Housework Is Rushed and Shoppin Delayed as Privilege of Ballot Is Enjoyed for First Time in Oregon's History.

DAYTON, Or. Nov. 18.—(Special.)— Less than two weeks after the right of equal franchise was granted in Oregon, the state today stepped into line, in a practical way with the other "free" states of the Union. At the city elec-tion here between 40 and 50 women cast their first vote and the first vote to be cast by a woman in the state was to be cast by a woman in the state was cast here. Anxiety and a display of interest, even in an election robbed of it cam-paign enthusiasm by the fact that there was only one ticket in the field, marked the first operations of female suffrage. Mrs. Ellek Harris, wife of ex-Mayor Harris, took an initiative step and awaited outside the polls from 7 to $ o'clock, was en-abled to be the first one of men or women to cast a vote for the city election. Real Interest Shown. The ballot was simple and more or hess merely a formality to be gone through with. There were no rival candidates nor any cholees to be made fut it was marking the ballot, and Mrs. Harris, who is a primary teacher in the schools here and who has had an active part in the suffrage cam-paign of the state, was on hand with many other women to lend interest and shew apprecialion of the ballot. The novelty no doubt, as much as the pride of having a place among the first feminine voters of the state, led many of the women to the polls early some came en route to the polls early some came en route to the polls early the state to the polls early some came en route to the polls early convicted, Is Only 17.

Astoria Women Register.

ASTORIA. Or., Nov. 18.—(Special.)— —Today was the first time the regis-tration books at the City Hall have been open since the passage of the equal suffrage bill, and about a dozen women registered for the municipal election on December 11. The first woman to register was Mrs. Bertha W. Holmes, a granddaughter of the late Mrs. Nancy Welch, the first white wom-an to make her home in Astoria.

LORING STEWART ELECTED Joint Senator to Represent Countles of Grant, Harney and Malheur.

CANYON CITY, Or., Nov. 18.-(Spe-cial.)-Loring V. Stewart was elected joint State Senator over James Mahon, of Harney County. He will represent in the State Senate the Twenty-second District, comprising Grant, Harney and Malheur Counties.

Malheur Counties. Senator Stewart is a Republican of pronounced progressive proclivities. He is an advocate of Statement No. 1 and indorses fully the Oregon system. By education he is a lawyer, and by occu-pation a stockgrower. He is a native son of Oregon, and a graduate of Pa-cific University, at Forest Grove, and of the Yale law school at New Haven, Conn. He is a member of the Oregon Bar.

Albert is the son of Mra. Estabennett, who was arrested and fined $100 for a similar offense in the Bungalow lodging-house two months ago. There were several soldlers drink-ing in the house east of the Garrison last night. A man was found with a bottle of whisky, which he admitted he had bought from the boy.

Crawford's Ruling Accepted. The number of women, who on the eve of election, announced their in-tention was the real surprise of the election. A few had been expected by some of the judges, and accordingly the poils and, acting on the ruling of Attorney-General Crawford, announced that all women would be allowed to could produce them. Of the 40 or 55 who voted, none was challenged. Hus-hands and men without family attach-ments cheered the first line of women the ballot prior to election who evinced

Resolution Favors Organization b

Industries Instead of Crafts, at Present.

BEING CONSIDERED.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The question whether the American Federa-tion of Labor is to adopt industrial unionism in place of its present policy of recognizing the autonomy of trade of craft organizations will be discussed tomorrow before the convention of that organization.

Near the close of this afternoon's meeting the committee on education re-ported on a resolution for the adoption of industrial unionism. A majority of the committee voted for its rejection and a minority report favored indus-trial unionism where practicable, and where not practicable a close federation of trades unions for unified action.

The resolution was introduced by John Mitchell, Duncan McDonald, John P. White, Frank J. Hayes, William Green and J. H. Walker, of the United Mineworkers of America, and in part follows: follows: "Resolved, That in order to combat compact and powerful organizations of employers of labor, this convention adopts and indorses the plan of organ-ization by industries instead of by crafts, which often divides the forces of labor, and that the officers of the American Federation of Labor be in-structed to use every effort to bring structed to use every effort to bring this about." Resolutions adopted at the afternoon session favored the Department of State Universities along the Wisconsin extension plan, commented on the work of the National Christian Congress, and approved participation by American Federation of Labor officers in its Federation of Labor officers in its proceedings. Some excitement followed a report of the resolutions committee in favor of excluding religious discussions from the floor of future conventions, and recommended that representatives of all religious organizations be denied the use of the convention platform. After a long debate the convention voted to allow religious discussion.
