

HAUSER DISPUTES NEWS OF WARNER

Cheyenne Says Baseball Does Not Make "Bums" Out of Indian Athletes.

EX-"AGGIE" SHOWS PLUCK

Despite Injuries Emil Plays in New Year's Football Game, Although Suffering Pain—Multnomah Clubmen Praise Him.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Emil Hauser, a bright on the football map, put himself in social quarantine when he signed to play professional baseball with the Victoria club of the Northwestern League. At least that's what his old boss at the Carlisle Indian School, Glenn Warner, told the delegates to the intercollegiate association in New York last week, when, in a vigorous oration, he recommended the abolition of the diamond sport on the campuses.

But the Cheyenne Indian football wizard thinks otherwise. Emil, who is a pleasant fellow off the gridiron and an educated chap, too, laughed when shown Warner's statement in a New York newspaper that "experience at Carlisle has convinced us that instead of baseball making men of Indians, it was more apt to make 'bums' of them."

"I guess he didn't mean to confine his remarks to the Indians alone," said the erstwhile "Wagoner" Carlisle football team, as his face broadened into a demure smile, "otherwise he wouldn't have recommended that other colleges follow in Carlisle's footsteps and adopt lacrosse."

College Men Are Named. "Coach Warner isn't thoroughly conversant with professional baseball or he wouldn't say that," added Hauser. "Jack Coombs of Philadelphia is a graduate of Colby College and is certainly not a 'bum'; Christy Mathewson is not a tramp and he is an alumnus of Bucknell; Eddie Collins, Joe Birmingham, Jack Barry, Harry Hooper, Hal Chase, Willie Mitchell, Jake Stahl, Birdie Cree, Harry Lord and a host of others lay claim to college degrees, and their activities have never merited a dirty word like that."

"The only two Indians I know of in the big leagues are 'Chief' Meyers, of New York, and 'Chief' Bender, of the Athletics. Meyers' social standing has never been questioned and Bender has never been plucked for many years and has made a success of it. Last year he hit the home run, but is far from the 'bum' stage. Le Roy the St. Paul pitcher is a clean, likable Indian."

Hauser is a catcher and has had just a few weeks' professional experience. These few weeks were enough, however, to cause his disbarment from Northwestern college football last Fall, when he failed to play with the Oregon Agricultural College. Emil played a couple of seasons back with Harrisburg in the Tri-State League. He is not last very long, as he lacked experience.

Hauser Not Salaried. "Emil received not one cent of pay from us, but I suppose the fact that he was on a professional team made him professional," said Robert Duncan, a director on the Harrisburg club, who recently moved to Portland. "Hauser never even signed up and that's why Secretary Farrell had no record of his ever having played ball. I'm afraid Emil will not make good in the Northwestern League unless he has improved wonderfully. He didn't know much about inside baseball."

But, if the big brave displays one-half the determination and headwork he has shown in the past, he will surprise some of the critics. The Multnomah Club stars backed up against the aboriginal in a game with the Fall, twice with the Seattle All-Stars and in the Oregon "Aggie" contest, and they give Hauser credit for being the greatest man they have ever encountered.

Hauser Shows Gameness. Although the target for the Multnomah attacks in all three games, Hauser never whimpered to the officials. He took subtle jabs at the ribs like a stoic and gave back in like measure whenever an official's back was turned.

He centered him one of the gamest players I have ever run across," was the tribute paid Hauser by Tom McDonald, manager of the Seattle football club. "I have seen a number of gamest men, but I have never seen one like Hauser."

Dr. Palmer marvelled that the Indian hadn't dropped during the afternoon, for he must have been suffering intense pain.

TRAPSHOOTERS TO ELECT. Portland Gun Club Will Be Year Old January 14.

The Portland Gun Club will be exactly one year old January 14, when the members meet to elect officers for 1913. The club has a membership of more than 60 blue rock devotees, which gives it second or third position among the clubs of the Northwest.

J. E. Cullison, president of the club, seems desirous for another term of office. He is desirous of turning the job over to some other member, but there is a universal demand for his retention at the head of the trap-shooting organization. The other officers of the club are: Joe Adleman, secretary and treasurer; J. E. Cullison, president; P. J. Holohan, Percy Knight and W. A. Carter.

The club has quarters near Kenton, with a clubhouse and two automatic traps. Should the club secure the 1912 Pacific Coast handicap a new clubhouse will be erected in the Spring. The site of the meet will be decided by the tournament committee of the Interstate Association at a meeting this month. Sacramento is a keen contender for the honor of greeting the trap-shooters of the Pacific Coast.

COAST LEAGUE CASTOFFS WHO GO TO MAJOR CIRCUITS

Wes Noyes, Pitcher. Hunt, Pitcher.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

PLAYS OF CLUBS IN MAJOR LEAGUES PROVE

Many Players Obtained From Coast League Are Sold to Major Teams.

COHN'S DEALS ARE SHREWD

Spokane Magnate by His Manipulations With Paul Strand and in Other Deals Gathers in Total of $7750.

BY JAMES H. CASSELL. Are Northwestern League baseball players shrewder than their Pacific Coast League contemporaries? Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

La Longe, Tacoma catcher; Noyes, Spokane pitcher; Strand, Spokane pitcher; and Hunt, Tacoma pitcher, are the diamond artists spurned by the Coast League contemporaries. Call it superior judgment, luck, or what you will, but the fact looms clearly that four instances Coast League diamonds were eagerly grabbed by Northwestern League owners last season, and in each instance these players will receive major league tryouts next season.

WILLS ON JUST AS A PARCHEMENT, AND TO TRADE THE EX-COASTER IN MID-SEASON.

Amateur Athletes.

5 DIRECTORS TO BE CHOSEN

A. M. Ellsworth Likely to Be Re-elected President — Handball Tournament Continues to Attract Interest.

The Intercollegiate League will soon arrange inter-school wrestling tournaments, in which all three high schools the boys are becoming well versed in the holds of the wrestling game.

Mc CARTY TO TAKE REST

WELLS SCHEDULED FOR NEXT BOUT JULY 4.

Palzer's Conqueror Says He Will Fight Jack Johnson Only if Public Demands Match.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—(Special.)—Bombrardier Wells on July 4, in this city, will probably be the next match for Luther McCarty. The conqueror of Al Palzer tonight picked out the British champion as his first opponent, as he believes Wells can add luster to his laurels by making him a real world's champion.

The battle has been promised McCarty, and with this point settled in his mind he is planning two weeks' rest before mapping out his immediate future. Tomorrow night he will receive some four-round bouts at Venice and then he himself to the mountains at least for a few days. He thinks he cannot remain in seclusion long since possessed of his new-found popularity.

SPORTING SPARKS

BILL REIDY, manager of the San Francisco Seals, was not lost at all. Although Bill didn't think to write to his boss, Cal Ewing, for two months, he was passing the winter at his home in Cleveland. Bill will have to pass the winter at his home in Cleveland in the running next season, but up to date he has been exceedingly busy doing nothing.

Over Atkins, of the Sacramento club, says he isn't worrying over the report that Athletics has quit baseball for keeps. With the bonus he got for winning 29 games last season, Athletics' salary averaged close to $500 per month, and Atkins doesn't think he will give up a soft snap like that.

Nate Cartmell, the ex-champion intercollegiate sprinter, is slated to succeed Mike Murphy as trainer of the Pennsylvania track team. Cartmell is general favorite at Pennsylvania. For three years there he annexed two sprint events and made the 1908 Olympic team.

"Doing fine," chirped Ivan Olson, of the Cleveland Naps, in Los Angeles a few days back. "I will be here for six weeks more, and then will beat it for Pensacola, Fla., where the Naps are to train. I feel great and think I will have a good year. What's the difference between the big leagues and the minors? Well, that makes me laugh. If you don't count the pitchers such as Johnson, Walsh, Marquard, Plank and that kind, you can't count such fellows as Lajoie, Egan, Schulte, Cook or all over a decide for yourself."

Apparently, if you want to dope a fight winner, watch Ad Wolgast and in one day you can see the other way. After tossing off several thousand on the McCarty-Flynn bout betting on Flynn, Wolgast picked Palzer to mop the lazar-thrasher. Twice up, twice fanned.

Duke Konanmoku, the Hawaiian swimmer, is to meet the veteran C. N. Daniels in a special 100-yard race with the next six or seven months. The American idol recently paid a visit to the New York Athletic Club natatorium. He had not done any swimming for some time, and curiosity led him to go a 100-yard trial. To the surprise of himself and everybody else he tore off the century in 56 1/2 seconds, with in one-fifth of a second of the best time he ever made in that slow pool.

Joe Cohn, the Spokane magnate, has announced that his men will not be asked to sign no-hooper contracts. He says the contracts aren't worth the paper they are written on, as they make liars out of the men. Joe knows whereof he speaks, for he had Halp

ELECTIONS NEAR

Clubmen Much Interested in Coming Event.

5 DIRECTORS TO BE CHOSEN

A. M. Ellsworth Likely to Be Re-elected President — Handball Tournament Continues to Attract Interest.

Political activity will soon overshadow athletic at Multnomah Club, for the board of directors names a nominating committee, which will present 10 names to the Winged "M" membership, from which five will be elected to vacancies on the directorate at the annual election on February 11.

Mc CARTY TO TAKE REST

WELLS SCHEDULED FOR NEXT BOUT JULY 4.

Palzer's Conqueror Says He Will Fight Jack Johnson Only if Public Demands Match.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—(Special.)—Bombrardier Wells on July 4, in this city, will probably be the next match for Luther McCarty. The conqueror of Al Palzer tonight picked out the British champion as his first opponent, as he believes Wells can add luster to his laurels by making him a real world's champion.

SPORTING SPARKS

BILL REIDY, manager of the San Francisco Seals, was not lost at all. Although Bill didn't think to write to his boss, Cal Ewing, for two months, he was passing the winter at his home in Cleveland. Bill will have to pass the winter at his home in Cleveland in the running next season, but up to date he has been exceedingly busy doing nothing.

SEATTLE TO SEND 4 ATHLETES

Blue Diamond Expects to Win Interclub Smoker Here.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 3.—(Special.)—The Seattle Athletic Club will send four representatives to the interclub smoker in Portland. The quartet is the pick of the club's talent and the Blue Diamond expects to land its share of points.

Clarence Rothus, the club's crack boxer, will be one of the entries. Following the list of names are: Harry Kinch, 125; Harry Legner, heavy weight; boxing, Clarence Rothus, 135, and Iri Croshaw, 155.

Lorry Gay, of Multnomah Club, will meet Rothus; Derbushill will oppose Croshaw and Conville will tussle on the mat with Legner. The 125-pound Multnomah wrestler has not been named.

HOGS AND CALVES GAIN

Even Heavy Swine Sell at High Prices — Fancy Young Calves Bring $9 at the Stockyards.

There was a fair run of cattle yesterday, but otherwise receipts at the stock yards were light. The market was a strong one, with a good advance on calves and hogs.

Omaha Livestock Market.

Table with columns for Weight, Price, and various livestock items like steers, calves, hogs, etc.

SAN FRANCISCO PRODUCE MARKET

Table with columns for Price, Quantity, and various produce items like apples, oranges, etc.

SUBPENA SERVED ON JUDGE

Tazwell and Seton, However, Fail to Appear Against Tom Kay.

When summoned into Justice Court to repeat under oath former statements attributed to them, that Tom Kay, special agent for Governor West, is not to be believed under oath, Municipal Judge Tazwell and Waldemar Seton, member of the Executive Board, both defaulted the court call. Tazwell had been formally served with a subpoena, but he disregarded it, and Judge Tazwell had been summoned by telephone, but he also failed to appear. Learning of the move by the defense, Special Prosecutor Ringo issued counter subpoenas, which were responded to by District Attorney Cameron, Chief of Police Slocum, Rev. Clarence True Wilson, Rev. W. F. Bevan, Police Captain Moore, P. E. Beach and John Van Zante. These gentlemen waited all afternoon in the hall of the courtroom, prepared to testify that Kay's reputation for veracity was above question.

Much jockeying preceded the eventual failure to get the character witnesses into court. Attorney Seton had been trying a case just a little before Deputy Constable Westmeister thrust the subpoena into his hands.

"What's this for?" he asked. "I want you to testify as to Kay's veracity," said Attorney Fortia. "Well, you know me," said the attorney, referring to his long-continued friction with Kay.

Judge Tazwell, with no personal motive has become hostile to Kay also and has gone on record as unwilling to believe him under oath.

The courtroom was agog over the impending fireworks, and as the record spread a considerable crowd assembled to hear what passed. As Attorney Ringo, prosecuting the case, and who would have cross-examined the witnesses, had become involved in some bitterness with Judge Tazwell, the examination probably would have been unparalyzing.

The case at issue was the prosecution of Blanche Raymond, accused of keeping a disorderly house at 517 Sixth street, near Market. With her were accused two women and two men, a jury of four citizens returned a verdict of not guilty.

BULL RUN WATER WANTED

Oregon City Expected to File Petition With Portland Board.

Oregon City wants Bull Run water, and yesterday took the first steps to get it, when F. J. Toeze and L. P. Horton, members of the City Council, were called up Mayor Hughlight, of Portland, and asked him if they could be done toward getting a supply of the famous drink.

Mayor Hughlight told the Councilmen that they must submit a written request for the water to the members of the Water Board, where it will be considered. He would not say whether he favors the plan or not, but it is believed that he does, as he has favored granting the right to other places, such as Gresham and Linton, both of which now have obtained the privilege.

World's Championship Wrestling Match

THURSDAY, JAN. 9, 8:00 P. M. Peter Zukos vs. Eddie O'Connell. Multnomah A. A. Club instructor. Welterweight Champion of the World. TWO FAST PRELIMINARIES. OREGON HALL 7th and Oak. Admission $1; Ringside, $1.50.