

GALE-BEATEN BOAT TOWED INTO PORT

Vance, From St. Helens, Or., Is Rescued, Waterlogged, After 10 Days' Battle.

STORM OPENS HER SEAMS

Deckload of Lumber, Two of Masts, Cabin and All Lifeboats Are Carried Overboard—Crew Is Forced to Man Pumps.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 18.—The dismasted and water-logged schooner Oceania Vance, Captain Olson, was towed into Port Townsend Bay Sunday by the steam schooner Riverside, which picked up the Vance in a water-logged condition off Willapa Harbor yesterday after the Vance had battled for ten days against wind and sea.

The Vance, with crew of 15 men, sailed from St. Helens, Or., for Los Angeles, with a cargo of lumber, crossing out of the Columbia River November 5. Within 24 hours the schooner began to settle, heavy seas, driven by a high wind, having opened seams in her wooden hull. Part of the deckload of lumber was jettisoned, and the men manned the pumps, the gasoline engine being out of order.

The wind increased to a gale and the rest of the deckload broke loose, smashing the rail and stepping the mainmast. Then the wind abated, and Captain Olson had hopes of making port, but the heavy seas continued and the remainder of the deckload went overboard.

Last Tuesday a 70-mile gale struck the water-logged schooner, and the mainmast and mizzenmast were carried away. The cabin was pounded to pieces and every lifeboat was swept overboard. After a few hours the blow subsided, and Captain Olson found himself off Tillamook rock.

Sail was made on the foremast and the schooner kept off the rocks, moving slowly northward until Saturday morning, when she was sighted by the steamship Yukon, which communicated with the Riverside, the latter vessel taking the Vance in tow.

SISTERS TO BE REUNITED

Wife of Orpheum Player Will Meet Relative After Long Absence.

Sisters met for the first time in many years Sunday when Mrs. Fred Herbert comes to Portland from Seattle with her husband, whose trained dogs are to open a week's engagement this afternoon at the Orpheum. Mrs. R. S. Dulla, wife of a chemist in the engineering department of this city, is a sister of Mrs. Herbert, whose tours with her husband throughout the United States and abroad have kept the sisters apart. Portland is the first city this week in honor of their reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Dulla reside at 1006 1/2 Haight avenue.

Mr. Dulla has been in the employ of the city for several years. He brought wide attention to the Portland city engineering department by devising a system which makes it possible to analyze pavement in five minutes, where before at least two days were required for the test. He invented the time-saving plan by applying the principle of centrifugal force after watching the effect of a spinning top had on sand.

WIFE WOUNDS HUSBAND

Former Portland Man Shot in Family Row at Calgary.

CALGARY, Alberta, Nov. 18.—(Special)—William E. Gardner, formerly of Portland, Or., was shot twice and seriously wounded last night by his wife in a family quarrel.

Gardner and his wife are at different hospitals in this city, the latter suffering from shock, hysterics and bruises inflicted by her husband. Gardner went home Saturday night drunk, according to reports. He was shot in the back. Breaking away, Mrs. Gardner seized a revolver and fired three shots, two of them taking effect.

It was an accident, she declared Gardner at the hospital. "She didn't mean to shoot."

"I was afraid he would kill me, so I shot him."

Gardner was formerly in the liquor business. Mrs. Gardner is under guard at the Holy Cross Hospital and a charge of attempted murder will be made against her.

EDISON EXTENDS PLANS

Inventor Reported to Contemplate Direction of Corporations.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Nov. 18.—As his 66th birthday approaches, Thomas A. Edison is credited with planning to become president of the Thomas A. Edison Company, Incorporated, and other companies to be embraced under that title.

The resignation of Frank L. Dyer, now at the head of the allied corporations based on Edison's inventions, has been received. He intends to become president of the Motion Picture Company, of New York.

Edison himself declined to discuss the situation. Dyer became president in 1908, succeeding William E. Gilmore.

Six Suspected Yeggmen Caught.

Six men, believed by the police to be a band of "yeggmen," were arrested early today when they arrived in their room in a lodging house on First and Madison streets. They gave various occupations, and were all charged with vagrancy. They had been under surveillance for several days by Detectives Coleman and Snow, and these officers, with Detectives Swennes and Moloney, made the arrests. The names they gave at the police station were: H. T. Hardy, W. H. Halls, James Ryan, J. W. Wilson and John Burke. Two are past middle age; the other three are young.

Last Tribute Paid H. C. Van Meter.

Skewes' chapel, at Third and Clay streets, was thronged yesterday afternoon for the funeral of Howard C. Van Meter, a prominent Christian Scientist who passed away Thursday night. The services were conducted by F. Elmo Robinson, first reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The services were concluded with a private service at the Portland Crematorium. The pallbearers were: A. T. Himes, C. H. S. King, Paul Seedy, W. D. McWaters, J. W. Reynolds and O. S. Hubbell.

MORMON IS HEARD

Head of Church Denies Political Activity in Idaho.

NEWS REPORT CRITICISED

Joseph Smith Says He Favored Re-election of Governor Hawley, but Declares Body Leans Toward Republicanism.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 18.—"The Mormon Church has never and did not in any way receive permission to dictate or influence politics in the state of Idaho, and any statement that it did is not true. Individually, Mormons voted their preference, a right that they have, and they may have used their influence where they live. They have as much right as individuals to do this as any member of the Methodist, or any other church."

This was the statement made by Joseph Smith, president of the Church of Latter Day Saints here tonight, when interviewed immediately following a religious and political address in defense of Mormonism, before a large audience in the local auditorium.

"You can tell Governor Hawley for me that the Mormons, and that includes the church, have always considered him a generous, kind and big man," continued President Smith, "and if I had any influence with the members of the Mormon Church politically, I would have endeavored to secure his re-election. I would like to have seen him re-elected."

CHANNEL BORE HOPE RISES

Tunnel Connecting France and England Finds New Favor.

PARIS, Nov. 15.—(Special)—The Entente Cordiale with England and the progress of aviation have combined to give the project of a Channel tunnel a new and vigorous lease of life on this side of the Channel. The sixth commission appointed by the Council Municipal of Paris has just presented a report which declines any longer to take seriously the alleged objections to the scheme. Technical experts according to it, have no difficulty in showing that the fears of a French or German invasion by means of a tunnel cannot be justified. "It would always be easy for either fleet to destroy the open approach to the tunnel on its side of the water," says the report. "And there is another line of defense which is much more practicable. Since the system involving electric, all that would be necessary would be to cut off the current. Alternatively, the exit of the trains could be hindered from sweeping the invasion theory will not stand the test of serious examination."

BUILDING NEED SEEN

Bishop Scadding Speaks for Proposed Auditorium.

"Oregon is coming more and more prominently before the eyes of the East, and Portland is destined to become more widely known as a convention city every year," said Bishop Charles Scadding, of the Protestant Episcopal Church Sunday, "and for this reason it is imperative that efforts be made to prepare for future conventions as soon as possible by the erection of a proper auditorium for them."

SHOW BRINGS BIG PROTEST

Spectators Resent Cruel Performance in English Theater.

SCARBOROUGH, Eng., Nov. 16.—(Special)—An exciting scene at a music-hall, in which the spectators rose in a body and protested against the performance, was described to the Scarborough Standard today, when John Hendrickson proprietor of an animal circus, was summoned for cruelty to a small bear and a monkey.

THE LEGAL WAY.

Pittsburgh Post. "What punishment did that defaulting banker get?" "I understand his lawyer charged him $40,000."

ART HISTORIANS ADJOURN

Interesting Papers Presented at Congress in Rome.

ROME, Nov. 16.—(Special)—The International Congress of the History of Art closed its labors with a visit to the Catacombs. A number of interesting papers were read during the sittings. Especially noteworthy were those of Monsignor Wipert on "Rome as the Founder of Monumental Art in the Early Christian and Medieval Periods," of Professor Marucchi on "The Relations Between the Pictures of a Christian Catacomb in Rome and Similar Representations of Egyptian Art," by Francis Beckett on "Andrea Palladio and Tycho Brahe," by M. Gabriel Millet, the explorer of Mistra, upon "The Relations Between Byzantine Art and the Balkan Peninsula in the Thirteenth Century," and by Dr. Gerola, the author of the great book about the Venetian monuments of Crete, on "Medieval Art in Rhodes and the Adjacent Sporades" (whether he was sent by the Italian Government immediately after the Italian occupation of those islands).

BENEFITS ARE POINTED OUT

Prelate Says That Personally He Is in Favor of Selecting Site at Nineteenth and Washington Streets.

"The World's Christian Citizenship Conference will be held here next July. I am personally deeply interested in this great gathering. I wish it might be possible for a suitable auditorium to be available for the meetings when it convenes, although I do not think it at all possible for the auditorium commission now to be able to have the municipal auditorium ready in time for that."

BOND SWINDLE GROWS

Ramifications of Belgian Railway Deal Are Far-Reaching.

PARIS, Nov. 16.—(Special)—As the inquiry into the Belgian railway bond frauds proceeds, further evidence is afforded of the immense ramifications of the swindle.

Princess Louise to Fight State.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(Special)—It is reported that Princess Louise, the oldest daughter of the late King Leopold, has no intention whatever of giving up the fight against the state of Belgium for a share of the $25,000,000 left by her father. She will contest the will through all the Belgian courts to the highest, no matter what unpleasant disclosures may result.

Enormous Coal Waste.

New York Press. The United States Bureau of Mines has found that out of 750,000,000 tons of coal mined annually there is a sheer waste of $50,000,000 tons in production alone. Of the remaining 500,000,000 tons which reach the consumer there is only a small percentage which is turned into actual energy. The average waste last year, according to recent Government figures, amounted to $8 per cent; much of it is due to inefficient methods of burning, which can be corrected. Natural gas equal in quantity to the total output of artificial gas manufactured in the entire country is absolutely wasted by being turned loose into the air. Boiler scale alone causes a loss of 15,000,000 tons a year, and coke manufacture a waste of some $40,000,000.

Honor Among Greek Thieves.

LONDON TELEGRAPH. When the Olympian games were held in Athens in 1896 it was said that no pickpockets operated in the crowds. When it became evident that the games would draw large numbers of foreigners to Athens the pickpockets held a meeting and pledged themselves, one and all, to suspend business as long as the games lasted, in order to protect the reputation of their country. And they kept their word.

Tippling the Hat at Harvard.

Boston Post. Everybody tips his hat at Harvard these days. The custom has been growing gradually for several years, and it is now in full bloom. Every student of the university—and there are over 5000 of them—tips his hat to President Lowell when he meets him on the street or in the yard, and the chief executive of Harvard returns the silent greeting in like manner. The students universally recognize Dean LeBaron Russell Briggs and Dean Byron S. Hurlbut, and several other widely known members of the Harvard faculty by tipping the hat.

Best for Biscuit

Experienced housekeepers who have tried many different kinds of baking powders, find that Rumford biscuits are lighter, whiter and better flavored. They are also more wholesome and much more easily made with Rumford THE WHOLESOME BAKING POWDER. The Best of the High-Grade Baking Powders—No Alum.
