The appointed officers announced by the eminent commander are: Prelate, in a rather diffident fashion and said; "Saw I wich vord size somebody this ing. Some of the boys have been work-ing from 24 to 36 hours at a stretch, not because they are made to, but be-cause this is their one great season. WOOLGROWERS' ANNUAL MEET not because they are made to, but be-cause this is their one great season. Their earnings depend on the number of journeys, and Christmas is the time of tips as well. But whatever happens, they carry their messages chearfully, even if they know beforehand from the neighborhood that no tip is likely to come their way, and they are always re-sourceful, reliable and rapid. At the Western Union offices tele-wars snowed in and melted away on the wires with great rapidity. Three direct Chicago wires for the Eastern business, four to San Francisco, during the day, were increased to six to Chi-rago and six to San Francisco as the file of night letters grew heavier. The special holiday Wettern Union blanks are becoming so popular that they are looked upon by the public as a neces-sity during the Christmas and New Year holiday season. The blanks were designed to add to the pleasure of the recipient and for that reason messages were delivered without any delivery tharges to any part of the city. IS LARGELY ATTENDED. CANVAS. The association took steps to secure uniformity of twine used for tying wool at the shearing plants. In the past some shearers have used binder twine, the long, coarse fibers of which become mixed with the wool and in-jure it for the market. A special coyote bounty also was authorized, the association voting to today. Salvation Army Institution Scene of Northwestern to Acquire Site in LOVING CUP GIVEN COMAN Portland for Purpose. Yuletide Gayety. If the titles to the property in Albina streets are unclouded, the Northwest-ern Electric Company will acquire this ind as a site for a steam auxiliary plant for a consideration of $85,000. The property is divided into two parts about seven blocks about the east approach to the Broadway bridge. It is considered a desirable site for this purpose. Flans now are being drawn for a great concrete and brick building in which the necessary machinery will be housed. The plant will be operated only in the event of the failure of the hydro-electric plant on the White Salmon River. Kailroad Employes Remember Of, ficial Who Is Leaving Service.
