Only Three Convictions by

Impeachments of President Johnson and Justice Chase Result of Bitter Partisan Feeling and Both Result in Acquittal.

NINE IMPEACHMENT CASES CONSIDERED IN UNITED STATES SENATE.

- William Blount, United States Senator, 1797-98, no trial, lack of jurisdiction.
- John Pickens, United States District Judge, 1804-05, tried, found guilty and removed from office.
- Samuel Chase, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, 1804-05, tried and acquitted.
- James Peck, United States District Judge, 1828-30, tried and acquitted.
- West H. Humphries, United States District Judge, 1832, tried, found guilty and removed from office.
- Andrew Johnson, President, 1868, tried and acquitted.
- W. W. Belknap, Secretary of War, 1876, tried, failed of conviction on ground of lack of jurisdiction.
- Charles Swaine, United States District Judge, 1893, tried and acquitted.
- Robert W. Archbold, Judge of United States Commerce Court, 1912-13, tried, found guilty and removed from office.

In a century and a quarter there have been only nine impeachment proceedings against a civil officer of the United States Government officially instituted in the United States Senate and, until the conviction of Judge Robert W. Archbold yesterday, only two of the trials resulted in conviction. Both the others found guilty were Judges of the Federal District Court. Of those who failed of conviction, one was a Secretary of War, one a Justice of the United States Supreme Court, one a President and two District Court Judges.

ALL BUT SIX DESERT ARCHBOLD

On the fifth charge, that he corruptly influenced officials of the Reading Railroad to grant a coal land lease to Frederick Warnke, and had received compensation for this service, Judge Archbold received the support of only six Senators: Burnham, Catron, Clark of Wyoming, Oliver, Faynter and Penrose. He was convicted 6 to 5 on this article.

On the last article of impeachment, alleging that Judge Archbold had sought credit from attorneys and litigants before him and had carried on a general business in coal land speculations, many Senators asked to be excused from voting, declaring the charges were so general they could not conscientiously vote either way. The final vote resulted in conviction on this article also, 42 to 20.

On the charge that he had wrongfully accepted a purse of $500 raised among Scranton attorneys, the vote was 65 (not guilty) and 1 (guilty), the single vote being cast by Senator Ashurst, of Arizona.

The new members of the executive committee who succeeded Judge Lovett, Mr. Kahn, Mr. Schiff and Mr. Vanderlip are James N. Wallace, Robert Goellet and P. S. Penrose.

Julius Kruttschnitt resigned as vice-president of the Union Pacific and was elected chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific to succeed Judge Lovett.

Alexander Millar resigned as secretary of the Southern Pacific. His successor will be elected later.

Selection of Mr. Kruttschnitt as chairman of the Southern Pacific board excited no surprise, as he has devoted the greater part of his attention to that property and has under way a comprehensive plan for its further rebuilding.

No Objection Expected. It is acknowledged frankly that the plan to separate the Southern and stockholder systems now centers around the ownership of the Central Pacific Railroad.

The plan to separate the Southern and stockholder systems now centers around the ownership of the Central Pacific Railroad. The result hinges largely on the price to be paid for the property.

It is intimated that the board of the Southern Pacific is understood that Attorney-General Wickersham will plan to take up with the members of both directorates by the Southern to the Union Pacific will be the center of the plan.

Mr. Wickersham will offer no objection to the acquisition of the Central Pacific by the Union Pacific if it can be accomplished under the aid of the Southern Pacific stock now owned by the Union Pacific insiders.

MAXWELL, THE TAILOR
Importer of Foreign Woolens

246 WASHINGTON STREET
Portland, Oregon, January 14, 1913

To My Friends and Patrons:-- Dull Winter months are upon us. We are confronted with high prices on nearly all commodities. I have a staff of men with families to feed. January and February are between-season months. Merchant tailors have little or nothing to do. In order to keep the wolf from the doors of my men, I must, with the co-operation of you, keep the men at work, so they can earn enough wages to feed their families.

- $27.50 Suits or Overcoats to order . . . $19.50
- $30.00 Suits or Overcoats to order . . . $22.00
- $35 and $37.50 Suits or Overcoats to order $25.00
- $40.00 Suits or Overcoats to order . . . $27.50
- $45.00 Suits or Overcoats to order . . . $30.00

You can pick your choice from my immense stock, including my celebrated English Blue Worsted Serge. This is a splendid OPPORTUNITY to secure your Spring Suit at ONE-THIRD OFF regular prices. With such strong inducements we expect to take enough orders to keep our men busy during the remainder of January and February--the dullest months on the calendar for tailors.

Remember I use the highest grade of linings, such as mohair, serge, alpaca and farmer's satin.

I adopted this policy of using high-grade trimmings in all clothes made by me years ago.

MY GUARANTEE:--I have been established in business over 20 years and the thousands of suits I have made testify to my ability and integrity. All garments are cut by me personally and all are made under my personal supervision.

Very truly yours,
Maxwell

THEFT STORY TOLD

Negro Explains How Archbold Letters Were Obtained.

PAPER'S ACTIVITY IS SHOWN

Senate Committee Informed That Gangsters Kidnaped Foraker's Agent and Robbed Him in Newspaper Office.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A story of how copies of letters from John D. Archbold to ex-Senator Foraker and other public men were taken from the Standard Oil files and disposed of by the Southern Pacific is understood that Attorney-General Wickersham will plan to take up with the members of both directorates by the Southern to the Union Pacific will be the center of the plan.

Very street, however, believes that a very considerable part of the Southern stockholders' committee, who heard the letters published were forgeries, whether they were found in Chicago, Stewart said, and told him a story of how he and Stump took copies of letters from the Standard Oil files and disposed of them to a representative of the New York Examiner.

While in Chicago on December 31, Stewart declared, he was kidnaped by gangsters, taken to the office of the Chicago Examiner and robbed of a number of letters and papers, including two letters to him from ex-Senator Foraker. The man who kidnaped him, he said, told him they were policemen, exhibited what purported to be warrants and attempted to make believe the Examiner office was a police station.
