

MABEL WINS 2:15
TROT IN 4 HEATS

California Mare Given Hard
Run by Phyllis Wynn at Salem Races.

SPEED BURST IS SHOWN

Homer Mc. Takes First Money in Woodman of the World Pace in 2:18 1-4, Hard Pressed by Dan
Logan--Futurity Disappoints.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 3.—(Special).—
With a clear day, no wind, but still a heavy track, the second day of the Oregon State Fair races at Lone Oak track showed some good heats, but as a whole the crowd slumped somewhat from yesterday's showing. The main event, the Woodmen of the World 2:25 pace for a $2400 purse, was billed for the feature event and showed exciting moments, but the real race was the 2:15
trot, which caused Mabel, a California mare, to go four heats finally to take the first money. In two of the heats Phyllis Wynn trotted Mabel a close shave while in the second Phyllis Wynn
captured the heat.

Hartwood Is Contender.
In the third heat Hartwood, a big beautiful black from Saskatchewan
gave Mabel a trying trot, for half a mile crowding her close until the three-quarters pole when the black broke and dropped out of the going.
In the last and deciding heat Tell Tale trotted a heart-breaking race. The gray California mare put up a pretty piece
of speed which brought the crowd
with her and threatened to prolong the race for another heat at least. The pace proved too strong, however, and Mabel tore loose with a spurt that took the speed from Tell Tale and dropped her to second place.

This heat was the most grueling of the afternoon and was loaded with thrills from the half-mile post to the finish.

Homer Mac Wins Money.
In the Woodmen of the World pace,
Dan Logan stepped away with the first
heat, but was compelled to be satisfied with second money in the succeeding heats. Homer Mac, who gave Dan Logan a stiff pace for the first heat
took away the honors and first money
in each of the succeeding heats.

The 3-year-old Oregon futurity trot proved to be a disappointment. Only three of the youngsters were entered
and it was all a one-two-three affair
with the horses half a block apart all around the track in both of the heats
necessary to decide the race.

Both of the running races displayed
class.

The summary follows:

$2400 each heat a race.

AMERICAN GOLFER WINS

HILTON, OF ENGLAND, LOSES UNITED STATES TITLE.

C. G. Waldo, Jr., Captures Fine Match Under Broiling Sun. Briton's Rally Is Vain.

WHEATON, Ill., Sept. 3.—The amateur golf champion of America passed out of English hands here this afternoon when Harold Hilton, of the Royal Liverpool Golf Club, who last year was premier golfer of the world, champion of England and America, lost of the thirty-fifth green to C. G. Waldo, Jr., of Brooklawn, two down and one to play.

The match went almost the full distance, but Hilton was outplayed at the beginning and fought almost all day trying to cut down his opponent's lead. Hilton lost his advantage on the sixth green and never was in front again.

Waldo took the next three holes in succession and was three up at the turn. The second nine holes of the morning was a hard struggle in a blinding sun and finished with the Briton five down. Both showed the strain as they left the eighteenth green at noon.

The afternoon round developed into a nerve-racking spectacle. Hilton lost two of the first holes until he was several down at the twenty-second green. Then he pulled himself together and began to get on even terms.

He won the twenty-third, halved the next, won the twenty-fifth, the twenty-sixth and halved the twenty-seventh, turning back with his opponent's lead out to four. Playing grimly, he held his opponent to halves until he could turn the thirtieth. He won the thirty-first, lost the next and won the thirty-third. That left him two down and three to go. He could not win another.

Waldo held him to halves and an Av. Tillinghast, of Philadelphia, winning three up and two, apparently without exhausting effort.

Little Phoebe Dora Waite, the 7-months-old girl of Mrs. Anna Waite, living at 1029 Gantenbein avenue, and Clifford Trout, 4-year-old son of Policeman Frank J. Trout, living at 4 Emerson street, who won in the eugenic contest last Saturday at Thiel's Hall, Killingsworth avenue, under auspices of the North Portland Commercial Club, will be taken to Salem today with their parents, where they will be entered at the state eugenic contest. James E. Strickler, secretary of the club, will accompany the mothers and their babies to Salem and see that they have a good time. The North Portland Commercial Club appropriated money to pay expenses of the trip. These babies were picked because of their high per cent in the tests given for physical qualities out of the 100 babies examined. In the course of a few days the parents of the other babies will receive postal cards showing the score of each baby in the contest.

B'NAI B'RITH IS HOST

PROMINENT OFFICIALS OF JEWISH ORDER GREETED.

Grand President and Orator of San Francisco Here on Annual Inspection Tour.

The Portland members of B'nai B'rith met in closed session at their lodgerooms in the Selling-Hirsch building last night, to receive Rabbi Jacob Nieto and Gus C. Ringolsky, of San Francisco, the grand president and the grand orator, respectively, of B'nai B'rith for District Four, which embraces Oregon, Washington, Idaho, California, Arizona and British Columbia, who are in Portland on the tour of inspection made each year by the grand officers.

Rabbi Nieto is the oldest reform rabbi on the Pacific Coast in point of service, and has won wide fame in his fight against the white-slave traffic in San Francisco. Orator Ringolsky is prominent among the young attorneys in San Francisco.

B'nai B'rith order is the recognized spokesman of the Jewish people of America, and is declared to be one of the few independent fraternal organizations in existence from which members receive absolutely no personal benefit. All the funds in the fraternity treasury are turned into philanthropic channels, serving to maintain orphan homes, homes for the aged, consumptive hospitals and like institutions which are under Jewish patronage but non-sectarian.

The order is really international in its proportions and has organizations in England, Germany, Austria, Turkey and Palestine. The head of the entire order is Adolph Kraus, of Chicago, formerly owner of the Chicago News and one of the original charter officers of the Associated Press.

The next executive meeting of District Four of the United States division will be held in San Francisco next February, when officers will be elected for the ensuing year. It is understood that D. N. Mosesson, of Portland, is now the strongest candidate in the field for second vice-president of the district, the most sought-after honor in this jurisdiction, as it is regarded as being the immediate stepping stone to the presidency.

The Portland lodges of B'nai B'rith have purchased an attractive lot 66 by 160 feet on Thirteenth street, near Main, upon which it is proposed to build a B'nai B'rith building. When built this structure is destined to be the Jewish social center of Portland. About 200 attended the meeting last night, at which the district deputy, M. Mosesson, presided. The committee on the reception of the grand lodge officers was composed of Sig Siebel, M. Mosesson, Rabbi Jacob H. Wise, I. L. Cohen, Dr. A. Tilsner, Isaac Ewert, G. Bettman, D. N. Mosesson and Dr. George Rubenstein.

SCRIBES AID TO JUSTICE

Just as Prisoner Is Being Freed Reporters Recall Indictment.

Through lack of knowledge on the part of Deputy District Attorney Collier, who he did not know that an indictment had been returned, James Robinson, accused of supplying a young girl with liquor in a Third-street rooming-house and committing other offenses against her, almost gained his liberty in Circuit Judge Morrow's court yesterday afternoon. Newspapermen present recalled having seen the indictment and gave information which caused Robinson to be brought back and placed under arrest on a bench warrant just as he was being hustled from the courtroom by Boon Cason, his attorney.

Robinson, who is a mere youth, was arrested by the police with several others in a raid and was taken to the County Jail to be held as a witness before the grand jury. Cason told Judge Morrow yesterday afternoon that the Sheriff was holding Robinson without authority, causing the Judge to issue a severe lecture to Deputy Sheriffs Phillips and Leonard, who were present in charge of prisoners being arraigned. While the lecture was going on Mr. Collier was informed of the existence of the indictment and Deputy County Clerk Bush scurried down stairs to find it, returning with it in time to give Judge Morrow a chance to call Robinson back.
