FAST PACER RUNS AWAY

Maurice S. Is Stellar Performer in
$5000 2:08 Pace—2:30 Trot
Takes Five Heats and Is Won by Starost.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 4.—(Special.)—

Barring two accidents that marred the races today an eventful three-year-old futurity race, the Salem district contest at the State Fair races was filled with thrills, the 2:30 trot proving to be the feature race from the standpoint of the grandstand.

Maurice S., a bay gelding belonging to Dick Wilson & Co., of Pleasanton, Cal., with Wilson up, took the $5000, 2:08 pace in eight heats. McGuire made pretty drives in two heats before Francis J., in an effort to pull Maurice S. away from the first money, but failed in each attempt and left it to Hallowmont in the third heat when endeavor to drag the California horse away from the money. Hallowmont gave Maurice S. a beautiful battle, but it proved unavailing.

Five Heats Necessary.
Five heats were required before the 2:30 trot was decided and then no horse took the three heats. Lady Dillon and Starost each took two heats, while Oakland Moore gathered in one. Both Starost and Oakland Moore were entered from the stable of M. C. Gunderson, of Portland. Under the conditions at this track the entries were allowed. By the division Lady Dillon was awarded second money.

Throughout the race was gamely fought. Starost, after taking the first heat, dropped back to third in each of the two succeeding heats and was being forgotten as a possible winner when he turned loose with terrific speed in the third heat and came in with the money. Lady Dillon and Starost, however, gave the best heat of the day in the fifth and final heat of this trot. It was a battle between them along both stretches and anybody's race to the wire.

In the first heat of the 2:38 pace Alberta, a speedy bay gelding from Calgary, got the best of Hoag, his driver, and threw him from his seat. Hoag was dragged some distance before he dropped the lines and Alberta circled the track twice at record speed before he could be captured with a blanket. This gruelling driverless pace for two miles prove to be Alberta's undoing, as he was drawn after the second heat. When Alberta got a start from his driver he hurried his sulky into one of the wheels on Hallowmont's sulky and stripped a wire.

Infant Hurlled to Track.
Between heats in the third race little Robert Bishop, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bishop, of this city, had a narrow escape from death. The boy's father handed him to Charles Yaanck, a mounted marshal, and asked that the marshal carry him across the track. The marshal's horse objected to the child and started to buck. Before the rider was thrown Yaanck threw the child onto the track and was then thrown himself. The infuriated horse stamped on one of the boy's feet and narrowly missed his head. His father pulled him from the track before the horse could strike him again.

CAMP'S STOCK RISES RAPIDLY
San Francisco Bantam May Have Chance to Meet Coulon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—(Special.)—Tim McGrath, who brought Tom Sharkey within one step of the heavyweight championship of the world, has returned from Los Angeles with his charge, Eddie Camp, the San Francisco bantam who so decisively defeated Battling Chico in the southern city Labor day.

Tim has nothing but praise for Joe Mandot and the club in which he defeated Joe Rivers. He says the Tennessee lightweight possesses a solid right punch, a fine left jab, a cool head under fire, and the Mexican has all the way. If Mandot ever meets Wolgast, Tim predicts there will be a new lightweight champion.

McGrath says Southern fans are very sweet on Camp since his clever exhibition against Chico and Tom McCarey has promised to give Camp a main event at Vernon with Johnny Coulon, the holder of the championship title. In the meantime Camp is open to box any boy in the world at 115 pounds ring-side.

JOE MANDOT, the New Orleans French job man who wallowed Joe Rivers in 20 rounds at Vernon Labor day, was 21 years old August 3, and stands 5 feet 9 inches tall. He is married. Mandot has been in real fighting in 1908, and since then has had approximately 45 important engagements, losing decisions to Young Fitzgerald, Frankie Conley and Yank Schwartz. The latter he has defeated. He has beaten such men as Joe Coster, Jack White, Tommy Kilbane, Young Saylor and Charley White. To win a decision against Hans Wagner, Mandot must have entirely outclassed the Mexican. Now for Mandot and Wolgast!

A Pittsburg writer, mad enough to masticate a spike, jumped all over Eddie Mensor the other day for alleged crazy base running. The following is what he offered a humble apology, for use by the writer forward and testified that he, if anybody, was to blame, because he mentioned the Portland speed demon on second base.

Hereforth boxing fans will have to avail themselves of private channels of news if they wish the betting odds on fights throughout the land. S. B. Vincent, popular guardian of the Portland Associated Press headquarters, has received notification that no more right hands will be carried over the associated wires. The Government law recently enacted against the interstate transportation of fight films goes into effect this month, but Bob McGuire, of the United States District Attorney's office, says he knows nothing of any legislation against interstate shipment of waxer "manners" although the complete text of the bill has not yet been received.

Jim Delehanty, the ex-Detroit Tiger to time heralded as the prospective manager of the Sacramento "lemons," as our friend Cartoonist Walker O'Loughlin calls them, has caught on with the Minnesota club in the American Association. Cantillon's team is made up almost entirely of major league castoffs, but the Millers are again leading the race, so the ex-major is coming through. This will be the Millers' third consecutive pennant, if they maintain their present clip.

Recent tennis matches in New York have served to accentuate the unsteadiness of the American play. Tennis players of this country, it is said, have a lot to learn despite the lessons taught by the Dohertys of England. The persistent "getting back" of the ball by the great English players, waiting for a return to the right spot before the drive was out of reach, was always the feature of their play, and for a time, after their appearance on the courts of America, Yankee spectators took more pains with their wits.

The cost of operating the Willamette government of this year is estimated at $12,500,000.

Walla Walla Assured Berth.
The Tri-State territory already includes Walla Walla in the north end and the fact that the city has drawn so well and indicated that it will strongly support organized baseball will make its berth certain. North Yakima is also considered a strong city and if arrangements could have been made this season would have been included in the league. If North Yakima can prove that it will give a local club strong support, the league magnates will recognize the claims of the fans of that city. The Tri-State League had plans for six clubs when it was organized last Spring, but the circuit had to be cut down to make a four-club organization. It is generally agreed that the league magnates that La Grande is too small to support a team in organized baseball and that city is almost certain to be dropped. Portland, which is larger, is also placed in the same class, and it is very doubtful if that city is given a franchise in 1913.

It is recognized by wardens and commissioners from all parts of the United States and Canada that with the rapid settling up of the country the improvement of the game laws and the increase of hunters it is necessary to have game laws more uniform and stricter in the different states and to have seasons shorter and bag limits smaller, that more attention must be paid to protection of wild birds and animals and that refuges must be established where these creatures are fully protected at all seasons.
