

KING FINDS PATH TO CABINET ROAD

Democratic Western Senators, Except Chamberlain, Warmly Oppose Candidacy.

ACTIVE WORK HAS HURT

Wilson's Avowal He Will Appoint No Man Who Sought Place Openly Recalled-Patronage Claims Have Made Trouble.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 12.—Will R. King, Democratic National committee member for Oregon, will not be appointed Secretary of the Interior if President-elect Wilson heeds the advice of Western Democratic Senators, for almost without exception these Senators are bitterly opposed to King, but have no issue of Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, although the Oregon Senator is on record as favoring the appointment of Joseph N. Teal, of Portland, as for King only in the event Teal is eliminated from the fight.

André Wortman, his candidacy. This might have been well but for the fact that each of the states invaded by King in his own behalf had one or more candidates for the Interior Department, and that if he could not be appointed Secretary of the Interior he would prevent the appointment of Teal, using his office of National committee member as a campaign that end. Immediately after this declaration of purpose King went west and in California, Washington, Idaho and several other states he personally solicited the support of Democratic leaders for his candidacy, sometimes entering into bargains with those leaders to clinch their support.

This might have been well but for the fact that each of the states invaded by King in his own behalf had one or more candidates for the Interior Department, and that if he could not be appointed Secretary of the Interior he would prevent the appointment of Teal, using his office of National committee member as a campaign that end. Immediately after this declaration of purpose King went west and in California, Washington, Idaho and several other states he personally solicited the support of Democratic leaders for his candidacy, sometimes entering into bargains with those leaders to clinch their support.

Rule Disturbs Westerners. It is this that is bothering the Western Democratic Senators, for a strict adherence to this announcement would prevent the appointment of Governor Hawley, of Idaho, or any other California Democrat, of Hugh Wallace or George Turner or any other Washington Democrat, and probably would prevent the appointment of men from several other states where King has been endorsed.

Further Irritation Caused. This attitude of Mr. King has served also to irritate the Western Democrats, who are inclined to regard King's gratuitous offer to control Federal patronage as an extension of the height of presumption. By arraying himself with the anti-Hawley element of the Idaho Democracy, Mr. King has aroused the wrath of the close friends of the Governor, and the prominent Democrats of that faction, and his alignment with Helmer of Seattle in Jackson County, has alienated the other wing of the Washington Democracy.

Club Quartet Featured. People's Theater Presents Program of Good Specialties. Five individual subjects, the Ad Club quartet, and Miss Phyllis Allen combined in a splendid entertainment at the Peoples Theater yesterday.

Another Man's Wife. A domestic drama, was full of heart interest. "The Mouse," a Thansouiser, revealed the secrets of a shopgirl's life, and the "Beloved Duellists" and "Comedies and Back" were two as funny comedies as have been recently shown here.

heart. Good-Bye" in beautiful style and the Ad Club quartet made a hit. The Star's headline, "In the Rank" is a story of a plain soldier, who loves the colonel's daughter. Her father has higher ambitions and with a brother officer they conspire to send the girl's sweetheart among hostile Indians. But the girl elopes with him and after passing through perilous adventures, the wronged man is able to save the father and the entire fort. The battles and sieges are most spectacular.

The Evidence of the Film shows how a camera man accidentally caught a broken attempt to fantasize a crime on an innocent messenger boy, and "A Night of Terror" proved to be a seriocomic affair. The "Three Kings of Harmony" sang well and were encored many times. The Arcade offered a clever and attractive photo play programme and presented a novelty in Signor Michael DeSantis, a harpist of rare ability, and Roy Detrich, whose singing is a feature. The programme is of a historical and spectacular character, featuring "The Payson and Sons," a Civil War story of the kind that holds the attention and brings the tears.

The "Mutiny of Mr. Henpeck" was really comedy, offering suggestions for any poor mortals whose wives rule with rods of iron. A Balkan War picture and two educational films blended into a fine bill.

JACKSON COUNTY LOSES ONE OF PICTURESQUE PIONEERS.

GOLD HILL, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Adam Sismore, one of the last of the pioneers of the Gold Hill area, passed away upon the long trail at his home in this city on Monday, January 6. For some time past Mr. Sismore had been suffering from Bright's disease, and his death was not unexpected. He is survived by his aged wife, of this city, and his only relative at Fort Klamath and Roseburg. In the pioneer days of Oregon, Adam Sismore played a leading part in the drama of development and was widely known. He was born in Kentucky in 1837. In 1854 young Sismore answered the call of the Kentucky blood, and crossed the plains to Salt Lake City, traveling by wagon, and thence to Yreka, Cal. Residing in Yreka eight years, in 1862 he set out on foot to travel through Oregon, eventually arriving on the Willamette in Benton. Mr. Sismore then went to Lewiston, Idaho. In 1865 he married Miss Nancy Langley, and returned to Oregon in 1867, locating in Jackson County. Since 1884 he lived at Gold Hill.

Beaver and will remain a couple of days on official business.

Rebellion is Encountered. "Since spending a delightful 10 days here last summer with the Maryland, during the Rose Festival, we cruised to Alaska waters, then to Acapulco, and played a small part in a revolution there. Later we had the honor to take Secretary of State Knox to Japan to attend the funeral of the late Mikado and upon our return with him engaged in target practice. My vessel is at present laid up at Vallejo, receiving an annual inspection and general overhauling and it is the intention for her to go into commission again during March, when we will go south for more target practice.

Aid Urged for Militia. "I have always taken an active interest in the Oregon Naval Militia, and it is my hope that it is prospering, as it has every opportunity to do, and it should receive hearty support from the state and city, for the time will come when it will be appreciated. "My trip up the coast in the Beaver was a delightful one and I cannot refrain from commenting on the cleanliness of that vessel. In fact, I never saw any vessel, other than a warship, so clean and I could not help noticing that there was perfect harmony throughout the entire crew, from Captain Mason down to the youngest sailor."

SCHOONER ANVIL ARRIVES Series of Gales Interrupt Coast Trip of Motor Vessel.

After being absent for nearly a month, the motor schooner Anvil arrived in the river yesterday, and will discharge and be ready to leave out again by Wednesday morning. During her absence she has encountered a succession of storms and has been in every one of the Northern Oregon coast ports, sometimes running in for safety, and at other times making quick trips between them with freight when the opportunity offered.

BEAVER ARRIVES ON SCHEDULE

Captain Mason Reports Pleasant Passage North. Although the wind was reported to have reached a velocity of 73 miles an hour at North Head Saturday night, the steamer Beaver experienced no delay, arriving here yesterday from San Francisco on schedule time. Captain Mason, chief master, reported that the trip up the coast was a pleasant one for this time of the year. He found the Columbia River entrance perfectly smooth in coming up yesterday. He expressed surprise that such conditions could have existed during the previous night, as his barometer did not indicate other than normal weather.

Marine Notes. The motor schooner Tillamook arrived yesterday from Oregon coast ports with a cargo of dairy products. The steamer Geo. W. Elder arrived yesterday from California ports with freight and passengers after a fair and uneventful passage. The oil tank steamer Oleum sailed for California yesterday after having discharged her cargo of fuel oil. Captain Collins, of the wrecked British bark Torriondale, has received sufficient money from its owners to pay the crew off and he will do so as soon as the investigation over the loss of the vessel is completed. The McCormack Lumber Company will sail today from San Francisco for this port. While the British ship Antiope was loading lumber at Tacoma on Saturday a large atack, 14x14 inches and 30 feet long, got away from the stevedores and did considerable damage to her hull.

TO SEEK POSITION OF CITY AUDITOR. Dudley R. Clarke, who was born in Portland 26 years ago and who is one of the best-known men here, yesterday announced himself as a candidate for the position of City Auditor, now held by A. L. Barber. The latter will also try for the place again. Mr. Clarke is noted as an athlete, having played football and baseball on the university team. He was educated at Portland Academy and the University of Oregon, being graduated from the latter institution in 1910. He was employed by a Portland printing establishment for a time and later was with the Equitable Life Company. He served as reading clerk of the lower house last session of the Legislature and probably will serve in the same capacity this term, as he has no opposition for the place. He has a host of friends throughout the city. He is a member of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club and the University Club. While he has always been active in athletics, he says his athletic career is over and he will henceforth devote his time exclusively to business.

OPEN RIVER IS SOUGHT

COLUMBIA AND SNAKE REPRESENTATIVES MEET. Plan Proposed for Purchase of Existing Line of Boats and Committee Will Perfect Project.

PASCO, Wash., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—An attempt to secure representative of the commercial bodies of the Columbia and Snake River basins, held Sunday, in the rooms of the Pasco Chamber of Commerce, definite action was taken upon the question of the future operation of the open river steamboats.

The meeting was presided over by the fact that regular schedules guaranteed and satisfactory rates maintained, the general disposition of merchants in cities tributary to the river lines, would be liberally patronized and the various authorities, including the board of navigation, were also received by the meeting, from responsible steamboat men, that under encouraging conditions they would be willing to take over the Open River fleet and guarantee satisfactory service and rates. Thorough discussion of the subject took place and a general committee was authorized to represent the various towns affected by the proposed service, whose duty it shall be to take practical steps for such organization as may be necessary to cooperate with the steamboat men in establishing a satisfactory service.

Definite organization was effected by the election of Dr. N. G. Blalock, of Walla, chairman; Wallace Struble, of Lewiston, secretary, and Captain W. P. Gray, of Pasco, as an executive committee with power to appoint the steamer men and to negotiate with the Open River Transportation Company and steamboat captains looking to the purchase of the boats of the first named company.
