AreYou A SUFFRAGETTE?

S UPPOSE you are. Suppose you are a woman, and you believe in woman's rights, and you think you ought to have a vote and a share in running the government as well as a share in paying the expenses. And suppose some brute of a man says to you that you don't know enough about government to talk politics, much less to vote. And, still supposing, wouldn't you just dearly love to rise up and tell that male brute all about the government and how it works and what it W does? Now wouldn't you ?

There is just one way that you can prepare yourself to do just that without spending a great deal of both time and money and that is to get a copy of "The American Government" by Frederic J. Haskin. It will appeal to your womanly taste by its beauty as a book, it will satisfy your suffragette longings by telling you just what you have wanted to know about the government.

(Note to the Brutes: There is only one way to prepare for the suffragette that knows all about it. Buy the book yourself.)

If you are neither a suffragette nor a male brute, you will want the book anyhow. See coupon elsewhere in this issue.

OREGON CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Christian Endeavor Officials Plan to Enlarge Society's Work.

H. H. Rottman, international field socretary for the United Society of Christian Endeavor, who arrived in Fortiand Saturday, began the campaign to build up the Christian Endeavor Society throughout Oregon, at a meet-ing of representatives of the 4s organ-stations of Portland, held yesterday af, termoon in the Sunnyaide Congrega-tional Church. This campaign will last in months and extend into every cor-ner of the state. G. Evet Baker, state president, presided, and in his intro-ductory remarks said that the Christian Endeavor Society had not ceased to be a useful factor, and that an effort is being made to enlarge its work. "The Forest Rose," a tale of plonee. days and Indian warfare, headliner at the People's beginning yesterday, does not show the players' talents to best not snow the players this to best advantage. However, it is good. While the hero is absent, indians massacre all other members of the family ex-cept his foster sister, "The Forest Rose." He yows vengeance and a res-cue of the girl. After a short musical programme, Mr. Rotiman delivered an extended ad-dress, reviewing the work and prog-ress of the Christian Endeavor Society, reas of the Christian Endeavor Society, since it was started 35 years ago, by Reverend Francis Clark, with 37 mem-bers, to the present time, when it num-bers nearly 3,500,000 active members. and has extended to almost every civ-flised mation. He told of the workings of the organization in Canada, in many of the states of the Union, and outlined the programme for Organization of the states of the Union, and outlined the programme for Oregon. It was announced that there will be another conference tonight, in the First Christian Church. Mr. Rottman will deliver an address, and all members are invited to be present. Tuesday the field secretary and State President Ba-ker will start on the state campaign, by attending a banquet at Forest Grove, when they will meet with the Endeavorers there. From there they go to Salem on Wednesday and will reach Eugene Thursday. They then go to Hoed River Friday and the fol-lowing day will be at The Dalles. Mr. Rottman will be in Crook County for several days and attend the county convention at Prinevilla. State Presier Company to Kempster P. Miller and S. G. McMeen, of Chicago, and their associates, means immediate extensive water power development in Contral Oregon and improved public utility service in the growing city of Bend. The property of this concern includes both the lighting and the water works franchises in the city of Bend. The purchasers are experienced engineers, having engaged in similar enterprises in other parts of the country. Mr. Mo-Meen is widely known in Portland hav-ing come here about a year ago to arrange for the transfer of the prop-erty of the Mount Hood Railway & Power Company to the Portland Rail-way, Light & Power Company. He left Portland last Spring soon after the transaction was closed. Mr. Miller has been in Oregon for the last few days. He left yesterday, in company with A. O. Hunter, head of the Bend company, former owners of the light and power company stock, for Bend, where final arrangements for improvement of the property will be made. made The new owners already have made

The new owners already have made plans for the extension of the distribu-tive water and electric systems in Bend. They will increase the power and light service and may arrange to serve lumber mills and small towns in the vicinity of Bend with electric enseries of thrilling adventures. "The Belle of the Senson" is a mar-ried woman who shines among the, swains at the seashore. Their rivalries and final discomfiture when introduced sorve lumber mills and small towns in the vicinity of Bend with electric en-ergy. Electricity is generated in the plant at Bend by a hydro-electric plant, water power being obtained from the Deschutes River. It is understood that J. P. Keyes, who has had charge of the plant at Bend for some time past, will continue in that capacity. The immediate attention of the new owners will be directed toward improv-ing and enlarging the plant to meet the present and near future demands of Bend. With the completion of the rail-roads to that point a year ago the town began growing and still continues to increase. The present facilities are inadequate to meet this situation, Be-fore he returns to Chicago Mr. Miller will prepare plans to enlarge both the electric and the water plants so that they will be able to accommodate a city of the preportions that Bend soon will become. "Standing Room Only," is a laugh-getter. Babs Lenhardt, child imper-sonator, was as chic and cunning as ever, and the "Three Kings of Har-mony" scored a hit in a "stunt" in which the plump member of the trio brought down the house by appearing as a "great big beautiful doll." "Memory's Tragio Leag," a two-reel feature at the Star, would be a head-liner except for such a feature as "The Odyssoy," but that somewhat over-shadows it. It tells of how Stevens, injured in an accident, lost his identity for 15 years, and was finally restored to wife and family by the operation known as trephining. "The Odyssey," that Greek epic, is presented with a gorgeousness of set-ting and costuming, while the acting is in keeping. The two features, mak-ing 500 feet of films, compose a more than usually attractive bill. Arthur Elwell, baritone, and Van Steklen and Francis, ductists, are the added at-tractions.

There's a glove fight scene in "The Brother of the 'Bat.' which heads the Arcade bill. The story carries a moral, and is unusually interesting.
