SENATORS OPPOSE NAMING GOETHALS

Democratic Attitude Likely to Result in Abandonment of Canal, at the head of the civil government of the Zone, took such proportions today that some of Mr. Taft's advisers urged him to forego the plan and leave he creation of the new Zone govern-the creation of the new Zone government to his successor, President-elect Wilson.

Some who talked with the President carly in the day were convinced that he would canvass the situation further before abandoning his plan. Others in close touch with the President were positive that out of consideration for Colonel Goethals, whom he does not wish to involve in a political dispute, he would give up the idea.

Civil Service Order in Prospect.
Colonel Goethals in this event, immediately after appearing before the Congressional committee formulating appropriations for fortifications of the canai, would return to his work.

One feature of the plan, however, if Colonel Goethals is not put at the head of the Zone government, is to place all employes on the canail work under civil service by the President's executive order. A few employes on the civil service by the President's executive order. A few employes on the civil service by the President's executive order. A few employes on the cinal work under civil service by the President's executive order. A few employes on the cinal work under civil service by the President's executive order. Attack on Hearst Bitter.

Colone Goethals is not put at the head of the Zone government, is to place all employes on the canal work under civil service by the President's executive order. A few employes on the isthmus already are in the civil service. but the great number of canal workers have been appointed by the Isthmian Canal Commission.

Democrats Want Commission.

The attitude of the Democratic Sen ators is that the present canal commis-sion should not be displaced and disor-ganized until the canal is complete. The Democrats further take the post-tion that the services of all the memtion that the services of all the members of the commission still are needed and they contend that to provide for Colonel Goethals and summarily dismiss all other commissioners would be an unfair discrimination. Generally, they express admiration for Colonel Goethals, and Senator Smith went so far as to say that he would favor conferring all possible military honors upon him.

NEGROES HISS AT JOHNSON Pugilist and White Wife Driven

From Blacks' Dance.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Jack Johnson and his white wife were hissed off the floor of the Seventh Regiment Armory last night, according to a statement made today by Colonel John R. Marshall, of the Eighth Regiment, Ilinois National Guard.

Guard.

The regiment, which is made up of negroes, was giving its annual New Year's dance, and about 2500 persons were crowded into the building.

Before the grand march, while Johnson and his wife sat in the gallery, they were not molested, but trouble started immediately when they appeared on the dance floor. The other dancers soon ceased dancing and gathered in little groups until presently the dancers soon ceased dancing and gata-ered in little groups until presently the prizefighter and his bride had the floor to themselves. Then a storm of hisses aross. The discomfited couple faced the demonstration for a few mo-ments, and then the fighter, glaring angrily about, led his wife from the angrily

PEOPLE'S RULE ATTACKED

He said that in Switzerland the people had become disgusted with the constant necessity of voting on questions of government and had gradually refused to go to the polls. A compulsory voting law, he said, had not succeeded and they had finally decided to pay voters.

"Make 'em vote, and if they won't, pay 'em to vote, is the principle suggested," said Senator Bailey.

Senator Bailey said that in states where constitutional amendments had been submitted to the people only a small proportion of the citizens voted upon them. In Wisconsin, he said, it ran as low as from 24 to 56 per cent. In oregon, he declared, on a question involving the future of the state's university, in which the public had become keenly interested, only 80 per cent had voted upon the question.

the Senate."
Senator Ashurst, in his defense of Mr. Hearst, said that his name was associated with the success of many projects to promote the happiness of the people and the perpetuity of American institutions, and declared that he was a "firm friend, a loving husband and a faithful father."
"More than that I need not say; less than that I could not say," he added.

"The wonder to me," he said, "is how "The wonder to me," he said, "Is how any man could have understood the necessity and the controlling force of counsel and discussion, without having actually been a part of a great deliberative assembly."

Mr. Balley said the advocates of the direct form of government declared they were not working for the overthrow of this Government.

"It has come to a choice between the side led by the noisy demonstrators of today. For my part, I am ready to enlist under the banner of the mighty dead—of Washington and Jefferson and Madison.

"They say that representative government is more representative of the people today than ever before in the history of the Republic.

"There is a criticism, but it is of quite a different character. The real criticism today is that the representatives of the people are too quick to represent the views of the people, as they are hastily expressed, before time has been given for mature consideration."

Newspapers Are Blamed.

Senator Bailey charged the newspapers were largely responsible for the 'unrest.'

"I have become convinced," he said,

Attack on Hearst Bitter. Continuing his attack on journals and papers. Mr. Bailey picked up a magazine published by William R. Hearst.

have been written by Mr. Balley from the Senate, February 26, 1990.
"I'd do not even become a member of

Mr. Bailey.

He declared Mr. Hearst had used "stolen letters," in an attempt to create the impression that the Standard Oil Company controlled legislation, while many of the letters used, he said, were in fact unrelated to any matters of legislation.
