

ROOSEVELT IN ATTACK SPURS SOCIALISTS

Portland Body Expels C. W. Barzee for Resenting Scurrilous Scream.

NEW CHAPTER TO RESULT

Julius Knispel Resigns After Several Attempts to Oust Him—Saner Members of State Organization Try to Revoke Local Charter.

Nominally for "being an element for disturbance in the Socialist party and falsifying the report of the Warren meeting," but actually for being opposed to what he terms "tactics opposed to the true interests of Socialism," C. W. Barzee was expelled from the Local Portland Society at its regular meeting last Tuesday by a vote of 66 to 2. An attempt had been made also, at a previous meeting, to expel Julius W. Knispel for his stand in opposing the "Roosevelt letter," one of the real pivots of the trouble. The Barzee faction will organize a new chapter here.

Shortly before Roosevelt's visit, at the general business meeting of Portland Local, presided over by Knispel, a suggestion was made that a paper be printed showing Roosevelt's tendency to sidestep questions and to alter his views almost with a consistent inconsistency. This suggestion was adopted, and Thomas J. Burns appointed to draw up the article and get it printed.

Knispel Accuses Burns.

"Burns, however," said Knispel, "did not intend to print what we suggested, and we should not have been secretly writing the foulest, vilest and most abominable filth imaginable. Knowing that he could not get this accepted by the organization, he had it printed by a Finnish printing shop in Astoria, and never showed the article at the business meeting the night before Roosevelt's arrival.

Then the question of repudiating the leaflet was taken up. I made a strong speech that the organization do not do so and so did C. W. Barzee, but the motion was lost by about 16 to 15. My address incurred for me the enmity of the author of this literary masterpiece with the result that he endeavored to get me expelled first on one ground and then on another. His motion was defeated, and, sick and tired of the rottenness of the whole proceedings, I resigned membership."

"Immediate Needs" Cause Rift.

The aims of the Socialists include certain far-reaching proposals, such as state ownership and manipulation of business concerns, which are not among the "immediate needs" of the party. At the Warren meeting the chairman pronounced all these proposals as being immediate needs, a violation of the platform of the National Party.

Mr. Barzee wrote an article to the Monthly Bulletin, explaining what had been done, and the incident on the wisdom of such a procedure. It is nominally on this charge that he was expelled from the branch.

At the headquarters of the Portland local no information was given out, but in conversation with certain members it would appear that the grievances of these members lie in the election of Mr. Barzee to his best to annihilate Portland local and revoke its charter by sending pamphlets over the state. They assert that he was secretary for some time, but was "ousted," and that he denies the fundamental truth of their party, which is that laws are governed by the economic conditions, while in this respect they say he goes directly in the face of the admitted Socialist authorities.

Dissatisfaction Is General.

Both Mr. Barzee and Mr. Knispel assert that there is much dissatisfaction not only among the saner members of Portland local, and in the city generally, but all over the state. Their opinion would seem to be strengthened by an editorial in the Alliance, the official organ published in Eastern Oregon, which is doing its best to secure a revocation of the charter of Portland local by the state office on the ground that it had "violated its charter and the ethics of Socialism when it sustained its literary committee in distributing the scurrilous and disgraceful 'Roosevelt circular'."

"Had Portland greeted Roosevelt with rotten eggs the crime would not have been minimized. The difference is only in the method employed. Socialism is based on scientific philosophy and involves a principle that is opposed to slander and vindictiveness. The Alliance will put the party in Oregon on a basis of respectability or go down in the struggle."

Mr. Barzee waived any defense, not even attending the meeting. He is, however, now preparing an appeal to the state organization.

VETO DENIED TRAFFIC ACT

Mayor Will Sign New Measure Today Despite Remonstrances.

Despite petitions remonstrating against the new traffic ordinance in Portland, Mayor Rushlight will sign the measure today. He announced last night that he can see no really good reason for not signing the measure, inasmuch as it has been prepared by a committee which has investigated traffic conditions carefully. Today is the last day the Mayor has to approve or veto the measure.

The ordinance will bring about great changes in traffic conditions. Among the principal changes will be the elimination of automobiles from standing on the curb for longer periods than 20 minutes, the creation of a district where trucks or automobiles cannot stand for more than 20 minutes within any two hours between 9 A. M. and 6:30 P. M., the establishment of a force of traffic officers to regulate traffic by whistle signals, the elimination of trucks and drays from Washington, Alder and Morrison streets and increasing the speed limit from 8 to 12 miles an hour within the fire limits and from 15 to 25 miles outside.

Vale School Shows Growth.

VALE, Or., Dec. 11.—(Special.)—The school census just completed in the Vale district shows a healthy increase over last year. Three hundred and fifty scholars are registered in the Vale district, as against 257 last year. Aside from having a good increase in the number of pupils the Vale school is recognized this year as one of the best in the county. Nine teachers are employed. Last year the new $25,000 high school building was completed.

Colds Cause Headache and Grip.

LAXATIVE BILMO Quinine relieves the cause. There is only one "BILMO QUININE" Look for signature of E. W. GROVE 22c.

CHIEF OFFICERS ELECTED TO HEAD AD CLUB IN THE COMING YEAR.

1—C. H. MOORE, PRESIDENT. 2—C. F. BERG, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT. 3—W. D. WHITCOMB, SECRETARY-TREASURER. 4—FRED T. HYSKELL, SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT.

C. H. MOORE LEADER

Ad Club Holds Election and Jolly Good Time.

WHITCOMB IS SECRETARY

Charles F. Berg and Fred T. Hyskell Named Vice-Presidents Without Opposition—Great Sport Enjoyed at Annual Affair.

"It's always fair weather when good fellows get together," sang the Ad Club quartet at the Maitinmah Hotel yesterday, while the clubmembers applauded their "barbershop" chords, poked good-natured fun at the candidates in the annual election and waited for the election board to finish the count, and determined the fate.

With the count not yet complete when the meeting adjourned at 2 o'clock, the election of C. H. Moore, to succeed Charles F. Berg, to the presidency, and the election of W. D. Whitcomb to the office of secretary were assured. The completed count an hour later confirmed these elections.

Charles F. Berg was elected first vice-president, and Fred T. Hyskell second vice-president without opposition, and the complete count was followed by a caucus of the club members, electing seven directors chosen from the field of 16 that was up in the election: George L. Baker, A. C. Black, A. G. Clark, M. N. Dana, William F. Lipman, R. G. Morrow and R. W. Raymond.

Election Great Fun.

Although the election was strict in its regularity, the Admen apparently could see no reason for making it an occasion of deep seriousness, and in fact the election board injected into it enough of the lighter vein to keep anyone from getting nervous while the result was awaited.

Roosters were curtailed off in one end of the dining-room and by the table of the judges and clerks of election a huge shiny new "garbage" can was installed to receive the ballots. Over this J. S. Clark stood guard at all times with a vicious-looking revolver, and to add to the effect of his guardianship, the Admen secured a regular uniformed policeman from the city department to assist him, "in case the crowd got beyond his control."

The counting was begun at the opening of the luncheon, nearly 200 ballots having been already cast at that time. The polls did not close until 1:30, but within a few minutes after that time, the count was returned which made apparent the results in the major offices.

Harvey O'Bryan, of the election board, said the Admen well aware of the fact that the election was going on, by occasional eruptions from behind the screens following "Three-four—tally" was audible whenever a hush came in the noise in the main part of the dining-room.

F. E. Arlett, one of the candidates for secretary filed with the president "in accordance with the provisions of the corrupt practices act" an account of campaign expenses, which was the Admen, who held that it exceeded the salary of the office. Supporters of W. D. Whitcomb, who was elected to the office, were busy with the campaign up to the very opening of the election and one of the very first sights that greeted one entering the room was a table containing several bulky ledgers, exhibited as "what Whitcomb works on before breakfast, leaving himself plenty of time afterwards to attend to the Ad Club business."

John Hartog, unable to be present at the meeting, telegraphed from Lewiston a message addressed to "the president elect" in which he said "congratulations; didn't I tell you you'd be elected." The telegram was received by Mr. Clark before the polls were thrown open.

Clark Sent as Delegate.

W. T. Buchanan introduced a motion while the Admen still waited for Mr. O'Bryan to announce the preliminary count, that in recognition of the activity of A. G. Clark, the retiring president in the club, he and his wife should be sent to California at the club's expense on the excursion of the Royal Rosarians.

A substitute motion was also offered

WALL STREET GOES THROUGH ORDEAL

Union Pacific, Suffering as Result of Decision, Leads Way Downward.

STEEL SAVED BY SUPPORT

Reading Closes Day With Substantial Loss and Three Stocks Together Represent Majority of Transactions.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Wall street went through one of its most exciting days of the year today. Leading stocks sold at quotations approaching the low record of 1911 and the 25 active railroad and industrial issues which make up the usual table of averages escaped only by a narrow margin from reaching their low level for that period.

Excitement converged chiefly about Union Pacific, which had shown marked weakness ever since the Supreme Court's decision ordering its divorce from Southern Pacific. Sales of Union Pacific today aggregated 235,000 shares, or about 20 per cent of the total business. The stock sold off within one eighth of a point of its low price recorded early in the year.

Steel Supported Against Loss.

Sales of United States Steel were more extensive, approaching 300,000 shares, but the support accorded that stock at critical periods of the season resulted in only a nominal loss for the day. Reading was another stock which carried a substantial net loss. Combined offerings of these three stocks comprised about 60 per cent of the total output of 1,235,000 shares in the market. While Union Pacific was declining, countless rumors were current, none of which, however, threw any light on the situation.

Among the circumstantial rumors of the day was one that Union Pacific's continued weakness and today's special decline represented the compulsory liquidation of a pool whose holdings averaged a price considerably higher than recent quotations.

Union Pacific's annual report, issued during the day, offered an excuse for the decline in the stock. The report showed earnings of 13.3 per cent on the common shares, compared with 18.6 per cent the previous year.

There were persistent reports that the merger decision might result in a temporary reduction of the Union Pacific dividend, if indeed, such disbursements might not be altogether suspended. Under the merger decree Southern Pacific is enjoined from paying any dividend to Union Pacific.

Harriman Bankers Silent.

The bankers associated with the Harriman properties declined to discuss the action of Union Pacific in the opinion that, beyond expressing the belief that the selling appeared to have its origin in the operations of an aggressive bear party.

Among the circumstantial rumors of the day was one that Union Pacific's continued weakness and today's special decline represented the compulsory liquidation of a pool whose holdings averaged a price considerably higher than recent quotations.

Union Pacific's annual report, issued during the day, offered an excuse for the decline in the stock. The report showed earnings of 13.3 per cent on the common shares, compared with 18.6 per cent the previous year.

There were persistent reports that the merger decision might result in a temporary reduction of the Union Pacific dividend, if indeed, such disbursements might not be altogether suspended. Under the merger decree Southern Pacific is enjoined from paying any dividend to Union Pacific.

Among the circumstantial rumors of the day was one that Union Pacific's continued weakness and today's special decline represented the compulsory liquidation of a pool whose holdings averaged a price considerably higher than recent quotations.

Union Pacific's annual report, issued during the day, offered an excuse for the decline in the stock. The report showed earnings of 13.3 per cent on the common shares, compared with 18.6 per cent the previous year.

There were persistent reports that the merger decision might result in a temporary reduction of the Union Pacific dividend, if indeed, such disbursements might not be altogether suspended. Under the merger decree Southern Pacific is enjoined from paying any dividend to Union Pacific.

Among the circumstantial rumors of the day was one that Union Pacific's continued weakness and today's special decline represented the compulsory liquidation of a pool whose holdings averaged a price considerably higher than recent quotations.

Union Pacific's annual report, issued during the day, offered an excuse for the decline in the stock. The report showed earnings of 13.3 per cent on the common shares, compared with 18.6 per cent the previous year.

There were persistent reports that the merger decision might result in a temporary reduction of the Union Pacific dividend, if indeed, such disbursements might not be altogether suspended. Under the merger decree Southern Pacific is enjoined from paying any dividend to Union Pacific.

Among the circumstantial rumors of the day was one that Union Pacific's continued weakness and today's special decline represented the compulsory liquidation of a pool whose holdings averaged a price considerably higher than recent quotations.

Union Pacific's annual report, issued during the day, offered an excuse for the decline in the stock. The report showed earnings of 13.3 per cent on the common shares, compared with 18.6 per cent the previous year.

There were persistent reports that the merger decision might result in a temporary reduction of the Union Pacific dividend, if indeed, such disbursements might not be altogether suspended. Under the merger decree Southern Pacific is enjoined from paying any dividend to Union Pacific.

Among the circumstantial rumors of the day was one that Union Pacific's continued weakness and today's special decline represented the compulsory liquidation of a pool whose holdings averaged a price considerably higher than recent quotations.

Union Pacific's annual report, issued during the day, offered an excuse for the decline in the stock. The report showed earnings of 13.3 per cent on the common shares, compared with 18.6 per cent the previous year.

There were persistent reports that the merger decision might result in a temporary reduction of the Union Pacific dividend, if indeed, such disbursements might not be altogether suspended. Under the merger decree Southern Pacific is enjoined from paying any dividend to Union Pacific.

Among the circumstantial rumors of the day was one that Union Pacific's continued weakness and today's special decline represented the compulsory liquidation of a pool whose holdings averaged a price considerably higher than recent quotations.

Union Pacific's annual report, issued during the day, offered an excuse for the decline in the stock. The report showed earnings of 13.3 per cent on the common shares, compared with 18.6 per cent the previous year.

HELLO SPANS FOOTLIGHTS

Orpheum Actor Spies Friend in Audience and Speaks Real Aside.

Greetings between actor and old-time friend from the Antipodes were passed on the stage to the first row in the Bungalow Theater yesterday, when Bert Clark, Orpheum headliner, saw George Underwood, of Melbourne, Australia, beaming up at him.

"Bully glad to see you," said Clark, supposedly to Mable Hamilton, his stage partner, with a sidling glance at Underwood, who understood the aside greeting and applauded.

Clark and Mrs. Clark (Mable Hamilton) met Underwood in Australia 18 months ago. Since that time, before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Clark was born in London and came to the United States when a boy. He was conductor of an orchestra in New York when but 18 years old. Before returning to England he visited every section of the United States except the Northwest with various dramatic companies. He was a member of the "Toon Hollow" company, managed by Charlie Callahan, and also played with the Baldwin-Melville Stock Company, now holding forth in New Orleans.

Easy to End CATARRH

Just Breathe Booth's HYOMEI—Kill the Germs and Soothe the Inflamed Membrane—Start Today.

Don't be prejudiced. There is not a particle of morphine, cocaine, or any injurious or habit-forming drug in HYOMEI.

It is made of Eucalyptus and other grand antiseptics. It will greatly relieve the misery of catarrh or any affliction of the nose and throat in five minutes.

No stomach dosing—just breathe HYOMEI, it gets at the catarrh germs and quickly destroys them.

Ask for HYOMEI (pronounced High-ome) outfit. It only costs $1.00, and consists of a hard-rubber pocket inhaler, which can be carried in vest pocket, a bottle of HYOMEI, a medicine dropper and simple directions for use. Extra bottles if needed, 50c.

Leading druggists everywhere sell HYOMEI, which is guaranteed to end catarrh, coughs, colds and croup, or money returned.

If you could go to the Eucalyptus forests of inland Australia you would quickly get rid of catarrh. Booth's HYOMEI brings the identical air of these forests directly to your nose. It is the most wonderful catarrh remedy.

J. F. Potter, D. B. Hill and R. A. Smith and the capital stock of the new company is $10,000.

Children in the public schools of Stavanger, Norway, are treated with the aid of American dental apparatus by a dentist who receives his post-graduate dental education in the United States.

Quartz lamps are experimentally in use in the streets of Chicago and are said to put the other electric lamps in the shade.

Without stops en route, the party of Portland people who visited the livestock show in Lewiston, Idaho, Tuesday returned to Portland yesterday morning. A special train was appointed by the excursionists while on the way home and resolutions were adopted tendering the thanks of the party to the people of Lewiston for their entertainment of the Portland people and to the officials of the O-W-R & N. for the conveniences afforded in the excursion special used by the party.

No special bulletins were issued on the train during the return trip, but the returning party flooded their friends with copies of the four bulletins which had been issued on the way to Lewiston.

Several members of the party remained in Lewiston and will return to Portland later in the week. Among these was C. C. Chapman, manager of the promotion bureau of the Portland Commercial Club, who will deliver an address at the convention in Lewiston today.

ANTI-HANGING CRUSADERS

will start for Salem this morning via Oregon Electric Railway, limited, from Jefferson-street depot. Round-trip, $2. Leave Salem at 4 P. M., arrive Portland 6 P. M.

Logging Company Sells Yard.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 11.—(Special.)—The Charles K. Spaulding Logging Company has sold its lumber yard at Albany to the Hub City Lumber Company, which will henceforth conduct it. It is reported that the Spaulding company will withdraw from this territory. Articles of incorporation were filed for the Hub City Lumber Company recently. The incorporators are

THE NATIONAL'S CLEANUP SALE

CONTINUES IN FULL FORCE
Every Suit and Cloak IN THE SAMPLE ROOMS
MUST GO

These garments are all a new lot direct from New York to the latest styles and colors, representing the greatest values ever offered in Portland.

$25 to $45 GARMENTS $18.95
$25 to $35 GARMENTS $14.95
$18 to $25 GARMENTS $12.95
$14 to $18 GARMENTS $7.95

These prices are our regular prices. Never use a comb sale price, coming this month in a 5 to 6 cent saving.

TAKE ELEVATOR.
Second Floor Seward Bldg., Fifth and Washington Streets, Entrance on Fifth. Next to Postal Shop.
National Sample Suit & Cloak Company

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never let anybody else's hat. Many a hatband is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that if it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "92" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "92" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow thick. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "92" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00.

Sold only by The Owl Drug Co., stores in Portland, Seattle, Spokane, San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles and Sacramento.

WE GIVE A 15-YEAR GUARANTEE

Wise Dental Co.

FAILING BLDG., THIRD AND WASH. Phone—Main 2929, A. 2029.

NOTICE

We have arranged with the Portland Railway, Light & Power Co. to publish a list of articles found on their cars. This list is published in the

LOST AND FOUND

Co umn Each Day

MOST ECONOMICAL SCOURING SOAP

EMERSON'S ONLY SAPOLIO CLEANS SCOURS POLISHES SOLID CAKE—NO WASTE

Why Not a Gift That Is a Gift?

Columbia Grafonola "Mignonette" $100.

Pay for it during next