

WOMAN WHO LIVES GIBSON IN MURDERS

Mysterious Mrs. Guera Says She Was Accomplice and Shocks Prosecutor.

REVENGE IS MOTIVE NOW

Visit to Notary, to Impersonate Mother of Mrs. Szabo, Recounted—Authorities Strengthened Case Against Lawyer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Mrs. Rose Guera has made a confession to Assistant District Attorney Murphy which the prosecutor believes will greatly strengthen his case against Burton W. Gibson, accused of the murder of Rose Menschik Szabo. Apprehended in Wilkesbarre, Pa., Mrs. Guera was found in a penitentiary mood, and did not require much urging to tell her story.

She implicates Gibson as knowing the cause of the deaths of several other persons. She says poison was given to her by a person, whom she names, for the purpose of killing Hugh Trainor, an awning-maker, who was fleeced of $25,000, and that a similar dose was furnished her to give Mrs. Szabo. She says she took the poison, but "had not the heart to use it, and declined."

Woman, Disguised, Signs Paper.

On July 16, soon after Mrs. Szabo's death when boating with Gibson on Greenwood Lake, Mrs. Guera said, Gibson went to her and told her he would give her a share of the dead woman's estate if she would don a black dress and heavy veil and sign a paper. Several days later, she declares, the lawyer, having arranged the disguise, went to her apartment and took her to Brooklyn. She also introduced to a Notary Public, Donald Lyon, as Mrs. Menschik, and signed the document. Gibson, she said, took her from the Notary's office to the railroad station in Jersey City and gave her a railroad ticket to Chicago and $30 in cash.

"Go," he said, "and never come back to this part of the country."

She said she was angry with him for not giving her more money.

Woman Wants Revenge.

"I went to Chicago," she said, "and was taken ill soon after my arrival. I began to worry because I knew Mrs. Szabo well, and I also knew that she was to be killed and had done nothing to prevent it."

The woman paused in her conversation at this point, fixing her eyes steadily on Mr. Murphy's face, she added in a vindictive tone: "That is why I'm peaching on him today. If he hadn't been a tightwad, I wouldn't have come back. I had to come, New York is the only place I can raise money."

Mrs. Guera is five feet five inches tall, is now slight of build and has yellowish pallor. She attributes her loss of weight and color to her illness in the General Hospital at Chicago.

Light Thrown on Other Murders.

Rose Guera, the woman of mystery, says she has been the victim of the influence for years, and that she can throw great light on the murders of not only Mrs. Szabo, but of Mrs. Alice C. D. Kinman, Michael Shimo and several other persons whose names were not given out.

Mrs. Guera said she met Gibson when she first came to New York, 15 years ago, and that she knew him well at his best. She says he gave her liquor and made her sign a written confession to the murder of Mrs. Szabo, over her head by the lawyer, who threatened to expose her if she did not do his bidding.

"Hugh Trainor, who afterward swore that he did not know me, sent me up to Gibson's office," she said. "Trainor told me Gibson was a 'good fellow,' and that I ought to know him, and I met him first. Our acquaintance ripened into a friendship, too intimate for my own good. I needed money and committed a crime."

Prosecutor Is Shocked.

"What was the crime?" the woman was asked.

"I refuse to say," she said.

Then she leaned over and whispered something in Mr. Murphy's ear. Assistant District Attorney appeared to be shocked.

In her confession to Mr. Murphy, Mrs. Guera gave much detail concerning mysterious deaths which will puzzle the police, and which will repeat it before the Gibson jury.

WIDE INQUIRY IS AIM

Government to Probe White Slavery at Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—An order for a special Federal grand jury to be convened in the city October 15, has been received from the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C.

Absolute secrecy has been maintained both at the offices of the District attorney and the operatives of the Department of Justice in this city, concerning the object for which this special grand jury is to be called, but today it leaked out that the details of the venire had been placed entirely in the hands of Judge Rodkin, who is expected to arrive in this city tomorrow night.

The presence in Seattle of a special representative of the Department of Justice, transferred here from another district on a special detail, became known today; also his discovery of several jars, which Government officials say, promise to play an important part in the unravelling of the dynamite conspiracy now on trial at Indianapolis.

It was learned that the Department of Justice had for several days been making ready for a Nation-wide attack upon white slavery on a new angle from any before attempted, that the calling of a special grand jury in Seattle was but one of the steps, and that similar special grand juries would be called in other jurisdictions in an effort to make a round-up of white slavery offenders.

Following the resignation of Judge Hanford, it will be recalled, Representative Victor Berger, Socialist Representative in Congress from Milwaukee, threatened that he would demand from Attorney-General Wickersham a special Federal grand jury in this city at an early date. So far known no further attempt has been made by Mr. Berger to enforce such a demand, and consequently it is not believed that the time has anything to do with the late judicial investigation in this city.

Miss Mary Steels Harvey is the first woman to be appointed judge of the Baltimore. The last Legislature created five judgeships with full police powers. Miss Harvey is the first of the five to be appointed.

LEWIS LOSES GEMS

James Hamilton's Loss This Time Will Reach $3000.

ROBBERY IS SECOND ONE

Candidate for United States Senator From Illinois Returns From Campaign Tour to Find Burglars Have Been Busy.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Colonel James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, has been robbed of jewelry valued at $3000.

Colonel Lewis returned home Saturday night from a campaigning tour through Illinois, and learned that in his absence his apartments at the Virginia Hotel, Rush and Ohio streets, had been entered. Rings, souvenirs and gold and silver bric-a-brac had been taken.

This is the sixth robbery reported to the police from the North Side Hotel in the last two months. As in previous ones no clue was left upon which authorities may ferret out the thieves.

Several of the jewels stolen were the property of Mrs. Lewis, who was away at the same time, from September 29 until today.

Among the articles listed as stolen are a diamond ring, an emerald ring, a cluster ring of diamonds and turquoise, a bracelet and a jewel rossette of gold bearing the insignia of a Spanish War veteran's order.

Colonel Lewis discovered his loss shortly before noon today, when searching for a jewel case. It is the second time that Colonel Lewis and his wife have been the victims of robbers. On February 23, 1909, Mrs. Lewis was the victim of burglars, who took jewels valued at $15,000.

POISON TAKEN ON STAND

DOCTOR ACCUSED AS INCENDIARY WOULD DIE.

Evidence Goes Against American in Paris, Who Home Burns In His Ostensible Absence.

NANCY, France, Oct. 6.—Dr. Krauss, formerly of San Francisco, but for some time in practice here, has been arrested on the charge of incendiarism. There was a sensational scene at the hearing before a magistrate, when Krauss tried to commit suicide by swallowing poison.

Krauss and his wife left here Monday, ostensibly for Alsace-Lorraine. The next day his residence was burned to the ground. A score of petrol cans, the contents of which had been emptied about the rooms of the house, were found in the debris. Krauss was discovered to be at Carlsruhe. He was notified of the fire and returned to Nancy.

In the course of the examination by the magistrate Krauss asked for a glass of water, into which he slipped a capsule. A few minutes later he fell to the floor insensible. A physician hastily administered an antidote and Krauss recovered consciousness.

According to the testimony of a policeman at the railroad depot at Pagny-sur-Moselle, Krauss was seen to pass through there on a train from Nancy early in the morning of the fire.

$200,000 STOLEN IN MAIL

came in on the following day and she brought mail from Havana, but every body connected with the line said the $200,000 package did not involve their ship.

Steamship Men Profoundly Incensed.

Henry W. Mallory, president, never heard of it; Alfred G. Smith, vice-president, said it was news to him, and on board the ship the third officer said he had never heard of the package, and added that all the mail was in charge of the purser and assistant purser, who were not aboard. He did not know where they could be found.

It appeared, however, from information obtainable that whoever did get the money will not receive much benefit from it. One-half, at least, was in $10,000 bills, according to one story, and the remainder in bills of $1000 and $5000 denominations.

Another story had it that the entire amount was in $10,000 bills, 20 of them, and that their numbers have been telegraphed to every financial center in the world. If they appear to a possessor will be arrested. Post-office men are as mute as clams on the case. At headquarters of the Burns agency it was admitted that operators were working on the case, but there was nothing to give out.

Consignor Remains Mystery.

The money was a remittance from a financial institution to the big bank in adjustment of an exchange balance. It was thought at first that the consignor might be the National Bank of Cuba, of which the National Park Bank is New York correspondent, but Jules S. Bache, director of the institution, said he had talked with Edmund J. Vaughan, president of the Cuban bank, on Saturday and Mr. Vaughan had not mentioned anything about the trouble over a remittance.

The search for the missing money was started in Cuba. Men down there are carefully going over every step in the process of the money on the island from the moment it left the institution to the minute it went aboard the ship for New York or Key West. Various receipts have all been examined and found to be correct.

Course of Money Traced.

Every person who had anything to do with the handling of the package itself or the pouch into which it was placed has been examined in Havana. The steps from the postoffice to the ship have been traced and the course of the bag after it was aboard ship has been gone over.

According to word today, the bag itself went under the lock and key the moment it was aboard ship. It was turned over in regular course to postal authorities when it reached this city, and when it was opened it was found that the bag was a package short and that was the package containing the $200,000.

Information went at once to post-office inspectors, who went to work and Cuba was notified to get busy. They were busy inside of two days and when all possible clues were run out the Burns agency was called in. Burns people, of course, are not trespassing on the heads of the postoffice men in either country, but they are taking up the work in Havana and all other places.

PORTLAND MAN IS INJURED

L. F. Shirley Thrown From Wagon. Campion Also Hurt.

COLTON, Wash., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—L. F. Shirley and Henry Mrax were injured in a runaway accident Friday night about a mile west of town. The Mrax team bolted, turned the wagon into the bank, throwing both the occupants out and started for home. Mr. Shirley suffered a fracture of the large bone in his right leg, just above the ankle, while Mr. Mrax was bruised and cut. Mr. Shirley was formerly one of the wealthiest farmers in the Colton district, but has retired, and is living in Portland, and was here for a visit. Mr. Shirley is staying at the home of C. E. Maynard, north of town. As he is 50 years old, it is feared the injury may leave him a cripple.

White Pass Railway Plans to Operate Boats Next Year.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 6.—President Dickson, of the White Pass & Yukon Railway, announced today that the Yukon river steamship service of the company, which now extends between White Horse and Dawson, Yukon Territory, will be continued next year to Fairbanks, Alaska, 400 miles northwest of Dawson. The people of Fairbanks, headed by the Commercial Club and Delegate Wickersham, have appealed to President Taft and Secretary of the Treasury MacVegh to open Fairbanks as a sub-port of entry.

With Fairbanks a sub-port, the White Pass Company could place at once in its lower Yukon service a number of the Canadian steamers now on the ways at White Horse and Dawson, which have been in retirement since the decadence of the Klondike boom. If the American Government declines to make Fairbanks a sub-port, then the White Pass Company will let the contract for two American steamers, to cost $60,000 each, to be constructed in Seattle next winter. The hulls will be of steel, the upper works of wood. The boats will be built in sections, shipped to White Horse by steamer and put together on the Yukon. Mr. Dickson says "that the Canadian boats are not permitted to ply on the American Yukon, but American boats are free to touch at Dawson."

VICE REGION DARK

Chicago "Levee" Closed First Time in Forty Years.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Chicago no longer has a South Side "levee." The segregated vice district, which has been a brightly-lighted crowded quarter in the heart of the city ever since the great fire of 1871, was dark and deserted last night for the first time in 40 years.

The "levee" is populated, according to statistics collected by the vice commission, with 4000 denizens of the underworld, 2200 of whom were women of the class against which the city and Federal legal campaign is being waged. The class against which the city and Federal legal campaign is being waged. The class against which the city and Federal legal campaign is being waged.

MAYOR HONORS WOMAN

MRS. M'CAN FIRST OF SEX ON CIVIL SERVICE BOARD.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—By virtue of a tender made to her today and which she accepted by letter this afternoon, Mrs. David Chambers McCan, president of the Friday Morning Club, and a Democratic leader of her sex in this part of the state, will tomorrow become the first woman Civil Service Commissioner in the United States.

The offer was made by Mayor Alexander in line with the suggestion to him that a fitting recognition of the political services of the women of Southern California would be the placing of one of their number in a responsible position in the city government. The place was made vacant by the recent resignation of General G. H. Burton from the Board of Civil Service Commissioners.

Mrs. McCan has been for years a student of political and economic conditions, and is regarded by her associates as qualified for the place. She evinced her intention of taking an active part in the proceedings of the Board by immediately plunging into a treatise on civil service after her letter of acceptance had been dropped in the mail box.

MEDFORD HOST TO ORATOR

Dr. Anna Shaw Welcomed by Auto, Banquet and Reception.

MEDFORD, Or., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—After a meeting Saturday for the Equal Suffrage Club, a dozen members of the Medford Equal Suffrage Club escorted her here by automobile, where a banquet and reception were given. The banquet was given at the Hotel Medford. The banquet was attended by about 100 women and several prominent citizens, including Mayor Canon and Prosecuting Attorney Mulkey, who were on hand to welcome the distinguished visitor and take part in the oratorical programme. Dr. Shaw did not discuss the political situation, as far as the leading parties are concerned, but confined herself exclusively to the issue of equal suffrage and the rational reasons for it. Democracy, she declared, was impossible before men and women were on equal terms in the direction of government. It did not mean, she said, that women need run for office, but they should each have the power to exert their individuality upon the administration of civil and social affairs. Dr. Shaw was enthusiastically received and was often interrupted by applause. After the address an informal reception was held on the stage, many men taking the opportunity to meet the speaker and compliment her upon the part she was taking in the campaign.

Irwin; present Mayor, Wendworth; Fourth ward, William Moore and C. A. Pender. Chris Engleman is candidate for Councilman-at-large.
