

BIG APPROPRIATION FOR FAIR FAVORED

George W. Joseph Says Oregon Should Devote $500,000 to Exposition.

"TOO MUCH," SAY OTHERS

Senator Malarkey Believes That $250,000 to $300,000 Is Sufficient—Senator Hollis Opposes This Amount.

"I favor a liberal appropriation for the Oregon exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915," said Senator George W. Joseph yesterday. "I am a devout believer in the gospel according to C. C. Chapman, that a man, a community or a state must tout its own home, or verily the same shall not be tooted, and Oregon should make a show of it. The exhibit commensurate with her importance in the sisterhood of Pacific Coast States.

"While the amount may seem a trifle large at first blush, I believe that Oregon could not do better than to appropriate $500,000. She has the best location on the fair grounds, and she should have the best exhibit. That is not necessarily the most expensive building, but the most representative showing of her manifold resources. No other state has so much to show, so many important interests that deserve adequate representation.

Resources Are Varied.

"There's the fishing interests, for instance. The whole world demands Columbia River salmon because it knows that it is the best that is canned. The whole world will be at San Francisco, and will be interested in knowing how the rich, red fishery of Oregon finds its way from the sea to its tables.

"The lumbering industry, and the state's latent resources in timber; the mining industry showing its knowledge and diversity of our mineral wealth; the livestock industry, including dairy and fat stock, sheep and hogs, not forgetting the fact that Oregon is an ideal state for poultry; with the fruit industry in its various phases of planting, picking and packing, and the hop industry—these are a few of the things that I would like to see 'played up' at San Francisco. Not only should their present development be emphasized, but the visitor should be made to understand that there is still plenty of room for development in all these branches.

"We have the goods and we should show them," declared Mr. Joseph. "While a half a million may seem like a lot of money to spend for advertising, and while it is possible that Oregon can make a creditable showing on less than that, I am sure that it would be bread upon the waters that would come back many fold, and I would favor an appropriation bill early in the session calling for that amount. I notice that a similar bill, for a like amount, will be introduced in the Washington Legislature.

Fair Is For Whole Coast.

"This is not California's fair, nor San Francisco's fair—it belongs to the whole world, but peculiarly it will be for the benefit of the three Pacific Coast states. The eyes of the world will be on us, and I shall introduce a bill and we must look our best."

"The fact that California appropriated but $90,000 for the Lewis and Clark Exposition, having its influence against so large an appropriation as is proposed by Senator Joseph, Senator Malarkey, candidate for president of the Senate, believes that an amount from $250,000 to $300,000 would be sufficient. Senator Hollis, of Washington, Tillamook, Yamhill and Lincoln, believes that $250,000, the amount favored by Senator Smith, of Josephine, is too much.

San Diego, maintaining that she will be the Pacific port of most importance with the completion of the Panama Canal, is having a fair in 1915, and wants an appropriation. But little sentiment has been heard in favor of the San Diego appropriation. The general opinion is that Oregon should put all her eggs in one basket and make as good a showing as possible at the big show at San Francisco.

SCHOOL BURE MADE

Attorney-General Gives Opinion on Attendance.

EAST SIDE SENDS PETITION

Director Munly, Deeming Cost of Buildings Excessive, May Succeed in Having Eastern Architects Make Estimates.

Responsive to a request from Clerk Thomas, of the Board of Education, for an interpretation of the initiative bill enacted by the people in the recent election regarding county high schools, Attorney-General Crawford has rendered an opinion holding in substance that when the capacity of established high schools in the cities is exhausted, entrance of students from outside territory to municipal high schools can be gained only by the payment of tuition raised through a direct county tax intended specifically to cover that cost. In his opinion the Attorney-General entertains a doubt if a city high school, when crowded to its capacity, can be forced to receive and make provision for students from those sections of the county outside the corporate limits of the municipality until it has been given assurance of proper compensation.

J. H. Nolte and other representatives from East Side commercial organizations appeared before the Board and urged the location of the proposed trades school on the East Side, where, it was contended, desirable building sites could be obtained at more attractive figures than on the West Side.

Fund Is Depleted.

R. L. Sabin, acting chairman, explained to the committee that the Board was without available funds with which to make the purchase of a site for a new trades school until the voters of the district, at the annual meeting, December 27, should authorize a proposed bond issue of $1,000,000 to take care of the new high school and other needed improvements. Other members of the Board explained that an additional half block had already been acquired immediately west of the Lincoln high school as a probable site for the new trades school. Director Fleischer assured the East Side delegation that provision should be made for the trades school on this side of the river, another trades school eventually would be provided for the East Side.

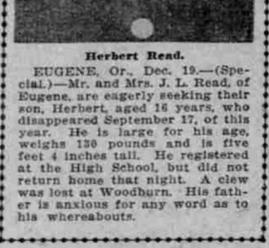

George A. Brodie, another member of a committee addressed the Board with an invitation for its members to attend a meeting at the Creston School next Monday night, when speakers would be in attendance to present the desirability of installing in that school an agricultural department. The invitation was accepted.

Laurelhurst Petition Heard.

Dr. J. D. Fenton, Dr. E. A. Pierce and others, constituting a committee from the Laurelhurst district, submitted to the Board a prospective site for a new school building to meet the requirements of the pupils residing in Laurelhurst. It was referred to an appropriate committee.

The Board decided to the request of Otto J. Kraemer, representing the Oregon Humane Society, that students of the high schools be permitted to take part in a contest for an essay contest for which three prizes of $12.50, $7.50 and $5 have been offered. A list of 27 subjects will be submitted by the society, from which contestants may make their selection as to a subject for their essay.

Before adjourning, Director Munly suggested the advisability of the Board employing a consulting architect. It was the contention of Mr. Munly that the Board was paying too much for the construction and modification of its school buildings. After some discussion it was tentatively agreed that Clerk Thomas should ascertain from prominent architects in Denver and St. Louis the cost of coming to Portland and giving the Board an approximate idea of the cost of the buildings already constructed and contemplated in this city.

MEN TO HEAR LECTURES

Y. M. C. A. PLANS SERIES OF NOON ADDRESSES.

Dr. Hinson and Dr. Henry, Former Pastor of White Temple, Will Conduct Meetings Daily.

Two important series of noon lectures for men have just been arranged by the Portland Young Men's Christian Association. The speakers will be Dr. W. B. Hinson, pastor of the White Temple, and Dr. J. Q. A. Henry, a former pastor of the same congregation.

Dr. Hinson will deliver his first lecture next Thursday in the association auditorium. He will speak at 11:30 o'clock and will continue the series with an address each day, except Sunday, until January 5, when he will be followed by Dr. Henry with meetings at the same hour. The general topic of Dr. Hinson's discourses will be "How to Make 1913 Your Best Year."

These meetings will be open to all men. As they will last only a half hour, it is expected that a great many men will find opportunity to attend. Those who cannot remain for the entire lecture are invited to drop in for a few minutes. Besides the speeches there will be music.

Dr. Henry is well known among the older residents of Portland, who were here when he was pastor of the White Temple. He ranks as one of the leading Baptist clergymen of the world. During recent years he has passed much time in England and Australia, where he is better known than in America. He is coming to Portland to conduct evangelistic services at the White Temple and the Y. M. C. A. has taken advantage of his visit to give the business men an easy opportunity to hear him.

The Y. M. C. A. will hold its Sunday afternoon meetings at the White Temple on January 6, 13 and 17. Two of them will be addressed by Dr. Henry, and the third by Raymond Robbins, considered the leading authority in American on social service work.

WAR IN "LITTLE AFRICA"

Characters Known as "Rags" and "The Chicken" Have Difference.

For his activities in making the male companion of one of his proteges "blow back with the coin," H. H. Hall, a professional negro bait broker, better known as "Rags," was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery preferred by "The Chicken," another well-known character of Little Africa. "Rags" promptly retaliated with a charge of vagrancy against "The Chicken."

The trouble began when the woman in the case "touched" a white man and was taken to the station. "Rags" followed promptly to give bail and Captain Keller put up him the obligation of getting back the $115 which the complainant had lost. After a brief conference with his client, "Rags" escorted her out of the station and she led him direct to "The Chicken," who, she said, had the money. "The Chicken" properly approached, surrendered it. Afterward he resented the intrusion, and made the fatal "hip pocket move" whereupon "Rags" trounced him, was arrested, and in turn caused the arrest of his accuser, on the vagrancy charge.

WIFE MAKES ACCUSATION

Mrs. Irma D. Josselyn Charges Husband With Lack of Affection.

Theron W. Josselyn, of 632 Elliott avenue, freight agent for the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, and brother of B. S. Josselyn, president of the company, is charged in a divorce complaint filed in the Circuit Court for Clackamas County by Irma D. Josselyn with coldness and want of affection. Mrs. Josselyn further asserts that he seems to take pride in humiliating her by speech and actions.

She wants the custody of Geraldine, their daughter, 2 years old, alleging that the defendant is not a fit and proper person to have the custody of the child, and asks for $50 a month alimony and the same amount each month for the support of the baby. Her husband, she states, earns at least $175 a month. They were married in Omaha, Neb., January 29, 1902.

LIGHT SENTENCE IMPOSED

Mail Clerk Who Confesses to Robbing Letter Gets Six Months.

A light sentence was pronounced on Charles E. Rigdon by Judge Bean yesterday in the United States District Court after he had pleaded guilty to having embezzled mail matter, while acting as a letter-carrier. United States District Attorney McCourt was largely responsible for the light sentence, as after reciting the facts surrounding the case, which showed that the man had been in Portland on account of sickness in his family and distressed financial condition, he asked the court to be as lenient as possible.

In pronouncing the sentence of six months in the County Jail Judge Bean stated that he had been otherwise informed that the previous life of Rigdon had been a credit to himself and community, and for this reason, as well as the recommendation of the District Attorney, he made the sentence light.

Following this case John T. Fitzgerald pleaded guilty to having introduced liquor on the Klamath Indian School Work Not Affected.

There will be as many promotions as usual in Arleta School, according to F. S. Ball, principal, who said yesterday that the recent outbreak of smallpox there has not worked to the detriment of the classes. A report has been circulated, he said, which discouraged parents from sending their children, as it was said that the temporary closing of the school would break up the regular progress of the studies. Mr. Ball says he has personally investigated the situation and finds that this is untrue. He is anxious for all parents in the district to send their children.
