

LEGITIMATE STAGE END IS PREDICTED

Edison Says "Movies" Will Supplant Modern Form of Theater.

KINETOPHONE IS SUCCESS

Inventor Says New Machine Which Combines Talking With Pictures
Will Make It Possible, for Actors to Live Normally.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Thomas A. Edison said yesterday that he believed the end of the present legitimate stage is at hand as the result of his newest invention, the talking motion-picture machine, called the kinetophone, which proved successful in a demonstration held a few days ago. The inventor explained why he thinks the present stage must give way to a cheaper form of amusement, which he declared will give almost as much as the other for one-twentieth of the price.

"There will be no more barnstormers either," he said, "because no one will be willing to pay for second-class acting, when the foremost stars are performing for the 'movies' and can be seen and heard for a dime."

"We want democracy in our amusements. It is safe to say that only one out of 50 persons in the United States has any real right to spend the price asked for a theater ticket. What chance has the working man for amusements whose income is from $2 to $3 a day? He has no chance at all except that the motion-pictures and the fact that 15,000,000 a day see motion-pictures in the United States shows that the poor realize this."

"The actors will have to leave the legitimate stage to work for the 'movies' in order to get any money. This is all the better for them. They can live in one place all the year round and barnstorming will cease automatically when no one wants to pay several times the amount of a movie show for some inferior production of a stage play. They will be able to lead a normal home life. I can see nothing in the future but big studios, centralized perhaps in New York, employing all the actors all the year round and at a better figure than they now get."

BAKER OFFICIALS ON DUTY

With Exception of Three Force Is Same as Before Election.

BAKER, Or., Jan. 7.—(Special).—With the exception of three, the force of officials for this county that assumed office Monday were the same as they were before the election last November. The new men to assume office at this time are Gustav Anderson, new Circuit Judge, who replaces Judge Smith; C. T. Godwin, new District Attorney, who assumes the duties of county assessor and prosecutor instead of W. S. Levens, and Harry G. Hyde, County Assessor, who takes the place of Jerry Fleetwood. Judge Anderson assumed the duties of his office this morning, as did the others, but will not be called at the Circuit Court office for a day or two. Judge Anderson and W. S. Levens will take up the practice of law.

The other officials who began the new year today are County School Superintendent, Sheriff Rand, County School Commissioner, Sheriff Rand, County Commissioner, Sheriff Rand, County Treasurer, Sheriff Rand, County Surveyor Hoffman, Sheriff Rand.

STATE HOSPITAL ACCEPTED

Work of Contractors on Institution at Pendleton Found O. K.

PENDLETON, Or., Jan. 7.—(Special).—State Architect Knight and J. D. McNary accompanied Secretary of State O'Connell here on Monday, when the latter, on behalf of the State Board, formally accepted the work of the contractors, Olsen & Johnson, on the Eastern Oregon State Mental Hospital, Governor West and State Treasurer Kay were unable to be present.

With the exception of a few minor details, the big $1,000,000 institution is ready for occupancy, some 60 or more patients already being housed and cared for in it.

Favorable comment was bestowed upon the contractors by Secretary O'Connell in the most complimentary manner they had executed their work, especially in view of the fact that they are said not to have made any money under this contract. Mr. O'Connell was accompanied on the trip by his bride, formerly Miss Lena Hutton, of Salem.

TURBINES UNDER CONTROL

German Shipbuilders Harmonize
Speed With That of Propeller.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—(Special).—It is stated by the "Reichs-Anzeiger" that the experiments carried out at the Vulkan Shipyard, Hamburg, have surmounted the difficulty of harmonizing the economical speed of the turbine with that of the propeller. The contrivance employed is a transformer, invented by Professor Foettinger, of which it is said "it solves the problem hydraulically, pumps and turbine wheels, steadily and noiselessly."

"The turbines themselves always run in the same direction and speed, so that no special reversing turbines are necessary, and efficiency up to 90 per cent is attained with reversal in the shortest time imaginable."

Trials were made with an engine of 7500 horsepower, which ran without break for fourteen days and nights.

ROCKEFELLER AT BAHAMA

Money Baron Sought by House Committee Apparently Well.

NASSAU, New Providence, Bahama, Jan. 7.—William Rockefeller, whose presence as a witness before the House money trust investigating committee at Washington has been particularly sought by Chairman Pugh, arrived at Nassau on Friday last.

Mr. Rockefeller apparently is in good health.

SALONICANS DISCARD FEZ

Churches Restored to Christendom
Are Rechristened at Once.

SALONICA, Jan. 4.—(Special).—Salonica is a far different city from what it was a few months ago under Turkish rule. Crowds of people everywhere fill the narrow streets of the old town

5 REMEDIES ASKED

Stephen A. Lowell Urges Support of Amendments.

LETTERS SENT TO SOLONS

Pendleton Attorney Makes Plan to
Render Popular Government Plan
Justifiable in Public Mind.

Changes Suggested.

In proposing five amendments to the Oregon system, Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, also recommends that the approaching Legislature will enact over the Governor's veto, the Rusk bill, adopted at the 1911 session, adding a second choice provision to the primary election law of the state. With the enactment of this measure and the amendments he has suggested, Mr. Lowell believes that a great deal will be done to strengthen the system of popular government in this state and render it less liable to criticism.

At the same time, Mr. Lowell has addressed a letter to every member of the Legislature soliciting their support of the measures he has proposed. In this letter he explains each bill, which will be introduced by members of the Umatilla County delegation, in the following terms:

"I have proposed them as a friend of popular government, and believe that their enactment into law will serve to strengthen the Oregon system and restore confidence therein."

Amendments Are Urged.

"In my judgment, unless the Legislature finds some remedy for existing faults in the operation of the initiative, referendum and corrupt practices act, there is danger that the tide of public sentiment will turn against these laws; and those of us who believe in their value ought to be courageous enough to correct them in accordance with the demands of reason."

"The first amendment which I have adopted to touch any of the measures adopted by the people, but surely the Legislature has its place in the government, and the people have a right to demand that the Legislature shall amend any law which manifestly requires amendment."

"The first limits the number of measures which may be placed upon the ballot in any one election under initiative petition. It does not, however, extend to the referendum, nor to laws referred to the people by the Legislature, nor to local measures. I am convinced that public sentiment demands an amendment of this character, the mass of voters being disgusted with the multiplicity of measures upon which they have been asked to vote at the last two elections."

"The second permits candidates, in lieu of circulating petitions for nomination, to pay a reasonable election price to the voters. It recognizes that petitions have become a nuisance, and the state might as well have the money which candidates now pay to men who circulate such petitions."

"The third and fourth relate to the corrupt practices act, and make clear that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

5 REMEDIES ASKED

Stephen A. Lowell Urges Sup-
port of Amendments.

LETTERS SENT TO SOLONS

Pendleton Attorney Makes Plan to
Render Popular Government Plan
Justifiable in Public Mind.

Changes Suggested.

In proposing five amendments to the Oregon system, Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, also recommends that the approaching Legislature will enact over the Governor's veto, the Rusk bill, adopted at the 1911 session, adding a second choice provision to the primary election law of the state. With the enactment of this measure and the amendments he has suggested, Mr. Lowell believes that a great deal will be done to strengthen the system of popular government in this state and render it less liable to criticism.

At the same time, Mr. Lowell has addressed a letter to every member of the Legislature soliciting their support of the measures he has proposed. In this letter he explains each bill, which will be introduced by members of the Umatilla County delegation, in the following terms:

"I have proposed them as a friend of popular government, and believe that their enactment into law will serve to strengthen the Oregon system and restore confidence therein."

Amendments Are Urged.

"In my judgment, unless the Legislature finds some remedy for existing faults in the operation of the initiative, referendum and corrupt practices act, there is danger that the tide of public sentiment will turn against these laws; and those of us who believe in their value ought to be courageous enough to correct them in accordance with the demands of reason."

"The first amendment which I have adopted to touch any of the measures adopted by the people, but surely the Legislature has its place in the government, and the people have a right to demand that the Legislature shall amend any law which manifestly requires amendment."

"The first limits the number of measures which may be placed upon the ballot in any one election under initiative petition. It does not, however, extend to the referendum, nor to laws referred to the people by the Legislature, nor to local measures. I am convinced that public sentiment demands an amendment of this character, the mass of voters being disgusted with the multiplicity of measures upon which they have been asked to vote at the last two elections."

"The second permits candidates, in lieu of circulating petitions for nomination, to pay a reasonable election price to the voters. It recognizes that petitions have become a nuisance, and the state might as well have the money which candidates now pay to men who circulate such petitions."

"The third and fourth relate to the corrupt practices act, and make clear that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

5 REMEDIES ASKED

Stephen A. Lowell Urges Sup-
port of Amendments.

LETTERS SENT TO SOLONS

Pendleton Attorney Makes Plan to
Render Popular Government Plan
Justifiable in Public Mind.

Changes Suggested.

In proposing five amendments to the Oregon system, Judge Stephen A. Lowell, of Pendleton, also recommends that the approaching Legislature will enact over the Governor's veto, the Rusk bill, adopted at the 1911 session, adding a second choice provision to the primary election law of the state. With the enactment of this measure and the amendments he has suggested, Mr. Lowell believes that a great deal will be done to strengthen the system of popular government in this state and render it less liable to criticism.

At the same time, Mr. Lowell has addressed a letter to every member of the Legislature soliciting their support of the measures he has proposed. In this letter he explains each bill, which will be introduced by members of the Umatilla County delegation, in the following terms:

"I have proposed them as a friend of popular government, and believe that their enactment into law will serve to strengthen the Oregon system and restore confidence therein."

Amendments Are Urged.

"In my judgment, unless the Legislature finds some remedy for existing faults in the operation of the initiative, referendum and corrupt practices act, there is danger that the tide of public sentiment will turn against these laws; and those of us who believe in their value ought to be courageous enough to correct them in accordance with the demands of reason."

"The first amendment which I have adopted to touch any of the measures adopted by the people, but surely the Legislature has its place in the government, and the people have a right to demand that the Legislature shall amend any law which manifestly requires amendment."

"The first limits the number of measures which may be placed upon the ballot in any one election under initiative petition. It does not, however, extend to the referendum, nor to laws referred to the people by the Legislature, nor to local measures. I am convinced that public sentiment demands an amendment of this character, the mass of voters being disgusted with the multiplicity of measures upon which they have been asked to vote at the last two elections."

"The second permits candidates, in lieu of circulating petitions for nomination, to pay a reasonable election price to the voters. It recognizes that petitions have become a nuisance, and the state might as well have the money which candidates now pay to men who circulate such petitions."

"The third and fourth relate to the corrupt practices act, and make clear that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general election not more than 10 per cent of his salary, and providing that in each case the actual traveling expenses and hotel bills of a candidate, while engaged in his campaign, shall be paid."

"The fifth corrects the manifest omission in what is known as the ballot rotation law. It is a recognized fact that there shall be no candidate for any office who has been convicted of a crime, and that no candidate for any office shall be allowed to receive more than 15 per cent of his first year's salary and at the general