

GARMENT WORKERS SHOW FIRM FRONT

Not More Than Half of Waist-makers Will Obey Orders to Resume Work.

FOOD IS BEING SUPPLIED

Woman Suggests New Tactics to New York Waiters—She would Have Them Tell Truth About Hotel Kitchens.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—There was no indication today of any change in front, either on the part of the manufacturers or strikers as the fourth week of the garment-makers' strike began. The strikers are said to be just as insistent as ever that their union shall be recognized, while Eugene S. Benjamin, president of the New York Clothing Trades Association, remains firm against this concession. Both sides aver that they are well organized and financially strong enough to maintain their positions for some time to come.

Two meetings to ratify the agreement entered into Saturday between the manufacturers and the leaders of the dress and shirtwaist branches of the garment-making industry, by which the strikers are to return to work tomorrow morning, were held today. At both there seemed to be only a half-hearted acquiescence by the workers in the plans of their leaders. The protocol affects 129 shops and close to 30,000 operatives. It is expected, however, that only about half the operatives will return. Even if all go back, it would leave more than 100,000 workers still on strike in other branches of the garment trades.

Max Pine, one of the leaders of the garment-workers, said today that the strikers, although exceedingly poor, were being supplied with food and coal, and were being held to their promise to stay out.

That the hotel and restaurant workers had not wholly abandoned their strike plans was indicated by renewed activity on the part of Miss Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, the young organizer, who, in an address urged a new plan of attack. She declared that much of the food served was unfit for use, and suggested that any employee of a hotel or restaurant who knew of the serving of unfit food should make affidavit of his knowledge to the strike leaders. Such affidavits, she said, would be sent to the board of health and the newspapers.

Miss Flynn also astonished her hearers by coming out against the tipping of waiters, and before she was through with her speech, a unanimous vote was taken against the acceptance of gratuities if the employee could obtain a living wage from their employers.

Concerning the food question in the restaurants, Miss Flynn said:

"I want every waiter and every cook who knows anything about the adulteration of food, about sending back food refused by one guest to another guest, about night-flavored sauces to disguise unfit food, to come to headquarters to make affidavits as to the rotten conditions in hotel kitchens to be sent to the board of health and the newspapers. If guests knew one-half the things you know they would not dare to go to one-half the hotels and restaurants in this city. We want to tell Mr. Capitalist what kind of a place his nice dinner comes out of. A nice cup of coffee coming out of most kitchens is like a nice life coming out of a machine. They have to work there, but they have to eat out of it."

CHICAGO IS TALKING STRIKE

Garment Workers to Be Asked Help Join New Yorkers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—(Special).—Garment workers of Chicago probably will strike before the end of the week, according to an announcement made at the meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor today. Delegates from the garment workers were present at the meeting, asking aid from the federation for themselves. The strike is officially declared and also aid for the New York garment workers, who are now on a strike, and feeling for the first time. The vote on the proposition to strike will be taken at a meeting to be held in the Hotel Carillon Union Hall Tuesday night, and according to the announcements made by several delegates today, the garment workers are almost unanimous in favor of joining the New York workers in a walkout.

Samuel Sax, a delegate from Garment Workers' Local No. 1, announced that if the workers voted to strike all workers belonging to the union would be out before the end of the week.

The proposition to aid the New York garment workers in alleviating the suffering among families of the strikers was also taken up at the meeting. Mrs. E. K. Ekin, delegate from local No. 21, asked that the federation grant credentials to members of the Garment Workers' Union to solicit funds among various labor organizations to aid in the relief work in New York.

The request aroused much criticism among the delegates, many asserting that the credentials should come from the international headquarters in New York.

A motion was finally carried, however, empowering the executive committee of the Chicago Federation to issue the authorization.

STRIKERS WILL MARCH IN RAGS

Garment-Workers to Walk March 3 in Notable Suffrage Parade.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Striking garment-workers from New York City, reinforced by a delegation of 400 women industrial workers from Baltimore, will march in poverty raiment behind a remarkable parade in a suffrage parade down Pennsylvania avenue on March 3.

"Greed, Tyranny and Indifference" will be represented by allegorical figures on the float, which is designed to call attention to the condition of women in sweatshops and in some mills. This feature is in charge of Mrs. Glenna S. Tinnin. A campaign will be conducted in Baltimore this week among working women to secure additional marchers. In addition to women clad in ragged raiment, a number of children from the slums will form part of the spectacle.

"This section will be one of the most impressive in the whole parade," said Mrs. Tinnin. "The central idea of the parade—the creation of suffrage views among inaugural visitors—will be strengthened by this division. It will show the girls' weak hands that there is another side to political life than the politicians would have us believe. It is the human side."

TAFT TALKS PEACE

B'Nai Brith Told Arbitration Is Sure to Come.

SENATE DISTURBS DREAM

President Tells Jewish Hearers American People Could Profit by Intensity of Spirit Manifested by Race.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—President Taft, an over-Sunday visitor in New York, assisted in the celebration tonight of the seventieth anniversary of the Order of B'Nai Brith, addressing a large convocation.

The President, who arrived late yesterday and attended the Ohio Society dinner and a dinner to Andrew D. White, former president of Cornell University, spent the night at the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, and this morning attended the Marble Collegiate Church.

The President today visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art, where, with Mrs. Taft, Henry W. Taft and Secretary Hillex, he inspected with interest the newly-installed J. P. Morgan collection of paintings and porcelains. The President was quickly recognized, and other visitors crowded closely about the members of his party that police were called. There was no hint of disorder, however, and the police, after the first little flurry, had no difficulty in controlling the crowd.

Liberty Must Be Taught Again.

The President will leave tomorrow for New Haven to attend the Yale Corporation meeting, returning here at night to attend the theater. He will leave shortly after midnight for Washington.

President Taft began his address at the B'Nai Brith celebration by referring to the medal recently presented to him by B'Nai Brith, as he thought, undeservedly, adding:

"But such honors don't come very often."

Mr. Taft said the American people should profit by the Jews' example of love of liberty and love of guaranty of rights and equality, and their intensity of spirit.

"I don't like to drop into politics," he continued. "I don't seem to have been a grand success. But the American people will have to be tutored over again in lessons of liberty, and will have to be taught again the real value of the rights we now have and the restraints under which we enjoy them."

Effect of Tolerance Spreads.

"Something has been said of the intolerance of other countries. Tolerance does not exist in other countries as in our own, but we must know that tolerance in this country will have its beneficial effect all over the world. The attitude of the President on that subject cannot but bring about a better condition. I don't need to preach patience to your race. I don't need to preach persistence to you. I don't believe in progress over night."

Turning to the topic of progress toward world peace, the President said:

"I had a dream that we are going to take a long step toward universal peace, but after negotiating a treaty with England and a treaty with France, I awoke."

He explained that through relations between this country and European nations and interlocking treaties to follow he had hoped a great arbitral court could be established.

Awakening Follows Dream.

"That was my dream," he said. "We negotiated the first two treaties with England and France, and then I woke up. It's bound to come, however, because progress in this direction cannot be defeated. I hope on, in spite of this nightmare that the Senate gave me."

Mr. Taft concluded with an eulogy of the Jewish character and of Jewish philanthropies, which, he said, were the most nearly perfect because the people of the race stand together that the race may live.

BAND OF ROBBERS CAUGHT

Wenatchee Citizens Make Capture and Recover Loot After Chase.

WENATCHEE, Wash., Jan. 19.—(Special).—Pursued by a posse of neighbors, four robbers carrying sacks of loot from East Wenatchee, ran over the Columbia River bridge and when their pursuers closed in, threw away the loot and jumped over the railing ten feet to the ground. Police, who had been called by other neighbors, arrived at this exciting moment, and joined the chase. All four were soon captured. Their names are Ed Collins, Robert Ruff, James Gill and Richard Slocum.

Collins is Secretary of the local order of Industrial Workers of the World.

The captives took the officers to a house near the station. They rented it about two months ago and have been living there, using it to store their loot.

The men confessed this afternoon to a series of depredations. The loot consisted of 500 pounds of ham, bacon and beef, from railroad construction camp No. 14, seven miles up the river; scores of jars of preserved fruit from a house; two sacks of sugar; a Bible; a book of Bible stories; jewelry; tools; guns and revolvers; several suits of clothes; underwear; suitcases, etc.

The homes of C. A. Hanley, Edward Brecken and L. A. Johnson had been ransacked.

Two full dray-loads of loot were taken to the county and city jails.

FISHER'S DENIAL UPHELD

Investigation Shows Department Gave Out Correct News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Representative Stephens, of Texas, chairman of the Indian affairs committee, said tonight he hoped to conclude tomorrow the investigation begun yesterday in the Osage, Oklahoma, Indian oil land lease question.

Secretary Fisher denied today the declaration made at a hearing that he had given the Associated Press incorrect information regarding the Uncle Sam Oil Company leases. Upon investigation it developed today that the information given out at the Interior Department today was correct. Leases had been disapproved, but through a misunderstanding a report had been published that the leases had been approved. This error was corrected as soon as discovered.

Commissioner Abbott said the Department would show to the committee that the Secretary would have acted in violation of law if he had approved the Uncle Sam and other affiliated oil leases for the $30,000 acres.

Raymond Appointments Made.

RAYMOND, Wash., Jan. 19.—(Special).—At the Council meeting this week Mayor A. C. Little made the following appointments, which were confirmed by the Council: Ray Wheaton, incumbent, Marshal; J. D. Henry, incumbent, Engineer; J. E. Elwood, incumbent, Police Judge; Dr. Edward R. Perry, incumbent, Health Officer; and W. C. Brown, Street Commissioner, to succeed F. W. Baker.

TURKISH CABINET TO CALL ASSEMBLY

Government, Fearing to Risk Concessions, Will Submit Question of War.

NAVAL OFFICERS QUARREL

Fifteen Are Wounded When Difference of Opinion Arises as to Ability to Cope with Vessels of Enemy.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 19.—The government has decided to convene the national assembly Tuesday to take the Balkan situation under consideration. A serious quarrel occurred recently on the Turkish warships in the Dardanelles between officers who were anxious to fight the Greeks and others who considered that the Turkish fleet was no match for the enemy. Blows were exchanged and before the quarrel was settled 15 officers were wounded.

Women Slur Cowardly Fleet.

Trouble has arisen through the circulation of a manifesto signed "The Women of Turkey," suggesting that the forts should sink the Turkish warships, whose poor-spirited officers always fled at the approach of the Greek fleet.

It was because of this slur that the Namidieh made its adventurous cruise to Syria.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Porte's decision to call a national assembly Tuesday to take under consideration the Balkan situation probably heralds further concessions on the part of Turkey—concessions which could not be yielded by the Cabinet without risking its fall. In any case the Balkan delegates in London do not believe the Porte's reply to the joint note of the powers will be such a flat refusal as was foreshadowed from Constantinople.

Turks Offer Alternative.

Yesterday's dispatches reported that the Turkish government had reached a decision not to cede Adrianople or the Aegean Islands, but was willing to enter into negotiations respecting these islands some distance removed from the Dardanelles. If Turkey's answer is unsatisfactory, the allies, in deference to Europe, will ask the powers whether they have means to compel Turkey to comply with their wishes. If not, the allies will carry out the plan already announced for resumption of the war.

In such event the allies would not recognize the undertaking consenting to an autonomous Albania, or the promise of Serbia and Montenegro to retire from the Adriatic.

Triple Entente Counted On.

Questioned as to the possibility in the case that Austria would employ force, the head of one of the delegations said today:

"We shall see whether the triple entente, and especially Russia, will permit such action on the part of Austria. If we are forced to fight another war, the cost of which is nearly $1,000,000 daily, we will not abandon territories already occupied unless driven out by force. That would mean a European war."

If Austria were permitted to march on Belgrade and to bombard our troops on the Adriatic, and we were crushed, we should prefer to become an Austrian rather than belong to the Slav race, when our mother Russia lacks the force or will to protect us."

LOSSES IN SEA-FIGHT HEAVY

Wounded From Turkish Fleet Being Taken to Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 19.—The Ministry of the Interior has issued a report of an engagement between the Turkish and Greek fleets in the islands of Tenedos and Lemnos, lasting several hours.

According to this official report there were heavy losses on both sides. The Turkish fleet returned safely to the Dardanelles and the wounded are being brought to Constantinople.

It is not known here whether this report refers to the engagement on Saturday or whether the engagement was renewed Sunday.

Ministers Said to Oppose War.

VIENNA, Jan. 19.—A dispatch from Constantinople says that at the council of ministers held Saturday a majority opposed the continuation of the war.

MAYER GOES ON MISSION

members of the race the world over, and it has been hinted more than once that, should opportunity arise, financial pressure would be brought to bear on the czar to induce him to mitigate in some way the harsh laws which not only oppress the Jews of Russia, but offend Jews of other nations whenever business or sentiment makes it desirable for them to visit that country.

For several days Mr. Mayer was in Washington, presumably to watch the progress of the investigation by the Pujo committee.

Financiers in Conference.

Meanwhile he took part in several secret conferences with financiers of National prominence. Plans for his mission were completed there Friday. It is believed, at the time the entire office force in Chicago was put to work preparing papers of various sorts that will be taken by him when he leaves on the Mauretania Tuesday.

Mr. Mayer returned to Chicago Friday evening and immediately went into conference with his close legal associates at the Blackstone Hotel. The conference lasted several hours.

The conference was taken up again behind closed doors early Saturday and closed practically all of the day. Precaution was taken to prevent any of the plans from becoming public. Mr. Mayer admitted that, should the slightest inkling of his plans become public, they might be interfered with.

Difficulties Confront Mayer.

Some slight idea of the difficulties that confront Mr. Mayer, if his mission to Russia concerns laws regarding the Jews, may be gained from the fact that that country permitted abrogation of

OLD AGE DEFERRED

Echo From the Medico-Legal Society.

A few generations back a man at 50 was considered old, gray-bearded, and waiting for death. Note the change today: at a meeting of the Medico-Legal society it was stated that a man of 50 ought to have forty good years ahead of him and thus at ninety be in the fullness of maturity.
