

SPEEDY RECOVERY OF T. R. INDICATED

Doctors, However, Are Still Cautious.

PATIENT SUFFERS NO PAIN

Colonel's Wife Takes Full Charge of Affairs.

VISITORS ARE CUT SHORT

Prospect Is That Campaign Activities Will Not Be Renewed, Although Colonel Wants to Make Another Speech.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17, 1. A. M.—When it came time to take his temperature, Colonel Roosevelt was sound asleep and had been since shortly after 11 o'clock. At that time he was visited by Dr. McCauley, the house surgeon, who was told by the Colonel that he "intended to get in seven good hours of sleep."

At 10 o'clock all three of the physicians had visited the Colonel. Their examination resulted in the announcement that the condition of the patient was normal and there was no indication of sepsis in the wound or pleural complications. The following was the official count:

"Temperature, 98.6; pulse, 84; respiration, 20; leucocytes, 6400; polymorphonuclear neutrophils, 74; general condition, good."

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—After a day of ceaseless vigil, Colonel Roosevelt's physicians tonight could say no more than that his condition was virtually unchanged. Indications, they said, favored the speedy recovery of the ex-President from the effects of the bullet which struck him down in Milwaukee, Monday night.

A rise in temperature and pulse late in the day, however, made his condition for the time being somewhat less favorable.

Rib Fracture New Discovery.

The fact that a rib was fractured, which was not disclosed until today, added to the feeling of uncertainty. Not before Friday, if all goes well, will the physicians be prepared to say that their patient is out of danger. The intervening period will be required to determine whether blood poisoning or other complications are to be feared.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., after a talk with his father and a consultation with the attending surgeons, expressed the feelings of those about the ex-President.

"It will be four or five days," he said, "before we can breathe easily."

Mrs. Roosevelt Cheerful.

Colonel Roosevelt spent a quiet and apparently carefree day, seemingly the least concerned of all. He was buoyed up by the cheerful appearance of Mrs. Roosevelt, who arrived early in the day from New York and remained with him constantly. He felt no pain, he said, and moved about as will on his bed reading, dictating telegrams or talking with members of his family. In the afternoon he slept for a time.

Dr. John B. Murphy, who is in charge of case, Dr. Arthur Dean Sevan and Dr. Scurry Terrell, Colonel Roosevelt's physician, held three consultations during the day. Aside from the official bulletins which they issued, which gave little indication of any change, they would say little of the condition of the patient. Why the rib fracture was not discovered until today was not made known, although it was said there was no cause for alarm on this account.

Wife Takes Charge.

As soon as Mrs. Roosevelt reached the hospital she took charge of affairs. She was accompanied by Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and Miss Ethel Roosevelt. Later in the day Representative Longworth arrived. Mrs. Roosevelt installed herself in a room adjoining that of her husband, and during the day seldom left his bedside.

Husband Sues Goodwin

Charles Doughty Says Actor Alienated Wife's Affections.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 16.—Nat Goodwin was sued here today by Charles Doughty, a real estate man, for $25,000 damages for alienation of his wife's affections. Mrs. Doughty is known on the stage as Margaret Moreland.

The complaint alleges that Goodwin sought to persuade Mrs. Doughty with offers of money to desert her husband and that "owing to such persuasion the said Margaret Parrott Doughty did leave the plaintiff and go and live with the defendant."

TRESPASS NOTICE INVALID

Only Improved or Inclosed Lands Subject to Protection.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—That it is not criminal trespass to hunt upon uninclosed or unimproved lands, even though trespass notices are posted, was the substance of an opinion by the Attorney-General today. The statute provides that criminal trespass only holds on inclosed or improved lands.

BULLET IMBEDDED IN RIB FRACTURE

X-RAY PLATE SHOWS MISSILE MUCH FLATTENED.

Extraordinary Spread and Arch Indicate Exceptional Development of Roosevelt's Lungs.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The first X-ray plate which definitely shows the bullet in Colonel Roosevelt's chest, was developed late this afternoon.

The bullet is shown partly imbedded in the fracture in the fourth rib about four inches from the sternum. The bullet is much flattened and spread out of shape. It is crushed into the upper edge of the rib. Several small splinters of bone project near the rib.

The radiograph shows an extraordinary spread and arch to the uninjured ribs, indicating the unusual size of the Colonel's lungs and development of his chest.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 14.—There was no poison in the bullet fired at Colonel Roosevelt from the gun held by John Schrank. This was announced today by Professor R. E. Sommer, analytical chemist, who made a test of bullets still remaining in the chamber of the revolver.

REPENTANT ROBBER SOBS

Spokane Man Confesses That Woman Secured Diamond "Gift."

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Despondent and remorseful, Dave Miller, a highway robber suspect, at his own request was taken from his cell in the City Jail and before Detective Captain J. Burns and Detective Chester Edwards and William Ulrich confessed to a daring hold-up and promised to return a valuable diamond ring stolen from his victim. The man sobbed as he told his story.

The confessed highwayman gave a graphic description of the robbery of A. D. Dias on the night of September 22, near the corner of Maple and Fourth streets. He told of thrusting a revolver in Dias' face and of Dias' attempt to trade off a "fake" diamond he had in his pocket for one in his shirt front, which he told the robber was a present from his mother.

Miller declared he had cached the ring and it was now in the possession of a young woman to whom he had been attentive. He refused to divulge her name and his voice trembled as he made the one request, "Don't drag her into this disgrace." The officers promised him they would not seek to implicate her and would not even ask her name.

Miller was allowed to address a letter to the young woman and the officers mailed it without reading the address.

STRAYING GOAT IS COSTLY

Jury Awards Rancher Near Salem $500 Damages to Orchard.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—E. M. Croisan's goat strayed into the peach orchard of W. J. Ball and as a result a jury in Circuit Court awarded Mr. Ball $500 damages.

Both Mr. Croisan and Mr. Ball are prominent here and own large adjoining ranches on the Oregon Electric extension south of the city. Mr. Croisan keeps a herd of Angora goats, about 250 in number. There was some dispute as to whether one of Croisan's goats or the whole herd got into the Ball peach ranch.

The jury determined, however, that whether it was one or the herd, the Ball trees were sufficiently damaged to require a verdict.

STAMP PRINTING BEGINS

Special Panama Exposition Issue Expected by Christmas.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—The printing of the special stamps to commemorate the Panama-Pacific Exposition began today at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

The "ones" are being printed first. Eighty millions of this denomination will be struck off.

Director Ralph, of the bureau, said all the stamps, 150,000,000 "twos," 5,000,000 "fives" and 5,000,000 "tens" besides the "ones," should be on sale in every office in the country before Christmas.

FELLOW PRISONER ACCUSES BECKER

Guilt Admitted, Says Man in Tombs.

GAMBLER'S WIDOW ON STAND

Mrs. Rosenthal Almost Without Funds for Funeral.

BIG PAYMENT IS REFUTED

Members of Graft Collector's Household Tell of Police Official's Frequent Visits to Home of Jack Rose.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—When this sensation blows over the public will give me a pension for killing that crook Rosenthal.

Those are the words attributed to Police Lieutenant Becker by James D. Hallen, a fellow prisoner in the Tombs, at today's session of Becker's trial on the charge of instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler who "suggested" against him.

Hallen was one of 15 witnesses who testified today for the state. Assistant District Attorney Moss announced when adjournment was taken tonight that he had only one or two more witnesses to call to complete the case for the people.

Widow Tells About Raid.

Mrs. Herman Rosenthal, widow of the gambler, the first witness of the day, testified that Lieutenant Becker, her husband's partner in his gambling house, had said to her on the occasion of a raid he had made on the establishment:

"It's either Herman or me."

This is the so-called "fake" raid which the prosecution contends was forced on Becker by his superior officers. Mrs. Rosenthal testified also that when she came to bury her husband she had only $100 "to her name"—all that had been left her by Rosenthal. This was a bit of testimony elicited by the state with intent to spike the guns of Becker's defense.

Guns Spiked in Advance.

"We introduce this," said Assistant District Attorney Moss, "because it has been claimed by the defense that gamblers gave Rosenthal $25,000 or some such sum to insure his silence."

Jealousy, because the young woman repulsed his attentions to her, is supposed to have been the motive for the crime.

Citizens Are Aroused.

Citizens are aroused by the occurrence and large and increasing crowds are gathering to swell the posse that are already on the hunt.

Miss Hart came to Condon with her parents several months ago from Kentucky. Her parents recently moved their home to The Dalles and the daughter was to have followed them in a short time.

Morgan was also a native of Kentucky, and had been in Oregon a comparatively short time. He worked here as a laborer.

Girl Refuses Attention.

For some time he had endeavored to pay his attentions to Miss Hart, but she had declined to have anything to do with him. The shooting came as an unexpected result of the affair, since Morgan is not known to have made threats of any kind against Miss Hart.

There were four shots fired and Morgan had made good his escape before the police arrived. (Concluded on Page 2.)

GIRLS MAKE STUDY OF HOW TO DRESS

500 ENROLL IN NEW COURSE AT NORMAL SCHOOL.

Best Way to Choose Husband and How to Act in Strange Town Included in Department.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—How to dress and how to choose a husband, what course to pursue in a strange town, the good, bad or indifferent effect of attire, and many other things of a kindred nature are taught in the novel social ethics course just started at the State Normal School. This department, under the direction of Miss Alice Hunnewell, is making a hit with the girls, and about 600 juniors are in the class. All the problems to be discussed will be based on moral philosophy and the aim is to impress on the young women that every action of theirs in society has its influence on someone else.

Some of the answers given today to the question, "How Should a Girl Dress?" are interesting, as for instance:

"Dress to please the men."

"Dress is one element in the process of making or marring the opposite sex."

"Some men like conspicuous clothes on women, but we should not dress for that type of man."

"The large woman should never appear in a flame-colored blazer, and the woman with pigeon toes or large feet should always eschew short skirts."

ENTERPRISE IS EGGLSS

Eastern Oregon Town's Hens Refuse to Lay Sufficiently.

ENTERPRISE, Or., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—For two weeks it has been nearly impossible to buy an egg in this city. For some reason hens have about stopped laying, and what few eggs were available have been kept by the owners of the hens for their own use. Prices have not advanced materially, but undoubtedly will rise if the dearth continues.

Wallawa County ordinarily produces many eggs. The supply exceeds the demands all Spring and Summer. Prices for many months were 15 cents a dozen. Late in the Summer, they were sold at 27 cents, which was the last figure before the supply was shut off. Last Winter, for a short time, eggs went to 50 cents a dozen, but dropped abruptly long before warm weather came.

Few eggs are shipped into the county, largely because the home product is more than sufficient for nine or ten months a year.

BAD WINTER PREDICTED

Okanogan Indian Prophets Say Severe Season Is Due.

WENATCHEE, Wash., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Indian weather prophets of the Okanogan, including Sam Small, noted observer of the seasons, predict one of the most severe Winters on record for the entire Northwest. While settlers familiar with the accuracy of the red man's prophecies substantiate the forecast.

The Indians base their observations largely on the prevalence of wild geese and ducks on the lakes and rivers of the Upper Columbia Basin. It is said these wild fowls are more numerous than ever before within the memory of red man or white. Their early appearance, too, is taken as an indication that Winter will commence early.

The thick plumage of the geese is a sure sign, say the Indians, that there will be much snow. In fact, some snow has already fallen in the higher altitudes of the Columbia stretch.

MILLION IN GOLD ARRIVES

Furs Valued at $800,000 and 552 Passengers Come From Nome.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 16.—The steamship Victoria arrived from Nome today with $1,500,000 of gold, furs valued at $800,000 and 552 passengers. The Victoria will make another voyage to Nome, departing tomorrow, and will carry the last mail and supplies to the remote gold camp and bring out the last mail and passengers. All vessels must be out of Bering Sea by November 1, else their insurance will be voided.

The steamship Mariposa, which arrived from Northwestern Alaska ports today, had a consignment of 20 cages of live blue foxes for transshipment to St. Johns, N. B., where they will be used to stock farms. The foxes were trapped on the Alaska Peninsula, some of them as far west as Dutch Harbor.

STAR HITS HAMMERSTEIN

Quarrel With Miss Lyne to Have Airing in Federal Court.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—Broadway learned today that a quarrel between Hammerstein and his newest operatic star, Miss Lyne, is to be aired in the Federal Court at Kansas City, Mo.

The trouble had its inception in London, when the Kansas City prima donna said she struck the great producer in the face with a roll of music, because he insulted her.

Suit was brought today by Hammerstein to recover one-half of the receipts of Miss Lyne's Convention Hall concert under the direction of the Mystic Shrine. He also asks for an injunction restraining her from making further appearances except under his direction.

$4024.68 EACH IS SHARE OF RED SOX PLAYERS.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—Total paid attendance for the series of eight games, 252,937.

The total receipts, $199,933.

Each club's share, $147,028.85.

The National Commission's share, $49,983.20.

Total players' share, derived from the first four games only, was $147,028.85. Of this the Boston players, as winners, shared 60 per cent, or $88,543.01. The New York players, as losers, shared $59,025.69.

Each Red Sox player, of whom 22 were eligible, received $2666.46.

The figures in every case are greater than for any previous world's series.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—The Boston Red Sox, pennant winners of the American League, are the world's champions of 1912. Defeating the New York Nationals today 3 to 2 in ten innings, they captured their fourth victory of the world's series and carried off the premier honors in baseball.

The Giants won three games of the series that were played before more than a quarter of a million people, and one contest was a tie.

Fans Have Many Thrills.

Today's was a game of excitement and changing emotions for the 17,000 spectators who went to Fenway Park to see the teams meet in the deciding contest. Not until twilight had fallen on the tenth inning did red-stockinged Ed Yerkes flash over the plate with the winning run.

Nine innings of a pitching duel between the master boxman of the Giants, Christy Mathewson, and the striking Bedient and "Smoky" Joe Wood for the Red Sox found the two contenders for championship honors with a tally each.

Into the tenth inning the contest went, and the Giants chilled the hopes of the Boston crowd by scoring a run on a double into the bleachers by Murray and a hit by Merkle to center, which Speaker juggled. Engle led off for the Red Sox in the last half of the tenth. He had gone to bat for Joe Wood and there was a groan when the Red Sox pinch hitter sent up a towering fly to left center.

Snodgrass Muffs Fly.

Snodgrass moved over toward the bleacher seats and waited for the ball to drop. He muffed it, and before the ball was recovered Engle was on second and there was no one out and the crowd was in a frenzy of joy.

Hooper tried to sacrifice, but Mathewson felled him and the beat the Red Sox' right gardener could do was a fly to Snodgrass. The giant pitcher tried to work the corners of the plate for Yerkes, but Yerkes waited him out and walked on four balls.

With Engle on second and Yerkes on first Ernie Speaker came up. The first ball pitched was a curve and inside and Speaker popped up a high foul. Meyers, Merkle and Mathewson went after it, but it fell safe between them. New York's last chance to stop the Bostonians passed with the failure to get that foul ball. Mathewson started a high fast one and Speaker met it fairly. On a line over Doyle's head the ball was driven and Engle rushed over the plate with the tying run. On the throw-in Yerkes went to third and Speaker dashed on to second.

Gardner's Long Fly Ends Series.

The New York infield drew in and Lewis purposely was passed so that a runner could be forced at the plate on an infield grounder. Then came the finish. Gardner, with three balls and one strike on him, smashed a long fly to Devore. Yerkes set himself at third and dashed for home when the ball dropped in Devore's hands.

Meyers crouched at the plate to take the throw he expected from Devore. Instantly he had caught it, Devore whipped the ball home. On came the flying Yerkes, on came the ball.

Mathewson, who saw that the throw of the little left fielder would be wide, threw up his hands and Meyers turned away without trying for the ball. Yerkes did not know the throw was wide, however, and he plunged head foremost and slid over the plate in a cloud of dust with the run that won the world's championship for the Red Sox.

McGraw Congratulates Stahl.

Manager McGraw allowed his way through the throng to the Red Sox clubhouse beneath the stand, where he congratulated Stahl. (Concluded on Page 7.)
