Scientists at First Church and East Side Congregations at Sunnyside.

With special services of praise and thanksgiving, in which music played a prominent part, congregations gathered in churches and in other houses of worship, heard addresses, special scripture readings appropriate to the day and gave largely of their wealth to the poor.

There were some early services, the churches for the most part being open from sunrise for the benefit of those who wished to offer private prayers, but, as a rule, the regular services began either at 10:30 o'clock or half an hour later. Some special services were held at night.

The largest meeting of all was seen

Were held at night.

The largest meeting of all was seen yesterday at the annual joint gathering of four denominations at the White Temple. Congregations of the First churches of the Baptist, Methodist. Episcopal, Congregationalist and Christian denominations were united there.

The invocation was by Rev. J. H. Cud-

The invocation was by Rev. J. H. Cud-iipp. Dr. W. F. Reagor read the proc-lamation of the President, and Dr. L. R. Dyott took the Scripture reading, while Dr. W. B. Hinson said the prayers. Then followed the address on "Reasons for Thanksgiving," by Dr. Benjamin Young, paster of the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Many Reasons for Thanks Cited. Taking as his text the quotation "Bless the Lord. Oh my soul, and forget not all his benefits" the pastor showed first of all the many personal reasons for being thankful which every man could find who sought, for, sour-ness of heart, he declared, was an in-dication of a warped and diseased nature.

Turning to the general reason for giving thanks the speaker referred to the various denominations, all serving the various denominations, all serving one God, whether they were Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist or Hebrew and therein they should be thankful that they had religious freedom.

Thankfulness should be felt too, he said, for the political freedom and for the influence of America in international politics, which he dealard, was

Dr. Young then traced the stories of the strong men of the Nation, begin-ning with the men who landed in the Mayflower. He asked his hearers to follow in the footsteps of these men, to go out and contend for that which is good, righteous, wholesome and pure, ever remembering that "right exalteth a nation, but sin is a disgrace to any people."

The White Temple quartet and choir rendered several pieces of sacred music.

Presbyterian churches united at the First Church to hear an address by the several church, of Montavilla. The Christian Science churches held a joint service at the First Church of Christ Scientist yesterday morning, as also did the Evangelical Associations, United Brethren and United Evangelical at the First Church, where Rev. C. C. Polling delivered the address.

Dr. A. A. Morrison preached in the morning at Trinity Episcopal Church, the Jewish people gathered at the Church of Our Father, all the pastors taking part: Rev. Henry Marcotte, of land, is at the Imperial. The White Temple quartet and choir

East Side People Worship,

Among the interesting services on the East Side was Atkinson Memorial Church, where Rev. Frank W. Gorman preached the sermon for the united congregations at the Sunnyside Con-congregations at the Sunnyane Congregational Church.

Rev. J. J. Stauh, Congregationalist;
Rev. C. L. Hamilton and Rev. W. H.
Fry. Methodist, assisted in the services. Mr. Gorman spoke of the general prosperity and peace in the United States. He maintained that the English conception of the American Thanksgiving seemed most correct. "Thanksgiving and Fourth of July in the United States are much alike, they think, exgiving and Fourth of July in the United States are much alike, they think, ex-cept that the turkey represents Thanks-giving and the fire cracker the Fourth of July." He made a pies for a more devout attitude of Thanksgiving, and more pleasure in helping others. "If Oregon," said the speaker, "the people have reason to be thankful for the have reason to be thankful for the great crop that has been harvested, and in Portland they can be thankful for general cleaning up vice condi-

Rev. Mr. Fry, of the Sunnyside Methodist Church, spoke a few words, commending the spirit which had brought Methodists and Congregation.

Extradition of Ringling Expected by Authorities Today.

PRISONER EATS TURKEY

Fastidious Inmate of Jail Still Denies He Is Man Wanted in $500 Deal in Colorado; Police Hint at Another "Card."

Deputy Sheriff John Murray, of Denver, reached Portland last night to present papers for the extradition of John E. Hudson, alias Ringling. This is the last day, fixed by Municipal Judge Tazwell, when the prisoner, who has been held more than a week, will be detained without specific charge being placed against him. Murray will go to Salem today for papers. Deputy Sheriff John Murray, of Den-being placed against him. Murray will go to Salem today for papers.

Hudson, alias Ringling, known at the City Jall as the prisoner de luxe, yesterday ate turkey, along with the others confined there. It was not at all in keeping with his fastidious tastes, but he did not complain.
When a fuglitive warrant was served on Hudson last Tuesday, on a charge of swindling a Texas bank out of $500, through a Denver bank, last August, the officers here were notified that a detective would leave Denver that night with extradition papers and when Judge Taxwell set Friday as the day night with extradition papers and when Judge Taxwell set Friday as the day on which the prisoner must be claimed or released. Captain Baty telegraphed to Denver to hasten, as the margin of time allowed was small.

Officers here who have been concerned in the case express no fear of a cerned in the case express no fear of a selip at this time and intimate that they have another card up their sleeves in case today's proceedings should result in the release of the prisoner. Not since the celebrated case of Leo W. Martin, for whose "kidnaping" two Portland detectives were punished, has there been an extradition matter of so keen an interest in police circles. Mar-tin, like Hudson, was wanted in Den-ver. He was released by Judge Ga-tens on habeas corpus proceedings, but in the meantime the officers had pro-cured a Governor's warrant and on secured a Governor's warrant and on se-cret advice from Governor West es-sayed to convey their prisoner out of the state, regardless of Judge Gatens' prohibition. Martin and his keeper were intercepted in Eastern Washing-ton and the prisoner was released.

Keen Interest Shown. "Ringling" has been in custody ever since November 14, when he was caught in the act of attempting to obtain $1000 from a bank. He was held several days on a vagrancy charge, but this was dismissed in favor of extraditions where tion proceedings from Baltimore, where a man believed to be he is under in-dictment. The Baltimore officers were said, for the political freedom and for the influence of America in international politics, which, he declared, was second to none in the world.

"Be thankful," said the speaker, "for the progress of social justice, for the greater desire we see everywhere today, for the righting of wrongs and the abolishment of injustice to the working classes.

"Let us thank God that the heart of America is sound, and the brain of America is sound and the brain of America is sound shows that he was it time of the $500 coup.
