

HILL'S ASSAILED BY T.R.'S BACKER

McCormick Holds "Character Assassins" to Blame for Attack on Colonel.

COMMITTEE IS AROUSED

Clapp and Oliver Demand Words Be Withdrawn—Elmer Dover Presents Memorandum of Contributions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(Special.)—A prepared statement touching upon the attempted assassination of Colonel Roosevelt, declaring it had been incited by "falsehoods of character assassins and Hays like Charles D. Hillis."

"It is difficult for an ordinary man in the compass of ordinary language to compete with the testimony of character assassins and Hays like Mr. Hillis—men who, because their falsehoods incite weak-minded men to actual assassinations," McCormick argued heatedly that his statement was admissible as evidence.

Contributors' List Obtained

For the first time of its investigation the Senate campaign fund committee obtained today a copy of a list of contributors to the much-disputed 1904-Republican campaign fund.

The list credited J. P. Morgan & Co. with two contributions, one of $100,000 and one of $50,000. A contribution of $100,000 appeared on the list from "H. H. R." and "J. D. W."

Dover Explains Initials

Mr. Dover told the committee he supposed the "H. H. R." stood for H. H. Rogers, of the Standard Oil Company, and that the "J. D. W." was an error and should have been the initials of either John D. Archbold or John D. Rockefeller.

E. H. Harriman was credited with $150,000 in two contributions. George W. Perkins appeared as giving $35,000 in two contributions. The following entries were on the list: "G. W. P.," $25,000; "G. W. P.," $100,000 and "G. W. P. committee," $100,000. There was still another entry, "G. W. P. committee," $100,000.

The committee tried in vain to get any information as to campaign contributions from Colonel George Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly. He said he knew absolutely nothing of funds collected or of attempts to collect funds or of offers of funds to the Wilson prevention campaign.

CONDEMNATION SUITS ON Olympia Terminal Seeks Right of Way in Lewis County.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Condemnation suits have been filed in the Lewis County Superior Court here for right of way by the Olympia Terminal Railway Company against the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway Company, the Centralia Boulevard Land Company, S. C. Mumby, Fred T. Camp and Jane Channell. The plaintiff corporation is the Olympia project that plans an electric line from the capital city to Chehalis, where it will connect with the electric system that is to extend east, west and south of this city.

The right of way which it is proposed to obtain is part of the abandoned Union Pacific grade that was built in the early nineties. The Washington Electric Railway Company, which recently took over the affairs of the Washington-Oregon interests, has already begun condemnation suits to acquire the old grade W. question in and through Chehalis and westward to Claquato; also northward through Centralia to where it will connect with that portion which the Olympia corporation now seeks to obtain title.

PERSIAN CAPITAL IN PERIL Shah's Rebellious Uncle at Head of 800 Horsemen Menaces Teheran.

TEHERAN, Persia, Oct. 18.—The Persian capital today is menaced by 800 horsemen under command of Salar Ed Dowleh, the rebellious uncle of the reigning Shah. It is believed the people sympathize with him, as they are dissatisfied with the present government. The national council is hastily collecting cannon and troops to defend the city.

Becker, Waldo or the Mayor in order to get out. "Yes." "Did Vallon say to you, 'If you don't corroborate us, you'll never get out, for Whitman will have you indicted for murder in the first degree'?" "Yes."

"Before you were indicted, did Becker say to you, 'You'd better come in and get the benefit of immunity'?" "He didn't say that. He said—"

don't you let me explain this? It would only take five minutes. If we keep up this foolishness it will take two hours."

"Did Bridgie Webber say he had $25,000 and that he would give you half of it if you'd stick to him?" "Yes, and $1000 more."

"Did Bridgie Webber tell you two months before the murder that he was going to have Herman Rosenthal murdered?"

Sullivan Appeals Again. The question was stricken out and Sullivan made another appeal to the court.

"Everything I want to tell has been stricken out," he complained, "but when I was with the District Attorney there was no one to object and they asked what they wanted to."

"I object to that question," shouted the witness. He was directed to answer and said he had given ball only for "grapeshooters," but never for "anything worse."

Sullivan was soon shouting at the top of his voice and refused to be subdued. "Weren't you interested in a crap game at 33 Second avenue?" asked Mr. Moss.

Sullivan Denies Running Game. "I wasn't never interested in nothing, I never had anything to do with a crap game and the District Attorney knows it. You've got me mixed up with somebody. "Didn't you ever collect money from disorderly houses?"

"You've got me mixed up, I tell you. You've got me in wrong. Somebody's dreaming when they told you that. What are you trying to put over on me for? You're trying to frame me up."

Bessie Feldman, a 17-year-old girl, testified in Washington, a brief service will be conducted at his apartment tomorrow afternoon by Rev. Ulysses G. R. Pierce, chaplain of the Senate.

Arrangements for the funeral have been made by Colonel Dan M. Randall, sergeant-at-arms of the Senate. Vice-President Sherman appointed a committee consisting of the following Senators to attend: Borah, of Idaho; Smoot, of Utah; Gallinger, of New Hampshire; Lodge, of Massachusetts; Bacon, of Georgia; Martin, of Virginia; Warren, of Wyoming; McCumber, of North Dakota; Bailey, of Texas; Dillingham, of Vermont; Clapp, of Minnesota; Clarke, of Arkansas; Clark, of Wyoming; Stone, of Missouri; Oliver, of Pennsylvania; Crane, of Massachusetts; Pomerene, of Ohio; Paynter, of Kentucky; Johnston and Bankhead, of Alabama.

FALL THOUGHT SUICIDE WHOLESALER DRUGGIST FOUND DEAD IN BUILDING.

DENVER, Oct. 18.—The body of a man, identified by papers in his pocket as Lester B. Bridaham, until recently a member of a large wholesale drug firm here, was found early today on the second floor of the Colorado building. Investigation by the police strengthened the suicide theory.

Bridaham gained entrance to the building without the knowledge of the janitor or elevator pilot and went to the seventh floor. A window on this floor, directly above the outside court where the body was found, had been opened, and fresh shoe prints were found on the sill.

After disposing of his interests in the drug firm Bridaham made a trip to Seattle, expecting to engage in business in the Northwest, but returned to Denver a few days ago. The Bridahams were prominent socially. A widow and one son survive.

FEED GOES FROM PORTLAND Winter Supplies for Willowa Sheep Sent by Water Route.

ENTERPRISE, Or., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—Winter supplies for Willowa County sheep men whose herds pass the cold months on Snake river, will be taken in by the all water route from Portland. The goods will go up the Columbia River, up the Snake to Lewiston by regular boats, and thence to destination on the gasoline craft Prospector, which has been running on the upper river since early summer.

As wagon roads are unknown in the Snake River country, in this part of its course, it has been necessary since the first settlement of the country, to take in supplies on pack horses. But the river boats now seem to offer a cheaper route.

The two largest outfits running sheep on the river have combined in their purchases and thus will be able to make up a considerable shipment. These outfits are Graves and Litch, and Craig and Hanson. They will make their purchases through Enterprise merchants, but the Portland wholesalers will put the consignments on board boat, instead of shipping here by rail.

Short Course Leaders to Be Six. CENTRALIA, Wash., Oct. 18.—(Special.)—According to a letter received by Herbert Robinson, secretary of the Centralia Commercial Club, from R. C. Ashby, a member of the faculty of Washington State College, six instructors will be appointed for the short course for farmers to be held in Centralia December 9 to 14. Three of the teachers will be selected from the Pullman faculty and three from the experimental station at Puyallup.

HEYBURN TO REST BESIDE PARENTS

Senator Will Be Buried in Little Graveyard of Birmingham Meeting-House.

QUAKER TO HOLD SERVICE

No Effort Will Be Made to Find Will Until After Funeral—Widow Will Return to Old Home in Pennsylvania.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 18.—Simple Quaker burial services will be held over the body of the late Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, Sunday afternoon at the little Birmingham meeting house burial ground near Westchester, Pa. Henry Wilbur, of Philadelphia, a Quaker, will officiate and the Idaho Senator will be placed at rest beside his father and mother, in accordance with his expressed desire.

The funeral party will leave Washington Sunday morning at 9 o'clock and interment will take place at 3 o'clock that afternoon. Brief Home Service Planned.

Because Senator Heyburn had so many friends in Washington, a brief service will be conducted at his apartment tomorrow afternoon by Rev. Ulysses G. R. Pierce, chaplain of the Senate. Arrangements for the funeral have been made by Colonel Dan M. Randall, sergeant-at-arms of the Senate.

Vice-President Sherman appointed a committee consisting of the following Senators to attend: Borah, of Idaho; Smoot, of Utah; Gallinger, of New Hampshire; Lodge, of Massachusetts; Bacon, of Georgia; Martin, of Virginia; Warren, of Wyoming; McCumber, of North Dakota; Bailey, of Texas; Dillingham, of Vermont; Clapp, of Minnesota; Clarke, of Arkansas; Clark, of Wyoming; Stone, of Missouri; Oliver, of Pennsylvania; Crane, of Massachusetts; Pomerene, of Ohio; Paynter, of Kentucky; Johnston and Bankhead, of Alabama.

Senators to Accompany Body.

Not all will be able to reach Washington in time, but those who can will act as honorary pallbearers and will accompany the body to its last resting place.

Mrs. Heyburn has been flooded with telegrams of condolence and sympathy from all parts of the country today, especially from Idaho. Officials in all walks of life and personal friends of Senator Heyburn have telegraphed their sympathy to the widow. Many friends in Washington called to express their sorrow. Most of the members of the Senate and various cabinet officers not in Washington have sent telegrams.

For some days prior to his death, it became known today, Senator Heyburn was partially paralyzed on the left side of his face and his left arm being especially affected. This was ascribed to complications of this trouble and was one of the results of diabetes.

Widow to Return to Old Home. No effort has yet been made to find Senator Heyburn's will and none will be made until Mrs. Heyburn returns to Washington after the funeral. It is Mrs. Heyburn's intention after settling her affairs to return to her old home in Pennsylvania, where she was born and where her relatives now reside.

The following telegram was received by Mrs. Heyburn from President Taft, dated Beverly. "Mrs. Taft and I extend to you our heartfelt sympathy in your great sorrow. Senator Heyburn was an able, consistent, courageous statesman and patriot and I greatly mourn his loss."

MAN FROM NORTH IN VIEW Governor Not Decided, but Indicates Geographical Choice.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 18.—(Special.)—A prominent Northern Idaho Democrat will probably be appointed to fill the recess term in the United States Senate caused by the death of Senator Weldon B. Heyburn, former senior Senator from this state. In an interview authorized today, Governor Hawley, at Montpelier, said he was probably a Northern Idaho man. "I am quite positive about this. I cannot say who he will be. In fact I probably shall not decide until just before or after the election as I am very busy with my campaign and shall be up to November 5."

CITY MARSHAL IS SLAIN

SHEEP HERDER, DRUNK, KILLS ARRESTING OFFICER.

Excitement at Winters, Cal., Following Crime, Leads for Time to Danger of Lynching.

WINTERS, Cal., Oct. 18.—Excitement created here today by the killing of City Marshal Rice by Jacinto Vaca, a sheepherder, had quieted tonight and danger of lynching is believed to be past.

Vaca is a sheepherder and had been drinking heavily. In the early hours of this morning he began abusing his family. About noon James Chapman, a farmer, hearing the murderous threats of Vaca, notified City Marshal Rice.

Rice, Chapman and Constable Andrews went to Vaca's home. Rice led and was walking on the front porch toward the open door when the Mexican fired a shot from a gun he had in his hands. Rice fell with a wound in his breast above the heart, which severed the large blood vessels. He died instantly.

Chapman and Andrews went to the rear of the house. Chapman, noticing that Vaca had stepped out on the porch near the body of his victim, ran rapidly through the house and pinioned Vaca's arms as he was reloading the shotgun. Andrews quickly came to his assistance, and Vaca was taken to the city jail.

GUILTY!

Somebody said the Gordon Pure Fur Law was an invention of Gordon—to benefit Gordon!

It is. But would you starve to death to keep from benefiting the farmer? Or walk because the railroads might get your money? Or sit in the dark for fear of pleasing Mr. Edison? Then come in with us on the

GORDON Pure Fur Law

The law under which we tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but—about every Gordon Fur. Just say Gordon to your fur dealer. You can tell how keen he is for the whole truth about furs by the way his face lights up, or clouds over. We make rabbit skins look so fine and rich and silky that even a dealer might mistake them for seal! But we are proud of what we do. So we tell you on the Gordon label just what animal the skin came from—and about how you may expect it to wear. Then the dealer, you and we all benefit. We make real seal garments too—and then we mark them seal.

What we say about Seal applies to all our other goods. Whether it's a Auto Coat at $20 or a Jacket of Russian Sables at $5,000—you know just what you are getting when you find the Gordon Label. Just ask us—on a card—for the Gordon Fur Book. It is handsomely illustrated—makes fascinating reading too. This garment is just one of several hundred. May we send the book?
