Lanky East Side Center Intercepts Forward Pass and, Pursued by Whole Lincoln Team, Runs Through for Touchdown.

The first part of the game was over before Lincoln realized that attacks on the Washington breakwaters were futile.

LOCAL TEAMS TO CLASH

MULTNOMAH AND COLUMBUS CLUBS MEET TODAY.

Rhinehart, of Winged M's, Will Be at Albany and East Siders Are Said to Be Strong.

Portland's two foremost athletic clubs, the Multnomah Club and the Columbus Club, will clash on the football gridiron at 2:30 P. M. today on Multnomah field.

Quarterback Earl Rhinehart will be the only Winged M star missing from the lineup, as he will be at Albany assisting the Aggies' coaching staff.

On the Columbus eleven will be seen many familiar stars of the local interscholastic League and of various Northwestern colleges. Campion, last season all-star fullback with the Jeffersons, will do fullback duty, flanked by Cummings and Sherry. Cummings is the former Willamette University star.

The two elevens did not meet in 1911, so there is no accurate line on their merits, but Captain Hurlburt, of Multnomah, does not anticipate very strenuous opposition from the East Siders.

Officials will be chosen today. The lineups are: Multnomah—Campion, L. E. R., Smith, J. Noel, Rivers, L. T. R., O'Rourke, J. Hamilton, L. G. R., Rogers, Munson, Klump, C., Carlson, Barr, W. H. R., T. L., Conville, McMahon, Flynn, R. E. L., Hickson, Kennedy, (Capt.).

Astoria Swamps South Bend High. ASTORIA, Or., Nov. 22.—(Special).—Astoria High School football team defeated the South Bend School eleven this afternoon by a score of 27 to 0.

The Astoria eleven was much the faster and its team work was much the more effective, and at no time was its goal in danger.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 22.—The highest football honors of the year among Eastern colleges await the winner of tomorrow's struggle between Harvard and Yale, on Yale field.

Harvard and Yale are the only colleges in the East whose elevens have gone through the season without defeat except Pennsylvania State, which has met opponents generally regarded as of lesser caliber.

Yale was tied by Princeton, but as Harvard defeated the Tigers, it is expected to rank as an accomplishment of undoubted championship merit.

Both teams are expected to display a series of offensive and defensive maneuvers of a higher stage of development than any yet shown under the latest revision of the rule.

THIRTY-FIVE thousand persons will be banded on the wooden stands on Yale field, tonight New Haven entertained the largest "night before" crowd in years.

The Harvard squad, which separated yesterday, was reunited at New London and this evening ran through its formations in the last workout.

Both elevens were reported to be in good condition. Even the players who suffered injuries during the preliminary season were all said to be fit and ready to play the game of their lives.

Yale Kickers Equal Crimson Men. Until last Saturday Harvard was regarded by many followers as decidedly superior to Yale in kicks, because of Brickley's success at drop and place goals and Felton's high and well-directed punts.

Yale possibly equaled Harvard with "Lefty" Krum and Pumpelly, whose remarkable 60-yard drop kick enabled the "Buildog" to escape defeat.

Comparatively little is known of the relative strength of the two teams in rushing. Yale has the advantage in weight, averaging per man nearly ten pounds more than Harvard.

Trick plays may figure in the result and it is believed each has several undisclosed plays that have been held in reserve for some crucial stage of tomorrow's game.

Yale's goal line this season has been held inviolate, while the Crimson goal has been crossed twice by opponents, once by Brown and again by Princeton, but the Crimson's defense is considered strong. The probable lineup: Harvard. Position. Yale. Brickley, L. T. R. Talbot, Fenwick, L. G. R. Conroy, Penner, C. R. R. Betcham, Trumbull, R. E. G. Pendleton, Wilcox, R. G. E. Warren, Felton, R. G. E. Bomister, Gardner, R. H. B. Wheeler, Hardwick, G. B. B. Spalding, Brickley, R. H. B. Spalding, Wendell, F. B. Flynn.
