STATE REQUIREMENT TOLD

Multuomah County's Share of Expense Will Be $410,188.48.

Multnomah County will be called pon to furnish $410,188.48 of the money required for state purposes. County Clerk Coffey was so informed in a notication received from Secretary of State Olcott yesterday morning. This is about 40 per cent of the entire amount. In the same communication was contained the information that this county's apportionment of the assessed val. ty's apportionment of the assessed val-uation made by the State Tax Board is $31,118,909, bringing the total county assessment to $335,112,074.

Figured on a basis of the assessment for the entire state, a tax of 1.2 mills would provide the money estimated to be necessary to run the state government and institutions, but this de take into account rebates, delinquencies, etc.

In this county the rate for state purposes probably will be at least two and probably four-tenths of a mill higher in order to allow for these items. If this results in there being money over it will automatically go into the general fund.

The receipt of this information from the State Tax Board leaves the way open for the County Court to make the levy for the year, the City of Portland, Port of Portland, School District No. 1 and all other tax-levying bodies hav-ing reported previously the miliage nec-essary to raise the amounts they require. The County Commissioners are now busy figuring out the county general and county road levies and as soon as this is done they will be in a position to decide definitely what the entire

F. D. HENNESSY IN TROUBLE

Former Prosecutor's Pet Setter May Lead to Arrest.

After four years of putting people in jail, Frank D. Hennessy, Deputy Dis-trict Attorney until last Monday, now faces a dose of his own medicine. He is viewing the catastrophe with small degrees of accomplative faces a dose of his own medicine. He is viewing the catastrophe with small degree of equanimity.

The worst part of it is, Hennessy is likely to be arrested, no matter what course he takes. If he selzes one horn of the dilemma the poundmaster is sure to get him, and if he turn to the other the humane society is almost certain to go after him.

Hennessy owns a big Llewellyn setter, and asserts that he has duly paid the license tax and received the usual tag. However, when it comes to displaying the badge, as required by ordinance, the dog's master is "up against it." For the big dog has a big goitre, making the wearing of a collar impossible, and without a collar the tag seems impossible. The dog even has to sleep at night with his head on a stool specially provided for the purpose. To put a collar on him would be such an act as inevitably would draw forth the wrath of Sergeant Crate and the Humane Society.

Yesterday Poundmaster Welch "arrested" the dog, and the former prosecutor had to pay $1 to get his pet out of the case. At that time he was cutor had to pay $1 to get his pet out of the cage. At that time he was warned that the animal would be picked up as often as it was found without its tag. Hennessy was busy yesterday por-ing over law books and consulting le-gal luminaries. "I can't see any way out," he said, "unless I put the tag on as often as it was found
