

CLERGYMAN AGAIN ELUDES OFFICERS

Rev. Frank Horn Disappears After Being Found Hiding in Belfry.

TWIN STORY IS DOUBTED

Woman Suing for Divorce Finds What She Says Are Her Belongings When Search is Made of Pastor's Study.

RICHMOND, Cal., Jan. 16.—Although police surrounded the parsonage of Rev. Frank Horn today, and kept a watch on the First Baptist Church adjoining in the belfry of which he was found hiding early this morning, the clergyman succeeded in eluding his watchers tonight and again disappeared.

Service in divorce proceedings filed against him by Mrs. May De Lovrea, who says she is his wife, was made January 12 and Chief Knold, of the police department, undertook to keep the clergyman under surveillance until reports from Oregon alleging that he was wanted there could be investigated.

Mr. Horn attributes his troubles to a case of mistaken identity, asserting that his wayward twin brother is the man sought by Mrs. De Lovrea, however, says there can be no doubt that he is her husband, and when the pastor's study was searched today his belongings and numerous articles as belonging to her.

Letters and other documents relating to her husband's escapades in Oregon were turned over to her by Mrs. De Lovrea today. They reveal that he was arrested for an attack upon two young women; that he was accused of having forged credentials as a Methodist clergyman and that he sailed from Oregon while inquiry was being made as to whether he had ever been divorced from a former wife.

Until his second disappearance tonight, following his hiding in the belfry last night, the harassed pastor had the loyal support of his parishioners, who were prosecuting a vigorous search for the scapegrace twin brother.

GIRL IS SUED FOR $25,000

Colonel Abercrombie's Daughter Defendant in Accident Suit.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Demanding $25,000 for injuries sustained when a motor car driven by Miss Frances Abercrombie, daughter of Lieutenant-Colonel W. R. Abercrombie, retired, ran her down, Mrs. Julia Birch and her husband appeared before Judge Bruce Blake and a jury today. The case was continued until February 17.

Mrs. Birch, in her complaint, alleges that Miss Abercrombie, heedless of pedestrians, negligently ran her down June 5, 1912, causing permanent injuries. That the accident occurred because she was riding with Miss Abercrombie in freedom of her and thus obstructed her view of the highway and that she was negligent in handling her car, are other allegations in the complaint.

COURT KIND TO RICH MAN

Millions No Bar to Collection of Honest Debt, Judge Says.

OAKLAND, Jan. 16.—Millions should not bar a millionaire from receiving his honest dues, even when the debtor is a poor man, and the debt is small, one of the judges of the superior court today argued. Eric O. Lindblom, an Alaskan pioneer and now a multi-millionaire, when he sued his friend Richard Dyberg, a laborer, for $200, today Justice T. D. Barnett upheld him.

Five years ago, Dyberg borrowed $200 from Lindblom with which to educate his daughter. The note ran three years. On maturity, Dyberg failed to honor it. Lindblom waited two years and then sued.

"I am a millionaire," said Lindblom, "but when I lend a man money, I expect him to pay it back. When I give it to him I expect no return."

"It's an honest debt and should be paid," said the court in entering a judgment.

RESTRICTED AREA CLOSED

County Authorities Take Action on Chehalis District.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Following joint discussion between the County Commissioners, Sheriff Foster and County Attorney Cunningham today orders closing the Chehalis restricted district were issued. Sheriff Foster has notified the women to leave town. The order will be strictly enforced, he says.

The action comes as a result of vigorous protests from residents of River side and the farmers west of town who had to pass direct to the restricted district and after the Chehalis City Commissioners had refused to act.

Monday Commissioner Brunsvick introduced a resolution at the Commission meeting, but Mayor Coleman and Commissioner Deggeller refused to second the same.

WOMAN SEEKS PROTECTION

City Council Hears Charge of Wife-Beating Against Saloonman.

For the first time in the history of the liquor-licensing committee of the Council, a woman appeared before it, at yesterday's session, and begged the members to do something to protect her from her husband, J. Johnson, proprietor of the Overland saloon, in the North End. She said she beats her and abuses her and consorts with other women.

Johnson will be cited to appear before the committee at its next session to explain his side of the case. Whether the committee can do anything to relieve Mrs. Johnson is a question, but it is believed that it can revoke Johnson's license, and that it may do so, if he does not satisfy the members as to his conduct in future.

Centralia Streets to Be Paved.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—The Centralia City Commission yesterday passed resolutions for paving Main street from iron street to the Skokumuck River. The proposed improvement will connect the business district of the city with the county road leading to Olympia, a mile of which was paved by the county last summer and for which a contract for another mile has been let.

POWERS' NOTE DELAYED

GERMAN AMBASSADOR FAILS TO RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS.

London Insists European Nations Are Acting in Concert—Code Causes Mixups.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The collective note of the powers has not yet been presented to the Porte. Constantinople dispatches say the delay is due to failure of the German Ambassador to receive instructions from his government. These reports have led to charges by part of the European press that Germany is standing outside the concert of Europe and is playing a game of her own.

The journey yesterday of King Ferdinand to Bulgaria to Mustapha Pasha for a council of war with General Savoff and the commanders of the four Bulgarian armies is taken as proof that the Bulgarian threat to resume military operations was made in earnest.

Dr. Danef, chief Bulgarian envoy, has received dispatches describing conditions of the armies besieging Adrianople and facing Tchatalia. Fugitives, he declared, are deserting from the Turkish army, are escaping in such numbers from Adrianople that the Bulgarians suspect strategy on the part of the Turkish command.

PIONEER OF CURRY IS DEAD

E. H. Meservey, Indian War Veteran, Dies on Ranch.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—E. H. Meservey, one of the prominent pioneers of Curry County, died on his ranch on Rogue River last week. He was born in Maine in 1824 and when a young man joined a party that came across the plains in 1845, being attracted West by the gold discoveries.

Mr. Meservey came to the portion of Oregon now known as Curry County and was an active figure in the Indian wars of the section and during the famous Rogue River Indian war of 1855-56 he was a Lieutenant of a company of volunteers and acquitted himself with bravery. Where Bagnall's ferry now is one of the bloodiest engagements of the war took place.

Known as the massacre of Toontony, and Mr. Meservey was one of the few who escaped to tell the tale, he served until the hatchet was buried.

LAWYERS TALK AND DINE

Annual Banquet of Clark County Association Held at Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Members of the Clark County Bar Association narrowly escaped drowning figuratively tonight from an overflow of wit, humor and oratory at the annual banquet in Hotel Columbia. A. L. Miller, president of the association, was toastmaster, and as he called each member he assigned to them a subject on which to speak about which they had not been informed. He managed to give each attorney a subject directly opposed to his known views.

Last year the attorneys were permitted to make speeches, and many said that they did not enjoy the silent feast, so this year the ban was raised. Mr. Miller explained the distinction between an attorney and a lawyer by saying that a lawyer is a man licensed in the law, while an attorney is a man licensed to practice law, "but of course we are all lawyers here tonight."

J. P. Stapleton, W. G. Drowley and M. M. Connor arranged for the banquet.

W. D. SCOTT SERIOUSLY ILL

Great Northern Superintendent Is Rushed to Spokane Hospital.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—Who owns a judicial gown that has been worn by Judge Donald McCredie for more than two years is a question that is difficult to answer, as it was bought by four counties. Formerly, when Judge McCredie succeeded Judge W. W. McCredie to the bench of the Superior Court, the district comprised Cowlitz, Clark, Skamania and Klickitat.

Judge McCredie refused to pay for the gown and this question was unsettled when he resigned to go to Congress. However, the gown was later purchased, each county paying its share for the judicial robe, which was worn by Judge McCredie.

When the district was changed and Clark County became a district by itself, Judge McCredie, being Judge of the gown bought by the four counties.

Judge H. E. McKenney, who became Judge of the other three counties, desired to keep the gown when he left the bench, and paid for it himself. He was not up for re-election. Now the question, who owns the gown, is a live one.

EXPERT IS REAPPOINTED

Hood River Pathologist Outlines Work for the Coming Year.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—W. H. Lawrence, who has been reappointed county plant pathologist by the County Court for the coming year, has outlined his work for the next 12 months.

"While we will not be one whit less attentive to the prevention and cure of diseases, the office will devote a great deal of its time toward the pesting of a cheap spray," said Professor Lawrence. "The orchardists find that the expense of spraying with the materials that are at present used is a great burden. I believe that we can find cheaper spray."

"With the exception of San Jose scale, the absolute obliteration of which is almost impossible, the Hood River Valley is now free from disease pests."

Professor Lawrence will also experiment during the coming year with methods of irrigation and cover crops.
