

GREEKS IN FIERCE BATTLE IN VARDARI

Furious Attack Met by Heavy Fire From Intrenched Turkish Artillery.

HAIL OF SHRAPNEL DEADLY

Sultan's Forces Withstand Enemy for Two Hours and Then Yield, Finally Fleeing in Disorder. Shells Fall in Hospital.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The fighting of the Greek army in approaching Salonika was most noteworthy, says a dispatch from Kilkis. The operations at Kilkis, near the Vardari River were furious, cannonading being kept up from morning until dark. The Turks held a position near the stream in swamp ground and rushes, which afforded considerable protection. The stream was 100 yards wide and shallow, with a wide fringe of high grass. Ahmed Pasha, commanding the Turkish left, sent two brigades of infantry and four 15-pounder mule batteries across the river to attack Lailas and Kilkis. The force moved rapidly and entrenched themselves on flat ground in a position previously selected.

Rain Floods Trenches.
They probably would have done great execution had not a heavy rain flooded the trenches. Early in the morning the Greeks advanced to the attack, the infantry under cover and supported by artillery. The tremendous Turkish fire met the advance, but the Greeks repulsed with shells, which burst with deadly effect, the time fuses working faultlessly.

The Greek infantry outnumbered the Turks, and after an hour's fighting the Turks began to retreat. They had no support within two miles and only a railroad bridge was available for crossing the river. The retreating Turks became congested on the bridge, on which fell a hail of shrapnel. A field hospital near by received many shells.

Turks Disperse in Disorder.
The firing was more than the Turks could stand and they dispersed in disorder, the retreat ending in a pell-mell race to the rear. Some of the others fled to the station on the railroad. At noon the Turks got six guns in position and checked the Greek advance for a time. The infantry held on until deserted by the guns and then the whole force broke, throwing away coats and hats. Discarded equipment was strewn for five miles along the railroad.

One train left Kilkis with men crowding the roofs of the cars and the buffers. The officers did nothing to preserve order. No use was made of stretchers and 200 wounded were left.

SIX POWERS MAY SEND ARMY

Plan Is Framed to Keep Bulgars Out of Constantinople.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Great Britain, France and Germany, Austria and Italy, the triple alliance, are believed to be at the point of reaching an agreement to prevent the Bulgarian army from occupying Constantinople. The six governments find themselves in accord on that principle, and active exchanges are in progress as to the means to be taken to bring about this result.

One suggestion is for a collective provisional occupation of Constantinople by the six powers with the consent of Turkey, under the assumption that such action is necessary to protect the subjects of the respective nations and to maintain order.

The Bulgarian government appears to have indicated that it had no intention of trying to hold Constantinople and that it would occupy the Turkish capital only until peace had been arranged.

This, it is stated, is not satisfactory to the powers. It is pointed out that such occupation might continue indefinitely and certainly during the long discussion period a peace settlement, rendering a permanent agreement more difficult by the European conference.

It is considered essential for the great international interests that the Bosphorus, Constantinople, the Dardanelles and a narrow zone in European Turkey be retained by the Turks.

5 POWERS OFFER MEDIATION

Bulgarians to Demand Winter Quarters if Kept From Constantinople.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—According to a Sofia dispatch to the Journal, the powers with the exception of Austria have presented a joint note to the Bulgarian government offering mediation. The Government accepted the note, but as yet has made no reply and it is understood will decline the offer.

Dispatches received Sunday say a great battle is being fought around Thessalonika, and that the Bulgarian government did nothing until that has been decided. It is pointed out that the army cannot be sent to the winter in the bleak exposed plains and must either enter Constantinople or be provided with winter quarters elsewhere until full compliance from the powers that the conquered territory will remain undisputed.

Other special dispatches from Sofia say that in military quarters the occupation of Constantinople is considered indispensable to prevent fresh allies from Asia-Minor entering, and this is the only way to stop the war. The dispatches claim that an agreement is far from being completed with Austria and Italy over the Balkan situation. Italy, it is asserted, will never admit that Austria should have economic and customs privileges in the Balkans, and it is pointed out that Italy has not the same interest as Austria in shutting out Serbia from the Adriatic. It is understood that these points and several others stand in the way of the two powers agreeing on a common program.

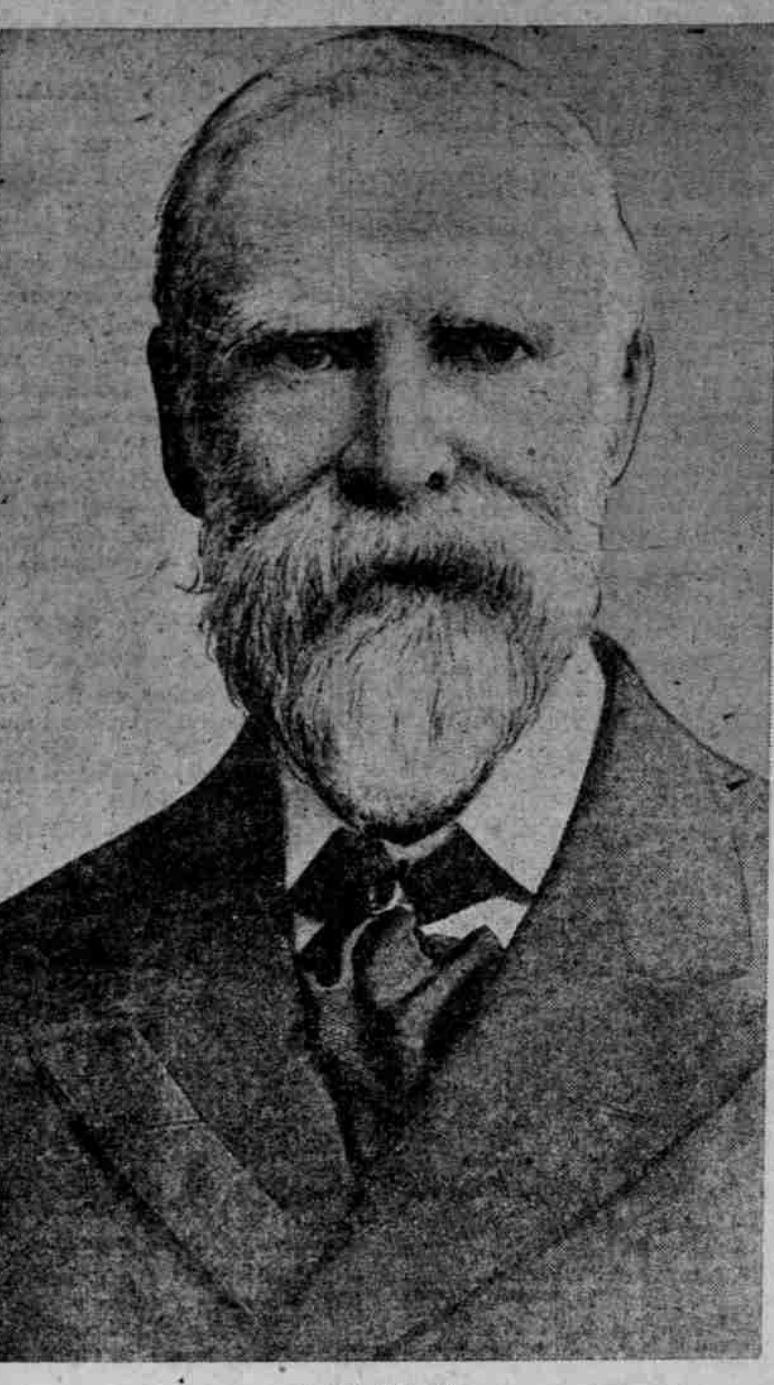

"BLUE SKY" VOTE IS CLOSE

Lane's Lead Over Selling Continues to Grow and Now Stands at 1482.

Douglas, Curry, Coos and Clatsop counties yesterday added approximately 1000 votes to the favorable majority for woman's suffrage. The votes in favor of this measure reported from Tuesday's election now stand $3,610, with $9,716 votes reported against it, giving the women a margin of 3894 on the ballots thus far reported. Nearly every populous county has sent in its full report. It is unlikely that those counties which have not yet reported their complete returns will change the majority 1000 votes either way.

Those counties which have made official reports now include Clatsop, Curry,

BRITISH AMBASSADOR WHO RESIGNS POST AT WASHINGTON TO DEVOTE TIME TO WRITING.

Coos, Douglas, Hood River, Linn, Morrow, Multnomah, Tillamook, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wasco and Washington. Complete but unofficial reports have come from Baker, Klamath, Lake, Malheur, Sherman and Wheeler counties. Benton, Jackson, Josephine, Marion and other heavily populated counties are lacking only a few precincts each to make their respective counts complete.

Late returns have failed to affect any of the other measures. The "blue sky" law, which was running close, now is so far behind that it cannot recover a sufficient favorable vote to pass.

All the single-tax measures have been defeated. The local bill in Coos County was rejected by a vote of 1052 to 374.

Lane's lead over Selling for United States Senator continues to grow with the late returns. The tally now stands: Lane, 37,768; Selling, 36,286, giving Lane a plurality of 1482.

B. Lee Paret received a heavy complimentary vote throughout the state. William's lead continues to grow. The vote for Debs in some counties is surprising. The Socialist candidate received nearly 12,000 votes in the state.
