DEBATING TEAM PICKED

VARSITY MEN CHOSEN IN THREE TRY-OUTS.

Washington and Stanford Will Be Met March 28, but Utah Date Is not Definitely Decided.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—Hard work will be the lot of the University of Oregon debaters chosen in the tryout Friday, preparatory to their contests with Utah, Stanford and Washington.

Washington and Stanford will be met the same night, when the two Oregon teams will take opposite sides of the question to be discussed. Three debates will be held March 28. The date for the contest with Utah has not been agreed on, but it will be in the latter part of February.

The team this year was selected in three tryouts.

Howard Zimmerman, of Salem, a senior, was given first place by the judges and was awarded the alumni medal as best individual debater in the university. Zimmerman is considered one of the most logical talkers who ever mounted the rostrum as an Oregon representative. He made the 'varsity team in his freshmen year and duplicated the performance as a sophomore.

Vernon Motschenbacher, of Klamath Falls, received second ranking this year. He is a junior and made the 'varsity in his freshman year. As a freshman, Motschenbacher was a member of the Oregon team which won a unanimous decision over Stanford in Palo Alto.

David Pickett, who was given third place, is registered from Prineville. He is a senior in college, but did not distinguish himself as a spellbinder until last year.

Dalzell King, of Myrtle Point, who captured fourth place, is the "dark horse" of this year's tryout. Previous to this year he has made no bid for fame as a 'varsity debater, although a member of the junior class.

Herbert W. Lombard, of Eugene, and Otto Heider, of Sheridan, were chosen as alternates.

ASHLAND DEBATERS LOSE

Klamath Falls School Team Wins Southern Oregon Championship.

ASHLAND, Or., Jan. 12.—The Klamath Falls High School debating team won a victory over the Ashland team Friday and was awarded the championship of the Southern Oregon district of the State Debating League. The question was, "Resolved, That life imprisonment, with restricted power of pardon, would be a desirable substitute for capital punishment in Oregon," Klamath Falls taking the affirmative.

The debate was well contested, both sides agreeing that the central point of the debate was the question as to which best protects society. The affirmative held that life imprisonment had a greater deterrent effect and that it gave a chance for the reformation of the murderer. They also maintained that capital punishment is bestial and that crime is a disease both to be cured and prevented. The negative held that the pardon power would be abused, that criminals would escape and endanger society. They attempted to show also that life is safer in capital punishment states than in life imprisonment states.

The Klamath Falls debaters were Forrest Bell, leader; Edwin Cox and Annie Hales. Ashland was represented by Jay Withrow, leader; Walter Carpenter and LeRoy Ashcroft.

QUARANTINE IS PROTESTED

Idaho Senate Resents California Action in Resolution.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—The Senate of the Twelfth Idaho Legislature today went on record protesting against the quarantine placed on Idaho alfalfa by the State of California, and the appropriation asked for by the state with which properly to install buildings and an Idaho exhibit at the San Francisco exposition. The protest was registered through the adoption of a resolution by Senator Robinson.

Senator Hedrick introduced a bank depositor's guarantee bill in the upper house, the object of the measure being to protect depositors from bank looters.

The celebrated anti-gambling bill sponsored by Senator Fields, of Latah County, was made of record and strikes directly at the Alan race track of Northern Idaho.

Lobbying against the bill, the heavy stockholders in the track were evident as early as today.
