when we look at an Oriental Rug, how its exquisite coloring—its rare design, its sliken strands—represent probably the life's effort of some human being. With pure love for an inspiration, the young Persian girl has woven a Rug as a wedding gift to her husband. And many of the rarest specimens have been woven as gifts to the "mosques"—or perhaps to prove their loyalty and love for their Shah.

Hundreds of such masterpleces of Oriental Rug weaving are among our stock. Each one has been selected because of some distinctive mark of beauty.

We wish YOU could enjoy looking through their loyalty are looking through these elegant Rugs. What Christmas gift could be more ideal for the home?

YOUNG PUGILIST PENITENT

Columbus Club Boxer Threatened With Naval Enlistment.

Prospect of carrying his fistic ac amplishments to the United States Navy was keenly distasteful to H. C. Mahoney, amateur boxer for the Columbus Club, when the project was broached in Municipal Court yesterday and the young pugilist was penitent as he told the court that he thought he could behave himself ashore. listment proposal was brought forward by the boy's father, who despaired of disciplining him in any other way.

Mahoney has been troublesome to the police on numerous occasions, and was arrested inst week for being drunk and disorderly, while a saloonkeeper was arrested for selling him liquor. In court yesterday, Mahoney senior said he wanted to put the boy in the Navy, but the son protested. As he is but 19 years old, the court ruled that he must be bound by the wishes of his father, to whom he was surrendered.

There was a question of making restitution for some damage done by Ma-inere was a question or making res-titution for some damage done by Ma-honey while drunk, and the boy was protesting fervently his willingness to pay, when Attorney Boon Cason created a diversion by saying: "That's what he always says, Your Honor, but I have defended him three times and he never has paid my fees."
