SWINDLE IS SUSPECTED

TWO ITALIANS THOUGHT TO BE BUNCO ARTISTS.

Harry Ellison Nearly Falls Into Trap Laid by Chance Acquaintance Demanding $3500.

Distribution of an estate of $67,000 to charity, with a deposit of $3500 by the distributor, "as a guarantee of good faith," appealed to Harry Ellison, sawmill man, as a good business venture, until he had passed into the bank where he kept his money to draw out the guarantee money. Then caution whispered in his ear and he went on through the bank and to detective headquarters, where he told his story to Detectives Hellyer and Howell. As a consequence, V. Vietro and Charles Curry, Italians, are at the City Jail on charges of vagrancy, alleged to be first-class bunco men.

Ellison was watching street laborers at their work when No. 1 of the pair stood alongside of him and made a few passing comments about the work, leading up thereby to the broaching of a real estate deal. He prevailed on Ellison to walk with him to his office, and they were on the way when they bumped into No. 2. He stopped and apologized, when No. 1 remarked: "You seem to be in a hurry; must have something on your mind." "So would you if you were in my place," says No. 2, thereby sliding gracefully into a relation of how his uncle died "37 days ago," leaving him $97,000 to give to charity. "Oh, I don't know," said No. 1, tauntingly. "That isn't so much money. I've got a little myself," drawing out a "Michigan" or "Flash-roll." "Pull out your money," he whispered to Ellison. "Don't let this fellow think he's the whole thing."

OFFICE WILL STAY HERE

Quartermaster Corps Also to Buy Supplies in Portland.

Portland office, Quartermaster Corps, will remain and will purchase there, subsistence supplies formerly purchased in Vancouver, was telegraphed by Major-General Wood, chief of staff, in response to a query from the Portland Chamber of Commerce relative to rumors of a change of the office to Seattle.

Back payments after this month, according to General Wood's telegram, will be paid at the Vancouver post by express or mail from Seattle, as there will be no more traveling by paymasters in making payments after this month.

W. J. CONNERS IN CITY

NEW YORK DEMOCRAT SEES BRYAN IN CABINET.

Ex-Committeeman Connors Declares Tariff Will Be Revised With Safety to Business.

"As President Governor Wilson will make good," asserted W. J. Connors, of Buffalo, ex-chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of New York State, at the Portland yesterday. And he said it with the air and accompanying emphasis of a man who believed exactly what he said. "Wilson is a good listener," followed Mr. Connors, "and he willingly accepts suggestions not only as to the formation of his Cabinet, but as to the general policies he should adopt in his Administration. However, nobody wants to make the mistake of approaching the President-elect and making any demands on him. As I have said, the President-elect is a good listener, but he refuses to take any orders from anybody." Mr. Connors agrees with other prominent Democrats of the East that Bryan in all probability will be tendered Secretary of State under Wilson. He is also of the opinion that the Nebraska will accept the proffered portfolio. "One thing is sure," continued Mr. Connors, "Bryan undoubtedly will have the refusal of the Secretaryship. He should have the place and the only consideration that will interfere with his acceptance is the possibility of his ambition yet to be President himself. The Democrats at the special session of Congress that has been decided upon by the President-elect will go right after the tariff, in keeping with their pre-election promise. It is up to them to do so. There is no use keeping the business world needlessly in suspense."

GRAND JURY PROBES CASE

Alleged Kidnaping by Ben Holsman of ex-Wife Investigated.

All issues involved in the alleged kidnaping by Ben Holsman, jeweler, of his divorced wife are now before the grand jury, Holsman having been held to that body Thursday by Justice Glason on a charge of assault upon Philip Ruthfield, while Ruthfield was bound over by Judge Taxwell yesterday on a charge of impersonating an officer in order to gain the entrance to the room where Holsman and the woman were lodging. Ruthfield, a friend of the family, assisted the girl's father in a search which he commenced for her upon her disappearance last week, and charges that Holsman bit his fingernail off at the time of the discovery. Holsman brought a counter-charge that Ruthfield caused him to unlock his door by shouting that he was a policeman.
