Order Served on Federal General and Sent by Auto to Rebel Leaders.

SALAZAR DASHES SOUTH

Rojas Left to Attack Agua Prieta, Now Defended by Thousand Men. American Youth Is Reported Kidnaped.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 12.—A large force of rebels, thought to be those in command of Antonio Rojas, camped tonight within three miles of Agua Prieta. An exchange of shots took place between outposts. Major Hardaman, commanding officer of the United States border forces here, immediately informed the War Department, and received in reply orders to warn both federal and rebels against firing on United States territory in the event of an engagement.

A copy of the order was served upon General Sanjinés, commanding the federal forces here, and a messenger was sent by automobile to convey the warning to the rebel leaders.

Federal Force Well Armed.

The federal force arriving today brought three mountain howitzers, three automatic guns and nearly a million rounds of ammunition.

General Schuyler, commander of the Department of the West, arrived here tonight to take personal charge of the United States forces on the border.

Urgent telephone messages were received today from El Estero, showing that federal troops to protect the 75 Americans there from an expected attack by Salazar. American Consul Dye made a formal request for federal troops to General Sanjinés, but the latter gave the Consul no definite reply.

Salazar Looks as He Goes.

Leaving General Rojas and his followers to attack Agua Prieta, General Salazar led his followers southward today, looting Colonia, Morelos, breaking into houses, carrying away provisions, 25 horses and it is reported, kidnaped Charles Nichols, a 15-year-old American boy. The boy's father has appealed to the authorities here.

From Morelos they went to the Sierra ranch, looted it and left for Nacozari, which is out of wire communication.

Of the 500 comprising the Nacozari federal garrison, 300 were last reported fleeing hurriedly to strengthen Agua Prieta's garrison.

Two detachments of federal troops arriving today from Durango increased the Agua Prieta forces to more than 1000 men, relieving apprehension of attack.

CAMPAIGN BOOK DIFFERS

125,000 Initiative and Referendum Pamphlets Mailed.

SALFEM, Or., Sept. 12.—(Special.)—The campaign pamphlet which is to be issued prior to the general election as provided for under the constitution, has not yet been somewhat different this year from former years. Some confusion has been caused by the issue of the initiative and referendum pamphlet. The new pamphlet provides space for the candidates to tell their merits.

Yesterday was the last day in which initiative and referendum pamphlets could be mailed and with the close of business yesterday over 125,000 pamphlets had been mailed. But as registration does not close until late in October, all who register will receive pamphlets. Only those who have properly registered this year will receive initiative and referendum pamphlets.

arrested him, notwithstanding.

Mrs. Scoble's property is in Gibson's hands under a will that made Gibson her executor.

Mrs. Alice Kinnan, another client of Gibson, was killed on June 8, 1906. Gibson was held in $25,000 bail in connection with that crime at the close of the coroner's inquest, but he was released on a habeas corpus writ on the strength of an alibi he was able to supply.

Former Charge Dropped.

The murder of Mrs. Kinnan, which took place in her home, a lonely house in the Bronx, where she lived with her mother, Mrs. Louise Stenton, a hopeless lunatic, was never solved, but subsequent developments proved that Mrs. Kinnan had quarreled violently more than once with Gibson because he had managed to induce Mrs. Stenton, her mother, to deed property valued at $100,000 to him.

When Mrs. Stenton died, two years ago, Gibson came forward as her sole alleged will of hers, making him executor of her estate, but Surrogate Thomas refused to probate the instrument and decided that Mrs. Stenton had died intestate.

The Acting Consul-General for Great Britain, John J. Broderick, is anxious to ascertain what has become of John Rigg O'Neill, a young Irishman, who collected $10,000 from a railroad company for the loss of his leg, and was last seen, more than a year ago, in Gibson's office, when he had several thousand dollars in his pockets.

Cushman. Hanford became Federal Judge on the admission of Washington to statehood, and had never been admitted to practice in the District Court over which he presided so long.

W. Allen to Fill Chair of Journalism at Oregon.

RECORD ONE OF SUCCESS

New Department Created at State University After Work Has Proved Practical in Educational Institutions of the East.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—Eric W. Allen, Northwest editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, who has been elected to fill the chair in the newly-created department of journalism in the University of Oregon, will take up his new duties next week, when the university opens for the fall semester.

Mr. Allen combines with university training and teaching experience several years of practical newspaper experience. His natural bent as a teacher and his practical experience and preparation thus especially fit him for the difficult task of developing newspaper men in a school of journalism.

Journalism in a university is a departure in education. It was only after it had been proven a success in Wisconsin and Missouri that practical newspaper men gave their sanction to the work. Washington and Kansas have recently established schools of journalism, which are also proving successful. President Campbell is confident Mr. Allen should be able to build up a strong department in Oregon.

MISS PANKHURST HAPPY

EXILED SUFFRAGETTE TO CONTINUE FIGHTING.

From Refuge in Apache District She Says Battle for Ballot Can End Only One Way.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—Miss Christobel Pankhurst, suffragette leader, who has been exiled to the London police have been looking ever since the big window smashing crusade in that city some time ago, is staying at a quiet little hotel in the Apache district and is looking radiantly healthy and rosy after her enforced rest and outdoor life.

"I came to Paris a few days ago," she told the correspondent. "Before that I had been staying on the French coast. I received visits from my mother constantly and kept in close touch with the suffrage movement, sending unsigned weekly letters to our paper. I now intend staying quietly here and will continue my work. I do not expect to take part in the French feminist movement, but have not any definite plans.

"I have made a careful investigation before announcing my whereabouts and find the British government cannot touch me here, as the offense with which I am charged is not one for which I can be extradited. Anyway, England, who has shielded so many political refugees, would be in an absurd position if she interfered with France's right to do the same.

tears, she stretched out her hand to lay it with others which were to be hidden away in the money-lender's safe. It fell to the floor. As Stanton Sickle's plucked it up and put it in its place, his mother said:

"That was a gift from your father that I loved most. He gave it to me the day you were born."

Mrs. Sickle's is more than 60 years old. When the money was handed to her by the pawnbroker she tucked it in the bosom of her dress and then walked to the offices of the Lincoln Trust Company, which held the judgment against General Sickle's. She was ushered into the office of Vice-President Webb. Without knowing it, she sat directly beneath a picture of Lincoln, who was her husband's friend and commander in the Civil War days.

Mr. Webb waived the Sheriff's fees and costs, accepting only the amount of the original note and interest amounting in all to $500.

See Sons Father, Does Not Speak.

"I have done it for him," Mrs. Sickle said in English, marked by a soft Gascon accent, and the tears rolled down her pallid cheeks.

"My mother and I did not know that father was in trouble until a week ago, when we read it in the newspapers," said Stanton Sickle, the General's son. "I had not seen my father for two years until last night, when he was at a dinner at the Hotel Lafayette, surrounded by his veteran friends. I did not speak to him. I stood by and thought of the sacrifice my mother, who could not live happily with him, was to make today to insure his happiness. Then I came away."

WIFE NO. 2'S WAIT VAIN

BIGAMIST HUSBAND WILL NOT SEE LOS ANGELES MATE.

Man With Marital Ties Who Joined With Girl to Atone for Another's Misdeed Goes to Prison.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 12.—(Special.)—Instead of starting for Los Angeles to visit wife No. 2, as he had intended, Scott E. Brown, who became a temporary convict husband for Nancy Elizabeth White, of Los Angeles, May 29, to protect her in the eyes of her family following an episode with a wealthy Los Angeles man, tonight went back to his cell in the Vancouver jail and tomorrow morning will start for Walla Walla, where he will begin a term of one to five years in the State Penitentiary. No. 2 has not been advised of his predicament.

Brown completed his confession before the authorities today and, following a quick trial before Judge McMaster heard his sentence. He pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy preferred by wife No. 1, who now lives in Monteville, Portland.

Brown said he had been in Portland for three years and lived with wife No. 1 until August 10. He declares he married Miss White before Justice of the Peace G. Lloyd Davis, and that Laura Hager, an employe in a Vancouver hotel restaurant, was the witness. He also asserted that the contract which he and wife No. 2 signed concerning the marriage and the promise of a divorce in six months, was executed on the ferry between Vancouver and Portland. By agreement through correspondence, he declares he was to receive $50 for his part of the contract, but that Miss White gave him $125 when the time came for the consummation, and that because he was "hard up" he accepted the sum. He reiterated that he had no further relations with wife No. 2 except through correspondence, and that he has heard regularly from her since she has been in Los Angeles. He had just received $50 from her which to make the trip.

JOHNSON TELLS OF MANIA FOR SUICIDE

Black Champion Says Fight With Jeffries Affected His Brain.

HITHERTO SECRET, HE SAYS

Pugilist Says White Wife Driven Insane Trying to Keep Him From Killing Himself After His Battle at Reno.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Etta Durbin Johnson, wife of Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist, died a suicide after wrecking her health in caring for her husband, who was a victim of nervous prostration and suicidal mania for a year on account of injuries and exertion during his fight with Jeffries.

This was the testimony of Johnson at the inquest today over the body of Mrs. Johnson, who shot herself last night in a room over the champion's saloon.

Johnson said the nature and extent of his sufferings after the championship fight had been a secret between his wife and himself. "I am still suffering from the effects of that fight to some extent," he said.

White Wife Driven Insane.

"I believe I incurred brain fever of some similar character from the defeat and the heat of the Jeffries fight," he said. "I was not myself for a year, but the secret was closed kept between me and Mrs. Johnson. She was a devoted wife and I tried to do my utmost to keep her from knowing my condition. She loved me and I loved her and I did not want to let her know I was in such a state. I am only sorry that she is now in justice to my wife, it never has been told before."

Suicide Attempted Twice.

"I did everything I could to make her happy and spent money on her lavishly, but most of the time she seemed morose and especially gloomy and more nervous and despondent than before."

"I employed two maids to watch her after she attempted to end her life the first time and one of them was constantly with her. Yesterday morning she seemed in especially good spirits and I had no idea she would kill herself."

The Modart is the Corset with the Perfect Back

THE FRENCH AUTHORITIES on style declare: "When a woman faces you, it is her face, not her figure, that you notice. But when she moves away from you, instinctively you judge her figure beauty by the contour of her back."

Therefore, the experts say, in order to display the natural lines of beauty which every figure has, one should wear a laced front corset, the only corset having the back made into one piece, so as to reveal perfectly that most beautiful line in nature, the curve of the spinal arch.

Now, in order that your laced front corset may actually give you this utmost perfection of figure which no other corset can supply, there is one very important quality demanded of it—it must fit your back perfectly.

For the immeasurable satisfaction they have given in perfect fitting, experts are according the highest praise to

MODART CORSETS

MODART CORSETS have proved their perfect fitting qualities so thoroughly that a majority of the most noted corsetiers of America, in charge of the Corset departments of the country's leading stores, now sell MODART Corsets and recommend their use in preference to all other corsets.

The woman who gives attention to the beauty of her figure will act wisely by dropping into our corset department and at least getting acquainted with this corset, for which experts claim so much.
