SUFFRAGE CAUSE SCORED

Firm Asserts Silence Maintained on Case Taken on Request How Are
"Reputable People" Not Connected With Liquor Interests.

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special).—Claiming that the keeping secret of the names of persons ordering anti-suffrage circulars was legitimate and that the inadvertent omission of the house imprint was corrected as soon as the error was noticed, Yoran & Koke tonight issued a signed statement which calls attention to laxness in the observation of the corrupt practices act in literature issued by the Equal Suffrage Association and others interested in measures and candidates. Following is the statement:

"The women of Eugene, issuing a signed statement, declaring that anti-suffrage literature printed by this office, was ordered and paid for by the brewers of Portland, merely stated what they imagined, and that they knew to be a fact, no work was ordered by reputable people, in no way connected with the liquor interests or with the brewers.

"There was no attempt at undue secrecy, but the silence maintained was at the request of the parties ordering the printing, who said that 'on account of the well-known fact that anti-suffragettes to distort facts and blacklist those who do not agree with them in the suffrage question they did not want their names to be made public.

"In our refusal to give out copies of the literature when requested by the local suffrage president we believe we acted as any responsible printer would in the case, and just as we would have done had the anti-suffrage literature been printed for the suffragettes.

"The first printing done in this office during the suffrage campaign was done for the local suffrage league. That job did not bear the name of the author, nor our imprint, though the suffragists have since put on such of the literature as was displayed in Eugene the following:

"Eugene Equal Suffrage League, Yoran & Koke, Printers, with pen and ink. This was done by the suffragists after they made the charge that the anti-suffrage literature was similar to that previously printed for them.

"The anti-suffrage articles were all signed with the name of the authors, and only failed to bear the imprint of our firm. This was done for the same error, and as soon as our attention was called to the matter we immediately added the firm name to each article.

"The voters of the state well know that a lot of literature now being used in this state does not bear the name of any printer, such matter is being sent out by the various candidates as well as by those favoring or opposing the amendments, and the suffragists themselves have issued circulars and dogers that do not have the name of a printer.

"They did not consider having the printer's name or the author's placed upon the suffrage literature they ordered of us, though they raised a hue and cry because we did not put our name on the arguments of their opponents.

"We seem to have been mixed up with the going on in Eugene. It has been intimated that we intentionally and knowingly violated the law, and were averse to making known the parties ordering the work because our connection with the Brewers Association, which we positively deny."

PAUL WESSINGER IS THANKED
Mrs. Dunlavy Says Brewer's Statement on Suffrage Issue Good.

"Will you please, through the columns of The Morning Oregonian, offer to my friend, Mr. Paul Wessinger, my very best thanks for his explicit statement in connection with the charge against the Brewers Association by the women of Eugene. It was clear, most concise, most gentlemanly and most tactful, and I wish I could say the same of the writings and utterances of some other people."

The Osprey was 58 feet long, had an engine of 75-horsepower, and was built at Coquille in 1908 for the late R. D. Hume, of the Rogue River country. When his estate was sold to the MacLeay estate, of Portland, the boat went with the property, and was operated by the Wedderburn Trading Company, the name of the firm under which the Curry County property was operated.

The Osprey had several mishaps. She first went into commission in August or September, 1908, and on her first entry over the Rogue River bar was stranded on a sand spit at the mouth of the river. She was being towed in by the Hume boat Enterprise and while being hauled forward by a wave her towline became entangled in the propeller of the Enterprise and was severed. Once again when the Osprey was coming into Coos Bay she had a narrow escape from being lost and in 1909 Gunder Anderson, one of the men on the boat, was washed overboard. Captain Johnson, the master, was Consensus of Opinion Is Now That President May Lose Hay State.

Tacoma's Mayor Said to Have Switched From Hodge.

BY M. M. MATTHEW.
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 1.—(Special).—A guerrilla warfare against minor Republican candidates is being waged under way throughout the state.

Reports to various headquarters here indicate that the campaign managers are taking chances on swinging through the complete tickets, but are fighting the weakest nominees wherever they are found.

This form of fight has the advantage not only of helping the men-supported, but also in weakening the entire Republican ticket and in helping the movement to make state and county tickets follow the National vote.

Betting odds and committee reports indicate that the fight for the Presidential electors in this state lies between Roosevelt and Wilson, with an uncertain quantity.

The Republican nominee might win, but the consensus of opinion is that he will lose Washington. So the "wise" money that began coming out in larger quantities today, is for either Wilson or Roosevelt.

State May Lead National.
At the same time it is admitted that the Republican state and county tickets throughout the state will run ahead of the National nominees.

In some instances running far ahead. Bull Moose leaders, in particular, are eager to elect members of the Legislature, while Democratic politicians seem to be paying more attention to county offices.

Word came to different headquarters that Mayor W. W. Seymour, of Tacoma, who was a Bull Moose earlier in the campaign, announced his switch from Hodge to Hay.

A delegation of Democrats went to Seattle to Tacoma today to aid a Lister meeting. The original intention was to take a number of Taft supporters who favored Lister, but because of lack of organization or lack of interest this was found not feasible.

A big Republican meeting scheduled for noon Saturday was called off today out of court by the state named Schoolcraft Sherman, whose funeral is to occur at the hour the Republican meeting was to have been held.

This authorizes a bond issue of $50,000 to build a bridge across the Willamette River just north of Ross Island, taken by itself, this league would reject it, but as a part of the Ross Island plan approves it.

CITY ATTORNEY SALARY.
116—Yes.
117—No.
Allows Council to fix salary. A proper measure, as such reasonable salary should be paid as would insure competence in the office.

CITY TRESURER SALARY.
118—Yes.
119—No.
Same provision and for same reason. Voters are advised to vote Yes.

CITY ENGINEER SALARY.
120—Yes.
121—No.
Same provision and for same reason, which is especially applicable to this office.

CITY PROSECUTOR.
122—Yes.
123—No.
Practically divides City Attorney's office into two parts, one for criminal and one for civil business with an officer at the head of each. An unnecessary duplication of officers and increase of expense.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 1.—(Special).—With the practical close of the campaign the Republicans, Bull Moose and Democrats are resting on their oars.

The windup has left all breathless throughout the state, and while the last few days have not been marked with any great display of party enthusiasm there has been a tension in the political atmosphere showing determination in the ranks of all three.

So far as sentiment over the National election is concerned, the Wilsons are the favorites. Wilson has stronger standing in the river counties consisting of Clark, Skamania, Clatsop, Klickitat and Wahkiakum than he has elsewhere, but where the population is sparse, Chehalis, Thurston, Lewis, Mason and Pacific counties will go for Taft.

This is not alone the prediction of prominent workers, but is the honest opinion of voters of all parties, and a conclusion easily reached by a little gum-shoeing.

Taking the ten counties together Taft probably will lead Wilson by a round majority.

So far as the state ticket situation is concerned it is all Hay. Lister never had a chance in this district. Hodge has been repudiated by a large number of the Bull Moose faction and Lister is receiving little support.

The state ticket goes with Governor Hay. Bets are made that Hay will run ahead of any on the state or National ticket, and that the district is in the entire state. Betting on the National ticket has been even 2 to 1 on Roosevelt, but before the tender mercy of the Legislators, unless some special berth was provided for him whereby he would receive additional compensation.

Some take the Governor's move to be along this line. State Treasurer Kay assumes the attitude that the Attorney-General should handle the cases, and that the state school fund should not be dipped into for special counsel when the state is adequately equipped with salaried attorneys to do the work.

The Attorney-General has been working on these cases for many months," said Treasurer Kay today. "I am in favor of handling them rather than to have a special counsel. I believe that is the way the Board will decide the question. The State Land Board has taken no action whatever in the employment of special counsel to handle these, and, as far as I am concerned, will take no such action.

Voters are advised to carefully consider the foregoing statement of the public indebtedness and increase in taxation of the Portland community and to keep it in mind while considering the following

Recommendations to Voters

R. L. GLISAN, President, 612 Glisan Bldg.
L. J. GOLDSMITH, Secretary, 321 Corbett Bldg.

- COMMISSION CHARTER. 100—Yes, 101—No. This is the New Commission Charter providing for the government of the city by a Mayor and four Commissioners. If the people desire to try the Commission form this charter is probably as good as any of its kind, but owing to a division of opinion in the league itself as to the advisability of this city adopting such a charter, it makes no recommendation.
- VACATION STREETS, ETC. 112—Yes, 113—No. This provides for the vacation of streets, etc., for public purposes when necessary, and so far modifies the Ziegler act. Voters are advised to vote Yes.
- ACT ALLOWING 30 DAYS FOR BONDING APPLICATIONS. 114—Yes, 115—No. A necessary measure, the present time, 10 days, is too short. Voters are advised to vote Yes.
- CITY ATTORNEY SALARY. 116—Yes, 117—No. Allows Council to fix salary. A proper measure, as such reasonable salary should be paid as would insure competence in the office. Voters are advised to vote Yes.
- CITY TRESURER SALARY. 118—Yes, 119—No. Same provision and for same reason. Voters are advised to vote Yes.
- CITY ENGINEER SALARY. 120—Yes, 121—No. Same provision and for same reason, which is especially applicable to this office. Voters are advised to vote Yes.
- CITY PROSECUTOR. 122—Yes, 123—No. Practically divides City Attorney's office into two parts, one for criminal and one for civil business with an officer at the head of each. An unnecessary duplication of officers and increase of expense. Voters are advised to vote No.

Recapitulation of City Measures. Table with columns: Measure, Recommendation.
