COLUMBUS IS HONORED

PORTLAND PAYS TRIBUTE TODAY TO GREAT DISCOVERER.

Postoffice, Banks and Some Government Offices to Close—Stores Mostly to Stay Open.

It was a fortunate thing for American people in general and for holiday lovers in particular that one Christmas, Columbus, an Italian birth and a Spaniard by adoption, with a Portuguese wife, decided to quit the wool business and take to a life on the rolling main. Had he not done so, nobody would be enjoying a holiday today.

He left his father's wool business to take up the life of a sea dog in 1473, traveling in the Mediterranean and finally reaching Lisbon. Thence on August 3, 1492, he set sail in a carack named the Santa Maria, and after a voyage filled to the brim with vicissitudes, landed on what is now called Watling's Island on October 12, 1492. Two weeks later he landed in Cuba and not suspect that he was a hunch man. Finally suspicion was aroused and yesterday's arrest followed.

LA FOLLETTE DENIAL SENT Report of Switch to Democratic Camp Declared False.

Positive denial of the published reports emanating from Democratic National headquarters, that Senator La Follette had declared for Wilson for President, was contained in a telegram received yesterday by Thomas McCusker from Alfred T. Rogers, Republican National committeeman for Wisconsin. Mr. McCusker telegraphed to Senator La Follette for confirmation of the report and received the following denial from Mr. Rogers: "Your dispatch to Senator La Follette, who is in the country, delivered to me at our law office. The story that the Senator has declared for Wilson was first sent out from New York Tuesday and repeated from Chicago yesterday. I am closely associated with him and in a position to know. To prevent just such misstatements as this, Senator La Follette decided early to make announcements which he has to give out in this campaign regarding either issues or candidates in his own magazine and from the public platform."

MOTHER RECOVERS GIRL

Father Compelled to Let Woman Have Her Daughter.

Juvenile Judge Gatens yesterday made an order taking Eva Summers, aged 12, from the custody of William Summers, her father, and turning her over to Mrs. R. H. Hughes, of Des Moines, Iowa, her mother. This was done after Mrs. Hughes had produced a certified copy of the decree of divorce from Summers which she obtained in Iowa. In this the court had ordered that she was to have the girl.

Mrs. Hughes came to Portland a few weeks ago in search of her daughter, saying that the girl had been kidnapped from a children's home in Des Moines by Summers, who was found by the juvenile officers. Mrs. Hughes said that once she found her former husband and the girl in another part of Iowa and that he fled to parts unknown after papers had been served ordering him to produce the child in court. More than a year passed before she learned that he was in Portland.

Summers offered no objection to surrendering the girl. He insisted, however, that Mrs. Hughes should pay him what he had expended on the child since he took her from Des Moines. This she refused to do. Judge Gatens told Summers that there was no way he could make the mother pay and that he would not seek to do so if there were a way.

TOURIST TRAVEL EXPECTED

Southern Pacific Arranging for Heavy Business Via Portland.

Phil K. Gordon, general agent for the passenger department of the Southern Pacific, has been in Portland for the last few days preparing for the winter movement of tourists between Portland and the Atlantic seaboard.

Mr. Gordon predicts an unusually heavy volume of tourist business this Fall and Winter. Eastern travelers will journey to California for the winter months, then come to Portland in the Spring before returning to their homes.

With the inauguration of "de luxe" service on the Southern Pacific, between Portland and San Francisco high-class tourist travel from the East to Portland will be increased, Mr. Gordon says. Travelers of the present day demand for their necessities now those details of service that were considered luxuries a few years ago he explains, and that reason the new equipment is bound to prove popular from the start.

Mr. Gordon owns the property at the southeast corner of Sixth and Stark streets and declares that Portland real estate offers better investment opportunities than any other property with which he has had experience.

Following this came the address of Mrs. Eggert, who pleaded for loyalty to the club and co-operation of all the members. A contract solo by Mrs. Delphine Marx, who was accompanied by Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, was followed by piano solo by Mrs. Frederick Bigelow. At the
