Speakers explained that Governor West now has no objection to the bill, which they said he vetoed under misapprehension of its true merit and necessity.

The bill provides for the establish ing of a state livestock sanitary com-mission, with a membership of five, to serve without salary, and under whose direction the state veterinarian shall Hog Cholera Prevails. In the discussion of the bill the fact was brought out that an epidemic of hog cholera is rapidly spreading throughout the Willamette Valley, and is obtaining a foothold elsewhere in the state, while nothing is being done, nor does there seem to be any funds available, to check the spread of the disease. The hog industry of Benton County has been practically wiped oft, more than 500 head have died in Linn County, and similar conditions prevail in other counties.

County Court Overrules Exceptions of District Attorney.

ROSEBURG, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special.)

—Overruling the objections of District Attorney George M. Brown, the County Court in special session here today issued an order proclaiming Oakland, Sutherlin and Glendale "wet" territory. This order goes into effect immediately, the local option law specifying no time for the commencement of the liquor traffic, as it does for its suppression in cases where units go dry.

In issuing today's order, the County Court did not attempt to pass on the segal questions advanced by the District Attorney, but simply held that a majority of the voters in the towns involved voted "wet." The legal questions will come up later before Judge Hamilton in the Circuit Court.

17-Year-Old Japanese Girl Unable to Wed Taken Home to Father.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Miss Taka Muraoka, 17 years old schoolgirl and only daughter of M. Muraoka, a retired San Francisco business man, has falled in her attempt at marrying Rigo Custodio, a former employe of her father, with whom she eloped from the southern metropolis last Sunday morning. Custodio, a Porto Rican, four years the senior of the Japanese girl, will be taken to California on a charge of ab-taken to California on a charge of abduction.

The couple arrived in Tacoma last Tuesday, tried to secure a marriage license and falled. They were arrested on telegraphic complaint of the father, backed by the chief of police of San Francisco. Obtaining their release on a writ of habeas corpus, the couple came to Seattle and on Wednesday they were refused a marriage license by the King County Auditor.

The father of the girl and F. Taniguchi, a Japanese friend, of San Francisco, arrived here yesterday and found the couple. They were arrested and taken to the city jail. The girl will accompany her father and his friend back home, although she maintains that she wants to marry the Porto Rican.

Miss Muraoka is defiant. "I shall marry Rigo Custodio," she snapped at her father. "He is my choice for a husband. I will go with you. You may lock me up. I cannot help that. But I will escape. I will find Rigo and marry him. Somewhere, somehow. I will marry him."

Miss Eva Alldredge Has Third Experience in Recent Collapse of Marquam Building.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Miss Eva Alldredge, daughter of Frank Alldredge, of this city, who was the only person in the part of the Portland Marquam building that collapsed at the time of the accident, bears a charmed life, according to her friends. She has been near death three times in the past two years, and only once suffered injury. While she was visiting her grandfather in this city two years ago, a horse ran away with her and, although she fell from the saddle and was dragged more than a block, her injuries were slight. When the horse was stopped and she was carried into the home of a neighbor it was found that she had sustained only a few bruises.

But since we are wedded to an outside architect in the matter, I do not think it wise to go to work on the building until we have had that architect on the ground to look things over.

Exposition Site Favored.

"I am still in favor of the old exposition ground for a site. It is in harmony with the Greater Portland Plans, and I believe that we should work as closely to them as is practicable.

"It has been said that the exposition site is too expensive to be considered. I do not favor voting a penny more than the commission has already on hand nor do I believe that the peo-

"The cities of the great Western slope, Portland particularly, I may say, furnish a wonderful field for the manufacturer," said Mr. Gilbert. As the bill, if passed, will not become operative for at least five months, immedite action in the shape of an appeal to Governor West was decided upon. It will be suggested that the Governor or create a special fund, if possible, for the purpose of making an effort to check the disease at once.

Whether state aid is forthcoming or not, the Pure Bred Association, through its secretary, N. C. HE dawn of a new prosperity rises today on America. The election is over. Bumper crops have come from the fields. The farmers' bins are bulging. The railroads are buying. The steel mills are running full blast again. Many believe the American people are beginning the most prosperous era of their

On the crest of the prosperity wave will ride only those alert, far sighted houses which project themselves into the future and prepare for it. Here is a big and interest-ing problem for them: how are all these products, this grain, these cottons, these textiles, this steel and this machinery going to be carried to the ultimate consumer?

The railroads will take care of their share as usual. But the railroads do not carry the goods to the ultimate consumer. For every piece of goods that is hauled by railroad too miles, is hauled over street or roads 5 miles by horse or automobile. The extent of road transportation is today way beyond the belief of the average man.

Wheat, for instance, is hauled to the railroad by horse or automobile. The railroad hauls it to the mill and then on to the city. The horse or automobile hauls it to the grocer and from him to the ultimate consumer. Thus the story goes. Are your horses able to take care of the increased business?

Have you enough horses to take care of the increased business?

Don't buy more horses. Buy motor trucks. They can work twenty-four hours a day if necessary. They can haul three times the load. They can cover a greater area of territory. They reach out and get new business.

They never tire. They travel as fast at the end of the day as at the beginning. They do not die suddenly. They do not consume on Sunday.

Motor trucks are increasing at the rate of about 100 per cent per year. They are being used now in every line of business. Nearly every house that has bought one motor truck has bought more motor trucks. Sixty-two per cent of the Alco trucks we have built were purchased on reorders. That is the evidence. This Bureau will determine for you just how much your horses are actually costing you, will blue print your horse delivery system, reroute your hauls, estimate if you can employ motor trucks to advantage, determine how many you need, the size, the type of body, and will show you what the automobile equipment will save over the horse equivalent.
