; Mrs. Ada W. Durah, president of the San Francisco Church Federation, presided at the union church service, while the roll of honorary vice-presidents included state and municipal officers, the foreign consuls in the city, members of the Supreme Court, Federal and civil officials, officers of the Army and Navy and ministers of various denominations.

The service was conducted by various ministers, all of whom paid tributes to General Booth, and was followed by a musical programme. A special memorial service will be held at each Salvation Army post in the city tomorrow night in honor of the dead leader.

FARMERS IN NEED OF AID

President of Agricultural College Makes Tour of State.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Sept. 1.—(Special.)—That Oregon is ready for the installation of a statewide system of agricultural education and rural inspiration, is the belief of President W. J. Kerr, who has just returned from an extended inspection trip in Eastern and Central Oregon.

"The people everywhere seem to be convinced that the rich agricultural heritage of Oregon cannot be realized until intelligent and scientific methods are applied in all phases of the agricultural industries," according to Dr. Kerr. "But more than this, they seem to be convinced that this can be brought about only by organized effort which should reach into every community in the state."

He reports that as a result of his investigation of the work which has been done during the past year at the branch experiment stations and the demonstration farms, and in co-operation with the college working in Central and Eastern Oregon, he is convinced more than ever that this great work of organization and extension of agricultural education will be done in large measure through the use of demonstration farms, branch experiment stations and the general extension agencies of the college working in co-operation with the farmers in the various localities of the state.

"The two things most needed for successfully carrying forward the agricultural extension work," said Dr. Kerr, "are demonstration farms and traveling agricultural advisors. President Kerr cited the success of the work now being done at the demonstration farms at Metolius and Redmond, and, particularly, in connection with the visited, Ben Selling, progressive Republican nominee for United States Senator, has just returned from a two weeks' tour of Coos, Curry, Klamath and Lake Counties. The purpose of this tour by the Republican Senatorial candidate into the remote sections of the state was to meet the people and gain a first-hand knowledge of their needs as to legislation. Mr. Selling says he found conditions politically very satisfactory so far as his candidacy was concerned.

"I was surprised with the wonderful resources of Coos County with its wealth of magnificent timber, its extensive and remunerative dairy interests and its rich and resourceful coal lands, the development of which today is only in its infancy," said Mr. Selling yesterday. "At Marshfield I saw in full operation the most complete sawmill in the United States. With its almost unlimited resources, Coos County is capable of sustaining with ample prosperity for all, fully ten times its present population."

"The two things most needed by this rich Coast county are railroads, which, I learned, are practically assured in the next two years, and the adequate improvement of its harbors. The Federal Government has not treated the people of Coos County properly. They are entitled to larger appropriations for their harbors. Certainly the improvements at Port Orford should be completed at once. The Government is really obliged to these people to improve their harbors through the same appropriations that have been made for similar projects in the Eastern States."

"I visited every point of importance in Coos and Curry Counties and found the most optimistic people I have ever met, and they have every reason to be optimistic. Although real estate values do not appear high, the natural wealth and conditions of that section are such that these values are bound to advance. This will be a certain result following the building of railroads and the increased development that will follow."

"Klamath's Future Bright. "Klamath Falls is a typical Western city. Its citizenship is full of push and enterprise of the quality that makes for unquestioned and substantial progress. It is surrounded by most wonderful scenery, its hotels are equal to those in cities having five times the population. The city has miles of paved streets and when the Klamath Falls-Natrona cutoff is completed, and Klamath Falls finds itself on the main Portland-San Francisco line of the Southern Pacific, the development of both the city and the county is destined to be much more rapid."

"By reason of exceptionally good roads, constructed on a basis of permanency, it is possible to reach Crater Lake from Klamath Falls in 12 hours. As a result of this preliminary visit, I have decided next summer to pass my vacation with my family at this marvelous natural resort."

"The Reclamation Service has been doing good work in Klamath County but it has been seriously handicapped by lack of funds. Had Oregon not been deprived of the use of $9,000,000 of the reclamation fund, to which it was entitled and which was lost to the state through the Southern Pacific extension and completion of the project now under way would soon develop into one of the richest and most productive counties in the state."

"Good Roads Are Found. "In Lakeview, which is reached by a narrow-gauge railroad from Reno, Nev., I found a bustling city. From Lakeview to the California line, along the line of the lakes, is a veritable garden spot, to which settlers are sure to be attracted by the wonderful fertility and productive qualities of the soil."

"The people of Lake County are among the most hospitable I have ever met, and while the country is one of magnificent distances, travel is made easy by virtue of the excellence of the roads. I made the trip from Klamath Falls to Lakeview, a distance of 104 miles over a mountain road, in the remarkable time of five and one-half hours. The enterprise of the people of

in their splendid system of roads. "Built under the administration of County Judge Daly without incurring a cent of indebtedness against the county, Lake County has one of the most important and serviceable county contributions in the state. Situated in Lakeview also is a high school building that would be a credit to any other city in the state."

Mr. Selling will pass this week in Portland with occasional visits to the State Fair at Salem. It will be the purpose of Mr. Selling, he explained yesterday, to make a complete tour of the state, including every county, as the time intervening until the November election will permit.

Big Grayhound Building.

The Inland Navigation Company of Seattle has awarded a contract to the Seattle Construction & Dry Dock Company for the building of a new steamer for the Seattle-Tacoma run that will be the fastest passenger steamer on Puget Sound and will cost $250,000. She will be 235 feet long, 34 feet beam, equipped with a four-cylinder engine and water-tube boilers. She will have a carrying capacity of 1500 tons, and with a speed of 20 knots is expected to regularly make the run between those cities in an hour and 15 minutes.

TENINO CAPTURES PRIZE

Development Boomer Gets 300 Strong to South Bend Meeting.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., Sept. 1.—(Special.)—Tenino, the big, little city of Thurston County in Southwestern Washington, arrived yesterday 300 strong to add its boost spirit as a grand finale to the biggest and best meeting ever held by the Southwest Washington Development Association. Seven hundred boosters sat down to a feast of native and Eastern transplanted oysters, clams, crabs and chinook salmon at Tokeland beach yesterday. Tenino brought its fire and drum corps and a brass band and added to the pleasure. Dancings were enjoyed on a big barge that was towed between two steamers. State judicial and county candidates indulged in pleasant talks at the clambake.

A distressing fatal accident marred the day for all. Charles Rose, 14, son of H. B. Rose, Sr., of Tenino, was instantly killed when his head came in contact with a projecting bridge post at Lebam, while he was swinging his body out from the car platform. His body fell to the right of way and he was not missed for some time. The train backed up five miles to recover the body, which was brought here. Fifteen Tenino residents remained with the grief-stricken family. The body was taken home last night.

Montesano was selected for the next quarterly meeting to be held next January or February. Tenino won the silk banner offered at Olympia for the biggest attendance based on membership. It was presented at the bungalow clubhouse here last night by President Pearson of the South Bend Club. The acceptance was made in a speech by H. P. Scheel. The boosters had their pictures taken in front of the clubhouse. Preparations had been made for 1000 at the clambake. Seven hundred attended. But for a rain that had fallen the attendance would have been larger.

One thousand dollars was raised by public subscription in this city for entertainment. More than three pages of advertising has been freely given to this meeting by the city and country dailies. South Bend is now known. It is declared, as the great city of Willapa Harbor. The latter is no longer confused with other harbors in the minds of 1000 boosters.
