MR. CLARK ACCEPTS SALEM NOMINATION

press ever seen in this state or on the Pacific Coast came from there. We now have the richest white population per capita in the world, the result of our sugar and pineapple production, and about one-tenth of the residents travel somewhere each Summer. Some go to Japan, others to Australia, others to Europe and the bulk of the white people to the mainland of the United States. Hundreds visit California and go no further. Many, if they knew the beauties, comforts and climatic cheer of the Northwest, would visit Oregon, Washington and Western Canada also.

"This is my first visit to Oregon and I can see now why the Oregon men in Hawali show such a persistent loyalty to the State and its chief city. Ed Dekum, once of Portland, never tires of talking about both places. He has been long in Honolulu, but Portland and Oregon set him going at once. John Effinger is the same way. Colonel Zenas S. Spaiding, one of our sugar millionaires, has invested largely here. I believe he owns a hotel in Portland. But, as I said, the bulk of our people have yet to become acquainted with the Pacific Northwest. George W. Joseph's Decision Not Given Out, but Leaders Are Hopeful.

Every assurance of the co-operation of the Park Board with the Greater Portland plans programme for the improvement of the city along the line of the Bennett plans, in the expenditure of the $2,000,000 proposed bond issue, was conveyed to the latter organization by the Park Board in a special meeting yesterday.

Howard Everett Weed, the prominent landscape artist, appeared before the Board, representing the Greater Portland Plans Association. The general plans were outlined for him and his committeemen and they left eminently satisfied with their investigation.

Moose party is still hoping that George W. Joseph will consent to accept the nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court. Mr. Joseph was out of the city yesterday, but if he remains firm and declines the place on the ticket today, the executive committee in all probability will name James Watson, of Roseburg. Mr. Watson has been strongly recommended for this nomination by mended for this nomination by Bull Moose forces of Douglas

Full County Ticket Looms,

Although a day has not been named, the Bull Moose county convention will be held next week, when a full county ticket in all probability will be nom-inated. The "full ticket" forces dominated. The "full ticket" forces dom-inated the party's state convention at Salem Tuesday and the Roosevelt peo-ple in the various counties are ex-pected to follow the lead established by the state organization and bring candidates for all offices to be

Like the state convention, however, Like the state convention, however, the county gathering will be composed of conflicting elements. One faction will demand the nomination of a complete ticket to be made up of men actively affiliated with the new party. Another group will oppose that plan and insist on the indorsement of some of the nominees already named by the Republicans or Democrats. One element would not nominate to any office any candidate, defeated in the primary election last April, who has since become idetified with the Bull Moose organization. But there are many of these disappointed aspirants in the new installation of many playgrounds for the children.

As Portland's present park acreage is 533, the addition through the proposed bond issue will make a total of nearly 1200 acres.

Mr. Weed expressed a wish that more land could be purchased, even if it was found necessary to buy further out to escape the high-cost region. The answer was that the citizens of the city are enthusiastic for children's playgrounds, and that unless the centers of population are provided with parks, one of the chief objects of the bond issue would be obviated.

While the Park Board expects in a general way to follow the plans as drawn by Mr. Bennett, the exact sites of his proposed parks will be overlooked in some cases to move a block or two further away, where more land ganization. But there are many of these disappointed aspirants in the new party who are desirous of getting on the ticket and they may be expected to fight any scheme that would curtail their chances of "getting an office."

Republicans May Be Named.

If any of the nominees on the other two tickets are indorsed, there is a report that the convention will approve the candidacies of the following quartet of Republican nominees: Sheriff, W. H. Pitzgerald; State Representatives, M. J. Murname and A. W. Lawrence: Justice of the Peace, J. H. Jones. All of these candidates were nominated in the primary election through the efforts of organized labor and, since the new party is bidding for the support of the workingmen, it would not be surprising if these in-Republicans May Be Named. looked in some cases to move a block or two further away, where more land may be purchased at a lesser sum. REALTY LICENSE OPPOSED Ralph E. Warren Prefers Charges Against J. J. Jenks. The license committee of the City Council passed almost two hours yes-terday listening to evidence submitted by Ralph E. Warren and his attorneys for the revocation of the realty license for the revocation of the realty license of J. J. Jenks.

The charges grew out of a sale of a tax-title on a lot in Burfield Addition. Mr. Waren argued that he was ignorant of the merit of the tax-title and that Jenks told him the title was as good as any other. He lost his land when the original owners returned, sued Jenks and secured a $500 verdict, Judge Kavanaugh ruling that the sale was made under fraudulent representations.
