WOMAN IMPLICATED IN CRIME IS BELIEF

Second Bullet Hole Found in Charles Newell's Head. Inquest Is Today.

$500 REWARD IS OFFERED

County Commissioners Add Incentive to Capture of Slayer of Centralia Youths — Police Unearth More Clues.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Clues tending to show that a woman is connected with the murder of Charles Newell, son of Edward Newell, corner-elect of Lewis County, whose lifeless body was found in a ditch in the northern part of this city yesterday with a bullet hole through the head, were found by Chief of Police Schleider today. Chief Schleider said that he believed it would be but a short time now before the assassin of young Newell was arrested. It was announced that no arrests would take place, however, until after the inquest tomorrow. Reports here are that the authorities already know the identity of the slayer, and that he is being hunted.

IDAHO GRAIN YIELD BIG Total of 28,000,000 Bushels Says Unofficial Report.

LEWISTON, Ida., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The grain yield for the state of Idaho for the season of 1912 was 28,000,000 bushels, according to an unofficial report of D. W. Greenburg, chairman of the Idaho State Grain Commission. The six northern counties, including Nez Perce, Idaho, Latah, Lewis, Clearwater and Kootenai, produced 11,000,000 bushels, and the counties of the south and east 17,000,000 bushels.

The farmers this year, owing to the late and continued rains, were belated in sowing their spring grain. The quality, however, he says, is equal to that of last season. There is a marked increase for the increase of the total yield. For the six northern counties the yield is segregated as follows in terms of bushels: Nez Perce, wheat, 350,000; oats, 240,000; barley, 500,000. Latah—Wheat, 1,750,000; oats, 900,000; barley, 125,000. Idaho—Wheat, 1,000,000; oats, 400,000; barley, 1,000,000. Clearwater—Wheat, 200,000; oats, 400,000; barley, 125,000. Lewis—Wheat, 1,000,000; oats, 400,000. Kootenai—Wheat, 200,000; oats, 100,000; barley, 200,000.

Case Is Ordered Dismissed.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The United States land office today handed down a decision which recommends the dismissal of the case of the United States vs. F. A. Hyde and the Potlatch Lumber Company. This case is one of the well-known land fraud cases of California, in which it was alleged that Mr. Hyde made a selection of land under the name of I. T. Kent, of San Francisco, who, it was charged, was not in existence. The Government, failing to establish the non-existence of Mr. Kent the case was ordered dismissed.

PAROLE IS GRANTED W. COOPER MORRIS

Constitutional Freedom Allowed ex-Portland Banker by Governor West.

MINIMUM TERM IS EXPIRED

Man Convicted of Aiding in Wrecking Oregon Trust & Savings Bank Goes to Ranch Near Wenatchee for Thanksgiving.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Just before leaving for Portland this morning, Governor West announced that a parole had been granted to W. Cooper Morris, one of the wreckers of the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank in Portland.

The parole for Morris was recommended by the parole board several months ago, but the executive refused to grant it. Since that time Morris has been working as a trustee on the Shell Rock road gang. It is understood that Morris will go to Chelan County, Washington, and work on a ranch with his relatives. He was paroled at this time to enable him to spend Thanksgiving with his relatives.

GOVERNOR WEST SAYS LITTLE

"Parole Board Recommended It," Is Executive's Remark.

Governor West, who was in Portland yesterday afternoon for a short time, had very little to say about his paroling of W. Cooper Morris.

"His minimum term expired about six months ago, and he was recommended by the board for parole in May," he said. "Yesterday I turned him loose, and that's all there is to it." The Governor had nothing to say concerning the report that the parole was extended to Morris in return for his service of the state as a witness in the trial of Louis Wilde, of San Diego. Morris has been for several months at the Shell Rock road camp near Hood River, as an honor man, serving as camp bookkeeper and commissary. He was at the camp when the parole was issued, and is said to have left immediately from there for his farm home near Wenatchee, in Washington. Morris was convicted and sentenced to imprisonment from one to 10 years for embezzlement of funds belonging to the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank. Every effort was made to secure his pardon immediately after his conviction. When the recommendation for parole came from the parole board in May, the Governor refused to take action at that time on the ground that it would jeopardize several prison reformers for which he was laboring. The principal ones among these plans having been settled by the popular vote at the recent election, the expressed reason of the Governor against the issuance of the parole ceased, and he made definite his action yesterday in favor of the recommendation of the parole board.

RIGHT OF WAY IS CLEARED

Multnomah Line to Sandy Expected to Be in Operation by February.

SANDY, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The right of way for the Multnomah Central Railway Company has been cleared 100 feet wide almost the entire distance between Cottrell, on the Mount Hood Railway, and Sandy, a distance of six and one-half miles. The depot and carshops' site and the terminal site in Sandy, consisting of six acres, also have been cleared. Twohy Bros. have the contract for grading, and it is reported here that this will be started at once, and that the railway will be finished to Sandy by February 1.

There is nothing to indicate that the company will build beyond Sandy at present, although surveys have been made to Cherryville and beyond.

HONEY IS BIG MONEYMAKER

Six Tons Made by Prairie City Man's Bees Bring Him $1200.

PRAIRIE CITY, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—John Flock, a retired merchant of this place, sold during the present season 11,321 pounds of honey, the product of his hundred colonies of bees which he keeps on his lot in town. A considerable portion of the honey was sold locally at 12½ cents a pound. Mr. Flock says the entire amount, nearly six tons netted him a little better than 10 cents a pound, or nearly $1200, not a bad crop to raise on a town lot. Mr. Flock, who is a practical bee man, says the John Day Valley is a good bee country, and, taking one year with another, bee culture will pay a good profit on the small investment required in the business.

CONDOR STOVE IN

Deckload and Part of Hold Cargo Removed.

WINTER SUPPLIES ABOARD

Goods or Sloop Are Not Insured and Losses Will Be Heavy—Menamooasha Nearly Wrecked at Entrance to Siletz.

NEWPORT, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special.)

The sloop Condor, which was wrecked here yesterday, lies on the bay beach a little closer in-shore than yesterday and just at the edge of low water. Last night at low tide the deckload and part of the hold cargo was removed with difficulty. It is expected to get the remainder of the cargo out on the next low tide unless the surf runs too heavy with the storm which is now threatening. The extent of damage to the hull cannot be ascertained. It appears to have been stove in on the port side a little aft amidship, and when swells run down water can be seen pouring from the seams. If the cargo can be removed and her condition remains unchanged an effort will be made in the morning to pull the vessel into deep water. The Condor had the largest cargo she ever carried, consigned to merchants at Waldport and other Alsea Bay points. No insurance was carried on the vessel and only a part of her cargo, 200 barrels of flour, consigned to L. H. Evans & Co., were insured. The loss will be heavy on Alsea merchants, who were depending upon this cargo for winter supplies. The schooner Nenamooasha narrowly escaped destruction yesterday while returning from an unsuccessful attempt to enter Siletz River. In crossing this bar, where there were heavy breakers, she shipped a sea and some of the water reached her engine-room and wet the igniter, stopping the engines. Fortunately the engineer succeeded in getting them started again before the vessel lost steerage way. Had control been lost for a moment the vessel and crew probably would have gone to their doom. Today the Nenamooasha transferred her cargo to the Patsy, her crew not caring to take any further risks with such a small vessel.

Jury Promptly Acquits.
OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—John Straight, of Parkplace, was acquitted of a charge of killing deer out of season by a jury in Justice of the Peace Kelso's court in Milwaukie this afternoon. It was alleged that the defendant had deer meat in his possession the day after the season closed, and his defense was that he killed the animal in the open season. A trial was alleged that Oregon City juries were too lenient in cases of violation of the game laws. Attorney Farrell, representing the prosecution, agreed to a jury trial. George C. Brownell, attorney for the defendant, argued that no crime had been committed.
