Lucy Good White, Denied Admission to Bar, Withdraws in Race for Judge.

ELIGIBILITY MADE ISSUE

Eighth Nominee for Superior Judge at San Francisco After Failure to Pass Examinations Steps Aside for Ninth Candidate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—(Special)—Lucy Good White, Socialist candidate for Supreme Judge, one of the eight nominated at the primaries, has announced her withdrawal from the race. She has been denied admission to the bar by the Appellate Court Judges, before whom she appeared for examination recently.

Miss White was urged to stay in the contest by many friends, but decided that inasmuch as she could not be seated as judge if elected, it would be useless to continue.

The passage or non-passage of an examination to practice law is entirely within the discretion of the Appellate Judges. They ask whatever questions they see fit, a different set for each candidate at the quiz, which is conducted orally.

Questions Not Answered.

Miss White said that while she was ready to admit she could not answer some of the questions correctly, yet, inasmuch as the law was a very broad subject, she would not admit she was less qualified to practice law than many who were passed by the judges.

On petition of Frank W. Sawyer, candidate for nomination as Superior Judge of San Francisco City and County, President Judge Thomas G. Graham today issued an alternative writ of mandate commanding the Board of Election Commissioners and Registrar Harry Zemanski to place his name on the official ballot at the November general election, in place of Lucy Good White.

The court assigned hearing on the writ of Judge James M. Seawell at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Miss White Ineligible.

Sawyer alleges that Miss White is ineligible in that she never has been admitted to practice law in California, and in fact, has been refused admission by the Appellate Court of the state because of failure to pass at her examination held last week.

At the approaching election eight candidates for judges will appear on the ballot. From these four will be elected. At the primary election Lucy Good White, candidate of the Socialists, although candidates for nomination of judges are nonpartisan, received 7986 votes, making her the highest bidder of the 13 candidates and entitling her to a place on the general election ballot. Sawyer was ninth at the primary, with 4821 in his credit.

Although at the time of the primary Miss White had not presented herself before the Appellate Court for admission to the bar, subsequently she did so, and a writ of mandate compelling the registrar to place Sawyer's name in the column, No official knowledge can come to either the board or the registrar except through the court, and a writ of mandate compelling the printing of his name, Sawyer says, is his only relief.

Fashionable Congregation in Church at Stokes Poges Assembles—Child Looks Like Typical Gould.

LOONDON, Sept. 23.—(Special)—With four names—Eileen Vivian Delapour Beraford—and with five godparents—Lord Greville, Howard Gould, the Marchioness of Waterford, Mrs. Edward Lumb and Mrs. Anthony Drexel, Jr.—the infant girl of Baron and Lady Deedes, formerly Vivian Gould, was christened in the historic church at Stokes Poges, in the churchyard of which is the scene of Gray's famous elegy and in which lies the poet's remains.

The fashionable congregation which assembled to witness the event included, among others, the Duke and Duchess of Montrose, Dowager Lady Deedes, Marquis and Marchioness of Graham, Lord Marcus de la Poer Beraford, Countess of Pingsall, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, parents of Lady Deedes, and their two younger daughters, Gloria Anna and Edith K. Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, Sr., and Mrs. James Henry Smith.

The infant looks a typical Gould and uttered lusty screams during the christening, greeted by delighting those superstitious persons who cling to the housewife's belief that the lucky child will cry during the ceremony.

George J. Gould's present to his grandchild was a fat check. At a luncheon preceding the ceremony, Edith Gould, aged 11, the daughter of George J. Gould, recited a poem of her own composition in honor of the event.

STOLEN $55,000 FOUND

CURRENCY PICKED UP IN REAR OF BANK BY JANITOR.

Robber at Pensacola Pursued So Closely That Nerve Fails Him, It Is Believed.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 23.—The package containing $55,000 in currency, stolen by the robber who was tracked from an express shipment from the First National Bank here to the Louisville & Nashville pay car at Flomaton, Alabama, was found today at the rear of the bank by the negro janitor of the building.

A telephone message was received at the bank Saturday evening, but was unheeded, because officials believed it was from a practical joker. They now think it indicates the package was placed in the rear of the bank building that evening by the thief.

The robber was pursued so closely that his nerve failed him and he crept to the bank and left the money where it was found today, it is generally believed.

Bank officials reassert confidence that the package containing the $55,000 was delivered intact to the Southern Express Agency here Wednesday morning of last week. When delivery was made to the Louisville & Nashville pay car that day, at Flomaton, the currency was missing.

SCHOOL COURSE IN SEX HYGIENE IS HIT

Speaker at Catholic Charities Conference Urges Home Instruction.

TAFT TALKS TO DELEGATES

How Best to Care for Delinquent and Dependent Children and to Aid Needy Families Theme of Those Who Speak.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—How best to care for delinquent and dependent children and needy families was the theme of the papers and addresses at the meetings of the National Conference of Catholic Charities today. The three sessions of the conference were held simultaneously this morning at the Catholic University, and this afternoon President Taft received the delegates at the White House, and told them their presence "suggested the passage by the white slave traffic, the greatest of all is charity."

The most experienced women and men in Catholic charity work were speakers today. Mrs. Thaddeus J. Meyer, of the Catholic Women's League of Chicago, discussing "Necessary Legislation," advocated an appropriation by Congress of $500,000 for the suppression of the white slave traffic, and condemned the teaching of sex hygiene in schools.

Home Instruction Favored.

"I am a bit old-fashioned," she said, "when it comes to eugenics, and I offer a prayer of thanksgiving every day that my boy has been told the story of life by his mother instead of by some disinterested schoolmaster."

Miss Mary M. Spinick, probation officer of Cincinnati, said it were better for the state to support the home, through the juvenile court or some charitable state agency, and keep the mother and child together, than to place the child in a charitable institution. She urged that widows be pensioned by the state and allowed to care for their own children, as half a dozen states already are doing.

Edwin Mulcahy, executive officer and secretary of the Massachusetts Probation Commission, said 49 states now had systems of probation for children, while ten years ago only six states had such measures. He urged state aid for such work, and said many children were in juvenile courts because of the misfortune of their parents or other condition over which neither the children nor parents had any control.

Girls' Instruction Urged.

Patrick Mallon, probation officer at Brooklyn, said the parochial schools could be more helpful than they are if special attention were given to the education of girls regarding the responsibilities of motherhood.
