

'WORK EVERY DAY' MALARKEY MOTTO

Opposition Members in Senate Narrow Down to Two With Carson in Line.

LONG DEBATE IS BARRED

High-Water Mark in Accomplishment Is Predicted and Committees Will Be Required to Report Bills Promptly.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Indications that the State Senate this year will live up to predictions of the past few weeks and carry on business expeditiously and faithfully were fully brought out in the main organization fight of the day carried on against the majority by Joseph and Kellaher, of Multnomah County.

The Carson boom collapsed entirely and with Carson casting his vote for Malarkey there now seems to remain but two opposition members in the upper house to carry on filibustering tactics.

As a result it seems positive that the debate of former sessions which have revolved around questions not pertinent to important legislation at hand will be relegated to the rear and long discussions on the question of the advisability of continuing the Oregon system and similar discussions which have consumed two-thirds of the time will be done away with.

Malarkey Urges Haste. President Malarkey declares himself as intending to establish a business-like and speedy session which will hasten needed legislation to completion as early as possible.

He declared himself as in favor of working complete weeks, including Saturdays, if necessary, as long as there is a scrap of proposed legislation on the desk and it is proposed to take adjournments only at such times as the desks are cleared.

He expressed himself as opposed to extended speaking on questions which are foreign to the business in hand, and also against the use of men who voted for him, intend to see that a new high-water mark is established in the history of Legislatures in Oregon.

"The first week of the session should be a week of work," declared the newly elected President in addressing the members of the Senate in his inaugural address.

Committees to Report Promptly. Another move which he urged toward expediting legislation was in securing prompt reports from committees.

From indications today there never was a Senate in the history of Oregon Legislatures that gives such promise of putting legislation through with accuracy and dispatch as that now in session.

SENATE SHATTERS PRECEDENT

Twenty Bills Rushed to Printer by Upper House on First Day.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—All Senate precedents were shattered this afternoon when that body remained in session until nearly 8 o'clock on the first day of the session and 20 bills were introduced to be rushed to the printer.

The introduction of bills came at President Malarkey's suggestion immediately following the joint convention between the two houses which met to hear the reading of Governor West's message.

Included was the first bill for an appropriation of $500,000 for the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Other bills introduced by Senator Joseph. As a matter of courtesy, Miss Dora Gray, the first girl page in the Senate, was asked to carry the bill to the desk.

Lowell Programme Out. Senator Barrett also introduced bills covering the programme of Judge Lowell, as to the correction of laws act and to amendments of the initiative and referendum laws.

Bills were also introduced providing for the repeal of the law providing for co-educational boards and rural supervisors and for the repeal of the act creating the Oregon Naval Militia.

Following are the Senate bills introduced today: S. B. 1, by Joseph—Providing for an appropriation of $500,000 for the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

S. B. 2, by Smith, of Coos and Curry—Relating to fixing of attorney's fees, and to amend section 249, Lord's Oregon Laws, to provide for the payment of attorneys' fees in certain cases.

S. B. 3, by Neuner—Relating to penalty for certain unnatural crimes.

S. B. 4, by Neuner—Extending law as to action for recovering from trespassers to livestock to apply to sheep and goats.

S. B. 5, by Carson—Establishing the south boundary of Marion County.

lot and eliminating numbers on ballots. S. B. 18, by Barrett—Limiting number of measures under initiative presented to people at any one election.

RETRENCHMENT NOTE SOUNDS

Senate on First Day Exhibits Desire to Trim Expenses.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Resolutions that flood the State Senate today covering a wide range of subjects not only indicate in some particulars retrenchment and expedition, but their introduction also shows the President Malarkey intends to rule with a rod of iron where his bitterest opponents in the organization fight are concerned.

Kellaher several times endeavored to push through a resolution providing that all resolutions should be referred to a committee on resolutions, but Calkins of Lane was given the right of way with an identical resolution after Kellaher had been ruled out of order.

Dimick introduced a resolution that no act, measure, memorial or resolution should be introduced after the 15th day of the session without unanimous consent.

Indications point to the probability of the "no smoking" sign again hanging in the Senate, two similar resolutions being introduced to that effect. This rule prevailed throughout the last session and is meeting again with almost unanimous approval.

An effort will be made to eliminate all overtime, double time and payment for working on holidays among the clerks and stenographers of the Senate, according to provision made in a resolution introduced by Patton of Marion.

The memorial urging assistance for Coos Bay was adopted. The Senate committee on resolutions will include Calkins, Butler, Dimick, Miller and Moser.

Numerous minor resolutions were also introduced dealing with the rules of the Senate and the question of supplies and privileges for the members.

PEOPLE GET MEMORIAL

LEGISLATURE READY TO RECEIVE SUGGESTIONS.

Plan Outlined to Cut Down Length of Ballot at Future Election by Proposing Laws to Body.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Declaring that the Legislature is ready and willing to enact any meritorious legislation that may come from the people of Oregon, a joint memorial adopted by the house today invites all who have legislation to propose to submit it to the Legislature.

Instead of keeping it to lengthen the list of initiative measures that will be submitted at the next election. The resolution was introduced in the House by Representative Blanchard, of Josephine, and reads as follows:

To the Sovereign People of the State of Oregon: Your memorialists, the Twenty-seventh Legislature, respectfully present for your consideration the following:

That the 27th General Assembly, now in session, approving of the purposes and intent of the initiative and referendum, and desiring to make the same more effective, and to carry out the express will of the people, now therefore, be it resolved, the Senate doth hereby pass the following:

That the 27th General Assembly, now in session, approving of the purposes and intent of the initiative and referendum, and desiring to make the same more effective, and to carry out the express will of the people, now therefore, be it resolved, the Senate doth hereby pass the following:

President's Suggestion That Documents Be Introduced at Once Is Favored—Session Runs Over to 6 o'Clock—Bills Named.

of Clackamas switched to Cochran and the fight was closed. For reading clerk another close fight developed. Frank Foster, of Portland, who for a number of years has been reading clerk, being defeated by Ben Huntington, of Drain, Multnomah County, who was elected reading clerk.

Two ballots were required to determine who should be sergeant-at-arms. Colonel W. G. D. Mercer, of Eugene, being elected finally over T. Hills, of Washington County; F. X. Kirk, of Portland, and Joseph Riley, of Multnomah County.

George Crane, of Douglas County, was elected floor clerk over Henry P. Ford, Crane receiving 22 votes to his opponent's eight. J. I. Moreland, of Hood River, was elected mailing clerk. His competitors were: L. E. Warford, Linn; E. E. Groves, Marion, and B. B. Buchanan, Douglas. Three ballots were required to settle this contest.

Drager Calls Home to Order. With all of the 60 members in their seats, W. P. Drager, chief clerk of the last session, called the House of Representatives to order at 10:05 A. M. Rev. R. V. Avilon, of Salem, delivered the invocation, asking the Almighty to bless and prosper the work of the session.

Representative Latourette, of Multnomah, nominated P. O. Bonebrake, of Benton, for a majority of the members of the House of Representatives, and his election followed by acclamation. Drager was then elected chief clerk in the same way.

A committee on permanent organization of business was named, consisting of Abbott, of Multnomah; Westerlund, of Jackson; Mann, of Umatilla; Barton, of Coos, and Hughes, of Marion. The committee chairman was named consisting of Handley, of Tillamook; Eaton, of Lane, and Upton, of Multnomah.

The House took a recess until 10:45, following which the credentials committee reported all members duly qualified. The only member about whose qualifications there had been any question was Mr. Arthur, of Clatsop County, against whom charges of violating the corrupt practice act were brought. The verdict of the court exonerating him was placed on the minutes.

Oath of Office Given. Thomas A. McBride, Chief Justice of Oregon, administered the oath of office to the members of the House of Representatives, which included the following: J. D. Woodman, of Yamhill, elected Speaker in a speech in which he referred to the honor. There were no other nominations and Mr. McArthur's election was unanimous, with the exception of his own vote, which was cast for P. O. Bonebrake, of Benton.

The Speaker-elect was escorted to the chair by a committee composed of Representatives Letourrette, Chapman and Thoms, where he received the oath of office from Chief Justice McBride.

In a brief speech, thanking the House for the honor, Speaker McArthur made a plea for the twenty-seventh Oregon Legislature to re-establish the Provisional Government. The House was completed by the election of J. D. Woodman, of Yamhill, elected sergeant-at-arms; R. R. Corey, of Baker, doorkeeper, and the following clerks: W. F. Drager, of Marion, chief clerk; Harry McClellan, of Douglas, assistant chief clerk; Dudley R. Clark, of Multnomah, reading clerk; W. B. Turner, of Wheeler, calendar clerk; W. F. McAdams, of Polk, mailing clerk.

The oath of office was administered to the officials by Speaker McArthur. The Speaker appointed as pages Harold Bonebrake, son of Representative Bonebrake, of Benton, and Charles Bonebrake, son of Representative Meek, of Washington.

Representative Reames presented a resolution, which was adopted, that the House of Representatives be in force until the committee on rules had reported. The House adjourned until 2:30 o'clock.
