Noted Pastor Says Social and Religious Progress Much in Evidence.

WAR DOOM IS SOUNDED

Universal Peace Is Inevitable, Thinks Veteran Preacher and Writer, Who Is Guest at Banquet

by Portland Admirers.

A practical optimist who does not for an instant doubt the literal truth of the quotation "God's in his heaven; all's right with the world," is Dr. Washington Gladden, for 30 years pastor of the First Congregational furch of Columbus, C. who arrived in Portland yesterday and will pass sev-eral days in this city before going on to California, where he is to give an address next Tuesday at the Univer-sity of California. Not denying that conditions exist in the present day which are far from ideal, he insists that the social prob-lems that confront us are soluble and that their solution is coming about more and more rapidly with each suc-

more and more rapidly with each suc-ceeding year of the progress of the ceeding year of the progress of the human race. He noted an instance of this progress in reference to the attitude of the public toward "tainted money" against which he made an active stand more than seven years ago, and by his persistent declaration that public in-stitutions should refuse to accept money tainted by having been acquired under conditions contrary to the great-est social welfare, sprang into re-newed prominence throughout the civilized world.

Public Conscience Awakens.

Public Conscience Awakens. "It has been several years since I made my first stand against tainted money," he said last night. "Seven years ago I made a visit to the Pa-cific Coast in a campaign of that nature. In the seven years that have succeeded I have seen the public consucceeded I have seen the public con-science' awake until institutions are more and more inclined to refuse tainted money and nowadays there is scarcely a case to be found where they go out and solicit money of this kind for their use. "It has gone even further than that. In politics, where a few years ago the sinews of political warfare were furnished from such sources, you now the sinews of political warrare were furnished from such sources, you now find no party seeking contributions of tainted money to carry on its cam-paigns—at least none of them are now daring to do it openly, as the late cam-paign will bear witness. In Oregon I understand that there are even laws against it in your regulation of po-litical affairs." Dr. Gladden is equally as optimistic over the outcome of the Presidential over the outcome of the Presidential election, as he is over everything else in the universe. Thave the utmost flith in Mr. Wil-son's ability as an Executive and be-lieve that the coming years, in which he holds office, will be prosperous and full of consistent and steady develop-ment. I have not been in the East during the past few weeks and do not know what the attitude may be there, but I am sure that it is one of con-fidence. While I myself did not vote for Mr. Wilson, I should not have felt that I had done anything unwise if I had done so." Banquet Is Tendered.

"We have gotten past the stage where we must think in terms of parishes or counties or states or naparishes or counties or states or ha-tions," he said, "we must learn to think in terms of planets. We much exert ourselves to find out what we may do together to make life best and happiest and most beautiful for all of human beings who are somehow marconed upon this earth planet as it whirls through space." Dr. Gladden denied that the dream of a "world commonwealth" is in the least chimerical or impossible of achieve-ment and declared that the world is steadily tending in that direction. He pointed out that racial differences, ianguages and religion wil present their problems, but that these problems are all capable of solution. The Na-tional divisions are also to be reck-oned with and it was in his arraignnent of war that Dr. Gladden waxed most eloquent.

"Armed Peace" Denounced.

The idea of armed peace he de-nounced as absurd in National relations just as it would be regarded as absurd, in individual relations, "for a man to go down the street shaking his fist in everybody's face and pasnately declaring his desire to be let alone.

"We do not avoid a fight with our neighbor by Reeping every window in our house full of guns trained on his front porch. Yet this very situation which would be regarded as absurd in the case of the individual is urged as necessary in international relations scarcely provokes a smile." People, he declared, are, however, becoming conscious of the intollerable burden of war and preparations for war.

war. "They are crying out, Let us be done with war. We have something far more interesting and profitable to do than the slaughter of one another." It may well be doubted whether any of the great nations today could fill its regiments if war were declared, unless that war ware in redistance of the that war were in resistance of the nost wanton aggression."

War to Disappear, He Says.

The disappearance of war he held to be an inevitable step in the steady progress of the world toward a condition of international commonwealth, and the development of the "world order" he held to be not far from us.

"Toward this the misery and unrest of our burdened and groaning popu-lation are driving us; toward this all our better thoughts and impulses are drawing us; and our scholars and ex-plorers and our prophets and philanthropists and our men of affairs unite in discovering for us the path by which the world may move forward to the realization of a universal commonwealth.'

Wealth. Dr. Gladden will remain in Portland at least two days as the guest of Miss Edith M. Bowe at the Chesterbury Apartments, who is a relative. He has remarked no programme to guide his arranged no programme to guide his movements in this city, but will visit some of the educational institutions and give addresses.

SARAH GRANT AND LIVING BRANCHES OF HER FAMILY TREE.

SARAH GRANT AND LIVING BRANCHES OF HER FAMILY TREE. MONMOUTH, Or., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—One of the historic families of Oregon, and in which the family tree to date has living branches of five generations, is that of Sarah J. Williams Grant and her subse-quent offspring shown in the above picture. Mrs. Grant, the eldest in the group, is 86 years old, and the youngest, Baby Lerone Edwards, her great-great-granddaughter, is but 11 months old. The left to right in the picture are: Sarah J. Williams Grant, born in Morgan County, Kentucky, December 2, 1826, who moved to Missouri at the age of four, and marrying Richard Grant in 1846, crossed the plains to Oregon in 1852. Mr. Grant was for three years a member Jf the Oregon Legislature—1863 to 1370. During her life Mrs. Grant has killed 37 deer; second, Mary Bevens, daughter of Mrs. Grant, 65 years old, who crossed the plains with her parents when five years oid. She has lived in the vicinity of Kings Valley most of the time; third, Gil-bert J. Bevens, son of Mary Bevens, 46 years old; fourth, Jessie M. Edwards, daughter of Gilbert Bevens, aged 23, and, fifth, her daugh-ter, Lerons Edwards, just 11 months old.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the Common Council of the City of Roseburg, duly assembled, "That Governor West be and hereby is requested to try any criminal or civil action he may have against the officers or inhabitants of the City of Roseburg, in the courts and not through the newspapers, and that the Recorder of the city be and hereby is instructed to cransmit a copy of this resolution, attested by the seal of the city to Governor Oswald West, at Salem, Governor Oregon."
