

TURKS SEE BEST SOLUTION IN WAR

People Skeptical That Porte's Offer Will Be Way Out of Difficulties.

ARMIES ALL MOBILIZED

Preparations for Fighting Balkan Countries Continue With Unabated Enthusiasm—Hospitals to Be Established.

BATTLE IS REPORTED TO HAVE TAKEN PLACE
SOFIA, Macedonia, Oct. 7.—A sanguinary engagement is reported to have occurred yesterday in the Berrusa district between Turkish troops and insurgent Christians.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 7.—The people of Turkey are skeptical that war will be avoided by the Porte's offer to carry into effect article 23 of the treaty of Berlin.
It is felt here that matters have gone too far and now that all the armies are mobilized it would be preferable to settle accounts once for all.
War preparations continue with unabated enthusiasm. The convention of the Red Crescent Society has decided to establish nine hospitals with 200 beds, two each at Constantinople, Adrianople, Saloniki and Edirne and one at Scutari.
The government has proclaimed a state of siege in Constantinople for three days.

WAR TENSION APPEARS LESS

Balkan Coalition Merely Will Send "Note" to Turkey and Powers.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The tension in the Balkan situation, it is thought tonight at the Foreign Office and among diplomats, shows a slight slackening, but a hard fact, however, that the danger from martial enthusiasm remains and it is realized that the crisis will persist as long as 1,000,000 troops are being for a fight continue under arms.

Over-optimism, therefore is discouraged, but it is pointed out that Russia and Austria can go far in the Balkan states. There appears to be solid ground for the belief that the governments of Turkey and the Balkan coalition—though not necessarily their peoples—are still amenable to pressure from the powers.
The combined ultimatum demanding reforms, which the Balkan states were to have dispatched, has itself opened the door to receive the demands that the powers intend to make by voluntarily granting the Christian minorities a whole measure of reforms. Official France has pointed these signs of concession as hopeful.

The Ottoman government, which protested that it would not listen to proposals touching on the internal affairs from any source, has itself opened the door to receive the demands that the powers intend to make by voluntarily granting the Christian minorities a whole measure of reforms. Official France has pointed these signs of concession as hopeful.
The government thinks that with some extension and an adequate guarantee that the powers themselves will take in hand their accomplishments, that these reforms ought to satisfy Bulgaria. It is believed that Serbia, Greece and Rumania can easily be induced to accept, but there is not the same confidence that the Bulgarian government will be able to control the war fever that has clutched the people of that country.

FRANK GOULD WILL FIGHT

Millionaire Declares He Is No Longer Resident of United States.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Frank J. Gould obtained today release of all $400,000 worth of baggage which the customs authorities seized when he and Mrs. Gould and her sisters arrived last Friday from their home in Paris. In protest, Mr. Gould paid $244 on the dutiable articles, but the greater part of the valuable jewelry was shown to have been of American purchase or to have been assessed before by the customs authorities.
Mr. Gould will carry to the courts his fight against paying any duty because that he is now exempt as a non-resident and that he intended only to pay a visit to this country.
Collector Loeb, however, believed the millionaire had not given up his residence here. He said he heard Mr. Gould intended to reopen his Fifth-avenue home and to this end had equipped his house with servants.

LATEST DYNAMITER TO PLEAD GUILTY AT INDIANAPOLIS.

pointed out how the Los Angeles Times building and the Llewellyn Iron Works were to be blown up, who wanted the Baker Iron Works and the Times' auxiliary plant blown up and who promised to the dynamiters that his (Tveltmoee's) friendship with P. H. McCarthy, then Mayor of San Francisco, would insure protection from the police. Tveltmoee then was editor of a trade paper and secretary of the Building Trades Council of California. McCarthy recently was in Indianapolis.

Plot to Destroy Bridge Outlined.

Events implicating the present defendants, as charged by Mr. Miller before the jury, follow:
W. Bert Brown, then business agent of a local union at Kansas City, Mo.; James B. McNamara and "a citizen" whose name was not divulged, in August, 1910, had a conference about blowing up a $1,500,000 bridge being constructed by an employer of non-union labor across the Missouri River at Kansas City. Previously negotiations had been conducted by Brown and William J. McCain, also a business agent at Kansas City, with the Iron Workers' headquarters in Indianapolis.

James B. offered to employ the "Citizen" regularly, saying, "There's lots of money in it. We are going to Los Angeles and blow the whole town to hell. We have unlimited money back of us and if we ever get in trouble we'll have the best lawyers that money can buy."

"Citizen" Refuses to Go in Deal.
The "citizen" did not go into the deal. On August 23, McNamara, after being three days in Kansas City, placed 12 quarts of nitroglycerine beneath the understructure of the bridge. The explosions did not occur until the next day and after McNamara had replaced the weak batteries on the bomb timers with stronger ones. Part of the dynamite was recovered by the Government.

McNamara James B. had gone to arrange for the Los Angeles Times explosion, after accomplishing which and hiding for two weeks in Salt Lake City, he returned East, being met in Nebraska by Frank Eckhoff, of Cincinnati, with a message from John J. James B. said:

"I have been keeping pretty low. If I could get by for five years like J. E. Munsey in Salt Lake, they'd forget about the Los Angeles affair. Coming back on the train everybody was reading about the Los Angeles Times disaster and I thought everyone was looking at me. That's what made me get off at Salt Lake."

Men Go in Woods to Forget.
James B. and McNamara then went hunting in the woods of Wisconsin to hide.

The next month at the Iron workers' convention in St. Louis Tveltmoee had a talk with J. J., saying it was all right on the Pacific Coast and they wanted some "Christmas presents." In the shape of blowing up the Llewellyn Iron Works, the Baker Iron Works and the Times auxiliary. McNamara returned to Indianapolis. John J. told him of what Tveltmoee had said.

"It will be a great thing while they are looking for the other fellows to have eight or ten more of them out there by somebody they never saw," said John J. to McNamara. "No one knows you and you can slip in and do the job. But don't use nitroglycerine. It isn't safe as dynamite and you don't have to be so careful. Tell the old man (meaning Tveltmoee) he'll get his Christmas presents. He told me his friend, Mayor McCarthy, controls the police forces. We'll be protected."

Christmas Presents Delivered.
After the Llewellyn Iron Works explosion on December 25, J. J. wrote to Eugene A. Clancy, of San Francisco: "Tell the old man his Christmas pres-

AS SCOFFS AT TALK OF NEW DEAL

Old Method of Campaign Contributions Replaced by Legalized Monopoly.

"INTERESTS" ARE ASSAILED

Governor Thinks Republicans and New Party are Wondering Which is Responsible for Putting Old Party in Disrepute.

DENVER, Oct. 7.—The second struggle for "emancipation" was the way Governor Wilson characterized the present effort in the United States to solve the trust question in his speech here tonight before an audience that filled the auditorium to capacity. He attacked the platforms of the two opposing parties, particularly with regard to the issue of trusts, and declared that if "the people of the United States had taken up the teachings of the Democratic party years ago there would be no trust problem today." He said neither the Republican nor Roosevelt Progressive platforms offered any solution for the trust problem.
Governor Wilson was welcomed to Denver with an artillery salute. He was whisked from the station through streets lined with cheering persons to his hotel where he had dinner as a guest of the Rocky Mountain Wilson Club. At the auditorium the Rocky Mountain Princeton Club and several university Wilson clubs were uniformed and joined a noisy welcome as Governor Wilson entered the hall.

New Deal Questioned.

"Is there a new deal?" asked Governor Wilson in his speech tonight throughout Colorado, when he charged that the United States Steel Corporation and other combinations of capital were seeking to control the Government by proposing that monopolies and trusts should be regulated by an industrial commission.

"The old method was campaign contributions, the new method is legalized monopoly," said the Governor as he directed his attack on the interests, which he said were backing the program of the Roosevelt Progressive party. The Governor drew attention to the Senate investigation by the Clapp committee and said the debate there was centered on the question of train privileged groups had been "more intimate with the two candidates of the Republican and Roosevelt Progressive parties."

On Gun Salute Governor.
The Governor was given a salute of 15 guns when he reached Denver from Pueblo and Colorado Springs, where he spoke today. His reception was enthusiastic everywhere.

Referring to the pre-convention campaign of President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt, the Governor said there was criminalization and recrimination in their debate.

"All the while," declared the Governor in the Colorado Springs speech, "I was trying to formulate in my mind just what the deal was. I was dealing with one another and as nearly as I could make it out, it was this: Which of the two had been the more impulsive, the more reckless, the more discredited the Republican party, and then I asked myself what was it that had discredited or at any rate threatened the Republican party. The answer which has so long governed this country, and which was perfectly obvious upon analysis, that these gentlemen were debating was that the Republican party was not aware of the complications which we wish to correct in our economic development."

"The men who have promised the great combinations of capital and the widespread understandings among those who are conducting the industry of this country, which have dominated not only our business but our politics, are the men whom among them with the two candidates are being most debated. They are being debated yet in the investigation which is going on under the leadership of the Clapp committee of the Senate in Washington. All of the connection which the gentlemen have had with the privileged interests of banks and railroads and development of America, that is the point. So that underneath lies this feeling that certain privileged groups have dominated the Government of America, otherwise they should be arguing which had the more intimate connection with the system."

"For these gentlemen are not disconnected with one another. They are connected with various branches of the privilege classes in this country and they are so interlaced in the directorates of banks and railroads and mining companies and manufacturing enterprises and commercial houses that they constitute a single controlling body. These men are rapidly and more effectively than anything yet devised. HAUL MAKES PRICE HIGH

COKE COSTS $46 A TON IN IDAHO MINING CAMP.

Hard Road and Difficult Climbs Make Freight Rate for Round Trip 1-2 Cents a Pound.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 5.—There is one town in the West where fuel (coke) costs $46 a ton. This is Ivers, Idaho, the principal local settlement in the Loon Creek mining district. This high price, however, is due to the long haul by wagon from Mackay, the nearest railroad point, 110 miles distant. The route is difficult because of two high summits which must be crossed, in addition to a three-mile climb. The cost of haulage is 1 1/2 cents a pound for the round trip. When a load can be taken each way this is split into 1 1/2 cents in and 1 cent out.

The Loon Creek district comprises an area of perhaps 75 square miles situated in the northwestern part of Owyhee County, Idaho. Placers which are variously estimated to have produced from $50,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 in gold were worked actively on Loon Creek during the decade closing with 1875. Most of the white men in the camp, attracted by other placer excitement, left the creek in the middle '70s, but 30 or 40 Chinamen remained. In 1878 all of these were massacred save one, who escaped on snowshoes. At that time it was commonly supposed that Indians committed the deed, but now it is the prevalent opinion that white men were guilty.

Since then comparatively little mining has been done in the creek, though all the promising ground is held as placer claims.

FRESHMEN UNDER COVER
University of Washington Would Learn Who Painted Tower.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 7.—Freshmen of the University of Washington early Sunday morning ascended the 215-foot water tower of the university and painted four huge "Is" in white at the top of the black column.

Bursar Condon, of the university, today engaged a painter at a cost of $150 to blot out the numbers, and notified the class that the expense would be charged to the class as a whole unless the members revealed names of the climbers. There is no likelihood of the latter being turned over by their comrades.

THOMPSON'S KRYPTOK

Without Lines in the Lens

These bifocals made by fusing two pieces of glass of different indices of refraction together by electric heat so as to look like and to all practical purposes actually be one solid piece of glass are the most perfect lenses ever made.

All the old objections to bifocals, including the most serious of all—the feeling that the wearing of bifocals was a confession of age—are done away with because it cannot be seen that these lenses are bifocals except by most minute examination.

Kryptok bifocals of Thompson grinding are better because we put into them that little indefinable something in the way of finish and perfection which makes Thompson's work known as the best of the world over.

line and in front of Mr. Roosevelt trying to lead them in a hallelujah chorus.

Governor Wilson had a little family reunion tonight before he left Denver. Mrs. Thomas Woodrow, the wife of the Governor's uncle and the man after whom he was named, came to the private car with her son and daughter, Miss Blanche Bates, the actress, was in the party.

The Governor left at 10 o'clock tonight for Kansas. His first stop will be at Norton early tomorrow. He will speak at Topeka and reach Kansas City tomorrow night.

NOT SO, SAYS BULL MOOSER
Roosevelt Calls on Wilson to Retract Trust Charges.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Colonel Roosevelt called tonight on Governor Wilson to prove or retract his statement today in Pueblo that the United States Steel Corporation "is behind the third party program in regard to the regulation of trusts."

"As far as I know," said Colonel Roosevelt, "the statement has not the slightest foundation in fact. Mr. Wilson has no business to make such a statement unless he has the proof, and if he has any proof, I demand that he make it public immediately. If he has not, let him retract his statement as the only manly and honorable thing to do."

"As far as I know, the only big man connected with either the steel corporation or the harvestor trust who is supporting me is Mr. Perkins. As far as I know, all the others in both the steel corporation and the harvestor trust are supporting either Mr. Taft or Mr. Wilson."

Colonel Roosevelt passed through Albany on his way to Michigan, the first state which he is to speak on his tour of the Middle West. He spent the fore part of the day at Oyster Bay, preparing speeches for his trip, and went by automobile to New York, where he boarded his private car.

The Colonel will speak in a number of states which are classed as doubtful.
