Root's Colleague Says Nation Must Not Surrender Its Domestic Policies.

PRESTIGE IS AT STAKE

What, Asks Senator, Would England Do if She Had Spent Half Billion and United States Should Complain?

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—"We should indeed create a painful impression abroad if this mighty Nation should surrender to the control of any foreign power its domestic policies and the control of its domestic commerce. That we can never do and maintain its prestige, the honor and the glory of this republic."

This reply by Senator O'Gorman, of New York, to Senator Root, marked the opening in the Senate today of the fight against the Root amendment for the repeal of the free-passage provision of the new Panama Canal act.

"If Great Britain had expended a half billion dollars in an enterprise affecting her people as the Panama Canal does ours, what would be her attitude if the United States should make complaint against her action?" he asked.

Newlands Suggests Way. Senator O'Gorman was followed by Senator Newlands, who also asserted that the United States held domestic rights at Panama which a foreign power could not dispute.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 22.—(Special).—The last scene in the process of making a United States Senator from Oregon was enacted in the hall of the House of Representatives at noon today, when Dr. Harry Lane, of Multnomah County, was declared duly elected to the highest office within the gift of the people of the state.

All the ceremony incident to the time when the election of a United States Senator was a peculiar function of the Legislature Assembly was brought into play, with Dan J. Maloney, President of the Senate, presiding, the journals of both houses of the day before relating to the vote of the senatorship were read.

"It is my pleasant duty to announce," said President Maloney, when the journals had been read, "that the Legislature has ratified the choice of the people, and that Dr. Harry Lane is duly elected United States Senator from Oregon."

Dr. Lane, in his speech of acceptance, declared that the present system of electing United States Senators in Oregon is too cumbersome and should be changed to make it more direct.

"Minorities elect under the present system," he said, "I myself am elected by a majority of the voters of Oregon. As a remedy for this condition, Dr. Lane suggested the adoption of a preferential system of primaries, in which a candidate to become the nominee of a party must receive more than 50 per cent of the total vote cast. He went further than this even, advocating the holding of but one election in the Republican camp, which had resulted in his election.
