

INTERSTATE BRIDGE WAS FIRST ROUND

Senate Indorses House Resolution for Committee to Collect Data.

DIMICK FIGHTS PROPOSAL

Miller Is Given Big Ovation When He Champions Movement and Requests Harmony in Working for Upbuilding of State.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Multnomah won the first round in its battle for legislative consideration of an interstate bridge between Washington and Oregon over the Columbia River, when the Senate indorses a House resolution providing for a committee to meet with the Washington Legislature, the vote being 24 in favor of the resolution to six against it.

The resolution came back from the Senate committee on resolutions with two reports, Moser, Butler and Calkins sending the majority report, and Dimick a minority report against it. The resolution provides that a committee of two from the Senate and three from the House shall meet with like committee from the Washington Legislature to confer on the question of the advisability of the bridge and the ways and means to secure the desired result.

The junket apparently is to take on the aspect of merely an investigating committee, to make a report, and is not considered even as going in an advisory capacity in respect to the balance of the Legislature, save only as far as the data collected are concerned.

Dimick opened a fight on the resolution by moving substitution of the minority for the majority report.

"This is not the time for the bridge," he shouted in advocating the adoption of the minority report. "Sometime in the future we may wish to build such a structure, but the people are not ripe for it. I have been told that this agitation comes from a great many real estate men in Portland who desire to see certain properties opened up for their personal gain. This resolution is an entering wedge for an enormous appropriation for this great bridge. By far the majority of the people are against this move."

Perkins took exception to some of the statements of Dimick. He asserted that he believes it is up to the Senate to secure all the information possible on the subject, and that as chairman of the ways and means committee, he believed that he was entitled to have the information.

"Certainly a bill is coming up to carry an appropriation for the bridge," said Perkins.

Butler agreed with Dimick that the people of the state may not be ready for the bridge, but he believed that in the near future may hold such a bridge in store and declared that the information should be gathered and for that reason he favored the resolution.

Carson questioned the constitutionality of the appropriation, if one were to be made, but stated that inasmuch as the Washington Legislature had already appropriated a committee for the conference as a matter of courtesy he would favor the bill.

Miller Champions Plan. After Dimick had again entered a strenuous objection to the people of the whole state, even against the preliminaries, which he declared should be paid for by Portland and Multnomah County, who expect to derive the benefit from the proposed structure, Miller, of Lane county, introduced the first since the session opened, when he championed the proposed plan.

"The question of locality should not enter into debates of this character in the Senate," urged Miller. "We should take the broader view and work together. Portland is a great city and we cannot build up one part of Oregon but we build up the rest of the state."

Joseph suggested that the Senator from Clackamas was probably opposed to the bridge because he and his constituents might be disturbed by the added people who would pass along the highway through Clackamas County.

On the question of the adoption of the minority report, a vote not being in favor of the resolution, the minority report was adopted by a vote of 16 to 9. For the same vote, only reversed, was recorded on the resolution. Those who favored the minority report were: Dimick, Hollis, McCulloch, Nagasdale, J. C. Smith and Stewart.

President Malarkey was not appointed of the members of the Senate who will be placed as members of the committee, but will probably announce their names tomorrow.

OLYMPIA SENATE BACKS PLAN

Upper House to Name Committee to Study Bridge Feasibility.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—The Senate of Washington Legislature today adopted a joint resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of two Senators and three Representatives to confer with the committee of the Oregon Legislature on the feasibility of the proposed Pacific highway bridge over the Columbia River between Portland and Vancouver.

The resolution was introduced by Senator French, of Clark County, who has a bill in course of preparation providing for a $500,000 appropriation for the state's part of the bridge. The committee will be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor and the Speaker of the House, the former to appoint two members of the Senate and the latter three members of the House.

It is planned to have the committees of the two states to meet in the near future at Vancouver and over the proposed project in detail. The Washington committee will report back to the roads committee of the House and Senate, with recommendations for or against the bridge.

The roads committees will hold a joint session and make recommendations to send to a joint meeting of the Legislature.

The resolution was passed the Senate by unanimous vote and was ordered transmitted to the House immediately. It will come before that body tomorrow morning and it is believed will meet with no opposition.

We will be in better shape to consider an appropriation bill which will bring up to help pay for the construction of the bridge.

"I expect some opposition," he said today, "but I do not believe it will be strong enough to prevent the appropriation. I believe in the bridge project and I intend to fight for it to the end. I have much support in both the Senate and the House."

Senator Fairchild will offer a bill in a few days providing for the raising of the state's share of the bridge appropriation by a special tax levy. He will propose a quarter mill special tax for two years, which will raise $500,000.

Extension Work Funds Sought.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—One appropriation of $25,000 and another of $5000 is carried in a bill which was introduced in the Senate today by Smith, of Coos and Curry counties, and by Thompson jointly. The bill provides for extending the work of the Oregon Agricultural College in co-operation with the various counties of the state.

COMPLETION OF PANAMA CANAL DECLAIMED TO NECESSITATE IMPROVEMENT OF EVERY HARBOR ON COAST LINE OF OREGON.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Urging on Congress the need that the ports and waterways of Oregon be improved, Senator Hollis introduced the following resolution today in reference to development that will follow the opening of the Panama Canal:

Whereas, the completion of the Panama Canal emphasizes the importance of the improvement of every harbor on our coast line from the northern boundary of the state of California to the Columbia River; and

Whereas, there are many bays along the Pacific Coast capable of becoming splendid harbors, particularly those of Tillamook Bay, Yaquina Bay, Coos Bay and others, each of which with a comparatively small cost to the Federal Government, could be made ports of entry for all coastwise vessels as well as those of deeper draft; and

Whereas, tributary to these harbors are millions of feet of lumber in our matchless forests as well as large sections of agricultural land capable of producing great harvests, to say nothing of the products of our mines and our streams, all of which must reach the markets of the world through these channels; and

Whereas, these harbors are now in direct rail communication with other parts of the world whereby a proper distribution of commerce and the assembling of the products may be maintained; therefore,

Resolved, That the Senate, the House concurring, memorialize our Representatives in Washington to urge the President to urge Congress to improve these ports and waterways and secure necessary and ample appropriations for the immediate improvement of these harbors that will open them for at least all coastwise vessels so that the products of our forests, our mines and our soil may thereby reach the world's markets.

SIDELIGHTS OF OREGON LEGISLATURE

THE Senate committee on Federal relations has so far been the busiest committee in that house. Joseph was relegated to the chairmanship of the committee by President Malarkey. It fell to the lot of the committee to go over half a dozen resolutions coming from different sources on the question of enforcing laws against polygamy. Kellaher is also on the committee with Joseph. "Kellaher was about to submit a minority report," stated Joseph when reporting in the resolution picked out as the proper one to indorse. "But I finally convinced him that polygamy is wrong and so we report in unanimously on this proposition."

This will be a germless session. For the first time the state has furnished the members individual drinking cups in compliance with the rules of the State Board of Health. Those who are not among the chosen are compelled to remain thirsty at the State Capitol.

Miss Florence Shambrook, private secretary to Speaker McArthur, at one time had the distinction of serving in the capacity of Governor of Oregon. During Governor Benson's administration she was chief clerk to the Governor and in the absence of the entire force held the Executive fort alone.

Senator Loring V. Stewart believes in legislative economy and he was one of those who voted against the state subscribing for newspapers for the Legislators.

Colonel W. G. D. Mercer, of Eugene, the Senate sergeant-at-arms, has two pet hobbies, one is Abraham Lincoln and the other a thermometer which has been suspended from a chandelier in the Senate. No two members agree on the question as to what is the proper temperature and Colonel Mercer is kept busy rushing to look at the mercury for one Senator who finds it too hot or for another who thinks it is too cold.

Joe Singer, who has been appointed assistant sergeant-at-arms of the House, was former assistant market in-

DR. OWENS-ADAIR SATISFIED

Champion of Sterilization Bill Says Passage Is Probable.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Declaring that she is satisfied her work is done in Oregon, as far as the passage of her sterilization bill is concerned, Dr. Owens-Adair left for Olympia today, where she intends to take up her fight before the Washington Legislature for a similar bill.

She says she is satisfied that the bill will receive proper consideration before the committee at this session, that a majority of the members are behind it and with the backing of the Governor she believes it will become a law.

"I have been here at Olympia before and I wish to get there in time this session," said Mrs. Adair when leaving.

today, in which provision is made for the method of discharging superintendents, assistant superintendents and teachers in schools in counties of over 20,000 inhabitants.

Their plan is to allow a probation of two years for the teachers and after that two years require a notice of two months before a teacher can be discharged and then the teacher cannot be discharged without cause. In default of completion of the two years the teacher will remain in the position without the necessity of being elected every year, as is the present custom.

PRODUCE MEASURE PASSED

Senate Defeats Dimick's Amendment to Automobile Law.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—One bill was passed in the Senate today and one bill was defeated. The bill passed was that introduced by Butler, providing for the regulation of the tare and deduction in sacks when certain produce is sold. This bill came up two years ago and was passed, but mysteriously disappeared.

The bill that failed of passage was one introduced by Dimick, amending the motor vehicle law. The law now apparently requires that all farm wagons and other vehicles on public highways shall be equipped with two front lights and a rear red light. Dimick's bill attempted to repeal this portion of the bill practically. The entire Multnomah delegation voted against the Dimick repeal bill.

Rogue River Fishing Desired.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 16.

(Special.)—A petition filed with the State Legislature today from the Agassiz Commercial Club, through John B. Cooley, president, urges that the Legislature take some action toward reopening Rogue River to commercial fishing. The river was closed by vote of the people in 1910, and at the last session it was voted to reopen the river, but the bill was vetoed by the Governor.

TWO VETOED BILLS DROPPED

Road Measures Referred to Committee for Action.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—The House committee on vetoed bills at this morning's session reported that action should be indefinitely postponed on the bill creating the office of state bee inspector and the bill giving a husband the right to sell real estate where the wife has been insane for five years. The report was unanimously adopted, which means that unless the Senate chooses to resurrect them nothing more will be heard of them for this session at least. The vetoed bills committee also reported on the bills creating a state road commission and authorizing counties to issue bonds for road purposes, recommending that they be referred to the committee on roads, which was done.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—The Graded Teachers' Association of Portland is behind a bill that was introduced by Senator Farrell

Representative Homan, of Harney, and Malheur, is a telegraph operator—or used to be, before he became a banker.

Surprising moves on the part of President Malarkey of the Senate the past day or two when he was seen by some of his friends emerging from his private office, smacking his lips, caused a quiet investigation to be made today. The mystery was explained when a demijohn of Bull Run water was located in his office.

For the first time the courtesy of the Senate was today extended to woman voters of the State of Oregon, when Senator Perkins, of Multnomah County, moved that the courtesy of that house be extended to Mrs. W. M. Plimpton and Miss Althea Thompson, of Portland.
