LABOR DAY PICNIC WINS AGAINST RAIN

Partly "On" and Partly "Off," Crystal Lake Outing Is Attended by 700.

GOVERNOR ILL, IS ABSENT

J. J. Cody Takes First Honors in Shingle-Packing Contest; Spectator and Milwaukie "Cop" Have Misunderstanding.

What was to have been the grand Labor day celebration for the organlaborers of Portland at Crystal Lake Park, near Milwaukie, yesterday

Lake Park, near Milwaukie, yesterday, was partially abandoned because of the inclement weather and because Governor West, who was to have been the main attraction, could not attend on account of sudden illness. However, some 760 people, determined to capitalize their day off, armed themselves with umbrelias and raincoats and set out cheerfully to enjoy a day's outing. Discouraged by the severe rainstorm of Sunday night, it had been decided by the committee on arrangements to declare the entire programme off and this word was sent to many of the labor councils and scattered broadcast before the time yesterday morning when it was scheduled over again in part. They were led to this final decision by the deceptive clearing of the weather and by the appeal of the members of the Meat Cutters' Union, who had reasted 1200 pounds of meat and prepared other edibles for the grand barbecue. So betwixt understanding and misunderstanding the pic-nic was partly "on" and partly "off."

Merriment Holds Sway.

Nevertheless the crowd was patient through it all and went on with the merriment, as if J. Pluvius and Governor West had never existed. The old and the young, the gray and the bald, anyone and everyone played in the rope swings marked "for children only," threw eggs at the famous "African dodger" (six shots for 20 cents and a cigar to win every time an egg was squashed on the negro's head); they rode on the ocean wave, "bucked" the candy-box roulette wheel, shot balls at gold-headed doll babies and cut up capers in divers other ways.

Perhaps the crowning event of the day so far as interest was concerned was the shingle-packing conteat, which was finally won by J. J. Cody, a member of the Shingle Weavers' Union, Local 58. Thousands of shingles were heaped upon an improvised roof and the Merriment Holds Sway.

pany's Chair is laint Only, tells of the speeches scheduled were delivered. The other speakers, J. L. Ledwidge, W. H. Daly, Mrs. Cotterill, W. H. Fitzgerald and James Maguire, were on the grounds, but thought it inadvisable to conduct the piatform programme in view of the circumstance that the main address of the day was to have been given by the Governor.

By no means the least exciting event of the day, however, was one not on the official programme, namely, a fish between a spectator and a policeman and a near riot which followed. While the shingle-packing contest was being wasged the City Marshal of Milwaukie from the forbidden ringside. The young man, known as "Blondie" Poster, balked and a strongle ensued. It is alleged that the officer struck him down and later walloped him with the "billie" while he was on his back. Anyhow, many of the onlockers talked for a time of mobbling the Marshal and it was only the judicious interference of the mankers of ceremonles that averted further trouble. But before long the participants in the discussion "made up" and went back to view the shingle-packing competition.

STEAMER MONARCH STARTING BACK FROM AMUSEMENT PARK WITH INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ODDFELLOWS.

With 500 Oddfellow excursionists on board, the steamer Monarch, regardless of the low stage of the river, steamed up to the Oaks yesterday afternoon as easily and prettily as a motor launch. According to river men, this creates a record, for, while vessels of the size of the Monarch have previously landed at the Oaks, it has been earlier in the year at flood seasons.

The excursionists enjoyed an outdoor lunch at the Oaks and participated in dancing. During the day the Oaks demonstrated one of its freakish features, for, despite the heavy rains downtown during the day, the Sun shone at the Oaks until 5:30, and not until that hour was there a drop of rain.

Owing to the unsatisfactory weather conditions and the fact that a wet night had set in, Christofferson did not make his evening ascent, and he went up alone in the afternoon, using the opportunity to travel over the park at a height of 3500 feet.

At that height he shut off his engine and headed direct for the water. His dive was a plunge rather than a float, and the machine headed earthwards so rapidly that there was consternation among the crowd who feared disaster.

It was Councilman Baker who talked to the poundman. What form of persuasion he employed is not recorded, but the dogcatcher went away dogless. It was Manager Baker who returned then and remarked to Bernard: "Bill, don't you think you had better get your people back to that rehearsal?"

The stage dogs were herded in the wings the rest of the day, and seven nice, new muzzles, varying in size, were delivered at the Baker last evening.

Socialist Candidate for President Talks to Portland Crowd of 7000.

may expect the trusts—the forces be-hind the candidacy of Theodore Roose-velt—to build up a party for the emanvelt—to build up a party for the emancipation of the common people," deciared Eugene V. Debs, Socialist nominee for President, in an address at the Gipsy Smith Auditorium yeaterday afternoon. And the responsive applause from his auditors, estimated at 7000 in number, shook the windows and even produced a vibration of the rafters in the immense frame building.

This prediction by the Socialist Presidential candidate came as a climax to a discussion of the thresparties—Republican, Democratic and Progressive—which, he asserted, were

"Regardless of which of these parties at Oakland tonight.

Progressive Promises Scoffed.

"Regardless of which of these parties succeeds," said Mr. Debs, "the condition of the workingmen will remain the same, The trouble with the Republican party is that it has outlived its usefulness and a workingman has no more place in its ranks than John D. Rockefeller has in a circus. The trouble with too many laboring men is that they are laboring under the impression that their interests are identified to those of Rockefeller. We find other workingmen are Democrats because their grandfather was.

"Now the Progressive party promises us a new deal. But who says so? [George W. Perkins, ex-partner of J. P. Morgan & Co.; McCormick, of the harvester trust, and Dan Hanna, of the vocal trust. But men are judged by their record rather than by promises. Roosevelt, who heads the Moosevelt signed the Odell bill, which permitted by their record rather than by promises. Roosevelt, who heads the Moosevelt signed out the militia to shoot down as trikers who were asking for the enforcement of the law against the criminal operations of contracting employers. As President of the United States, Roosevelt denounced the officers of the Western Federation of Miners as "undesirable clizens," for the purpose of prejudicing them with the public in their approaching trial.

"Still he poses as the only friend of the workingmen. If you give him your yote next November, you will prove a traitor to the working class."

"Taft and Wilson Escape.

Mr. Debs barely mentioned President the workingmen. If you give him your yote next November, you will prove a traitor to the working class."

"The moderation to the Built Moose candidate and his andence was with him enthusiastically."

tion free themselves from the industrial condition of which they complain.

"The education, organization and cooperation of the workers, the entire body of them, is the conscious aim and the self-imposed task of the Socialist party. Persistently, unceasingly and enthusiastically this great work is being accompilated. It is the working class coming into consciousness of treef, and no power on earth can prevail against it in the hour of its complete awakening.

"The laws of evolution have decreed the downfall of the capitalist system. The handwritting is upon the wall in letters of fire. The trusts are transformters of fire. The trusts are transforming industry and next will come the transformation of the trusts by the people. Socialism is inevitable. Capitalism is breaking down and the new order evolving from it is clearly the Socialist commonwealth.

NO ONE STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer eays: "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body * * * * ." He continues, "so we may be said to live (through) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent than

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"Several months ago I suffered from a severe pain right under the breast-bone," writes Mrs. G. M. MURSEN, of Corons, Calif. "Had suffered from it, off and on, for several years. I also suffered from heart-burn, did not know what was the matter with me. I tried several medicines but they did me no good. Finally, I was told it was my liver. I did not dare to est as it made me worse. Whenever I swallowed anything it seemed that I would faint—it hurt so. I grew very thin and weak from not eating. Was told to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took five bottles of it, and could feel myself getting better from the first dose. I could eat a little without pain and grew strong fast. To-day I am strong and well and can do a big day's work with ease. Can eat everything and have put on fiesh wonderfully. I will say to all sufferers write to Dr. Pierce. He has my undying gratitude."

SPOTS OVER ARMS

Scratched, Then It Burned. Itched So Could Not Get Much Rest. Used Cuticura Remedies. In One Month Was Entirely Cured.

burned. When I got warm, it was worse. It was in spots all over my arms. It was in sores, and itched so bad that I could not get much rest at all. I used everything I could think of, but got no relief till I found Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment.

"I washed my arms with Cuticura Soap twice a day, and then applied the Cuticura Sointment on a piece of cloth and put it on my arms and that gave me relief right away from that itching. I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Resolvent and in one month I was entirely cured. I have never been troubled since. It cured me and it will cure others. I also use Cuticura Ointment on my baby's head use Cuticurs Cintment on my baby's head for the hair, and recommend it for sore hands." (Signed) Mrs. Lillie Gobiet, Dog.
