TWO ACCUSE WARD

Federal Agents Say Seattle Banker Made Admissions.

MONEY FURNISHED WOMEN

Attempted Bribery Is Charged in Trial of "White Slave" Case. Ex-Mayor Gill, of Seattle, Conducts Defense.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Assertions of attempted bribery were interjected this afternoon into the trial of Arthur J. Ward, the Seattle banker and saloon-keeper, who is jointly charged with Bernice Bailey with violating the Mann white slave law. The accusation was made on the witness stand by Thomas M. Fisher, immigration inspector, who testified before the jury in Federal Judge Van Fleet's court, that a Seattle police sergeant had said to him: "There is a man here interested in the case of Bernice Bailey who will give up $2000 if you soft pedal the matter."

Fisher testified that he then asked the sergeant if the man in question was Arthur J. Ward, and was told that that he met Ward through the police sergeant and that Ward admitted having furnished the money to buy tickets to Japan for the defendant and two women whom she was to take with her, besides furnishing about $350 for spending money for the three. Fisher said Ward admitted having knowledge of the purpose for which the women were going to Japan.

The women were taken off an Oriental liner by immigration officials of this city, after the liner was some distance from port.

William R. Byron, special agent of the Department of Justice, testified that when Ward was arrested he admitted having given the Bailey woman money to take her to Japan. Byron testified that Ward seemed surprised when arrested and said he understood the matter was all fixed up, as Tom Fraser and Joe Mason (Seattle police officers) had left for San Francisco to arrange a settlement of the case.

The Government completed its case today and the defense started to introduce character testimony in behalf of Ward, who is being defended by Hiram C. Gill, former Mayor of Seattle.

TEAL IDEA FINDS FAVOR

Government and State May Co-operate in Deschutes Development.

Joseph N. Teal, chairman of the Oregon State Conservation Committee, having suggested to the Secretary of the Interior that the Federal and state Government co-operate in an investigation of the Deschutes River, with a view to securing the highest possible utilization of its waters for irrigation and power, under public control, is in receipt of a letter from Samuel Adams, acting secretary, saying that he is impressed with the importance of the suggestion. Secretary Fisher was not in Washington when the letter was written, but the acting secretary promises that the matter shall be brought to his immediate attention upon his return.

Mr. Teal suggested that the expense of the proposed investigation, estimated at $100,000, be borne one-half by the state and one-half by the Government Reclamation Fund, and this feature, according to the letter, will be especially brought to Secretary Fisher's attention.

FARMER GUEST KILLS HOST

Men Hold Carousal and One Shoots Other—Murder Charged.

HOPLAND, Cal., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Will Vassar is in jail on the charge of murder, and Dr. Charles Staggs, by whom he was being entertained in Mrs. Staggs' absence from home Thursday night, is dead. Vassar and Staggs began an argument during the carousal and it ended in Vassar drawing a revolver and shooting Staggs to death.

Vassar says he was forced to shoot his friend in self-defense to protect himself from an assault that was being made. Justice Will Huntley held an inquest and the coroner's jury determined that Vassar did not shoot in self-defense, and he was remanded for trial on the murder charge. Both men are prominent farmers in Southern Mendocino County.

WILSON WILL REST

President-elect to Avoid Political Callers.

MAIL IS NOW BURDENSOME

Chafin Telegraphs Congratulations and Moves to "Make It Unanimous"—Important Announcements Will Be Withheld.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 8.—President-elect Wilson intends to follow out his "listening policy" for several weeks before making any announcements of importance.

The President-elect said tonight he had decided to go away next week on a vacation of three or four weeks, during which time he would be out of reach of political callers. The place where he will go will be announced later.

Governor Wilson said he was in need of rest and intended to get himself in good physical condition for the session of the New Jersey Legislature, beginning the first of the year, when he will carry the two-fold burden of a legislative programme for the state and the preliminary arrangements for his Presidential Administration.

Wilson Visits Old Neighbor. The President-elect took a five-mile walk today around the Princeton battlefield of Revolutionary days. Governor Wilson stopped for a few minutes to talk with Mrs. Anna Ricketts, 85 years old, his next door neighbor. Governor Wilson likes to chat with Mrs. Ricketts, because, though far advanced in years, he says, she retains a remarkable viewpoint on politics.

Several telegrams came today, one of them from Eugene Chafin, the Prohibition candidate for the Presidency. He telegraphed his congratulations and added: "I move to make it unanimous."

Joseph E. Davies, Governor Wilson's

Western campaign manager, called on him today and told him the details of how Illinois and some of the other doubtful states went Democratic.

Extra-session Talk Noted. The Governor's attention was called to statements of Oscar Underwood and other Democratic leaders that they deemed an extra session of Congress advisable to review the tariff.

"I noticed Mr. Underwood's statement. I have read several editorials also about immediate action," was the only comment the President-elect made.

The postman that has the Wilson home on his route has had to get help today on one trip alone he carried 1000 letters. This is the daily average now. Most of the letters are congratulatory, though not a few contain suggestions. The President-elect is going to try to answer most of them before he goes away on his vacation.

He planned to spend the day at his correspondence and take a walk in the late afternoon. Tomorrow he expects to see the football game here between Princeton and New York University. Next Tuesday he said he will go to Trenton as usual for the transaction of state business.

Production 381,921,000 Bushels in Excess of Greatest Crop Ever Before Grown Anywhere.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—A corn crop of 3,169,137,000 bushels, or 231,921,000 bushels more than the greatest crop of corn ever before grown in any country of the world, is the feature of the country's most remarkable agricultural year in history, according to the November crop report of the Federal Department of Agriculture issued today.

This great crop of corn was worth on November 1 to farmers $1,850,776,000.

The enormous sum of $4,171,134,000 represented the farm value on November 1 of the crops of corn, hay, wheat, oats, potatoes, barley, flaxseed, rye and buckwheat. With the value of the growing cotton crop and the crops of tobacco, rice and apples, the aggregate value of these principal farm products will amount well beyond $5,000,000,000.

Record crops of corn, potatoes, flaxseed, oats, barley, rye and hay were harvested this year.

REBUTTAL EVIDENCE TAKEN

Government Presents Testimony in Alleged Land-Grant Frauds.

With the testimony near its close in the case of the Government against the Southern Pacific for alleged land grant frauds, the prosecution is submitting rebuttal testimony to show that the lands in question are of agricultural character. The testimony presented yesterday was with reference to Josephine County, which the witness for the defendant said was fully 80 per cent of non-agricultural character.

The Government witnesses testified that the area of Josephine County embraced some of the finest agricultural land in the state, and its farms were not only highly productive, but some of the residents had beautiful homes and had acquired a competency from the lands.

It is fully expected that within another week this testimony will be completed and the record certified to the United States Supreme Court, and it will then take several months for the briefs of counsel to be prepared and submitted.
