

WOLGAST, WOBBLING AND DAZED, STRIKES LOW TWICE AFTER SPRAWLING IN RING.

VICTOR AGGRESSOR AT END

New Lightweight Title-Holder Fights Way to Victory With Waspish Left and Stinging Right; Loser Denies Fouling His Rival.

DAILY CITY ARENA, Cal., Nov. 28.—Wobbling around on his leaden legs, his eyes glazed and his body reeling, Ad Wolgast, conqueror of Battling Nelson, felled Willie Ritchie twice in the 15th round of their fight today and with a wave of the referee's hand, he raised his right arm in triumph.

By his cool, steady ring generalship, his courage and his all-around splendid fighting ability, Ritchie won his spurs in the championship division. Although the record books will not show a knockdown to his credit over Wolgast, he indisputably punched his way round after round, to a victory with his wispish left and his stinging right cross.

Ritchie aggressor at end. The end of the fight came after those at the ringside had noticed in the 15th round that Wolgast's strength was waning a mite. The boys faced each other in the 15th, Ritchie confidently carrying the milling to the champion, from whose face the sneering smile had passed and his body was going away. Ritchie made him wince with a two-handed volley to the mid-section and then, quickly shot out a crashing right and right to the face, going away on the jaw. He fell back on the ropes and sagged, pitching forward in another instant toward his own corner. Ritchie crowded him and he raised his head. The San Franciscan repeated the right cross and Wolgast went sprawling.

At the count of four Wolgast, his brain clouded, flung himself through sheer instinct at his antagonist. Ritchie true to his agreement had walked to the opposite side of the ring with his opponent well damaged and his eyes as Wolgast came at him he rushed to meet him and the two exchanged blows.

Dazed, Wolgast hits low. Badly dazed, Wolgast yet covered so that Ritchie could not land in the face. Wolgast, however, was not so dazed as he seemed. He landed a hard right to the stomach. The round ended with Wolgast fighting his man to the ropes.

Round Three. Wolgast drove two wicked rights to the stomach and a right to the mouth, and a left to the jaw. He landed a right to the jaw and a left uppercut to the chin. Wolgast almost sent his man through the ropes with a tremendous right to the jaw, but Ritchie fought back with such fierceness that it looked as if the champion would succumb. The bell ended the round with both men bleeding from the mouth. Even.

Round Four. Both fighters seemed eager and shoulder to shoulder they exchanged right uppercuts to the jaw, the champion's punches having by far the greatest power behind them. Ritchie drove a right to the jaw and a left to the stomach, several snappy facers. He shook Wolgast with two heavy drives over the heart, and the "Wildcat" stood in his own camp hammering away. Ritchie had the advantage, and the crowd cheered him lustily.

Round Five. After a rally at the ropes they exchanged hard lefts to the jaw and some slugging to the heart. Wolgast and Tom Jones, his manager, increased the allowance of brandy that the champion had taken during each intermission. All through the fight Ritchie blocked and ducked cleverly but Wolgast's left hand bruised his left eye and nearly closed it. In the 15th round he hit Wolgast with a right to the jaw and a left uppercut to the jaw. Wolgast's blows did little other damage.

Wolgast seemingly was lacking in condition. He was not so steady as the finish of his legs were so heavy he could hardly lift his feet from the mat, while Ritchie, fresh and breathing easily, danced around with his right arm raised and his left with straight lefts.

Wolgast Denies Fouling. Wolgast says that he did not intentionally foul Ritchie and that he thinks it is a poor way to win a fight. "I didn't hear of the foul," he said, "I don't believe I struck a foul blow," he said after the fight. "Ritchie was rough, and when I first got into trouble in the sixteenth it was from my throwing my right arm before instead of hitting me. I would fight him again tomorrow."

Ritchie protested that he was fouled, but said that he was not going to talk to Ritchie as they bustled themselves at close range with the champion whipping several punches to the jaw and body that all outscored the Californian. Ritchie appeared a bit groggy at this stage and took his seat unsteadily. Wolgast's round by a wide margin, and the champion landed a blow of consequence.

Round Eight. Ritchie came up with a sick smile, and the champion immediately busied himself with short range blows to the face. The champion's defense was virile and impetuous, and he landed several punches to the jaw and stomach. Wolgast landed a half-dozen clouts to the body and jaw, and scamped to the other side of the ring with a look of confidence. Wolgast's round.

Round Nine. Ritchie's right eye was entirely closed as he came up to meet the champion's never-failing rush. The champion chased his man about the ring and after blocking Ritchie's many attempts, drove fearful rights and lefts to the stomach, punishing his man severely. There was no stopping him and the wonder was that the Californian weathered the gale. Made desperate, Ritchie swapped punches, landing several hard right swings on Wolgast. It was Wolgast's round, however.

Round Ten. They fought together, with Wolgast doing considerable execution on the body with left and right uppercuts delivered at close quarters. Ritchie battled back with surprising vim and tilted the champion's head with straight left and right punches. Wolgast here left his poise and Ritchie hammered him unceasingly with right and left swings to the jaw. Ritchie's round.

Round Eleven. Ritchie, with the men fighting close, scored several times to the head and before the champion essayed the offensive. They milled fiercely in a neutral corner and the Californian scored first blood as a result of a succession of short-arm blows to the head. Wolgast's round as he took his seat. Ritchie's round.

Wolgast opened the round with a punch, breathing heavily. The champion kept well under cover and after ducking Ritchie with several lefts and rights to the jaw, drove two wicked rights to the jaw and a left uppercut over the heart. Ritchie broke ground and looked worried. Wolgast, still jabbing and driving two telling lefts to the stomach. The round ended with Wolgast fighting his man to the ropes.

YOUTH WHO BECAME LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION YESTERDAY WHEN AD WOLGAST FOULLED HIM.

WILLIE RITCHIE.

Round Three. Wolgast drove two wicked rights to the stomach and a right to the mouth, and a left to the jaw. He landed a right to the jaw and a left uppercut to the chin. Wolgast almost sent his man through the ropes with a tremendous right to the jaw, but Ritchie fought back with such fierceness that it looked as if the champion would succumb. The bell ended the round with both men bleeding from the mouth. Even.

Round Four. Both fighters seemed eager and shoulder to shoulder they exchanged right uppercuts to the jaw, the champion's punches having by far the greatest power behind them. Ritchie drove a right to the jaw and a left to the stomach, several snappy facers. He shook Wolgast with two heavy drives over the heart, and the "Wildcat" stood in his own camp hammering away. Ritchie had the advantage, and the crowd cheered him lustily.

Round Five. After a rally at the ropes they exchanged hard lefts to the jaw and some slugging to the heart. Wolgast and Tom Jones, his manager, increased the allowance of brandy that the champion had taken during each intermission. All through the fight Ritchie blocked and ducked cleverly but Wolgast's left hand bruised his left eye and nearly closed it. In the 15th round he hit Wolgast with a right to the jaw and a left uppercut to the jaw. Wolgast's blows did little other damage.

Wolgast seemingly was lacking in condition. He was not so steady as the finish of his legs were so heavy he could hardly lift his feet from the mat, while Ritchie, fresh and breathing easily, danced around with his right arm raised and his left with straight lefts.

Wolgast Denies Fouling. Wolgast says that he did not intentionally foul Ritchie and that he thinks it is a poor way to win a fight. "I didn't hear of the foul," he said, "I don't believe I struck a foul blow," he said after the fight. "Ritchie was rough, and when I first got into trouble in the sixteenth it was from my throwing my right arm before instead of hitting me. I would fight him again tomorrow."

Ritchie protested that he was fouled, but said that he was not going to talk to Ritchie as they bustled themselves at close range with the champion whipping several punches to the jaw and body that all outscored the Californian. Ritchie appeared a bit groggy at this stage and took his seat unsteadily. Wolgast's round by a wide margin, and the champion landed a blow of consequence.

Round Eight. Ritchie came up with a sick smile, and the champion immediately busied himself with short range blows to the face. The champion's defense was virile and impetuous, and he landed several punches to the jaw and stomach. Wolgast landed a half-dozen clouts to the body and jaw, and scamped to the other side of the ring with a look of confidence. Wolgast's round.

Round Nine. Ritchie's right eye was entirely closed as he came up to meet the champion's never-failing rush. The champion chased his man about the ring and after blocking Ritchie's many attempts, drove fearful rights and lefts to the stomach, punishing his man severely. There was no stopping him and the wonder was that the Californian weathered the gale. Made desperate, Ritchie swapped punches, landing several hard right swings on Wolgast. It was Wolgast's round, however.

Round Ten. They fought together, with Wolgast doing considerable execution on the body with left and right uppercuts delivered at close quarters. Ritchie battled back with surprising vim and tilted the champion's head with straight left and right punches. Wolgast here left his poise and Ritchie hammered him unceasingly with right and left swings to the jaw. Ritchie's round.

Round Eleven. Ritchie, with the men fighting close, scored several times to the head and before the champion essayed the offensive. They milled fiercely in a neutral corner and the Californian scored first blood as a result of a succession of short-arm blows to the head. Wolgast's round as he took his seat. Ritchie's round.

Wolgast opened the round with a punch, breathing heavily. The champion kept well under cover and after ducking Ritchie with several lefts and

JOE RIVERS VICTOR

Mandot Falls Under Tigerish Onslaught of Mexican.

WINNER'S FORM IS SUPERB

Twenty Rounds Are Fast and Grueling From Start and "Pride of South" Is Easy Prey to Victim of Four Months Ago.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—Joe Mandot, the pride of the South, went down to defeat today before the tigerish onslaughts of Joe Rivers of Los Angeles, over whom he had won an easy decision less than three months ago. It was a clean-cut victory for the Mexican, who showed a remarkable reversal of form, exhibiting more speed and cleverness than heretofore in his career.

It was nearly dark and the electric lights over the ring had been lighted when Referee Epton hoisted Rivers' hand in token of victory, at the close of the 20th round, but it was a needless formality. Only one decision was possible.

Mill Fast and Grueling. It was a fast and gruelling fight from start to finish. At times both boys throw caution to the winds and slugged fiercely in their desperate efforts to end the fight with a knock-out, yet the nearest thing to a knock-out was a right to the jaw in the 15th round, when he almost felled the Frenchman with a terrific onslaught of right and left swings to the jaw, followed by clinches in which he spit blood, drove two telling lefts to the stomach, and with an occasional uppercut to the chin.

Mandot appeared to be almost out, but he rallied gamely and managed to obtain something like an even break in the succeeding two rounds by slugging at close quarters with the Mexican, who had cut all defensive efforts in an attempt to put the Southerner down for the count.

Mandot's judgment of distance, however, was weakened by his desperation and he was thrown off his balance time after time by his wild swings.

Knockout Attempt Fails. All science was discarded in the last round. Standing close they slammed rights and lefts to the head and, closing in, they fought fiercely to the stomach, with each about even for the round as the final gong changed.

The Rivers of today was a wholly different boxer from the boy who was so hopelessly outclassed by the New Orleans lightweight on Labor day. He fought a cool and heady battle, and instead of covering on the attacks of the Southerner he fought the latter in his own way. Time after time he beat Mandot "to it" with left swings and his defense was nearly perfect against the stinging straight lefts which Mandot tantalized and punished him in their previous encounter.

Rivers to Challenge Ritchie. Rivers' form reversal puzzled Mandot as much as it did the sporting world. Rivers was literally on top of the Southerner when they were not slugging at long range, shooting hard rights and lefts to the body with an occasional uppercut to the stomach. Cross' defensive fighting against which Mandot's science was of little avail.

Several times Referee Epton was compelled to pry them apart and once Rivers hit the referee in the break-away. Neither of the boys were badly marked at the close of the fight. Rivers scored first blood with a left to the mouth and in the 15th Mandot spat out a tooth. Both bore bruised faces and an old cut over Rivers' left eye bled slightly.

Rivers will challenge Willie Ritchie immediately for a lightweight championship battle.

PAPER CHASE FINISH CLOSE

Walter Grutter Wins Hunt Club Function Before Big Crowd.

BAKER HIGH TEAM CHAMPIONS

Eastern Oregon Title Settled When Wallowa Falls, 32 to 7.

BAKER, Or., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Baker High School football team won from Wallowa High School today in this city by a score of 32 to 7, and thereby settled definitely the championship of Eastern Oregon. The game was fast throughout, both teams relying on straight football for the most part though Baker executed some forward passes very cleverly. In one of these the Baker boys made a 25-yard run for a touchdown.

Besides outclassing the Wallowa boys in this department of the game they clearly outplayed them in every other department and only in a few instances did the visitors endanger the goal of the locals. In the first five minutes of play the Wallowa boys surprised their opponents and scored after which they kicked the goal. This was their only score and the only time they came within striking distance of the goal. Baker also made two touchdowns and one goal in the first quarter and rolled up the remainder of her score in the last three quarters.

The game throughout brilliant at times in interference work by both sides was more or less ragged and marked by long gains around the ends by both teams.

"BIG NINE" TO MEET TODAY

Michigan May Be Brought Back Into Western Conference.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Representatives of the faculties of "Big Nine" conference universities will meet here tomorrow to settle the athletic questions affecting the universities.

Garden Home, in the Thanksgiving paper chase.

The finals was sensational, Grutter and Howie Charlton coming to the race track, the scene of the finish, neck and neck. This was Charlton's first ride in an open event. He rode Call Boy.

The horses were Dr. John Coghlan, the Misses Flanders and Miss Helen Farrell. They showed an excellent course—one which the riders declared to be among the best they had ever ridden over.

NELSON FIGHTS GAMELY

BATTLER OUTPOINTED, BUT HE MAKES CROSS BACK UP.

Ex-Champion Gains All Laurels of Contest by Way He Laudes Into Sure Defeat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Leach outpointed Battling Nelson in a ten-round bout here today. Nelson took a great deal of punishment, but was forcing the fight to the finish.

Cross weighed 136 pounds at the ringside and Nelson was four ounces heavier. Cross started in with left jabs to the face and right and left hooks to the head. The Battler was outclassed by Nelson in the fourth round, but he was game and refused to back away.

At the end of the seventh round Nelson was for a moment over the ring. A right uppercut and a right and left swing dazed Nelson in the eighth.

Nelson got to Cross' body in the ninth, but took a score of hooks on the head and a hard right on the jaw in return.

The Dane tried to get in a good punch, but fell short and his left caught the referee "Young Corbett" on the ear. Nelson's willingness against such a defender was remarkable and he actually made Cross back up, forcing him from corner to corner until the final bell. It was a wonderful showing on Nelson's part and Cross did not gain any laurels by outpointing him.

IDAHO BEATS WHITMAN

FAMOUS "SPREAD" PLAY USED TO ADVANTAGE.

Missionaries Are Outplayed From Start to Finish—Score of Contest Is 13 to 6.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—The famous "Idaho spread" combined with tons of "pep" brought down by the Missionaries wiped Whitman's hopes for a sweep today and resulted in winning the game 13 to 6.

Idaho outplayed the Missionaries from the whistle, though Whitman scored first by sending Kinder over the line in the second quarter. This was the only quarter in which Whitman showed any life.

Idaho's line outplayed Whitman in most instances. Twice did Idaho come within striking distance of the goal, once by the half and once by the end of the game.

The game was very rough. The men mixing frequently. Both teams were heavily penalized for offenses.

Idaho used the "spread" time after time in a pinch. Whitman occasionally smashed it to bits only the next time was not good for either yard.

Perkins, the Idaho quarter, played a star game, his heavy work being responsible for many gains. The whole Idaho backfield, Burns, Brown and Knudsen did excellent work, while Niles and Kinder for Whitman starred. Botts and Clark, two of Whitman's best men were falling when the game was over.

Shipkey, the Idaho right end, went out.

CANADA BASEBALL WEIRD

Chesty Cox Tells How Pennants Are Won Across Border.

Chesty Cox, manager of the Bassano club in the Western Canadian League, the smallest city in organized baseball, spoke at the Portland yesterday for a visit with Walter McCredie. Cox broke into baseball with Minneapolis in 1898 when McCredie wore a Miller cap.

Despite his years Cox still bears them well—Cox led the Western Canada circuit last year both in hitting and fielding in the sun garden. His club's average was 38.

CORNELL FUMBLES AND LOSES GAME

Mercer, Pennsylvania Captain, Prints 55 Yards for Touchdown.

RED AND BLUE WINS, 7-2

Philicians Score Safety Early in the Contest on Slushy Field and Have Big Margin in Punishing Duel Thereafter.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—Pennsylvania added another victory today to her long string of successes over the Cornell football team by winning the Thanksgiving game on Franklin Field, 7 to 2.

It had been snowing almost ten hours before the game was begun and the field was covered with slush, causing both teams frequently to muff or fumble the slippery ball. This condition of the field was indirectly responsible for all the scoring.

Cornell got her two points as Carl Marshall, the linesman, was watching the final seconds of the first period kickoff. It had been a punting game all through the contest.

On Pennsylvania's 20-yard line, Whyte broke through the Pennsylvania line and blocked the kick. Langford declared a safety in favor of Cornell.

Pennsylvania's touchdown came unexpectedly near the end of the second period. Cornell had the ball in mid-field as the result of a punt. Bennett, who had gone into the game at right halfback for Cornell, replacing Fritz, fumbled and Captain Mercer, of Pennsylvania, caught it on the rebound. He was 55 yards from Cornell's goal, with a clear field, and, dashing down the field, outrunning Cornell's fastest man, he made an easy touchdown.

Because of the wet field, the game resolved itself largely into a kicking contest, in which Butler, of Cornell, had the better of Mercer's kicks. The wind against him. Butler's kicks usually gained ground on the Pennsylvania.

Gains by Rushing Small. Neither team was consistently able to advance by rushing, except in several instances when the man carrying the ball broke through for a ten-yard gain. But few first downs were made by either team. The lineup:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Position. Includes players like Young, Wilson, Green, etc.

CADETS NOT ALLOWED TO BET

Authorities Take Steps to Stop Wagers in Army-Navy Game.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 28.—According to unofficial, but reliable, information here today, Superintendent Gibson of the Naval Academy, following up on a report that some of the midshipmen a day or two ago, has given ample demonstration that he means business in his determination to break up the betting on the game.

For years it has been customary for the cadets of the two academies to form a betting pool on the game. The result of their annual football game.

THORPE STARS FOR INDIANS

Carlisle Defeats Brown, 32 to 0, on Field Covered With Snow.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 28.—Brown University and the Carlisle Indians played their annual football game on Andrews Field today. Snow was falling when the game was over. Neither team scored in the first period.

In the second Carlisle scored two touchdowns, one being made by Captain Jim Thorpe and the other by Archie. Neither Thorpe nor Archie scored in the third period Thorpe scored another touchdown and kicked the goal. In the last period the Indians scored twice, making the final figures 32 to 6.

WISCONSIN DEFEAT DECISIVE

Suffrage Amendment Beaten in Badger State by 91,478.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 28.—The proposed women's suffrage amendment in Wisconsin was defeated at the recent election by a majority of 91,478, according to the official returns, the compilation of which was announced today.

The total vote on the proposed amendment was 135,546 for and 227,023 against. Three other amendments voted on at the recent election carried.

Denver 20; Colorado 3.

NEW MEXICO MILITARY WINS.

ROSEVILLE, N. M., Nov. 28.—New Mexico Military Institute won the state football championship today by defeating the State Agricultural College, 17 to 5.

the Newberg High School team defeated the McMinnville team 6 to 0.

A crowd of 1600 saw the game, four coaches of rosters coming from McMinnville.

Utah and Aggies Are Tied.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 28.—The University of Utah football team had the hardest battle of the season here this afternoon with the Utah Agricultural College and the game ended with the score tied, 7 to 7.

CHICAGO TEAM MAY COME

Easterners Will Play If Series of Games Can Be Arranged. Provided games can be arranged with two other high school football teams in Oregon, Portland fans will have a chance to play a Chicago High School eleven in action against the city champions, as Washington High School has received a communication from the Wonderful Phillips Friday School of Chicago for a game here sometime in the next month.

The Northern Pacific Railroad is handling the West and the trip for the Chicago boys and is after games with Astoria and Eugene high schools, but they seem backward as the matter is still in the air.

PENDELTON'S RECORD IS GOOD

Though Baker Won Championship Team Takes Second Honors. PENDELTON, Or., Nov. 28.—(Special.)—The Pendleton High School football team in 1912 made a most favorable showing this season, and but for ill luck probably would have won the Eastern Oregon championship. Out of four games played, Pendleton won two, one game being lost to Walla Walla by a score of 7 to 0, and one to Baker by a score of 7 to 6, while La Grande was defeated by the local eleven 27 to 0 and The Dalles 20 to 14.

In all it may be said that Eastern Oregon and the Inland Empire has closed a most successful season. Intercollegiate football in the history of the game. Baker is Eastern Oregon champion for 1912, while Pendleton by scores ranks second, The Dalles third.

KILBANE WAITS STORK'S VISIT

Featherweight Champion Explains Why He Will Not Meet Morgan.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, today made known the reason why he will not fight Eddie Morgan, the English boxer, in San Francisco on New Year's day. The champion explained that he would not fight Morgan because he declares he would not leave at this time for the fatted stake ever offered.

SQUASH TOURNAMENT ENDS

Noyes Defeats Avery at Multnomah Club in Straight Games.

E. A. Noyes sprung a surprise yesterday morning at the Multnomah Club, by defeating H. Avery three games straight in the final round of the first squash tournament ever held in the Northwest.

Palo Alto High Wins Title.

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 28.—The Palo Alto High School rugby football team defeated the team of the Stockton High School here today by a score of 31 to 6. The game gives Palo Alto the championship of the academic athletic center.

Bowling Tournament Postponed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 28.—The annual tournament of the International Bowling Association was postponed until March, instead of January. This announcement was made here today by R. F. Malone, president of the association. A definite date will be set later.

Amateur Athletics.

The basketball team of the Coast Artillery Reserves, of Spohnsmuth, Wash., will make a trip of Southern Washington and Northern Oregon within the next month and will be held here for the championship of Oregon, to accompany the championship of Washington, which it already claims by virtue of having been defeated in the last three years.

The meeting of the Portland City Basketball League, scheduled for Wednesday night, was postponed until further notice. The meeting next week will be final and a schedule will be printed to start play the middle of December.

Portland Academy finally held its football election Tuesday afternoon and, as was predicted, Lester Brix was chosen captain for the next season. Brix deserves his place as a reward for the service he has rendered in the past. The election, contrary to expectations, was close, with Archie Kingsley running second. There were 12 votes cast, seven for Brix and the rest for Kingsley.

BREAKS A GOLD IN A FEW HOURS—PAPE'S

First Dose of Pape's Cold Compound Relieves All Grippe Misery—Contains No Quinine.

After the very first dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" you distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable grippe symptoms leaving.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure Grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, stomach or limbs.

It promptly ends the most miserable headache, dizziness, heavy, stuffed-up throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharge, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

In this wonderful Compound with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world which will cure your cold or end your misery as promptly as Pape's Cold Compound, you can afford to try it. It is a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which contains no quinine, and you get what you want for—accept no substitute—belongs in every home. Tastes nice—acts gently.

Joe Rivers, Who Defeated Mandot at Los Angeles Yesterday.