

DAIRYING PROVES BIG ATTRACTION

Demonstration Train Greets Walla Walla, Touchet and Attalia.

LECTURES ARE POPULAR

One Cow Carried on O-W. R. & N. Farming Special Valued at $25,000 Mark—Kennewick Commercial Club Rendezvous.

BY ADDISON BENNETT. KENNEWICK, Wash., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—The O-W. R. & N. demonstration train made its stop Tuesday between Walla Walla and this place, Touchet and Attalia.

The meeting this morning at Walla Walla was one of the best possible. The lectures were delivered in the spacious waiting-room of the railway depot and every available inch of space was occupied. But the aspect that most pleased the speakers and managers of the excursion, was the intelligence of the hearers and the interest they took in the remarks.

It is a question of what the state will permit the railroad company to use. The Legislature undoubtedly will be guided largely by the wishes of the city.

Mr. A. A. Jayne, who has been placed in charge of preparing a report to the Legislature on this subject will be asked to co-operate with the Mayor and City Attorney of Portland, with a view of bringing about some satisfactory adjustment. Any adjustment that might be agreed on that will be to the public interest will undoubtedly be incorporated in Mr. Jayne's report.

The public levee matter was put up to the Governor to investigate as to the legal phases in a joint resolution of the last Legislative Assembly. The Governor took the position, at a hearing which he gave to the railroad attorneys, that the levee is held by the state as a trust for the people of the state, and that the railroad company had no title thereto.

The Governor stated that, with the offer of the railroad company to surrender a part of the property, it is practically a concession that the contention of the state is correct, and he advises that the final decision in the matter is for the state to make.

It is a question of what the state will permit the railroad company to use. The Legislature undoubtedly will be guided largely by the wishes of the city.

Mr. A. A. Jayne, who has been placed in charge of preparing a report to the Legislature on this subject will be asked to co-operate with the Mayor and City Attorney of Portland, with a view of bringing about some satisfactory adjustment.

Any adjustment that might be agreed on that will be to the public interest will undoubtedly be incorporated in Mr. Jayne's report.

The public levee matter was put up to the Governor to investigate as to the legal phases in a joint resolution of the last Legislative Assembly.

The Governor took the position, at a hearing which he gave to the railroad attorneys, that the levee is held by the state as a trust for the people of the state, and that the railroad company had no title thereto.

The Governor stated that, with the offer of the railroad company to surrender a part of the property, it is practically a concession that the contention of the state is correct, and he advises that the final decision in the matter is for the state to make.

It is a question of what the state will permit the railroad company to use. The Legislature undoubtedly will be guided largely by the wishes of the city.

Mr. A. A. Jayne, who has been placed in charge of preparing a report to the Legislature on this subject will be asked to co-operate with the Mayor and City Attorney of Portland, with a view of bringing about some satisfactory adjustment.

Any adjustment that might be agreed on that will be to the public interest will undoubtedly be incorporated in Mr. Jayne's report.

The public levee matter was put up to the Governor to investigate as to the legal phases in a joint resolution of the last Legislative Assembly.

The Governor took the position, at a hearing which he gave to the railroad attorneys, that the levee is held by the state as a trust for the people of the state, and that the railroad company had no title thereto.

The Governor stated that, with the offer of the railroad company to surrender a part of the property, it is practically a concession that the contention of the state is correct, and he advises that the final decision in the matter is for the state to make.

It is a question of what the state will permit the railroad company to use. The Legislature undoubtedly will be guided largely by the wishes of the city.

Mr. A. A. Jayne, who has been placed in charge of preparing a report to the Legislature on this subject will be asked to co-operate with the Mayor and City Attorney of Portland, with a view of bringing about some satisfactory adjustment.

Any adjustment that might be agreed on that will be to the public interest will undoubtedly be incorporated in Mr. Jayne's report.

WILSON HAS GIBNET FOR PANIC MAKERS

Disgrace Awaits, as Long as Man's Family Survive, Says Governor.

SPEAKER DISCLAIMS FEAR

Machinery Exists by Which Thing Could Be Done Deliberately, He Says, but He Doubts if Anyone Would Dare.

CHINESE TRACED THROUGH MAZE DEEP INTO EARTH.

Oak Doors Battered in, Trap Doors Found Leading Below Surface. Smuggled Women Rescued.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—Locked in steel cells in a dark, evil-smelling Chinese building, United States immigration officials in a spectacular raid last night found five Chinese slave women just smuggled in from the Orient and arrested men alleged to be the ringleaders of the slavers.

The raid was made at midnight and was the most spectacular ever seen in the local Chinese quarter. Under the leadership of United States immigration Inspector Ainsworth and United States District Attorney McNab, the entire local staff of the immigration office swooped down upon the suspected building.

Steel doors had to be battered from their frames before the raiders could get in. The Chinese slavers were trapped inside, and at every turn of the narrow hallways stout steel-studded oak doors barred their way. Not a single door was found to be unlocked, access to each floor being gained by a cunningly concealed trap door reached by a ladder.

Finally, below the street level, in a maze of underground passages such as was not supposed to exist after the fire, the slave women were found huddled together in a dark, damp, and crowded place.

The raid tonight adds to a chain of events which have cost much blood in China. This is the second successful raid the immigration officials have made in many attempts. The Chinese informer who gave information to the Governor, leading to the previous raid endeavored to return to China to escape the vengeance of the slavers, but was killed on the liner Korea, only a few days after he had left this port.

His slayer is now awaiting trial in Honolulu.

The Governor told his hearers of his strenuous day in New Jersey.

"We thought we straightened things out in New Jersey," he said, "but they won't stay straight. There are some people in New Jersey who are happy that they can count the days when they can get rid of me. A man can live in Washington and know what goes on in New Jersey and a man can say from New Jersey what he thinks about New Jersey and he can say it in the only most effectual way—by mentioning names."

"I say this not as a threat, but to convey this information, that men have got to stand up and be counted and put their names down. I think men see this in business and not amusement, an enthusiasm will arise by which it will be revealed that honor and integrity of purpose are the only things in the world. God knows the poor suffer enough. A man would hesitate to take a single step that would involve any further suffering. We must move to the emancipation of the poor."

Appointments Are Hated. "The task ahead of me so far as it is making appointments to office is wholly hateful, but the task so far as it is leadership of the United States is full of everything that is bright and touched with confidence, because I know all you have to do is to appeal to the people of the United States of the right ground and to those who are wrong out of business. I am not a brave man, because I don't have anything to be afraid of."

"Some people are making all sorts of sinister predictions as to the trouble we are going to get into at Washington. I don't think there should be any further suffering. We must move to the emancipation of the poor."

Business Before Etiquette. "Perhaps I should have said that the door will be opened only to people who come to transact business. I want to say that I may not be very popular by preferring business to etiquette, but after I take the case I shall feel obliged to cut out everything that does not touch that business. But business has to be supported and comprehensively presented to the people, so that they will not feel it necessary to stay in Washington all the time, but to find out by conversation with my neighbors everywhere what they think, for it is a great deal more important to the country what you think than what I think."

The Governor discoursed vehemently on politics and said there was "too much newspaper talk in politics" and that "good taste often stands in the way of public morals."

"It is not the thought good taste in politics," the Governor said, "to say anything about a man unless it is complimentary, but it may be very serviceable."

Temptation to Profanity Great. Mr. Wilson indignantly declared that since he had left "academic walks to get into the highroad" he had found "an increased temptation to profanity."

"I think that the recording angel probably does not hear these things," he added amid laughter. "For there is such a thing as righteous anger."

The speaker here made reference to possible changes in economic policies, though he mentioned no specific thing. "Some people say," he asserted, "that business is going to be distributed by the changes which are going to be undertaken by the Democratic party. I mean changes in the economic policy. Business cannot be distributed unless the minds of those who conduct it are disturbed."

"A panic, according to the dictionary, is really a state of mind. There is just as much money in the country the day after the panic as the day before, but it is distributed differently as a result of the panic."

Applause and Cheers Frequent. The Governor issued his warning against the deliberate starting of panics. As he concluded his speech he remarked that perhaps he had rambled in his subjects, but that he had tried to steer away from policies as much as possible. Throughout the speech there were frequent interruptions of applause and there was a

WILSON HAS GIBNET FOR PANIC MAKERS

Disgrace Awaits, as Long as Man's Family Survive, Says Governor.

SPEAKER DISCLAIMS FEAR

Machinery Exists by Which Thing Could Be Done Deliberately, He Says, but He Doubts if Anyone Would Dare.

CHINESE TRACED THROUGH MAZE DEEP INTO EARTH.

Oak Doors Battered in, Trap Doors Found Leading Below Surface. Smuggled Women Rescued.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—Locked in steel cells in a dark, evil-smelling Chinese building, United States immigration officials in a spectacular raid last night found five Chinese slave women just smuggled in from the Orient and arrested men alleged to be the ringleaders of the slavers.

The raid was made at midnight and was the most spectacular ever seen in the local Chinese quarter. Under the leadership of United States immigration Inspector Ainsworth and United States District Attorney McNab, the entire local staff of the immigration office swooped down upon the suspected building.

Steel doors had to be battered from their frames before the raiders could get in. The Chinese slavers were trapped inside, and at every turn of the narrow hallways stout steel-studded oak doors barred their way. Not a single door was found to be unlocked, access to each floor being gained by a cunningly concealed trap door reached by a ladder.

Finally, below the street level, in a maze of underground passages such as was not supposed to exist after the fire, the slave women were found huddled together in a dark, damp, and crowded place.

The raid tonight adds to a chain of events which have cost much blood in China. This is the second successful raid the immigration officials have made in many attempts. The Chinese informer who gave information to the Governor, leading to the previous raid endeavored to return to China to escape the vengeance of the slavers, but was killed on the liner Korea, only a few days after he had left this port.

His slayer is now awaiting trial in Honolulu.

The Governor told his hearers of his strenuous day in New Jersey.

"We thought we straightened things out in New Jersey," he said, "but they won't stay straight. There are some people in New Jersey who are happy that they can count the days when they can get rid of me. A man can live in Washington and know what goes on in New Jersey and a man can say from New Jersey what he thinks about New Jersey and he can say it in the only most effectual way—by mentioning names."

"I say this not as a threat, but to convey this information, that men have got to stand up and be counted and put their names down. I think men see this in business and not amusement, an enthusiasm will arise by which it will be revealed that honor and integrity of purpose are the only things in the world. God knows the poor suffer enough. A man would hesitate to take a single step that would involve any further suffering. We must move to the emancipation of the poor."

Appointments Are Hated. "The task ahead of me so far as it is making appointments to office is wholly hateful, but the task so far as it is leadership of the United States is full of everything that is bright and touched with confidence, because I know all you have to do is to appeal to the people of the United States of the right ground and to those who are wrong out of business. I am not a brave man, because I don't have anything to be afraid of."

"Some people are making all sorts of sinister predictions as to the trouble we are going to get into at Washington. I don't think there should be any further suffering. We must move to the emancipation of the poor."

Business Before Etiquette. "Perhaps I should have said that the door will be opened only to people who come to transact business. I want to say that I may not be very popular by preferring business to etiquette, but after I take the case I shall feel obliged to cut out everything that does not touch that business. But business has to be supported and comprehensively presented to the people, so that they will not feel it necessary to stay in Washington all the time, but to find out by conversation with my neighbors everywhere what they think, for it is a great deal more important to the country what you think than what I think."

The Governor discoursed vehemently on politics and said there was "too much newspaper talk in politics" and that "good taste often stands in the way of public morals."

"It is not the thought good taste in politics," the Governor said, "to say anything about a man unless it is complimentary, but it may be very serviceable."

Temptation to Profanity Great. Mr. Wilson indignantly declared that since he had left "academic walks to get into the highroad" he had found "an increased temptation to profanity."

"I think that the recording angel probably does not hear these things," he added amid laughter. "For there is such a thing as righteous anger."

The speaker here made reference to possible changes in economic policies, though he mentioned no specific thing. "Some people say," he asserted, "that business is going to be distributed by the changes which are going to be undertaken by the Democratic party. I mean changes in the economic policy. Business cannot be distributed unless the minds of those who conduct it are disturbed."

"A panic, according to the dictionary, is really a state of mind. There is just as much money in the country the day after the panic as the day before, but it is distributed differently as a result of the panic."

Applause and Cheers Frequent. The Governor issued his warning against the deliberate starting of panics. As he concluded his speech he remarked that perhaps he had rambled in his subjects, but that he had tried to steer away from policies as much as possible. Throughout the speech there were frequent interruptions of applause and there was a

AT THE HOUSE OF COATS SUPERB ENGLISH GABERDINES RAIN COATS SUPERB ENGLISH SLIP-ONS! Beginning This Morning at 8:30, at Half Price and Less

The House of Coats Great Annual Pre-Inventory Coat Sale Compels Stupendous Price Reductions Before Stock Taking, January 1. Your Coat Is Here. At 1/2 Price and Less Ladies' and Misses' Superb All-Weather Coats, 14 to 46 Men's and Youths' Superb All-Weather Coats, 32 to 48

Goodyear RAINCOAT COMPANY 350 Nifty Tan Rubber Slip-ons for men and women; high storm collar, art plaid interlined, storm cuffs; a $5.00 Coat priced for you at $1.90

BUTTER TO BE CHEAPER EXISTENCE OF CORNER DENIED BY ELGIN BOARD OF TRADE. Directors Say Prices Will Decline to Point Less Than Last Year Within Six Months.

WATCH THIS SPACE FOR ONE DAY SPECIALS NO GOODS SOLD MERCHANTS AT THIS PRICE THURSDAY ONLY

Artificial Leg and Arm Expert Now in Portland Arthur F. Bull, member of the Dickson-Bull Co., of Oakland, Cal., established in 1871, the largest and oldest Western manufacturers of artificial arms, legs, deformity apparatus and trusses, is now at the Multnomah Hotel and will remain until December 24.

EXCURSION TO SEATTLE Friday, Dec. 20, 1912 VIA NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY

Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club VS. Seattle Amateur Athletic Club Football Game, Dec. 21 SPECIAL TRAIN

ROMA BREAD—4 Per Cent PURE "BOSSY" MILK